Welcome Friends

We are entering the era toward which the colored people of the United States and Canada have been working for 115 years. One hundred and fifteen years after Queen Victoria, by Royal Edict, abolished slavery in all British possessions, the colored man and the white man are learning to live side by side . . . at peace . . . each respecting the rights and the greatness of the other.

The colored race is now coming into its complete freedom. For most of the past 115 years, we were domestics or laborers . . . today we are working in harmony with our white brothers, matching them in many fields, surpassing them in others. Privileges of higher education are ours for the asking, and recognition for our accomplishments is never slow in coming. Booker T. Washington, one of the greatest men our race has produced, has just been honored by his government. His portrait appears on the new American 50 cent coin. In medicine, music, science, industry, business, professions, the world of entertainment, sports, color no longer stand in the way of success.

Colored men and white men fought to the death in World War II, side by side, sacrificing impartially in the Cause of Freedom, and for love of a common ideal. Today, the fight is to preserve the Peace, a cause which knows no color.

WALTER PERRY,
Chairman.

A Message From The Mayor

On behalf of the citizens of Windsor, it is my privilege to welcome the many visitors attending and joining in the celebration of the 115th anniversary of Emancipation Day. May I say it is our sincere wish that your stay in our city may be most pleasant and most enjoyable.

We cannot consider this significance of Emancipation Day without pausing to observe the freedom which is enjoyed by all races and creeds under our Democratic system. In so doing, we must pause and pay tribute to those of all races and creeds who have contributed to the maintenance of the freedom which we enjoy. To them must go our lasting appreciation of service well rendered.

In conclusion, it is our sincere hope that your stay in our city will be one of pleasant memories. May we commend to you the many opportunities for enjoyment which are presented.

Yours sincerely,

ARTHUR J. REAUME Mayor.
