University may feel oil pinch soon

by SAL PRESTA

Some departments on campus might feel the pinch of the oil shortage in the near future.

According to Gary Champs, Purchasing Manager, the oil shortage and the rapidly rising prices in the market for petroleum based products will affect the various departments which use scientific materials unless the departments take some corrective steps.

The purpose of this article is to alert the departments to take steps to ensure that they will have enough supplies if the crisis continues.

Gary Champs has advised all departments concerned that they should maintain a normal level of stock; that they should be thinking ahead about summer scientific orders; that they should anticipate severe shortages in plastics, especially styrenes; that they should be prepared to accept a considerable increase in price over that of last year.

Since other universities are in the same position, Champs sees fierce competition in obtaining supplies and advises the departments to order now before the competition becomes too great.

“We just can’t compete with the larger universities,” stated Champs. He added that other universities are stockpiling which also contributes to the shortage.

Because of the length of time it takes to receive the supplies, Champs advised that all departments order now to ensure that the supplies will be obtainable.

Paper is also in short supply. In the past the customer ordered according to his need and preference, but now the supplier tells the customer what he has available and the customer must choose from that.

Many suppliers are reducing the number of cheap paper products such as industrial toilet paper, and others are not offering a large selection of expensive bond paper.

Hold on to that old newspaper, it might be useful.

Death and Dying Seminar Packed

On Monday night, January 14, the seminar "Death and Dying" was presented by Dr. Elizabeth Kubla-Ross, author of the best-selling book by the same name. Both enterprises aim to bring the subject of death out of the darkness in which it is enveloped.

The auditorium was packed to capacity by 7:15 - fifteen minutes before the lecture was scheduled to begin. By 7:30 at least thirty people had seated themselves on the floor for lack of space. Still the flow of people continued through the Ambassador Auditorium and things were so crowded that the talk began late.

The American journalistic world has noted that there are random reports from the lecture circuit that the subject of death is out drawing the戴上 favourite sex and politics. We saw evidence of this on Monday night.

Dr. Kubla-Ross is involved in work with the dying. Her aim is to help them to realize, and finally accept death. For the past three years she has been helping children who are in the grip of terminal diseases and, as such, are beyond medical help.

She spoke of the various stages of adjustment associated with death she and her associates have attempted to get at the meaning of the symbols which children and adults use in attempting to describe their approaching death; for perhaps the fear is essentially of these symbols and not the phenomenon itself.

She went on to talk about the great taboo on dying which is just beginning to be lifted in North America. Dr. Kubla-Ross attributed this to the fact that while modern medicine has banned the mass killing disease, modern technology created the atom bomb. This man-made killer is not only more efficient than plagues, it also conjures up images of Death and Dying Seminar Packed

Guelph saves money on drugs

The University of Guelph is establishing a birth control dispensary service on campus. The program will be established by Medical Services, an entity of the university.

The purpose of the dispensary is twofold, first to allow students access to birth control on campus and second to save money.

Although, under the Ontario Health Insurance Plan, contraceptives are paid for by the government, they have to be bought presently at a commercial drug store. By dealing with pharmaceutical companies directly, the dispensary will be able to cut costs of contraceptives and save OHIP money.

OHIP is not objecting to the scheme, neither is the Provost’s office, the guardian of morals at Guelph, and the plan is expected to go through without any problems.

The hoo-hah rhetoric of the fanatic is not only tasteless but also not funny (S.M.)
Phil proffs tell all

This semester three members of the Department of Philosophy will present evening talks on value-dimensions of our society. On Wednesday, Jan. 23 Prof. H.A. Nielsen will speak on "The Moral Snap in Abortion" with a commentary by Dr. T.L. Sutter of Religious Studies. Prof. R.H. Johnson's talk, titled "A Critique of Pop. Science," is slated for Tuesday, February 12, with comments by Dr. M. Schlesinger of the Physics Department. The final talk in this year's series will be "A Canadian's Critique of Technology" by Prof. J.A. Blair on Wednesday, March 6, with commentary by Dr. R. Nelson of the Political Science Department.

These talks are scheduled to begin at 7:30 PM in the Assumption Lounge, University Centre, and open discussion will follow each talk.

T.O.: "Obscene and Insane"

TORONTO — Friends of retired pharmacist John Anderson were delighted when he told them last September that he was going into business for himself. Delighted, that is, until they found out that the type of business the 66-year-old druggist in mind was a nude body studio in Toronto.

Mr. Anderson doesn't mind what his friends say, He says, "A body rub is healthy. But acknowledges that his nude girls are quite an attraction to men who aren't health nuts. And he does admit that if his wife were alive and knew what he was doing, she'd kill him.

Toronto — The provincial cabinet has approved the expansion of Toronto's massive high-rise development called "S. James Town. Plans call for adding two thousand apartments dwellers to the ten thousand already in the development. Toronto Mayor David Crombie calls the addition to the development "Obscene and Insane."

Toronto — A parking lot catering to ear pools might make good sense as far as conserving energy is concerned, but it seems to be bad for business.

Such a parking lot in Toronto has had a marked decline in business since it began this week accepting only cars carrying two passengers in addition to the driver. The rates are lower — 50 cents a day compared with the $1.25 before the policy change — but the lot is only about one-third full.

This is what they stuffed buildings with in ancient Egypt.

Quarried stone was scarce in ancient Egypt. When new buildings were erected, facing off old ones were torn off and used as fill for walls.

That's why art from this unique period exists today, 3000 years later. The art was inspired by Akhenaten, the rebel Pharaoh who commanded the worship of only one god 14 centuries before Christ. The stylized portrayals of the past gave way to expressions of joyful earthly life. Art became humane, intimate, realistic. Sometimes grotesque, always fascinating.

Come see these objects in the exhibition The New York Times calls... "a blockbuster in the world. The choice are first rate, the choice is extraordinary for its range and representation... from eminent museums and private collections around the world."

Come to The Detroit Institute of Arts. Monday evenings until 9 p.m.

Admission $1.50; students with ID 75c; Founders members, children under 12 free.

EGYPT AS YOU'VE NEVER SEEN IT BEFORE

THE DETROIT INSTITUTE OF ARTS

Through February 28

You should see the good stuff.

CABARET PUB

Les Menear

PRESENTS

JAN. 8 - 19, 1974 "FREE FALL"
JAN. 21 - 26, 1974 "MEADOWS"
MON. — WED. FREE
THURS. — SAT. STU. 50¢ GUESTS $1.00

Quarried stone was scarce in ancient Egypt. When new buildings were erected, facing off old ones were torn off and used as fill for walls.

That's why art from this unique period exists today, 3000 years later. The art was inspired by Akhenaten, the rebel Pharaoh who commanded the worship of only one god 14 centuries before Christ. The stylized portrayals of the past gave way to expressions of joyful earthly life. Art became humane, intimate, realistic. Sometimes grotesque, always fascinating.

Come see these objects in the exhibition The New York Times calls... "a blockbuster in the world. The choice are first rate, the choice is extraordinary for its range and representation... from eminent museums and private collections around the world."

Come to The Detroit Institute of Arts. Monday evenings until 9 p.m.

Admission $1.50; students with ID 75c; Founders members, children under 12 free.

EGYPT AS YOU'VE NEVER SEEN IT BEFORE

THE DETROIT INSTITUTE OF ARTS

Through February 28
Security cops new cars

While Canada and now the University is going through an oil shortage, the University of Windsor Security is getting big new cars to patrol the campus.

According to Mr. Champs, Purchasing Manager, the big cars are best suited for the type of driving which is done by the security guards.

"We need cars which will stand up to the slow driving and which remain idle a long time while the guards are performing their duties," Champs stated. "We need cars which have been used for driving for this type of driving." Champs added. "And smaller cars have not been able to withstand these conditions."

At the present time, two new Pontiacs have been leased instead of bought outright to cut down on the cost, and Champs feels that if gasoline prices rise smaller cars can be used without further costs to the university.

Traditionally, we have laughed at the European police in their small Fiats, Austins and Renaults. In North America, the big cars has always been part of the police mystique. It seems though as Mr. Champs stated "In the future, smaller cars will be a stronger consideration if gasoline prices do rise."

Duck Lectures on Campus

The Hon. Emmett M. Hall is the guest speaker of the annual George M. Duck Lecture to be held Wednesday, January 30 at 8:00 p.m. in the Moot Court, Faculty of Law Building. Mr. Justice Hall will discuss "The Role of the Supreme Court of Canada in an Era of Legal Change".

Mr. Justice Hall was appointed to the Supreme Court of Canada in 1957 and was named Chairman of the Federal Royal Commission on Health Services in Canada in 1961. It was at this time that he aided in the production of a report "A Humanitarian Approach to the Application of Legal Principles". After retiring from the Court in 1973, he remained active in the legal field by acting as Arbitrator of the dispute between the Federal government and the railway unions.

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

THE HOUSE ON SUNSET AVE.

The University of Windsor Psychological Services Centre offers

Winter Group Experience Programmes

Although programmes will vary in goals, as described, the general approach is to provide participants with an opportunity to become more aware of one's self and one's interpersonal approaches and to provide an opportunity for developing one's assets and skills for more effective functioning. Each group will be conducted by staff or affiliates of the Centre. Students, faculty, and staff of the University are invited to apply for participation in the group that they view as most suitable for their own goals. Please note that there will be a $5.00 registration fee. All programmes will take place at the House on Sunset Avenue or at the University Centre. Other programmes will be described at later dates.

APPLICATION (Apply before February 1st, 1974)

NAME .......................................................
ADDRESS ...............................................................
PHONE NO ..............................................................

My goals in the group that I have checked below are:

1. GENERAL
2. SELF-AWARENESS
3. INTERPERSONAL RELENTS
4. GROUP DYNAMICS
5. THE MIND OF ANIMALS
6. OTHER TOPICS

I am interested in apply for programme (check one) A B C if the programme of my choice is filled, I would consider A B C the alternative.

Please Note: The Psychological Services Centre is always interested in evaluating its programmes. Participants may be asked to help evaluate their experience by responding to questionnaires before and after a workshop.

Drop applications off at The House On Sunset Avenue, 326 Sunset. The $5.00 registration fee should accompany applications. For further information stop in at the House or call 224-4232, ext. 343.

---

Enforcement of rules at the Pub by the LCBO makes it necessary that all patrons be members of the University of Windsor. One guest is allowed to enter with every member but must be signed in at the door.

Working under a Banquet Licence, the Pub is not classified as a public hotel but as a club. The Pub hopes to receive a permanent licence within the next few months.

The Pub extends apologies for any inconveniences and hopes that patrons will bear with them until the door people begin to recognize members. Until that time, each student will be asked to present a student card. The Pub thanks those members of SAC and the student body who have volunteered help as door men and welcomes any additional aid.

Improved facilities for signing in will be brought before the Centre Policy Committee.

---

This is the place for:

For all of your insurance needs

AUTO FIRE LIFE
Students can qualify for up to 35% Discount On Car Ins. Rates.
PREFERRED RATES FOR ALL GOOD DRIVERS.
1603 UNIVERSITY WEST
254-5101

---

5 mins. from Campus

---

PREFERRED RATES FOR ALL GOOD DRIVERS

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for further Information.

---

NEW Christry Minstrals
for $1.00 Jan. 21-22
8:30 p.m. at
Music Hall
350 Madison in Detroit (a walk
from the tunnel).

Compliments Services
Commissioner Frank.
What's his name.
Don't bother contact-
ning SAC for
further Information.
"I HEREBY RESOLVE ....!

As far as it can be accurately observed, New Year's Resolutions are common only among men; to wit, among Christians and post-Christians — the latter being still somewhat Christian in sentiment, though increasingly more atheistic in ideas. I like New Year's resolutions for one reason at least; they provide an almost universal indication of man's freedoms. Canines, felines, bovines, of the highest "I. Q.'s" never make resolutions at New Year's for the obvious reason that they lack the power to make them at any time. Walt Whitman, one of the fathers of "Free Verse," in a poem professed to envy the beasts in so far as they never groaned over their sins. Surely Walt must have realized that the beasts did not groan over their sins because they did not have any sins; they had no sins, because without intellect and free will they had no power of sinning. We might also add that they have no power of practising virtue, no chance of meriting reward. If one is going to set out to envy, why stop at the beasts? Better envy cabbages. They do weep for their sins; neither do mushrooms, nor dandelions — and for a very good reason. They all lack the power of making New Year's resolutions. I gravely fear that their New Years is flat, state and unprofitable; their chance of even knowing that it is New Years and not the Fourth of July is even slimmer than that of the half-baked jaded Babbit of 1934 who has boozed the old year out.

God gave us dialectics to refute the errors of men who argue incorrectly from sane premises. He gave us laughter, and 'the dumb certainties of experience' as our only adequate answer to those who argue correctly from premises which are fundamentally insane. "How true Arnold Lunn's words in "The Flight From Reason" were borne upon my mind on New Year's Day, as I encountered a charming little Behaviourist fresh from a large State University. "Making any resolutions?" I asked him. "To Halifax with such stuff!" I do not believe in free will!" But, this is New Years!" "New Years or not, I do not have to follow the outmoded superstitions of a less enlightened age!" "Of course, you don't, that's because you have free will! You are perfectly free to follow the assinine superstitions of our age. He did not seem to laugh at all; he used to be so quick to see a point; apparently his sense of humor was not functioning. I quoted Professor Broad's description of Behaviorism, "an example of those theories which are so preposterously silly that only very learned men could have thought of them." He seemed still more perplexed. Just then, I happened to slip on the ice and in grabbing on to him for support brought him down with me. We both indulged in unseemly laughter. It seemed so funny. We would not have laughed at two horses falling; but this was a case of the f 35 of man; and man has dignity. In a moment I was up; that helped him. He thanked me; which was one more evidence of his free will, as I told him. He smiled in earnest as he walked off. Give him a while longer and he'll be all right. The "dumb certainties of experience" and "laughter," two of God's choicest gifts, will eventually crush the preposterous nonsense taught in all seriousness by Ph.D.'s who in their hearts must know better.

Meanwhile, I resolve — to work, play and pray harder. I resolve .... but I'll need God's grace, for I'm a fallen man.

— ROBERT KEENAN '40

Our Man On Campus

Question:
Do you really believe there is an energy crisis?

SYD GIRLING, Grad — It's a play by the multinational corporations to raise the price of oil.

JOHN WOLFENDEN, Grad Overseas — Nixon and Ted Heath ought to get together and become the two biggest con men in the Western world.

ROBERT GIMPOLI — I'm not sure I do think there's a definite energy crisis.

JUDY COYLE — Yes, I believe everything I read in the papers practically.

by Clarke and Coomber

ROBERT GIMPOLI III — To the U.S., there is, but I don't think Canadians are affected that much.

JOHN GURNEY I — What energy crisis?

SYD GIRLING — What energy crisis? We do not weep for our sins; neither do mushrooms, nor dandelions — and for a very good reason. They all lack the power of making New Year's resolutions. I gravely fear that their New Years is flat, state and unprofitable; their chance of even knowing that it is New Years and not the Fourth of July is even slimmer than that of the half-baked jaded Babbit of 1934 who has boozed the old year out.

God gave us dialectics to refute the errors of men who argue incorrectly from sane premises. He gave us laughter, and 'the dumb certainties of experience' as our only adequate answer to those who argue correctly from premises which are fundamentally insane. "How true Arnold Lunn's words in "The Flight From Reason" were borne upon my mind on New Year's Day, as I encountered a charming little Behaviourist fresh from a large State University. "Making any resolutions?" I asked him. "To Halifax with such stuff!" I do not believe in free will!" But, this is New Years!" "New Years or not, I do not have to follow the outmoded superstitions of a less enlightened age!" "Of course, you don't, that's because you have free will! You are perfectly free to follow the assinine superstitions of our age. He did not seem to laugh at all; he used to be so quick to see a point; apparently his sense of humor was not functioning. I quoted Professor Broad's description of Behaviorism, "an example of those theories which are so preposterously silly that only very learned men could have thought of them." He seemed still more perplexed. Just then, I happened to slip on the ice and in grabbing on to him for support brought him down with me. We both indulged in unseemly laughter. It seemed so funny. We would not have laughed at two horses falling; but this was a case of the f 35 of man; and man has dignity. In a moment I was up; that helped him. He thanked me; which was one more evidence of his free will, as I told him. He smiled in earnest as he walked off. Give him a while longer and he'll be all right. The "dumb certainties of experience" and "laughter," two of God's choicest gifts, will eventually crush the preposterous nonsense taught in all seriousness by Ph.D.'s who in their hearts must know better.

Meanwhile, I resolve — to work, play and pray harder. I resolve .... but I'll need God's grace, for I'm a fallen man.

— ROBERT KEENAN '40

Philosophical Tidbit

of the Week

It's only ten years to 1984 and 27 years to 2001.

Where does that leave us?

(Unknown Wag)
Dear Lance,

Have you gentlemen read the book "Politics with a Laugh"? One would think you people have it down to a science by now. Our little grouping of non-Canadians, "Westerners," "Americans," "Citizens," "bushfolk," etc. all to the poll taken all the while are not the same as those who are, I take it, regards to the preferred fare on the radio station. We are a music played over the radio. A majority group of Canadian citizens, their rights however small. We demand equal time on the radio programmes to be devoted to those of us who happen to enjoy and appreciate Canadian Western music. Your budget be too elastic, allow for this surplus of albums in the Western music field, we'd sure be happy to supply the planes necessary to running a program that we feel that it would be done to them be affiliated with such a program that will supply the disc jockey. It might interest you people in this group of numberless Western music singers are hereby threatening to have their albums for free, in the Canadian market. This is a true reflection of people's patriotism, that people might burn the rest of time and all their travel expenses. Check out the announcement of your group and see what listeners there are!

Any interested parties are invited to join our revolution any day of the week by contacting Fred Ouel or Wilfred Miller, from Mr. Les Menear.

Bizarre

P.O. Box 9
100 Mile House
British Columbia, Canada, V0K 1S0

Dear Editor,

I am a weekly newspaper editor in the Cariboo country of British Columbia, a green, peaceful region mainly occupied with cattle ranching and lumbering. Like many places on this continent, I suppose, it could seem to be a long time before the major troubles so rife in the world today could be paratively small; there is no shortage of food; most people have TV's and the trappings of civilization, and the standards of health and economic climate is reasonably stable. And yet such seeming prosperity and well-being has been built upon an extremely unstable foundation; for apart from the possibility of a world-wide configuration at any time, the seeds of the destruction of this material appearance are present in the shape of pollution, inflation, strikes and perhaps most significant, the breakdown of a social order which is slowly suggesting that we should think in the sense of personal responsibility and not just the words and sounds bear so much, for example, does it not mean the sacrifice of principles for the sake of material gain?

I feel that this situation presents a very specific problem for all of us, the question, openly or in his own heart, whether the fundamental belief that material solutions come first and spiritual considerations, particularly loyalty, belongingness, personal responsibility and integrity should be considered, a poor second, if that.

Since all attempts to arrive at the government to face it seem to be failing, it is surely high time to consider placing true spiritual values at the very head of the list and letting the chips fall where they may. Such a course probably would not find favour with many of the established institutions, perhaps even including some which are supposedly religious in nature. But I am convinced it would provide the means for the Canadian to take more seriously the vitally needed factor: a world-brotherhood of men and women dedicated on the one hand to the common dedication to the values of the world, and on the other, the necessities of man and womanhood, of their own inherent greatness. Here, I feel, the one weapon capable of cutting through the jungle of ideas and conflict in which the world is currently ensnared.

Thank you for the use of your correspondence column, and may I invite anyone who is interested to send a line of thought, possibly through some expression such as a newsletter, to write to me at the above address. All letters will be answered. Chris Foster

The fact that William Davis has publicly rejected the report, shows that no matter how bad the situation is, the Ontario government will try to encourage it to get worse. When Davis did not even view it, he has made a defence, possibly a lack of thought, possibly through some expression such as a newsletter, to write to me at the above address. All letters will be answered. Chris Foster

Le Patriot gives

by Len Wallace

The Select Committee says that quotas would "affect" autonomy, lower academic integrity, violate the international nature of scholarship, exert unfair pressure on non-citizens, and be too hard to administer because we would have different quotas for different departments.

As for autonomy, university officials should be responsible to their community. The Canadian community, Second, the autonomy is already "affect"ed by the fact that almost 90 percent of their tax comes from taxes. If Canadians or Canadians' universities don't deliver, then there must be legislation.

Academic quality would not be lower. In fact, a quota for Canadians. Those professors to their community and students have to be more qualified than someone who doesn't want to be a Canadian. We must be sure they are qualified, this the limitation that the quality is too low is the reason why professors tell to convince us or need them. If they're good why couldn't they stay in the States? If they can't why don't they become Canadian citizens?

The Select Committee must have a very narrow outlook on what constitutes international education, since most of our education is based on U.S. principles and research, and our universities would be much more international if, of the 15 percent non-per cent, only 14 were allowed to be of any foreign citizenship. The Select Committee would have us believe that U.S. educated is international.

There is no question that professors in Canada should become Canadian citizens. If a prof is too ashamed of Canada to become a Canadian citizen, then he should be ashamed of teaching here. This is not the type of teacher we want in Canada. The Select Committee does not seem worried about the prejudice against Canadian citizens in their own country. To promote our citizenship, and in a country like Canada, which is a colony of the U.S. patriotism is a good thing.

"Interim Report of the Select Committee on Economic and Cultural Nationalism" as a great victory in the struggle for Canadian universities. We especially support the following recommendations:

1. That legislation be introduced to provide that withing five years a majority of all university boards of governors or equivalent, presidents, vice-presidents, deans and chairmen of departments at universities in Ontario be Canadian citizens;

2. That no university faculty in Canada should pay less than the Canadian rate of tax applicable to his or her financial circumstances;

3. That all universities be required to submit, on an annual basis, and by department, the citizenship and countries of undergraduate and graduate training of all new appointees, tenured faculty, department heads and other personnel in academic ranks. departures from strength, and persons on limited term appointments;

We also urge for Canadian popular pressure is forcing the government closer and closer to our recommendations including the quota. With the implementation of most of your recommendations, we should move even closer.

The 85 percent Canadian quota Campaign will continue the campaign for three years. To demand that the two year income tax holiday be abolished, be abolished, be abolished, something we heartily agree with; however, it is not nearly enough. Every single dollar we get as a tax holiday fraudulently, mostly U.S. pro's, should be proportional to the money Canadians pay in income taxes. The measure should be returned. This is the stand of the 85 percent Canadian Quota Campaign.

Without an ultimate goal, or quota, any policy on hiring is useless. Secondly, the problem of increasing U.S. domination of our universities is too far advanced for hiring recommendations to be able to solve it. Simply the Select Committee's 80 percent quota on hiring of Canadian citizens is much too low and one non-citizen should be hired until the 85 percent Canadian Quota is reached. There are roughly 10,600 pro's in Ontario, of which about half are Canadian citizens. For this 5,300 to be 15 percent of the total (in other words, 85 percent Canadian Quota) we would need a total of 35,333 pro's. Simply the Select Committee's proposal of the 80 percent rate of the 1960's this would take over 60 years, and over 150 at the present rate. Canadians will not wait that long. Therefore the 80 percent hiring quota is unrealistic.
S.A.C.
Gazette

Doug Phillips

January Social Calendar.

January 24 at 7 p.m. in Moot Hall.

Mrs. Irwin is anxiously looking for volunteers to help in the preparation and execution of the Winter Weekend events and if you would like to help out, simply leave your name at the S.A.C. Office. The Treasurer has indicated that our fiscal condition looks very good and that in addition to wiping out the deficit by April, with the exception of our last University debt installment which should clean up the accounts payable. Copies of the statement of accounts will be posted in the glassed-in bulletin board.

Please feel free to ask any questions that you might have in regard to the accounts.

In providing the student community with information on the activities and functions of the Students’ Council, it is important to see that a wide range of information input is made available through this column. Therefore, in the forthcoming weeks ultimately, various cabinet commissions will be called upon to submit the reports on the direction of their activities and so forth.

There are five commissions including the Treasurer, External Affairs, Internal Affairs, Services and Housing.

An event coming up that is worth mentioning is the Jurisprudential Film Series presenting Don Schmid’s “Going Down the Road” January 24 at 7 p.m. in Moot Court. It’s FREE.

Womens attitudes toward members of the same sex are somewhat negative, because they find men so much more interesting and intellectually stimulating. They find other women a bore to talk to because they talk about their babies and how white their wash gets. It seems that many women place relationships with men, regardless of how good or bad they are, on a higher scale than relationships with other women.

With a bit of recollecting and reflection on our high school days, it’s quite simple to see how this situation develops. The girls at school are eventually divided up into teams, “the haves” — those who maintain popularity with members of the opposite sex, and “the have nots” — those who associated solely with other girls. Also, in high school, you are measured by the types of men you hang around with. For example, if the high school basketball captain approached you after the Big Game, delighted, aren’t you to go “cruising” with this Hunk of male species? This comes the all-time problem of rivalry between the two members of the same sex. H. Mr. Redkil (who is). Noted author, Ms. Sirron Norris

A woman's view

Fuck or friendship?

Women are never happy with themselves, until they have a man and have found their security. But time moves quickly and when they start getting screwed and abused, they stay it out with these jerks and call it “love.”

You can find just as much understanding and trust in your female friends. Women must unite together throughout the Universe. You let friend (female) could be just as reassuring as the man that you share your bed with at night.

Siron Norris

& Sheila Dilts

Quebec Winter Carnival

Student Group Special $30.00 per person (including one free with groups of 20)

Departures 20th Feb. 5th Mar. 12th Mar.

- Includes Motor Coach to Quebec City
- 2 Nights Modern Gym Accommodation
- Includes Border Crossing Fee
- $39.00 Ottawa, Peterborough, Kingston
- $38.00 Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara Falls
- $32.00 Kitchener, Waterloo, St. Catharines, London
- $40.00 Windsor, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie

RESERVE NOW - call 8

Hunters Limited

Sue 480, 500 King St., Toronto
(416) 363-8281 or toll free 1-800-261-8471

As he pondered the meaning of love.

An English Lit. student named Royce.

Knew stream-of-thought games

That flowed from dear James.

Meant the flavour of Blue was his choice.
Le Francophone

Indien mon frère

La ségrégation, vous la connaissez? Bien sûr, nous connaissons tous cela; nous en faisons quotidiennement l'expérience. On aimerait que les Américains aient dû depuis longtemps laisser de côté toute discrimination raciale envers les noirs. Au Canada il suffit trop souvent de prononcer le mot indien pour provoquer chez notre interlocuteur un sourire de défi.

Vous êtes-vous jamais rendu compte d'une petite réaction spontanée qui a depuis si longtemps caractérisé, un reflet de fermeture envers quelqu'un qui est autre, qu'on a plus souvent appelé “sauvage”? qu'on a plus souvent dit différent de nous mais qu'on n'a pas accepté ainsi. C'est bien ça la ségrégation!

Comme réagisseriez-vous comme employeur si un Indien venait à vous demander du travail? Avez-vous jamais une pensée pour votre fille ou votre fils elle est un Indien ou une Indienne. Pourquoi?

Une inspiration m'est venue récemment en écoutant la chanson de Gilles Vigneault “Jack recherche dans le bien commun de son peuple ne un épouse un Indien ou une Indienne. Pourquoi déplore les dépersonnalisantes. C'est de l'Indien et sa sagesse pas? Et sinon? Pourquoi reprenons-tout une philosophie de respect relie discrimination raciale envers les noirs. L'histoire et l'environnement auraient dû depuis l'invention de l'industrie pour provoquer chez notre interlocuteur des hommes de culture très différentes, qui plus est connaissons tous cela; nous en rendons compte. Les Indiens du Canada ressemblent fort peu à eux auxquels nous avons conditionné un certain “Mon Folklore A Mose” La Chanson Du Vieux Pedission Par: Felix Leclerc 1. Aidera il entrer chez lui, son feu est creux. Sa femme est partie depuis le matin. Elle a pris aussi, les économies.

3. Mais le coeur de Jean ébouillant ses dents Lui mange le sang; il s'informe aux gens.

4. Je la trouverai, dussi-je marcher que chanteau un vieux polisson.

5. Pendant 16 années sur les continents Dussai-je nager tout le Saint-Laurent.
Pendant 16 années sur les continents Dussai-je nager tout le Saint-Laurent.

6. Monseigneur le curé l'a bien voulu expliquer Que la femme Plou s'était pas sauve. Elle s'était coincée dans la cheminée.

7. Cette explication d'un jeune ramoneur Qu'on peut tenter une dévouée l'honneur Mit un point final à cette chanson Que chantait au bal un vieux polisson.

Fruits being mishandled GUELP — An agriculture expert says consumers are forced to pay more for fruit and vegetables because the produce is spoiled by mishandling in many supermarkets. 1b Noneck, speaking yesterday at an agriculture outlook conference in Guelph, says the spoilage results from improper shipping, poor display and sales staff. He says the price increases amount to five and eight per cent.

Le Thé Shoar GAVEs

10 % DISCOUNT TO ALL STUDENTS

RYANDOTTE W. AT RANDOLPH

GREAT CAMPUS FOOTWEAR

TRY US......... YOU'LL LIKE US

Tequila Sauza makes every party a fiesta!

The Christian Brothers (Le Salles Brothers)
A life of prayer and service in community.

Mail to Brother George Morgan, F.S.C.
5 Aveermich Gate
Don Mills, Ontario M3A 2M5

Le tibet français du vendredi: Chacun est l'être le plus distant de soi-même - Nietzsche

LA CHANSON FRANCOPHONE, EN FRANCE OU AU CANADA FRANÇAIS, EST BIEN VIVANTE

On est tellement habitué aux péripéties chez nous des jeunes loup's de la chanson française, que l'acclame est fait à leur démarche pour se trouver un nouveau public ou dorer leur blason par les divers moyens de communication: journalistes, radio, télévision, nous semble normale. Quand nos grands amis à nous, les Leclerc, Vigneault, Charlebois, finissent par être acceptés par le public européen, nous sommes tous fiers et reconnaissants, comme si l'on n'avait pas déjà payé ici le même tribut à leurs équivalents français, au niveau du vedettariat, qui “saignent” venir nous visiter une fois par an, autoritaires, les Montsaké, Béandec, Aznavour, Reggiani, Mathieu, etc...

Pourquoi, qu'une Renée Claude dont la cote au Quebec, vaut bien celle en France d'une Eva, d'une Marie Laforêt ou d'une Barbara, tente la même démarche, la situation n'est plus tout à fait la même. Malgré le fait que certains individus enthousiastes pourraient avoir le goût de présenter la Québécoise au public français, il lui faudra plaire aux grands manitous de l'industrie qui, eux ne voient pas les choses de la même maniere. Renée Claude reçoit donc un Quebec, même si elle aurait bien envie de reconnaitre le vrai public de là-bas, résignée devant l'incomprenchion des uns et la prétention des autres.

Pour le grand public, ici aussi la chanson française, ça se limite à quelques grands noms. Dans les milieux un peu plus spécialisés, chez les amateurs de la chanson française, on connaîtra quelques autres artistes moins célèbres par l'establishment du spectacle. On saura que Reggiani a un fils qui s'appelle Stéphane et qu'il fait de la bonne chanson. On aura connu Serge Lama, Gilles Freux, découvrant Maxime Leforestier et Alain Souchon avec Erich Charden et Michel Sardou certains de leurs succès sans trop savoir qu'ils sont les fils de Reggiani.

Poussant à l'expert, on dira que la chanson française ne produit plus rien de valable pour s'exécuter d'écoutier des discours anglais américains qui, finalement, apportent bien autre chose que ce que l'on demande à notre chanson phäosophique.

Pourquoi si parait différente de ce qui se fait ici, la jeune chanson française existe, charrant elle aussi modes et influences contemporaines et rängea en plus d'une tradition bien établie. Même si, comme nombre de Québécois, les Français n'entendent rien à l'anglais, ils écouteront beaucoup de musique et si l'on retrouve parfois des accents rappe, connus des Beatles, Shawn Phillips ou Bob Dylan, il ya parfois plus et alors on a le goût d'écrire que la chanson française vit toujours et que sa “rique” est assurée. Si on lui donne une chance de se faire entendre. Si on se donne la peine de l'écouter, il ce qui a de dire de jeunes inconnus des “loueurs majeures”.

NEED MORE BREAD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment, in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised program needs qualified donors now. New process takes only plasma for this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit). Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM
Michigan Community Blood Center
3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit
½ block south of Medical Center

Phone 833-5539

Mail to: The Christian Brothers
(The Salles Brothers)
A life of prayer and service in community.

Name
Address

At some point I did answer yes to someone or something, and at that hour I was certain that existence is meaningful and that my life in self-sacrifice had a goal. — Dag Hammarskjöld

Please send me a copy of your 16-page photo essay describing the life of the Christian Brothers.

73-MBC-400

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT — THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS

Thank you for supporting the Christian Brothers, a Catholic lay religious community, through The Christian Brothers magazine.

The Christian Brothers magazine is a rosary-driven publication that is not supported by any outside grants or funding. Each issue is produced by the Brothers themselves, using their own resources and time.

We rely on the support of our readers to continue the publication of The Christian Brothers magazine. Your donation helps us to continue providing a voice for the Brothers, and helps to support the mission of the Christian Brothers.

Please consider making a donation today to support the Christian Brothers magazine and the work of the Christian Brothers.

DONATE NOW
CUBANS UNLEASH DEATH

ABOVE — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro signs the U.S.S.R.-Cuba Pact and signs a death warrant for Essex County sugar beets.

ABOVE RIGHT — An enlarged portion of the deadly document.

BELOW — The Cabra Muerta Power Station. On the surface, an innocent rural power plant. In reality, the headquarters of death-ray development.
An insidious plot to destroy the Essex County sugar beet crop has been discovered by undercover Lance operatives active in Cuba since the Castro regime began. These actual unretouched photographs tell the story exactly as we learned it. (No fooling!!)

In a secret directive to Alexii Kosygin, Castro asked for plans to the Russian Vostok 87-Oronovich Death Ray. With the plans and a team of Russian technicians, the ray was soon completed. Using a complicated neutron-proton scrambler, the ray is invisible and deadly. While it has a limited range, the Cubans plan to overcome this drawback by using a fleet of planes disguised as Nordair charters leaving Windsor Airport.

By removing the Essex County sugar beet production from the world market, Castro hopes to upset the present delicate balance in commodity prices and send the world sugar price skyrocketing.

In a recent speech to a guano collective in Buenos N oches, Castro is reported to have said, "No more hat sheet, Cuba soon be feththy weech."

Castro has also been overheard to remark in some Havana tavernas that "those one beeg kick in the sore-a-beech cojones for those Essex county callalebros."

The ray has been operational for some time with its headquarters in Cabra Muerta, a small goatherd's village deep in the interior.

Lance operatives sense that the timetable on the operation has been moved up, notwithstanding Castro's romantic involvement with a former Miss Essex County, now part of the premier's entourage.

A report of Cuban surveyors by Kingsville smelt magnate, Rene Laframbois, began the Lance investigation.

"I tink dere dat dey up to no good. At first I think me dat dey Yankee tourists from Detroit but I never here me no crazy sum-beech American say 'petty bourgeois' dere."

Essex County beware! The Cubans are going to electronically flamenco dance all over our sugar beets. And that's just a first step. If Numero Uno gets a bad cigar, soy beans and cow corn could be next!! introduced that poor taste and an inability to play their instruments is no reason to keep a band out of the big time concert halls.

4. Ian Anderson’s stage antics, which have become a legend, keep the audience screaming recorded during one of the most exciting concert tours in recent time.

5. George Harrison’s Living In The Material World. The best solo artist of the defunct Beatles mellowed musically and spiritually, and released the finest album to come out of the former band’s members since their breakup.

6. The Allman Brothers Band – Brothers and Sisters. Minus the fine guitar stylings of brother Duane, Greg Allman and the rest of the boys proved to be worthy of their name and gave the recording-buying public an excellent blues album.

7. Santana and McLaughlin – Love Devotion Surrender. The gurus of the jazz-funk field and the flash wizard of the rock world teamed up to produce and interesting record of superb music and quasi-religious lyrics. The messages are old hat, but the music is some of the most innovative to capture rock audiences this year.

Worst albums
1. Ringo Starr – Ringo. For dazzling us with his guest list and then insulting our ears, the worst record of the year award goes to Ringo Starr et al. Insipid lyrics, and arrangements which soared below society’s accepted level of mediocrity make this an album that will live in infamy.

2. Uriah Heep – Magician’s Birthday. Let Uriah show you how a group, which lacks any sense of what improvisation is all about, takes control of the big bands and captures the hearts of nonmusicians lovers everywhere.

3. Neil Young – Time Fades Away. The flannel-throated wonder did it again when he courageously released a live album recorded during one of the most exciting concert tours in recent memory.

Group of the Year
Jethro Tull For their continuing attempts to add excitement and talent to and often disjointed music of folk, Ian Anderson’s stage antics, which have become a legend, keep the audience screaming for more, and the group’s musical ability has anxious fans waiting with held breaths for the next release.

Worst Group of The Year
Black Sabbath for the fifth year in a row. B.S. have demonstrated that poor taste and an inability to play their instruments is no reason to keep a band out of the big time concert halls.

Best Album of The Year
WISHBONE ASH – Live Dates – MCA-8006. This is a double album recorded during a tour through England last June. Wishbone Ash supply the listener with fine tunes and inventive arrangements. Most of the songs offered Border on heavy rock, being neither too sedate nor overly powerful. The medium struck is indeed a happy one, and the group comes across as having the ability to define their music well and create the best vehicle for their oft times intriguing lyrics.

The group consists of Andy Powell and Ted Turner playing guitars, Martin Turner on bass and Steve Upton on drums. The drums and bass establish and maintain consistently good rhythms while the two guitars weave interesting patterns throughout. Live Dates has what any good live recording should have, good songs and crystal clear recording.

Worst Album of The Year
THE BEST

TOP 10 OF '73

1. Elton John – Yellow Brick Road. Elton and the regulars produced their best album to date, and one of the year’s best. The title song sums up the disenchantment of the 70s which followed the optimism of the sixties.

2. Jethro Tull – A Passion Play. Coming on the heels of their super successful Thick As A Brick, Jethro Tull under the direction of Ian Anderson proved that a group can go from one musical coup straight into another.

3. George Harrison – Living In The Material World. The best solo artist of the defunct Beatles mellowed musically and spiritually, and released the finest album to come out of the former band’s members since their breakup.

5. Santana and McLaughlin – Love Devotion Surrender. The gurus of the jazz-funk field and the flash wizard of the rock world teamed up to produce and interesting record of superb music and quasi-religious lyrics. The messages are old hat, but the music is some of the most innovative to capture rock audiences this year.

Worst albums
1. Ringo Starr – Ringo. For dazzling us with his guest list and then insulting our ears, the worst record of the year award goes to Ringo Starr et al. Insipid lyrics, and arrangements which soared below society’s accepted level of mediocrity make this an album that will live in infamy.

2. Uriah Heep – Magician’s Birthday. Let Uriah show you how a group, which lacks any sense of what improvisation is all about, takes control of the big bands and captures the hearts of nonmusicians lovers everywhere.

3. Neil Young – Time Fades Away. The flannel-throated wonder did it again when he courageously released a live album recorded during one of the most exciting concert tours in recent memory.

Group of the Year
Jethro Tull For their continuing attempts to add excitement and talent to and often disjointed music of folk, Ian Anderson’s stage antics, which have become a legend, keep the audience screaming for more, and the group’s musical ability has anxious fans waiting with held breaths for the next release.

Worst Group of The Year
Black Sabbath for the fifth year in a row. B.S. have demonstrated that poor taste and an inability to play their instruments is no reason to keep a band out of the big time concert halls.

Best Album of The Year
WISHBONE ASH – Live Dates – MCA-8006. This is a double album recorded during a tour through England last June. Wishbone Ash supply the listener with fine tunes and inventive arrangements. Most of the songs offered Border on heavy rock, being neither too sedate nor overly powerful. The medium struck is indeed a happy one, and the group comes across as having the ability to define their music well and create the best vehicle for their oft times intriguing lyrics.

The group consists of Andy Powell and Ted Turner playing guitars, Martin Turner on bass and Steve Upton on drums. The drums and bass establish and maintain consistently good rhythms while the two guitars weave interesting patterns throughout. Live Dates has what any good live recording should have, good songs and crystal clear recording.

Worst Album of The Year
THE BEST

TOP 10 OF '73

1. Elton John – Yellow Brick Road. Elton and the regulars produced their best album to date, and one of the year’s best. The title song sums up the disenchantment of the 70s which followed the optimism of the sixties.

2. Jethro Tull – A Passion Play. Coming on the heels of their super successful Thick As A Brick, Jethro Tull under the direction of Ian Anderson proved that a group can go from one musical coup straight into another.

3. George Harrison – Living In The Material World. The best solo artist of the defunct Beatles mellowed musically and spiritually, and released the finest album to come out of the former band’s members since their breakup.

5. Santana and McLaughlin – Love Devotion Surrender. The gurus of the jazz-funk field and the flash wizard of the rock world teamed up to produce and interesting record of superb music and quasi-religious lyrics. The messages are old hat, but the music is some of the most innovative to capture rock audiences this year.

Worst albums
1. Ringo Starr – Ringo. For dazzling us with his guest list and then insulting our ears, the worst record of the year award goes to Ringo Starr et al. Insipid lyrics, and arrangements which soared below society’s accepted level of mediocrity make this an album that will live in infamy.

2. Uriah Heep – Magician’s Birthday. Let Uriah show you how a group, which lacks any sense of what improvisation is all about, takes control of the big bands and captures the hearts of nonmusicians lovers everywhere.

3. Neil Young – Time Fades Away. The flannel-throated wonder did it again when he courageously released a live album recorded during one of the most exciting concert tours in recent memory.

Group of the Year
Jethro Tull For their continuing attempts to add excitement and talent to and often disjointed music of folk, Ian Anderson’s stage antics, which have become a legend, keep the audience screaming for more, and the group’s musical ability has anxious fans waiting with held breaths for the next release.

Worst Group of The Year
Black Sabbath for the fifth year in a row. B.S. have demonstrated that poor taste and an inability to play their instruments is no reason to keep a band out of the big time concert halls.

Best Album of The Year
WISHBONE ASH – Live Dates – MCA-8006. This is a double album recorded during a tour through England last June. Wishbone Ash supply the listener with fine tunes and inventive arrangements. Most of the songs offered Border on heavy rock, being neither too sedate nor overly powerful. The medium struck is indeed a happy one, and the group comes across as having the ability to define their music well and create the best vehicle for their oft times intriguing lyrics.

The group consists of Andy Powell and Ted Turner playing guitars, Martin Turner on bass and Steve Upton on drums. The drums and bass establish and maintain consistently good rhythms while the two guitars weave interesting patterns throughout. Live Dates has what any good live recording should have, good songs and crystal clear recording.

Worst Album of The Year
THE BEST

TOP 10 OF '73

1. Elton John – Yellow Brick Road. Elton and the regulars produced their best album to date, and one of the year’s best. The title song sums up the disenchantment of the 70s which followed the optimism of the sixties.

2. Jethro Tull – A Passion Play. Coming on the heels of their super successful Thick As A Brick, Jethro Tull under the direction of Ian Anderson proved that a group can go from one musical coup straight into another.

3. George Harrison – Living In The Material World. The best solo artist of the defunct Beatles mellowed musically and spiritually, and released the finest album to come out of the former band’s members since their breakup.

5. Santana and McLaughlin – Love Devotion Surrender. The gurus of the jazz-funk field and the flash wizard of the rock world teamed up to produce and interesting record of superb music and quasi-religious lyrics. The messages are old hat, but the music is some of the most innovative to capture rock audiences this year.

Worst albums
1. Ringo Starr – Ringo. For dazzling us with his guest list and then insulting our ears, the worst record of the year award goes to Ringo Starr et al. Insipid lyrics, and arrangements which soared below society’s accepted level of mediocrity make this an album that will live in infamy.

2. Uriah Heep – Magician’s Birthday. Let Uriah show you how a group, which lacks any sense of what improvisation is all about, takes control of the big bands and captures the hearts of nonmusicians lovers everywhere.

3. Neil Young – Time Fades Away. The flannel-throated wonder did it again when he courageously released a live album recorded during one of the most exciting concert tours in recent memory.

Group of the Year
Jethro Tull For their continuing attempts to add excitement and talent to and often disjointed music of folk, Ian Anderson’s stage antics, which have become a legend, keep the audience screaming for more, and the group’s musical ability has anxious fans waiting with held breaths for the next release.

Worst Group of The Year
Black Sabbath for the fifth year in a row. B.S. have demonstrated that poor taste and an inability to play their instruments is no reason to keep a band out of the big time concert halls.
led I cup milk

The agony and the ecstasy

Hamburger helper

Food store officials in Ed­monton report that shoppers are continuing to pay hand­somely for convenience foods despite complaints about high food costs. They say sales have remained steady over the past several months and packaged caserole mixes. Those are

Family life

Family fights most often are about communication; next comes relationships with children and then sex. That is the result of a two-year study of families who sought help from family agencies in the U.S. Dr. Dorothy Beck and social worker Mary Ann Jones studied nearly four thousand

Records

TORONTO — An expected shortage of vinyl, the petroleum-based plastic used in the production of records, may mean a switch this year to the ten-inch LP from the present 12-inch size.

for radio station CHUM-FM Toronto, says the vinyl shortage is not expected in Canada for two months but it has affected the quality and quantity of records imported from the United States. He says: some U.S. companies are using thinner vinyl on singles.

lack of recreational op­portunities or transportation. Inadequate income, unem­ployment, poor job op­portunities and unsafe neigh­bourhoods were factors in­volved.

Dee also said more men are seeking help with family problems, indicating that the wife isn’t always the one to settle such things.

One record we received was good for only one play. We had to throw it out.

He said companies are talking about the ten-inch LP and added “there’s a possibility that a bunch of kids will buy one album then tape it for individual use.”

INCORRECT SPEED!

IMPROVE EFFICIENCY!

SPEED READING

8 Week Course to Start Monday Jan. 21

REGISTRATION TODAY AND MONDAY ONLY IN UNIVERSITY CENTRE

SPONSORED BY S.A.C.
On Stage with Bruce Dinsmore

Tonight-Opening Night
The University of Windsor Drama Society presents The Persecution and Assassination of Marat as performed by the Inmates of the Asylum of Charenton under the Direction of the Marquis de Sade in Ambassador Auditorium tonight at 8:30. Director Thomas Mccarthy has quite a show lined up for the theatre fan. A partial look at the cast includes:

Paul Court: Jean-Paul Marat
Hilary Blackmore: Charlotte Corday
Peter Hicks: Marquis de Sade
Dobbie Cottreau: Simone and many more fine people of the stage including our own Scre.

The play deals with the life and times of the said M. Marat and the people that revolve around him. Watching this drama is a very individual experience. Each one of you that goes will get something different out of it all.

Rod Hillier's design for the set of Marat-Sade is very interesting and unusual. You may have seen it in the SAC office in the past few weeks.

This unusual set will be lighted by the St. Clair College Theatre Arts Dept., with helping hand from Paul Court.

Ethel Eisenberg is designing the costumes for Marat-Sade. A treat for the ear will be some original music composed for this production.

If by now, you have not had the chance to enjoy yourself at an opening night, here is your opportunity. Marat-Sade will be up-stairs in the University Centre tonight at 8:30. It will be running again Saturday and Sunday, then Friday, Saturday and Sunday of next week. (19, 20 and the 25, 26, 27th). The price will be $1.50 for students and $2.00 for the general public. If you come in groups of 20 or more, the tickets will be fifty cents off.

Come and enjoy yourself. See you there.

Remember!
Marat-Sade the 19th, 20th 25th, 26th, 27th of January at 8:30 p.m.
Support your local thespian

BIRTHRIGHT ON CAMPUS
We offer an addition to Abortion
252-5665
Mon. 2 – 9 Thurs. 5 – 9

CONCERTS
MASONIC AUD (Det.)
- Jan 27: Jani Mitchell, $4.50, 5.50 & 6.50.
- Feb. 7: Dave Mason, $8.50 & 7.50.
- Feb. 7: Dave Mason, $6.50, 5.50 & 4.50.
- Mar. 5: Stephen Stills, $4.50, 5.50 & 6.50.
- Feb. 1: Peter Nero
- Feb. 10: Miles Davis.
- Feb. 15: B.B. King.
- Feb. 21: Sha-Na-Na.
COBO (Det.)
- Jan 27: Charlie Pride, $6, 5 & 4.
- Feb. 3: Black Sabbath, $6.50 & 5.50 (mail order only).
- Feb. 8: J. Geils Band, $6.50 & 5.50 (mail order only).
FORD (Det.)
- Jan. 21: Slade 8 p.m. e.d.t., $4.50, 5.50 & 6.50.
- Jan. 18: Det. Symphony Orch. plus Dave Clark's Troggs, $6.45 & 3.

ARTS AND GIFTS
- thru Feb. 28 at Det. Inst. of Arts — Achenaten and Neferetit: Art From The Age of Egypt's Son King.
- thru Jan. 24. Sculpture by Robert Piepenburg in Room 100g of the University of Windsor Library.

CINEMA
- Paula Pappas starring Dustin Hoffman & Steve McQueen, times: 1:30, 4, 6:30, 9.
- Tivoli: Call 234-8797 for Soft Porn.
- Centre: Call 945-8231.
- Twin Drive-In: East: Double Initiation, 7:30, 10, Not Tonight Darling, 8:50.
- West: Enter the Dragon, 7:30, Cahill, 9:15.
- Windsor Drive-In: Ideal Marriage, 7:15, Kama Sutra, 9, Eottie Eottie, 10.

RADIO
- CJOM fm (88.7) broadcasts quadruplexiously every Sat. morning, 10-11.
- CBE (1550 am) Mon-Fri. 9-12:00 This Country in the Morning, (info etc). 3:30 Max Ferguson (inanimate and irresponsible): 5:30 As It Happens (rated top notch).
- WDTE Sat. 5:00 a.m.
- KALIEDOPHONE - Jazz, mostly from 50's & 60's 12:00 mid. - Jazz Today - Repeat - 12 midnight. Sunday - varied classical all day. Mon thru Fri. 9:00 a.m. - All Things Considered - News and Features, 3:00 p.m. - All Things Considered, 4:00 p.m. - Bombay Bicycle Club - Young wags comment on the scene. On Day Only - Mon. 8:00 p.m. - All together Now - by and about wags, 9:00 p.m. - Jazz Today - Top Dead Tues, 10:30 a.m. - Detroit Lions Digest - call 577-1416 - report anything, by phone, 6:30 p.m. - Firing Line - wags Wm. F. Buckley probes people in the-scene.; 10:30 p.m. - Dinner. The Relationship of Being, (sat. night); Wed., 7:00 p.m. - Indian, 12:00 mid. - Available Spacio-temporal nonsense; Thurs. 9:00 p.m. - Jazz Yesterday, 11:30 p.m. - Gayle Speaking; Fri. - Classical dominated music.

- WABX (99.5 fm) brings back night radio drama hosted and narrated by Rod Serling. Mon-Fri evening at 9 p.m. series of half hour radio episodes out with cliff-hanger endings. On Friday the serialized drama will be complete. WABX presents the National Lampoon Radio Hour every Sat. nite at 9 e.d.t. - ZERO HOUR every night 16:30.

PUB CRAWLING
- Bali Hi: Jeredrie Trio.
- Embassy: Scotch.
- Killarney: Baby Bare.
- Riviera: Jerumay.

PLAYS AND MUSICALS
Marat-Sade opens Jan. 18 for be consecutive weekends in Ambassador Aud.
- Arsenic and Old Lace will be presented by the Windsor Light Opera Players, Mon-Fri evening at 9 p.m. for series of half hour radio episodes out with cliff-hanger endings. On Friday the serialized drama will be complete. WABX presents the National Lampoon Radio Hour every Sat. nite at 9 e.d.t. - ZERO HOUR every night 16:30.

MEETINGS AND LECTURES
- Jan. 23: Ski Club Meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the University Centre Alumni Dinner Room.
- Jan. 31: Public Lecture with guest Ralph Nader in St. Denis Hall at 7 p.m. tickets - $2 (2.50 non-students).
- Jan 28: Student Marketing Club presents - Mr. Denis Smith - of Mead an

AUTOMAR
- Jan. 18-20: at Cobo Hall with rock 'n roll. Jan. 18 - Rock and the Sharks 7:45 p.m., Freddie Cannon 9 p.m. and Vince Vance and the Valiants 10 p.m.
- Jan. 19 - same bands at 2 p.m. and 4 & 9 p.m. respectively for the Freddie Cannon & Rock 7:45 p.m., Chubby Checker 10 p.m. Jan. 26 - Rock & the Sharks at 3 and Vince Vance 2 & 4 p.m. plus Wolfman Jack 6:00 p.m. with $6, 5 & 4.

TALENT NEEDED
- Talent is needed to help put on a weekly house for west end residents, Any willing to contribute talent and time please phone Pat Woodstock at 256-8275.

PAGE TWELVE (229) — THE LANCE — JANUARY 18, 1974
A Chilean in Windsor speaks out

I am a middle-class Chilean who left Chile in 1971 and have since closely followed events in the Chilean city which has been a testing ground for the recent military coup in that unfortunate country. As one with numerous relatives and friends still in Chile, I am amazed by the endless and never-ending generalization of the downfall of Marxism in Chile as evidenced by recent editorials and other expressions of opinion in the Canadian press. Many of these evidently were written by advocates of communism or radical socialism for propaganda purposes. They are false and misleading.

The recent coup was a vindication of the rights and liberties of the majority of Chileans. They have been governed for the last three years by a minority which threatened to destroy and almost succeeded in destroying the proud democratic heritage of Chile. The situation had reached a point of no return, with a certain type of society and protected the interests of the upper classes.

Salvador Allende was elected president by 36 percent of the voting public certainly a minority of the Chilean people, but was allowed by Congress to take office only after promising to respect the Constitution and laws of Chile - a promise that was not kept. The economic chaos was brought about, not by the recent strikes, but by gross, and, it would appear, deliberate mismanagement of economic policies and 'nationalization.' The situation was worsened by the professional politicians of the left did not impress me too much either. They greatly resembled their right-wing counterparts. A year experience left me to modify a lot of these first judgments.

In August we had broken all production records, in spite of difficulties getting raw materials. We calculated that in another year we'd produce in Chile many items that until now were imported. Other errors attributed by Fajon to Allende:

The change was impressive. We could understand one left-wing Chilean proclaiming that neither Moscow nor the Fourth International of the Trotskyites were instruments in his hands. It was "Marxist" government, the State machine remained in the hands of the middle classes. This new government was no more Marxian than the so-called "Communist Party of Chile" that he had appointed to it. The Chilean CP made a mockery of Marxism which was revealed when Allende took a headline from Moscow down.

The occupation of firms that were not included in nationalization plans.

The list was tragic and shameful. It must be made to be free.
Lancerette basketball roundup

The first half of the season for the Windsor Lancerette Basketball Team has been a good one. Standings to date, in the Western Division standings, showings, indicate a strong placing for the team considering that we have two games in hand. The Western Division standings are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Queen's</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>282</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Waterloo</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Western</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>237</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guelph</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>237</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McMaster</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>237</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laurier</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>237</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In the games played, including exhibitions, Mary Pat Searles has netted 76 points, Karen Covill in 73, Pat Thomas, and Bette Greenhill in 63. Mary Pat Searles and Greenhill have scored 31 points. Martha Waters and Bunny Robinson are doing an excellent job at protecting the Windsor basket. Two or our rookies, Mary Pat Searles and Pat Thomas are showing great ability in their perfor-

Our next conference game will be played here at St. Denis Hall, Saturday January 19 at 6:15 pm against the girls from Guelph. For the remainder of the season, the Lancerette basketball schedule is as follows:

- Thurs. Jan. 17: Windsor at Eastern Michigan University
- Sat. Jan. 19: Guelph at Windsor
- Fri. Jan. 25: Windsor at McMaster
- Sat. Jan. 26: McMaster at Laurier
- Wed. Jan. 30: St. Clair College at Windsor
- Fri. Feb. 1: Windsor at Waterloo
- Feb. 2: Windsor at Laurier
- Tues. Feb. 5: Windsor at Adrian
-  Fri. Feb. 9: Waterloo at Windsor
- Mon. Feb. 11: Wayne State at Windsor
- Sat. Feb. 16: McMaster at Windsor
- Sat. Feb. 23: SEMIFINALS

March 1-2: FINAL TOURNAMENT

The success of the Lanceretta basketball team, this year, is the highest yet. The girls are looking forward to a promising and winning season. So come on out and support them.

Ryerson Rams Windsor

by RICK WILEY

In hockey action at Adie Knox Arena, last Saturday, the University of Windsor Lancers were unable to hold on to a 2-0 third period lead against the University of Toronto Blues, 5-2, at the hands of the Rams. The victory was the first for the Rams in 38 starts and ends a two and one-half year period without a win on their part.

The star of the game was, undoubtedly, Mitch Begin who stopped 49 of the 52 shots levelled at the Windsor net during the course of the game; however, his performance could not stand alone as the Lancers only counted on two of their 19 shots.

A scoreless first period, followed by a Windsor goal in the second gave the home-team a 1-0 lead after two periods of play. Bagley got that marker with the help of Barron.

Windsor went ahead 2-0 early in the third on a goal by Da Boys. However, it was the extent of the Lancer scoring. Ryerson responded with three unanswered goals in the final period to give themselves the win. Platt and Hanna struck at 3:15 and 17:10 respectively to tie the score. Then, with just 17 seconds remaining in the game, Czatkowski beat the Lancer defense for the game winner. The final score: Ryerson 3, Windsor 2.

Fencers open season

The OUAA champion University of Windsor men's fencing team participated in a pre-season action this past week. On Saturday, at Wayne State University, the team showed Offside; however they received the coup de grace from the University of Michigan and the hosting Wayne team in subsequent competition.

Tuesday, John Chan and Brian Clason went undefeated but the Lancer team could not cut down powerful team from the University of Michigan.

Despite the won-lost record of last week the team's coach, Dr. L. Kroup, was pleased with their overall performance and looks forward to winning a season in league competition.

On February 2 the University of Windsor will host the OUAA Far West Divisional Championship. Coach Kroup is confident that the team will come out on top on this occasion.

Fencing has attracted large crowds at Windsor in recent years — perhaps it is time to change that. Come on out and watch a champion in action, in fact, take a champion to lunch next week — they'll be happy to not that expensive to feed.

Watch the Lancer for details as to the time and place of matches as they occur. (bumper stickers available on request).

From the Sports Desk

The University of Ottawa Gee Gees, with victories over York University and RMCO moved to the top spot in OUAA Eastern Section Basketball.

The position in the Eastern Section had been well held by the Laurentian Voyagers. The Voyagers were knocked out of the top spot by the surprising University of Toronto Blues. In beating the Voyagers, the Blues won their fifth league contest of the season. It would appear that the Blues will make a very strong run for a playoff berth this season. It will be Toronto's first time in the playoffs in quite a few seasons.

In the Eastern Section of the OUAA, the game between the Laurentian Voyagers and the Ottawa Gee Gees will have quite a bearing on the final standings of the league. In an earlier meeting between the two teams, Ottawa came out on top. Laurentian will be fighter to overcome their loss to Ottawa and their dropped double header to last weekend.

In the Western Section there would appear to be three key games this week: Waterloo at Queen's, the game unavailable at press time; a great crosstown rivalry, Guelph at Laurier on Saturday night and Waterloo at Laurier, also on Saturday night. The game between Waterloo and London is being billed halftime festivities.

The 1974 University of Windsor Bowling League doesn't start regular season play until January 21 but already the 'Alley Cats' look like serious contenders for the title with the 'Choppers' last year. They took high team single (5/91) and high team series honours in exhibition 'pin action' last Monday night at the Halfpenny Lanes.

The 'Alley Cats' edged out the Blackhalls for high team single by four pins and recorded a 1673 series in outdistancing B.M.O.C. who had a 1667 series.

High individual single was posted by Graham McMillan of Tecumseh Hall at 195. Michelle Parkin took high series with a 595. From the Sports Desk
Charlie psyches Mac!

The number-four ranked University of Windsor Lancers stopped the McMaster Marauders 82-72 in igloo gymnasium in Hamilton last Saturday.

"We played very well defensively," Dr. Thomas noted. "We showed a lot of poise out there. People forget we're not an experienced team. Only Jerry Sovran has been with us more than two years, everyone else is in his first or second year. I'm happy with any kind of win from here."

Lead Murray McLean was heard to remark as the Marauders were defeated in their first two games at the hands of Brock University (9-4), and Queen's University (7-6). They recovered, however, in time for their third match in which they defeated the University of Waterloo (7-4). The winners of the bonspiel were the members of York University of Toronto. Brock and the University of Toronto finished second and third respectively.

The team is now in preparation for the University of Toronto Bonspiel to be held on January 19 in that city.

The skip Russ McBride played his usual fine game much to the delight of the many spectators. As one fan remarked shortly after the first loss, "It's a shame that a player of McBride's high calibre should be forced to work with three such incompetent amateurs".

Lead Murray McLean was heard to remark shortly after the first game "When does the bonspiel begin?". At the time of this writing, second Peter Kiborn and vice Doug Bakes were still trying to find an answer.

Brock indicated that Chris Coulthard, Jerry Sovran, Bill Loyndsky and Charlie Pearsall were the Lancers' key players, especially Charlie (who did not play). Informed sources reveal the gist of Mac dressing room preparation for Windsor:

"You see that number 54? He's better than any one of you! Now when he gets that ball, I want you guys to be all over him, understand? Don't let him pass, run, shoot or breathe!"

No wonder they were so upset when Charlie didn't play. In his stead, Windsor rebounded and defeated very well. Brady Spetz had 25 points, Bill Loyndsky 21 and Chris Coulthard 12. Dave Roser and Indrek Kungats had 19 apiece to lead Mac. (Sorry scout.)

Charlie psyches Mac!
Fascist funny

Canada has been invited to an Energy Conference in the United States, an invitation extended by Richard M. Nixon, alleged felon and top decision-maker in the so-called 'Free World'. A few of his latest decisions include cancellation of a needed investigation of the United States milk producing industry and cancellation of the anti-trust action against I.T.T.

With his usual dexterity (or is it forgetfulness?) Nixon bypassed the judiciary system while making these decisions, and depended again on his own brand of folklore, down-home fascism. Perhaps fascism is too strong a word. Perhaps it is not strong enough. Its use is justifiable, however, by anyone (politically) to the left of Adolph Hitler.

A suppressed interview with Adolph Hitler in Argentina included this exchange:

Question: What would you do if you ever regained a position of Power?

Hitler: "If I ever got back into Power," he quipped, "it would be no more Mr. Nice Guy.

Now, some political analysts are speculating that Hitler is no longer hiding in Argentina, but is actually undercover in the Oval Room of the White House. Of course, this theory is pure of Power?

It Pays to Advertise In The Lance

Call 253-4232 Ext 326

Guns and butter

As reported by the Detroit Free Press last Tuesday (Jan. 8, 1974) the United States of America continues to sell guns, ammunition and other military equipment to certain Arab nations, as well as increasing its military support of Israel. Since the Arabian Oil embargo against the U.S. and Holland has not been lifted, the arms exports remain incomprehensible to the average tax-paying citizen.

A spokesman for the munitions side was quoted as saying "Two can play at that game!" in reference to the increased oil prices. "We are charging the Arabs for the guns and equipment." Unfortunately the oil price pinch is being felt by the taxpayer while the increased profits yielded by the arms sales are being funneled into the already bulging pockets of dealers in such commodities. When are the people of the United States going to object to such gross manipulation and to worry about the White House buying? All, 1984 is now only 10 years away.

What Next?

Who Are We?

Systems Design is an interdisciplinary department at Waterloo, which offers graduate (M.A.Sc. & Ph.D.) as well as undergraduate (B.A.Sc.) programmes. Our graduate students combine their background in Business, Economics, or Political Science, Engineering, Computer Graphics, Architecture, Anthropology and Psychology.

What Are We Doing?
The faculty and students in Systems Design at Waterloo are working together on important and challenging projects in Systems Theory, Modeling and Simulation, Ergonomics and Human Systems Engineering; Computer Graphics; Computer-aided Design and Computer-assisted instruction; Conflict Analysis; Communications; Optimization; Stability Theory.

Further InformationAvailable:

Financial assistance is available and we admit students in January and May as well as September.

We can send you a detailed 30 page brochure on the various full and part-time Systems Design Graduate Programmes.

Write: Professor R. H. Fraser, Chairman

Department of Systems Design

University of Waterloo

Waterloo, Ontario, Canada N2L 3G1

The Christian Brothers

(De La Salle Brothers)

A life of prayer and service in community.

Brother George Morgan F.S.C.

will be on this campus

Friday, January 18, 1974.

Contact the Placement Office for an appointment.
by MARGIE DUCHarme

Energy crisis—a myth?

There is no crisis, but rather a problem of an energy shortage," according to Dr. Elsworth Briggs, a committee representing the Economics Club of the University of Windsor, who spoke on Tuesday evening in the Administration Building to discuss a report which examines the problem of energy crisis." The title and content of the report is "The Energy Crisis: A Myth or a Reality?"

Dr. Briggs said that the problem is often exaggerated and that the United States is self-sufficient in energy sources. He also mentioned that the energy crisis is a result of the oil companies wanting to increase their profits by raising prices.

In terms of future developments, Dr. Briggs said that the United States should look to other energy sources, such as nuclear power and renewable energy. He also suggested that the government should invest in research and development to find new energy sources.

Consumer advocate to speak

Ralph Nader will be speaking in St. Denis Hall Wednesday, January 30 at 8:00 p.m. Admission cost is $2.00 per person.

Mr. Nader is currently involved with the oil crisis. He contends that such "a crisis is only a figment of the imagination of the oil companies and the media who are using only as a means to exploit the general public.

Seminar explores symbolic death

by MARGIE DUCHarme

The second in the Death and Dying Series Monday evening dealt specifically with symbolic treatments of death. Dr. Stuart Selby, Head of the Department of Communication Arts and Dr. Bernhard Harder of the Department of English, University of Windsor, created the film presentation and led the discussion.

Both the speakers encouraged discussion and comment on each of the films, although certain members of the audience expressed their inability to appreciate the approach they used in demonstrating images of death. It was discussed that art and symbolism as a means of communication of this phenomena was not totally successful for all present.

A notable point brought about in Monday's discussion was in regards to important attitudes as far as submission to, or acceptance of, death. One must grow to accept the inevitable and thus be instilled with a zest for living.

The various films presented were Red Kite, The Asignment, Those Who Mourn, and A Time for War; all of which were intensely effective in portraying the necessary message of living without fear of death.

Dope is the opiate of the masses

The Lance

UNIVERSITY OF WINDSOR, WINDSOR, ONTARIO

VOL. XLVIII

NO. 17

JANUARY 25, 1974
New immigration policy needed

by CHARLOTTE CLARK

"Defects in Canada's immigrant policy lie, not in the system itself, but in the administration of the law," stated
Dr. Mark MacGuigan, Parlia-mmental Secretary, Ministry of Immigration and Immigration. Dr. MacGuigan spoke on Canada's search for a new policy in immigration
Wednesday night in Moot Courtroom.

Until 1967, advantages were given to Europeans entering Canada. Today, two principles are operating with respect to immigration policy: the humanitarian social principle allowing immigrants to bring their families into the country readily and the economic principle resting on the basis that most persons come to Canada for they feel that they can make a better living here.

Physic's scholar

From Office of Information Services

A second year honours
Physics student at the University of Windsor has been named the first recipient of the University's new Nicholas Copernicus Scholarship in Physics.

Thomas A. Znotins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kazimir Znotins of Renfrew, Ontario is a graduate of Brennan College in Windsor. He is present studying in the University of Windsor's
Physics Department and plans to continue with graduate work in physics following his graduation with the B.Sc.
degree.

The Nicholas Copernicus Scholarship in Physics was established in 1973 to commemorate the 500th anniversary of the birth of Polish scientist and patron of Copernicus, the University of Windsor's
Foundation and donors.

Mr. Znotins is the first student to receive the Scholarship, valued at $300 for the academic year, and the only recipient of the award during the Copernican year.

The latter principle has resulted in an increase in the number of immigrants as it is generally believed throughout the world, that Canada is the place to make your fortune.

Dr. MacGuigan emphasized that no discrimination is practised and immigrants are free to live anywhere in the country. Toronto absorbs half of all persons recently landed in Canada while some major cities receive none. Dr.
MacGuigan questions whether immigrants should be allowed to congregate in one city. It feels that then needs of all immigrants must be met in the context of Canada's need in order that a Canadian identity be perpetual.

In the future, Dr.
MacGuigan believes that a narrower group of immigrants must be allowed to stay in Canada permanently. However, he contends that this is far too come about and Canada will continue to let prevent anyone into the country as long as they please.
Concerned Women reply to Wren

January 22, 1974

To the Editor:

We commend Dr. Wren in his interest in educating women towards the facts of birth control. But we do believe that some emphasis should be placed on the male role in regard to birth control. After all, intercourse is a fifty-fifty deal.

Dr. Wren, in his article, has placed the onus usually upon the female for the prevention of pregnancy. He has not installed in the male any sense of responsibility in regards to birth control. With the advent of the Pill, it has become convenient for men to assume that they have no duty in the situation.

It is our belief that Dr. Wren in his role as educator should include all methods of birth control relating to both women and men. How many men on this campus actually know how to use a prophylactic effectively? How many men feel that it is their responsibility to know?

We feel that methods of birth control are a joint responsibility between both men and women.

Perhaps now with the addition of Dr. Williams on the staff of the Campus Medical Health Service, there will be a more equalized attitude in this area.

Yours truly,

Walter W. Wren M.D.,
Director,
Student Health Service,
University of Windsor,
Windsor, Ontario.
The A.F.L.-C.I.O.-C.I.A.: Star Le Patriote

U.S. unions are bleeding the Canadian worker dry and the government is hiding the facts from us! In 1968 the Trade Union Section of the Report under the Corporations and Labour Returns Act (CALUR A) was "late" in appearing. The Report was finally tabled in 1971 and whole sections describing the domination of the Canadian worker by U.S. unions were censored and deleted. Hundreds of copies were shredded to keep the facts out of the reach of the Canadian people.

In June of 1970, the Deputy Minister of Labour ordered the staff of the Labour Gazette (an official government publication), to shred and recycle all 20,000 copies of the June 1970 issue which contained an article entitled "Foreign Control of Canadian Unions" based on the 1967 CALURA returns.

What was the government afraid to reveal? It was the fact that the "international" U.S. unions in Canada made a profit of $89 million dollars off the Canadian worker between 1962 and 1969. According to Alister Gillespie, Minister of Industry Trade and Commerce, the report was rewritten because of typographical errors and parts of it were considered inappropriate. Inappropriate to whom? What Gillespie is saying is that it would be inappropriate for the Canadian people to know what their imperial masters are doing in Canada.

The U.S. unions always reply with public denunciations of the figures as inaccurate, when in fact it was they who submitted them. They tried to apply political pressure to suppress these figures. That was why the report was "delayed". The latest report now shows that between 1962 and 1970 more than $100 million dollars in dues have gone south of the border in clear profit. The Canadian worker sweats it out on the job while some "poor" union bureaucrat can get a $50,000 to $75,000 salary for sitting on his ass. This is indeed "international" union business.

The provincial governments are also getting in on the act of suppressing the Canadian workers who dare to fight for independent, free and democratic Canadian unions. The Canadian workers face the workings of the "Labour Relations Board" which has the power to legally "certify" a union as sole bargaining agent for a unit of workers. At present the R.C. Board is delaying and preventing many breakdowns, allowing U.S. unions to lay on just a bit longer, to collect more Canadian dues in order to fight us.

Now the "Canadian" Labour Congress (composed of 80 percent U.S. unions) has recently launched a "Million Dollar Campaign" to combat Canadian workers demanding independent unions. The U.S.-run unions are running scared. Leonard Woodcock and Dennis (the Menance) McDermott and all union big shots are scared because they are being exposed for what they really are — labour aristocrats.

Where is the $1 million dollars coming from? It is strange that hardly any account is given to how the money is come by? Isn't it strange that the campaign is now covered in silence?

It is no secret that the U.S. State Department and the CIA have always used the U.S. unions as conduits for funds and against movements that the former consider are against the interest of the U.S. They did so in Europe after World War II, in Guatemala and in the Dominican Republic. In May 1967, Walter Reuther openly admitted these facts in the Guardian the publication of the Windsor UAW. Check out the facts. The CIA gave $50,000 and Victor Reuther $500,000 dollars personally.

The record shows that U.S. unions acting as agents of the U.S. is shore through us with collaborators with U.S. police agents working towards the destruction of independence and freedom of the labor movement around the world. The Canadian unions cannot allow Canada to become a colony under the rule of U.S. imperialism. We have nothing to thank the U.S. unions for. They sold us down the drain every time. How will we show that we do not expel any union of any importance in Canada was organized by U.S. Americans. We have done it all ourselves.

These unions are not "international" they are always based off ourselves. The movement is not rising where the Canadian workers are demanding their own unions. Unions which are democratic, free and Canadian.
Dear Sir:

I am writing in reply to the stir in your January 18, 1974 issue concerning the lack of precision and time as the important factors. But, as far as I can think, no one has ever looked to see how precise the wall clocks are.

The clocks might be precise in the sense that some of them do tell time, but some do not. In this way, they might be considered as accurate in their timekeeping. However, the question of precision arises when we consider the accuracy of the time displayed on these clocks.

The precision of a clock can be measured by the accuracy of its timekeeping. This means that the clock should be able to maintain a consistent and accurate time over a period of time. If a clock is precise, it will keep time accurately for a long period of time.

On the other hand, some clocks may be accurate at a certain point in time, but they may not be accurate for a longer period of time. This means that the clock may be accurate for a short period of time, but it may become inaccurate over time.

In conclusion, while some wall clocks may be accurate at a certain point in time, they may not be precise in their timekeeping over a longer period of time. Therefore, it is important to consider both accuracy and precision when choosing a wall clock.
A Word from A.C.T. (Assumption Chaplaincy Team)

quality and humility towards material things. It is what enables us to love things instead of grabbing and mauling them. Material things are not simply means to man’s pleasure, they are of value in themselves as the handiwork of God. And so it follows that we have to learn to love them without greed and to treat them with reverence. If this is so of ordinary material things, so much the more must one’s reverence be intensified when the “object” is the body of a person.

Opinionated to say the least, Vann states rather categorically that if you lack temperateness, you lack reverence and therefore you cannot love. This lack, he claims, you suffer whenever you grab and domineer and do violence. You cannot love if you are restricted to a partial pleasure — because the act is selfish and sensual. Love, on the contrary, is a total enhancement of being, a glorifying of the whole body-spirit, a news to the forging of the oneness of two beings. And therefore, is a total process of enlargement of being, so much the more must one’s reverence be intensified when the “object” is the body of a person.

B. But perhaps worth contemplating. Can you take more?

Vann’s view is that the purpose of the life of the senses is to enable us to know and love and become one with God’s creatures and things, to be led to God. In love for God’s creation, its material essence, human beings especially, have our own being to recognize and marvel at. In a real sense, we may be unsatisfied, that is, the original purpose of life in the material world is necessary for growth, for love. There can be no love in growth if there is exploitation.

Temperateness does not destroy. Rather, it fulfills. You do not lose less but more when you treat things — persons — with reverence. You do not lose less but more when you treat things — persons — with reverence.

...with reverence. If this is so of ordinary material things, so much the more must one’s reverence be intensified when the “object” is the body of a person...
The Worksize virus

There's a virus that takes Mondays and Fridays off the ends of the work week, accounts for increasing absenteeism and makes people quit their jobs without picking up their last paycheck. It's a worksize virus, causing concern among both economists and sociologists around the world. Young people catch it most easily, according to true magazine. They express discontent with hum­

Unemployment no longer means what it used to mean, that is, merely “out of work”. It begins to take shape as a temporary social and economic retirement from the work force, a necessary and inevitable part of Canada's social set-up.

Unemployed people with real ability are given the chance to work where they do the most good. They will not be funneled into “just any job” merely so they will be employed. The old method, a result of social and economic pressure, led to much waste, especially of human resources.

In recent years the ranks of the unemployed have swelled by university graduates and young people who have their high school and one or two years of university. This has produced a new breed of unemployed who won't take just any job that comes along. This attitude stems not from laziness, but usually from the result of bitter experience.

For example, a graduate student (Chemical Eng) can't find work so he accepts a job selling cameras at Discount City. Within six months the mind-numbing monotony has just about driven him insane. In addition, he is actually losing hold of his university training, which from lack of use is slipping away. He also loses the old mental sharpness that characterized a challenging situation, whether it be in university or a job which can use his hard won skills.

Unemployed grad students, though not a rarity, are a small minority in the Worksize Centres of Canada. Rather more numerous are the unemployed or underemployed who work in university offices, are notably deprived by university monony has just about driven him insane. In addition, he is actually losing hold of his university training, which from lack of use is slipping away. He also loses the old mental sharpness that characterized a challenging situation, whether it be in university or a job which can use his hard won skills.

People are double-cursed because they have the brains to get a B.A. but usually end up with no skill, nothing they can immediately turn into a marketable commodity. People in this situation are particularly susceptible to the Frustration — Boredom syndrome.

Unless they are advised to get into a company, start at the bottom, and work your way up. They are encouraged by the line ‘with your education, you’ll never have a job quickly’. Getting into a company, however, is not so easy. Frequently one ends up taking what’s available whether you like it or not. Once in the company, the realization inevitably comes that your “education” isn’t going to help you if you don’t like what you are doing. Due to this evolutionary development, the growth of new social dimensions to the Unemployment aspect of Canadian affairs is inevitable.

On the government side, Unemployment checks give a temporary relief from a demanding, difficult-to-satisfy segment of Canadians, a segment for whom the government must take full responsibility. How many times did politicians, teachers, everyone in authority, it seemed as if they’re going to get a good job, stay in school.” So they stayed in school, but the jobs aren’t there. Furthermore, their education seems worthless.

Suddenly, slang comes a reprise, an intermin period made viable by those unemployment checks every two weeks. This golden opportunity should be used wisely and appreciated as possibly a last chance at scoring a creative, fulfilling job.

At first dull routine continues to grip your mind. You are in the blind simultaneously looking everywhere for work while remaining at home near the phone (so that you are able and ready to work every day). But gradually, creative boredom begins to grow at your un­

Education and employment - a dilemma

by R.J. Bernard

Creative boredom

Unemployment no longer means what it used to mean, that is, merely “out of work”. It begins to take shape as a temporary social and economic retirement from the work force, a necessary and inevitable part of Canada’s social set-up.

Unemployed people with real ability are given the chance to work where they do the most good. They will not be funneled into “just any job” merely so they will be employed. The old method, a result of social and economic pressure, led to much waste, especially of human resources.

In recent years the ranks of the unemployed have swelled by university graduates and young people who have their high school and one or two years of university. This has produced a new breed of unemployed who won’t take just any job that comes along. This attitude stems not from laziness, but usually from the result of bitter experience.

For example, a graduate student (Chemical Eng) can’t find work so he accepts a job selling cameras at Discount City. Within six months the mind-numbing monotony has just about driven him insane. In addition, he is actually losing hold of his university training, which from lack of use is slipping away. He also loses the old mental sharpness that characterized a challenging situation, whether it be in university or a job which can use his hard won skills.

Unemployed grad students, though not a rarity, are a small minority in the Manpower Centres of Canada. Rather more numerous are the unemployed or underemployed who work in university offices, are notably deprived by university monony has just about driven him insane. In addition, he is actually losing hold of his university training, which from lack of use is slipping away. He also loses the old mental sharpness that characterized a challenging situation, whether it be in university or a job which can use his hard won skills.

People are double-cursed because they have the brains to get a B.A. but usually end up with no skill, nothing they can immediately turn into a marketable commodity. People in this situation are particularly susceptible to the Frustration — Boredom syndrome.

Unless they are advised to get into a company, start at the bottom, and work your way up. They are encouraged by the line ‘with your education, you’ll never have a job quickly’. Getting into a company, however, is not so easy. Frequently one ends up taking what’s available whether you like it or not. Once in the company, the realization inevitably comes that your “education” isn’t going to help you if you don’t like what you are doing. Due to this evolutionary development, the growth of new social dimensions to the Unemployment aspect of Canadian affairs is inevitable.

On the government side, Unemployment checks give a temporary relief from a demanding, difficult-to-satisfy segment of Canadians, a segment for whom the government must take full responsibility. How many times did politicians, teachers, everyone in authority, it seemed as if they’re going to get a good job, stay in school.” So they stayed in school, but the jobs aren’t there. Furthermore, their education seems worthless.

Suddenly, slang comes a reprise, an intermin period made viable by those unemployment checks every two weeks. This golden opportunity should be used wisely and appreciated as possibly a last chance at scoring a creative, fulfilling job.

At first dull routine continues to grip your mind. You are in the blind simultaneously looking everywhere for work while remaining at home near the phone (so that you are able and ready to work every day). But gradually, creative boredom begins to grow at your un­

Education in perspective

Ed. Note: The following excerpt is from an abridged version of a talk given at the 24th Annual Conference of the Association of Graduate Schools in the Association of American Universities.

The manpower theory of educational planning is based on a grand fallacy that permeates our culture. This is what I call the output-input or the means-ends fallacy. We tend to think of our world as being divided into inputs, primarily in the form of effort or work, and outputs, primarily in the form of economic goods and services. We forget that the so-called inputs are as much a part of our lives as the outputs. The inputs in the form of work and other aspects of our existence can be painful and costly in human terms; they can also be interesting, rewarding, and even exhilarating. Similarly, the outputs in the form of consumer goods and various life experiences can be stultifying and debilitating; or they can be constructive and gratifying. Life is simply not divisible into neat categories of inputs and outputs. The object is a good life as a whole including both the activities and experiences called inputs and the activities and experiences called outputs. It may be quite legitimate for people to choose vocations and styles of work that are personally rewarding even if not as productive, in the sense of adding to GNP, as other kinds of employment. This point tends to
This week we are going to take a look at some people who formed the style of music which became known as "bop". They are such famous names as Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker, Art Blakey, Thelonious Monk and countless others. These are the names which have lived on as the best of jazz musicians. Now, the early recordings are available under many labels, and we will sample three of them.

ECHOES OF AN ERA — The Charlie Parker - Dizzy Gillespie Years, Roulette Records - 9045-105

Gillespie and Parker both found themselves in Earl Hines' band in 1943. Hines had been known as an innovator for many years and this desire for constant change made him always aware of new talent on the rise. The band of 1943 became known as the incubator of bop and it was in this atmosphere that Bird and Diz developed the devices and phraseology that were to characterize the rest of the monumental albums that the Moody Blues have given to the world. Four of their sets have been certified as Canadian Gold. The album, "Days of Future Passed", has recently been certified as Canadian Platinum, with the single from the London distributed Deram album, "Nights In White Satin", receiving a Gold Leaf Award. That album set the stage for the rest of the monumental albums that the Moody Blues have given to the world. Four more of their sets have been certified as Canadian Gold. RPM Gold Leaf Awards go to the Moody Blues for their Deram album, "In Search Of The Lost Chord" and their "Days Of Future Passed" album, "The Children's Children", "A Question of Balance" and "Seventh Sojourn".

BLUE NOTE GEMS OF JAZZ — Blue Note BST 82001

CHARLIE PARKER — Jazz Series FN-214

From the picture above one can see who is present on this 25th anniversary album. The artists and the songs offered chronicle the early years of bop and 'modern' jazz. The pioneers and the second generation musicians who helped further the music in the 50s and 60s are present on this commemorative album, and it's an album worth getting.

Finally, if the two albums mentioned above got you interested, you might like to sample another Charlie Parker album (shown below). Recorded in the period preceding his death in 1955, this selection shows the listener just how much Bird had changed during his more than a decade as a jazz innovator.

FILM SOCIETY PRESENTS

"The Valachi Papers" is the real story of the real mobs

"A chronicle of cruelty and corruption... impression on one's memory. The performances are excellent!" — Variety

"Far superior in every aspect to The Godfather" — Charles Brenner has the role of his career: The Valachi Papers is well worth seeing. It is better." — Variety

"In The Valachi Papers as good as The Godfather? The answer is no. It is better." — Variety

Wed. JAN. 30th 1974

ROOM 1120 MATH BLDG.

7 PM & 9 PM

Students with card — $1.00

Non-Students — $1.50

NEED MORE BREAD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment; in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised program needs qualified donors now. New process takes only plasma for this procedure. You can donate twice a week, with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit). Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM

Michigan Community Blood Center 3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit 1/2 block south of Medical Center

Phone 833-5539
Tonight, tomorrow and sundays are the final days for the Drama Society's production of "The Madmen at the Blood-letting of the Footlights to the audience."

Timothy McCarthy's original music very well complements the show and underscored the theatrical impact of Marat-Sade.

Detroit Symphony Orchestra

Detroit Symphony Orchestra

GALERIU TEA ROOM
415 Pelissier
Famous for Old Fashioned Home Cooking. New Open for Breakfast from 7:30 a.m.
SUNDAY SPECIALTY
Roast Beef with Yorkshire Including salad, dessert, coffee. $4.50
Chicken with Rosemary Including salad, dessert, coffee. $3.50
All Children $1.50
Open 7 Days a Week. 7:30 a.m. - 10 p.m.
DINNER LUNCHEON Menu - 11:00 - 9 p.m. Prices from $1.25 to $1.50 including Coffee
Our Dessert Specialty English Trifle, French Pastry, English Scones & Creams
TEA LEAF READINGS Monday to Friday 2:00 to 4:30 p.m.
254-9531

FILM SOCIETY PRESENTS
"Charles Bronson has the role of his career in "The Valachy Papers" (1974) starring Bronson and directed by baggy coile."
A special screening of "The Valachy Papers" will be at 7:30 p.m. in the University Theatre. The screening is free and open to the public.

Detroit Symphony Orchestra

Detroit Symphony Orchestra

Detroit Symphony Orchestra

Detroit Symphony Orchestra
by JOHN MCALLISTER

The Windsor Lancers could not stop the Waterloo Warriors 94-79 Saturday to move into undisputed first place in the OUAA West. In the second period, which was to date for both teams, it was the Lancers who took control early and never let the powerful Warriors get rolling.

The Lancers used another way while a few hundred extra seats snagged by Dundie fans for this one. They filled every nook and aisle available. Some seats sat on the floor and underneath the CSSW broadcast table at centre court.

It looked like a St. Denis crowd of old. The Warriors stopped as the strangers in black came through the swinging doors onto the court of their warmup. The Warrior warm-up is something to behold: it has some teams down a number of points even before the tipoff.

As it was, Waterloo won the opening tipoff, but lost the ball 99-98 as gripping Windsor one defense that would keep them off the floor in the final contest. That was the first of 29 Warrior errors.

Mike Moser and Bob Simons put Waterloo in front of the Lancers 14-8 by the time of Windsor's first-time-out at 13:57 of the opening quarter. During this three- and one-half minutes, the visitors were outrebounded and undaunted and took over the lead and the game by the end of the period, 19-16.

Mike Moser put 22 through the net in the second half and, along with 8 more from Trevor Briggs and 6 from Randy Spetz, gave Windsor a 65-48 lead at 36:50 of the final period. Mike Moser finished the game with 24 points to lead Waterloo, while Bob Simons and Trevor Briggs had 10 apiece. Jerry Sovran led Windsor with 19 points before he, too, fouled out, and the other Lancers in double-figures were: Tom Hogan with 16 points, Chris Coulthard 15, and Ernie Hohn matched 12 against his old team.

Dr. Thomas pointed especially to the good work of Charlie Frazzulli against Mike Moser, and the fine play of guards Tom Hogan ("a perfect game") and Chris Coulthard ("his best game of the year"). But he added that there wasn't one player for Windsor who didn't play well.

Windsor shot 31 of 65 from the field and 48 percent. There were a tremendous 32 of 39 from the free-throw line. They collected 36 rebounds and 15 assists and did not turn the ball over in the final period.

Windsor shot 50 percent on 32 of 64 from the field, and made good on 15 of their 20 free-throw attempts. They grabbed 37 rebounds and were whistled by officials and fans for 31 personal fouls.

The Lancers now play three tough road games before the home crowd will be able to again catch them in conference action. Tonight Windsor is at Brock University and tomorrow they take on the BrockBurgers. Next Tuesday in St. Denis Windsor hosts Detroit Institute in exhibition action.

Implied starting time is 8:15.

Lancers throttle Warriors

by JOHN MCALLISTER

The basketball team also went undefeated helping Windsor take all trophies offered at the two day tournament period. Sparking the basketball team were Brian Plenderl, Bob Kivier, Ford Churchill, Piers McMahan add spot and finesse to the Windsor offense.

Windsor Commerce teams awesome

In Monday's edition of the 'Globe and Mail' we said that McMahan was the eventual winner of that competition; although neither he nor Kivier had any right having their pictures in the paper.

Undoubtedly, the star of the entire Bonspiel was vice Doug Bakes of the Windsor rink. He played three fine games but, in addition, raved with the other three members of his team, having to constantly remind them of the reason they were there.

The Bonspiel, was the winner. York and Brock played three fine games but, in addition, staved off the other members of the Windsor rink (unless the other members of the Windsor rink can bring themselves up to Bakes' standard!) for the championship.

Coming up for the team is the OUAA Western Section championships to be held at Waterloo University on February 1st and 2nd. The winners of that competition will go on to represent the OUAA West in the OUAA Championship to be hosted by Brock University on the following weekend (Feb. 8-9).

Queen's who held the championship from 1967-1969, but who has failed to capture it since appears to be the team to beat this year. McMahan and Kivier luck at Waterloo may finally, in getting his charges to concentrate on their games last Saturday.

Bakes' broom bails out Lancer stonemen

by DOUG BAKES

On Saturday afternoon a Lancer curling team competed in the University of Toronto Bonspiel held at the Terrance Club in Toronto. Windsor defeated Ottawa 4-3, McMaster 7-2, and Laurentian 7-5.

The Windsor team worked out in the Judo Club is in the midst of its second round of competition. This should be so.

In any event, club president McAllister stated, "We played especially well defensively." Dr. Thomas said.

Early in the final period, the Lancers had the Warriors by 29 points, the largest lead of the game, 75-56. But the Lancers came back to within two, 46-44.

Windsor posted victories of 10-9 and 6-5 over RMC and Laurentian respectively before dropping a 9-4 game to York University of Toronto. Queen's the only undefeated team in the Bonspiel, was the winner. York and Brock took second and third places, in that order.

The Lancers with McBride at skip, also had Doug Bakes (vice), Peter Kilborn (second), and Murray McLean (lead) at this event which was a preparation for their OUA Western Sectional playoff at Waterloo on February 1st and 2nd.

Windsor showed a definite improvement over last weeks showing in Brock. Several Lancers, however, had trouble concentrating on their games last Saturday. McLennan was out on the ice doing whatever it is that he does; while Kilborn and McBride were having a competition of their own, trying to impress the photographers covering Windsor's game.

1

Brewed from pure spring water.

And that's the truth!
The Intramural news and standings

INTRAMURAL BOWLING
The 'Gutterboys', 'Blackballs', and 'Alley Cats' took imp. sweepin. sweeping all their games Monday night in intramural bowling. The 'Gutterboys' took high team series with a 216, far ahead of the next best series totaling the 'Blackballs' at 2143. The 'Gutterboys' team consisting of Bruno Russo, Gavin Grover, Dan Fosco, and Dan Benevides rolled scores of 156, 161 and 191 respectively in the third game to also claim high team single at 796 (including handicap).

Ian McMullan of BMOC captured high individual single and high individual series with scores of 195, 157, and 182 for a 534 total. Debbie Towers repeated as winner of the high individual female single with a 156 game and also won the high individual female series with a 159.6 mark.

It appears to be a three way battle for first place in division 'A' with the 'Alley Cats', 'Blackballs' and 'Gutterboys' all looking strong.

In the 'B' division, defending intramural bowling champs, the 'Chopsticks' could only manage to take two games from the 'Chicks' and were forced to share first place with the 'Gutterboys' who took 9 points from 'Buckeye Browsers'.

STANDINGS (BOWLING)
DIVISION 'A'

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gutterboys</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blackballs</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alley Cats</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BMOC</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

DIVISION 'B'

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Capstick</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gutter Bowlers</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blackballs</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Team Canada</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

INDIVIDUAL AVERAGES

MEN

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Player</th>
<th>Ave.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ian McMullan (BMOC)</td>
<td>182.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dan Benevides (Chicks)</td>
<td>173.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Norm Lannon (B.M.O.C.)</td>
<td>163.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bruno Russo (Chicks)</td>
<td>157.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Graham McMullan (Te. H.)</td>
<td>157.9</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WOMEN

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Player</th>
<th>Ave.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Mary-Lea Burnam (B.B'noos)</td>
<td>138.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Debbie Towers (Chicks)</td>
<td>136.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Karen Cameron (Chicks)</td>
<td>121.3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sue Pellet (BMOC)</td>
<td>112.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shanna Irwin (Chicks)</td>
<td>97.3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

RECREATIONAL RUGBY LEAGUE

FINALS STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Blairs</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wolves</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kickboots</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BMOC</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THE WAC CORNER

It's January, and school might be getting you down. If so, you might be interested to know that the Women's Athletic Council is providing all the women on campus with the opportunity to get out and enjoy themselves for a few hours during the week. Forget about the rain, leave your studies to lie fallow for a time, and come out to St. Denis Hall for some exercise and a great time.

This last Tuesday marked the end of Intramural Badminton. The many competitors found the evening to be well worthwhile. Lynn LaFond felt that the activity will be in demand again next season as well. Good badminton will also be offered at that time. Coming up in February: WAC will be sponsoring women's intramural basketball and karate nights from the 5th to 12th and again on the 26th.

WAC hopes to see you there — that's St. Denis Hall at 7:00 p.m.

LANCESTER BASKETBALL: January 25 (Fri.) - Lancers at McMaster, 7:00 p.m. January 26 (Sat.) - Lancers at Guelph, 8:15 p.m. January 29 (Wed.) - Lancers host D.T. St. Denis Hall, 9:15 p.m. January 30 (Thu.) - Lancers at Guelph, 6:15 p.m.

HOCKEY: January 27 (Sun.) - Lancers host Waterford, 1:15 p.m. January 30 (Wed.) - Lancers at St. Clair, 8:00 p.m.

WRESTLING: January 26 (Sat.) - Lancers at Guelph Invitational.

COMING EVENTS IN SPORT

LANCERS

CURLING: February 1 (Fri.) - Lancers at OUAA Western Section Championship, Waterloo.

BASKETBALL: January 25 (Fri.) - Lancers at Guelph, 8:15 p.m. January 26 (Sat.) - Lancers at Brock, 8:15 p.m. January 29 (Thu.) - Lancers host D.T. St. Denis Hall, 9:15 p.m.

HOCKEY: January 27 (Sun.) - Lancers host Waterford, 1:15 p.m. January 30 (Wed.) - Lancers at St. Clair, 8:00 p.m.

WRESTLING: January 26 (Sat.) - Lancers at Guelph Invitational.

LANCERETTES

BASKETBALL: January 25 (Fri.) - Lancerettes at McMaster, 7:00 p.m. January 26 (Sat.) - Lancerettes at Western, 12:00 noon. February 1 (Fri.) - Lancerettes at Waterloo, 8:00 p.m.

Volleyball: January 26 (Sat.) - Lancerettes at Western, 10:30 a.m. February 1-2 (Fri.-Sat.) - Lancerettes play in Challenge Cup No. 2, York University, Toronto, Fri 6:30 p.m.

Guard Tom Hogan of the Lancers (32) who played a perfect game according to Coach Thomas, gives Trevor Briggs (21) some opposition under the basket. Charlie Pearssly (54) and Bill Losvyky (42) watch.

SPORT SHORTS

LANCESTER SWIMMING: The Lancer swimming team competed in the Waterloo Invitational Meet. Some of the best swimmers in North America participated. Wood from the team has it that it was a great experience for all involved. Many team members were able to bring down the time for their respective events.

The following are the most successful swimmers: Mary-Lea Buchan, Dawn Ayrton, Marrie Finnegan, Rosemary Mousinho, Brian McMillan, and Cathy Milner.

LANCESTER HOCKEY: The Lancer hockey team were defeated by a score of 8-0 by the Waterloo Warriors, defending OUAA champions, last weekend.

Bhajan Circle

Under the auspices of the Department of Asian Studies

The Bhajan Circle will meet Thurs.

January 31st, 8-10 p.m.

for group singing of

Indian Devotional Songs

Asian Music Building -478 Sunset

No Admission — All Welcome

January 25, 1974 — THE LANCE — PAGE ELEVEN (724) Martin’s Christian Culture
by CHARLOTTE CLARK
Interdependence of nations is the basis of all future foreign policy, according to Paul Martin. Senator Martin spoke in Moot Court January 20 on Canada’s role in today’s world. Relationships between countries have radically changed what with the emergence of new nations, improved communications and the space age. Senator Martin believes that scientific achievements have and will continue to promote international understanding. Complete interdependence between the East and West block is now in the foreseeable future.

However, Senator Martin states that the world “has always had problems and will continue to have problems but it is the responsibility of every nation to minimize disputes through mediation and arbitration.”

Canada’s foreign policy has been primarily based on involvements in the activities of NATO and the United Nations. Senator Martin views NATO as the cornerstone of our military security and the link between Canada and Western Europe. It is NATO’s capacity to accept new developments that has aided in a better understanding of the USSR. The ideological concept of Communism is to be challenged through the strength of our political values, and an increasing degree of humanitarianism and social justice. The challenge still exists not in a defensive posture but as a recognition of responsibilities to interdependent values. The ultimate hope in the attaining of these goals rests with the United Nations.

The foreign policy of Canada is directed at enhancing the United Nation’s efforts as a tool in the settlement of international disputes. The U.N., to date, is the only institution to play a significant role as moderator in the effort to bring about world peace. Canada works closely with the U.N. acting as peace observer and promoter for the creation of the U.N. Emergency Force.

Senator Martin advocates a foreign policy which will allow for an adjustment to “shifting international relationships and an unification for national interest.”

The Blue Room Opens
This Sunday evening, January 25th, a coffee house will be opened in the Blue Room of Assumption University. It will remain open on Sunday for the remainder of the year. The coffee house is to be operated by University students on a non-profit basis. It is hoped that the Blue Room will provide a warm and friendly atmosphere, in which students may get together, or simply take a break from studying.

There will be plenty of hot coffee, a little candlelight and music, and lots of guys and gals; so take a chance and drop in. The coffee house will be open 7:30 - 10:00 p.m. Sundays. The Blue Room will be offered as a replacement for the now defunct Room.

It will also present an excellent opportunity to meet and talk with some of Windsor’s renowned personalities, such as Rick Thibideau.

Canadian Humourist to Speak Under the Auspices
Noted Canadian novelist and humourist W.O. Mitchell will be visiting the campus on Thursday, January 31 under the auspices of the English Department. A native of Saskatchewan, M. Mitchell is best known for his classic novel, Who Has Seen the Wind (1947), regarded by many critics as one of the finest of all Canadian novels.

Jake and the Kid (1962), a collection of short stories based on his long running and immensely popular T.V. and radio series, was awarded the Leacock Medal for humour in the year of its publication. The Kite, a parody, appeared in the same year.

Currently, Mitchell’s latest novel, Vanishing Point, is receiving excellent reviews and has been consistently on the best seller list since its release some three months ago. An intensely moving tale of Canada’s native peoples, it is set on the Canadian prairies and explores the complications resulting from the clash of different cultures.

In addition to his literary abilities, Mitchell is regarded as one of the finest speakers and readers on the Canadian scene. He will meet informally with students and others who are interested in Assumption Lounge at 2:00 p.m. and will give a reading from works at 8:30 p.m. in Room 1120 in Math. Building A. Admission free.

Ontario Federation of Students Keep on Trying
The Ontario Federation of Students came into being eight months ago with the function of fulfilling the need of students speak forcefully on issues of concern. OFS-FEO now has recognition as the official voice of the students in Ontario.

OFS-FEO has set for itself three areas of activity: the maintaining and expanding of a credible provincial union; the completion of research; and the lending of support to individual member campuses over immediate issues of concern. Thus full time workers are financed by member universities who are charged a 40c fee per student to participate in the union’s activities.

OFS-FEO has given assistance in such projects as the creation of an off-campus housing service in Windsor and the revitalizing of student councils at Queens and Carleton. Research has been produced and published on the recent history of the student movement in Ontario, campus orientation programs, the financing of post-secondary education, and the Report of the Committee on Post Secondary Education. Several of these papers have been presented to the Committee on University Affairs and the government of Ontario.

OFS-FEO is currently involved in the preparation of a handbook - slightly different than a handbook - for the organizing of course unions throughout the province.

SPAGHETTI LUNCH
in Vanier Hall
WEDNESDAY JANUARY 30, 1974
11:30—1:30

SPAGHETTI — MEAT SAUCE
SALAD
ROLL & BUTTER
DESSERT
COFFEE

All You Can Eat For $1.25

ALSO: FEB. 14 AT 5:30 P.M.
ST. VALENTINES BUFFET
The House on Sunset Avenue or the Psychological Services Centre will be the scene of a series of group support groups beginning on February eighth. Envision a group of 12 people sitting around in a room for many hours over a week-end. They have nofood, and no ordinary business at hand, no one quite outside on their decisions. What goes on? According to the people at the House on Sunset, four people always ask about the content of decision. One person learns that he can speak his mind and that it feels good, another learns that others want to give him support, and he basks in the pleasure of encouragement, a third person learns that he "shuts people off" when he repeats himself in an angry tone. According to staff at the Centre, all this doesn't happen spontaneously or at random but follows a gradual development of a cohesive group.

Training groups are sometimes called Sensitivity Training or Encounter Groups, or T-Groups. For the members in themselves in February and March, the description and goals have been announced as follows: Human Relations Workshop I (Feb. 8, 9, 10), Human Relations Workshop II (March 8, 9, 10).

These groups composed of no more than 12 participants will use their ongoing experience as the focus for learning about interpersonal relations and about one's self with the main goals being personal growth and interpersonal effectiveness.

A Human Relations Laboratory in Developing Greater Skills in Team Effectiveness will be offered in March 15, 16, and 17. This laboratory will focus on more specific issues in how individuals work together, how decisions are made, and how leadership can be effective.

Although no fees are charged, a registration fee of $5.00 is posted and participants are asked to commit themselves to working with the group during the entire weekend work periods. To register or for further information, drop in at the Centre 326 Sunset.

Contraceptives linked to liver

The investigators found that all the patients had been taking oral contraceptives for six months to five years. No evidence of cirrhosis, hepatitis, or a congenital condition was found, suggesting that the contraceptives might be the cause. Previous studies have shown that women taking birth control pills increase their chances of having a stroke. Another area of concern is the possibility of fatal and non-fatal blood clots of other types, are twice as likely to develop gallbladder disease, and have much more chance of getting breast cancer.

Social Work hosts conference

The School of Social Work hosts a two-day Institute on Social Work February 2 and 1. Professor Alan F. Klein is the guest speaker. He will discuss the various ways to deal with groups and the changes which have occurred in the approaches. Professor Klein is currently a professor in the School of Social Welfare at the State University of New York in Albany, a Group Work Consultant in the Albany Home for Children, Organization and Supervision Consultant for the Veteran's Hospital, and a Family Group Therapist in private practice.

The Institute is open to all members of the community for a fee of $5.00 ($2.00 for full-time University students). The program, scheduled for 7:00 p.m. February 1 and 9:00 a.m. February 2, will be held in Room 1120 in the Math Building.

For more information or to register, contact the School of Social Work at the University.

Chances for learning about interpersonal relations and about one's self with the main goals being personal growth and interpersonal effectiveness.

A Human Relations Laboratory in Developing Greater Skills in Team Effectiveness will be offered in March 15, 16, and 17. This laboratory will focus on more specific issues in how individuals work together, how decisions are made, and how leadership can be effective.

Although no fees are charged, a registration fee of $5.00 is posted and participants are asked to commit themselves to working with the group during the entire weekend work periods. To register or for further information, drop in at the Centre 326 Sunset.

Contraceptives linked to liver

The investigators found that all the patients had been taking oral contraceptives for six months to five years. No evidence of cirrhosis, hepatitis, or a congenital condition was found, suggesting that the contraceptives might be the cause. Previous studies have shown that women taking birth control pills increase their chances of having a stroke. Another area of concern is the possibility of fatal and non-fatal blood clots of other types, are twice as likely to develop gallbladder disease, and have much more chance of getting breast cancer.

Contraceptives linked to liver

The investigators found that all the patients had been taking oral contraceptives for six months to five years. No evidence of cirrhosis, hepatitis, or a congenital condition was found, suggesting that the contraceptives might be the cause. Previous studies have shown that women taking birth control pills increase their chances of having a stroke. Another area of concern is the possibility of fatal and non-fatal blood clots of other types, are twice as likely to develop gallbladder disease, and have much more chance of getting breast cancer.

Shades of tokenism: Course on women at Memorial U.

Moral snags of abortion

by CHARLOTTE CLARK

Professors H.A. Nelson and T.L. Suttor contend that abortion is a personal matter that can only be decided by the individual. Speaking in Association Lounge, January 23, Professor Nelson pointed out that to have an abortion is a link with yourself. Should the choice be mine? Professor Nelson answered yes, as an extension to the point. The fetus is nature. The present wrong in having an abortion is not dying, but the post-emotional reaction. Professor Nelson believes that abortion becomes a pretention when the person involved is not completely aware of what he is doing. Often a person will undergo an abortion and not recognize the emotional consequences. There are many unknowns which depend on the extent to which one totally justifies the taking of an unborn child's life.

Doctors who perform abortions must also have the same pretensions as the pregnant woman. Professor Nelson raised the question of how a man who is trained and supposedly dedicated to the task of healing can deliberately take the life of a foetus. One develops a contorted self-hate if pretensions are made to justify an abortion.

Professor Suttor contends that religion is acceptable only if no self-deceptions are present. Pretensions and self-deceptions result in one living in a fantasy world and knowing not what is not really known and not knowing what is really known.

An abortion will become acceptable when it is decided when at the stage the foetus becomes human and whether or not abortion is manslaughter.
Classifieds

Classifieds will be accepted in the Lance office for free publication. No more than three lines to be handed in no later than the Monday before the Friday of publication.

WANTED — Someone to tutor in improving spoken English. 5-6 weeks ends. Good pay. 948-8911. Dominic Faustini. 9 A.M.-5 P.M.

WANTED TO BUY — Professional model skateboard. Contact Lance Photo Team. Ext. 153.

FOR SALE — San Giorgio Ski Boots-Size 9-Worn 2 times $75.00 value. Will sell for $45-$50 or best offer! Marian 252-7800.

TO SHARE — 2 Bedroom Apt., Plenty of Room, Furnished, $65 cheap. 10 minute walk from Campus. Phone 253-6243, ask for Mike.

FOR SALE — 1967 Volvo 122. Excellent condition. Safety checked. $1000. Phone Weeknights 4-500 to 8:00 p.m. 969-0564.

WANTED — Used Hufe. Phone Patti at 252-9366.

WANTED — Any used Martin guitar. Phone Dave, 253-7830 any time.

GUITAR FOR SALE — Gibson Hummingbird, hardshell case $450 or best offer. Call Mill at 258-9266.

FOR SALE — RCA tape recorder, $50 or best offer. 948-6777.

WANTED — Reel-to reel stereo tape recorder, Call John Sargent, Lancer Office or 256-0923.

FOR SALE — Wide 11ex.
What's purple, ragged and paid starvation wages? A grape worker.

The lot of the American farm worker, is not a happy one. In spite of numerous books and television documentaries that expose the poverty, squatter and inhuman working conditions faced by the harvesters of grapes and lettuce, the 'gapes of wrath' continue to be ignored. Indeed, the desperate plight of the farm worker highlights a situation peculiar to the affluent society we have fashioned for ourselves in North America: 'poverty almost gladly' reinforced by a government sensitive only to the whims and wishes of business interests.

Many of us are subjugated by the world of academia and, as such, are oblivious to the real outrage which prevails in some parts of the U.S., particularly California. A few incredible facts should prove enlightening. Consider, for example, that:

- In 1970, 31 percent of all farm workers were under 16 years of age. (Child Labor in Agriculture, A.M. Friends Service Comm.)
- Two-thirds of all farm workers are not covered by the 1970 federal farm minimum wage. (National Sharecroppers Fund, 1972)
- The average migrant family has 6.4 members, 2.3 of whom work on farms. Yet, the annual income for farm workers is only $2200. (Fresno Bee, Fresno, Ca., August 1971)
- 'Housing' is an euphemism, as the average farm worker home consists of only 2 rooms, 18 percent of which have no indoor electricity; 90 percent have no sink and 95 percent have no toilets, showers or tubs. (USDA, 1969)
- In 1972, the average per capita health care expenditure for migrants was $7.50. The corresponding figure for the rest of the population was over $200. Consequently, it is not surprising that death rates for migrants as a percent of the national rates are:
  - Infant mortality - 125 percent higher
  - Maternal mortality - 125 percent higher
  - Deaths of influenza and pneumonia - 200 percent higher
  - Death from TB & other diseases - 260 percent higher
  - Death from an occupational hazard — 300 percent higher

- Nevertheless it is surprising that in 1971 the life expectancy for migrants was 49 years while that for the rest of the population was expected to live to be 70. Small wonder that, according to the 1969 Report of the Senate Subcommittee on Migratory Labor, the migrant worker is classified as the third most dangerous occupation.
- What is surprising is that this situation continues to exist in the affluent, 'egalitarian' US. Of all the many attempts to unionize the farm workers proved unsuccessful. Finally, in 1965, Cesar Chavez managed to organize farm workers into a viable union, the United Farm Workers (UFW). By 1968 the UFW felt strong enough to pressure the growers into recognizing their newly created union. An organization committed to non-violence, the UFW chose to fight the growers with a continental boycott on grapes and lettuce - an economic weapon which, in 1970, was successful.

The growers' recognition of the UFW as the collective bargaining agent of the farm workers brought considerable improvements for those employed in the fields. Some of the basic provisions of the 1970 UFW contracts specified that:

- older workers with long seniority of his family might be paid at a lower rate.
- workers on strike were not permitted to be replaced by illegals from Mexico;

- there would be no discrimination as to race, sex, religion, age, political beliefs, natural origin... or language in hiring or housing;
- a normal work day would consist of 8 or 9 hours a day for 6 days out of a week;
- the growers would pay 10 cents per hour into the Robert F. Kennedy Medical Plan which pays for the health care of the worker and each of his dependents;

- pesticide levels (eg. DDT) that are dangerous to workers and consumers would be banned;
- toilets and cool drinking water with inedible drinking cups would be provided in the fields;
- Christmas shall be a paid holiday; work done on certain national holidays (eg. Thanksgiving) would be compensated at the rate of time and one-half;
- a worker employed for one would be entitled to one week's vacation.

In addition, wage rates rose dramatically - by 1973, the base wage in most contracts was $2.40 per hour or more.

Needless to say, the growers were less than enthusiastic about changes wrought by the UFW. In 1973, when the UFW contracts expired, negotiations for new contracts broke down. (The growers, straining public credulity, called the UFW's demands for improved working conditions 'unreasonable.')

Immediately, the Teamsters union, claiming to represent the farm workers, approached the growers and signed 'sweetheart contracts' which merely perpetuated the in-sufferable lot of the farm worker.

The UFW meanwhile, a duly and legally constituted union, went on strike. The growers countered by bringing in aliens to work the fields. They and the Teamsters also brought in hired goons at work on the UFW picket lines. Five thousand farm workers were jailed and 2 farm workers were killed. Some farm workers, fearful of the Teamster goons and unable to afford a lengthy strike, went back to work without union protection.

The growers, disillusioned, the UFW has vowed to fight on. Once again they have chosen to organize a boycott of grapes and lettuce across North America. Once again they are asking us to join the supermarket pickets urging shoppers to support the UFW by not buying California grapes and lettuce. Once again those of us who 'give a damn' will join in the struggle.

Issues which put our moral fiber to the test are not always 'cool' or 'in' things. Nevertheless a number of respectable organizations have endorsed the UFW cause with some measure of legitimacy. They include Windsor City Council, Bishop Carter, the Anglican Synod and other church groups.

Join other concerned individuals in fighting for justice and find solace in knowing that the cause is a good one. This is a Matter of Life and Death. For info. contact: Joe K. Turner, 119 S. 11th Street, or Jim McAllister: 258-2033.

"He that lends to the poor lends to the Lord and He shall repay his deed."
A Matter of Heart

Across Canada the word 'Ontario' has, for many years meant many people, many resources, fertile land and a relatively mild climate. In a word, prosperity. Prosperity, not the talent and capital necessary for development. There wasn't much talk of "sharing the wealth" with the Maritimes or Prairie provinces in any significant way.

Now, as everyone knows, at least one shoe is on the other foot. The Maritimes are still poor, but the Prairies are now spelled out in dollars and cents, with the price of grain being the most influential factor. Ontario contained the raw materials which attracted the attention of the industrial world; but the price will probably be raised to conform with price increases worldwide where the price stands at $21.00 and could go even higher.

Eastern Canada's reaction has been mixed. Ontarioists are indignant because the price hike is a nuisance, but they aren't too upset because they have the money and resources to pay extra till a cheaper energy source is found or developed. The Maritimes, however, are very, very worried. Their only source of energy is hydroelectric, and they are concerned that others will establish new sources using someone else's money to establish this new source.

Let us hope that the eventual trans-Canada pipeline will inaugurate more than just a flow of oil from one place to another. Let us hope that it symbolizes a new maturity in Canadian affairs, a real effort to "share the wealth" with all Canadians, especially those who are in real need. Let us hope that the Prairie provinces show themselves to be 'of bigger heart' than Ontario proved itself to be.

Our Man on Campus

Mike McKittrick, Prem. — The bitch-goddess of our university education.

Kevin Mutterback, Prelim. — The bitch-goddess of our university education.

Gary Olsen, III — I don't know.

Renato Fantin, II — Money is indubitably the most influential determinant in our society. With it one may buy politicians, house, dope and a piece of ass.

Rick Masaro, II — Money is the only reason we exist. Theres will go out with me by Eric Champagne.

Mike McKittrick is the only one who cares if you're sober.

From Liberation News Service

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

Our Man on Campus

Frank Norris
(Dann Bonk)

Philosophical Tidbit of the Week

"Give me men in the buff with their shirts ripped off,"

"That means remedies that don't work better, but are inherently ineffective or because the problem, a pain reliever does nothing for it and adds unnecessary medication.

Dristan contains "the decongestant not prescribed by doctors," an "exclusive allergist," and the "pain reliever that's sometimes justified is the pain reliever — usually aspirin or acetaminophen." The problem is that doctors prescribe these remedies, and the public is misled into thinking they are necessary.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Press, University of Windsor — Mayres de Communication des Etudiants, Universites de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre, and are open for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.
Good Luck.

January 25, 1974

The Editor, The Lance
University of Windsor
Windsor, Ontario

Dear Editor and friend,

I would like you to help me arrange for a copy of your newspaper, for I do not have a copy of your publication. I am writing to you to discuss a matter of great importance to me and to the people of this country.

The matter at hand is the issue of human rights and the protection of individuals from oppression and dictatorship. I am concerned that the current government is not doing enough to ensure the rights of all citizens, regardless of their background or beliefs.

I urge you to consider the following points:

1. The government should establish a strong legal framework to protect the rights of all citizens.
2. The government should provide education and training to ensure that all citizens have a basic understanding of their rights.
3. The government should take action to address the root causes of oppression and dictatorship.

I would like to hear your thoughts on these matters and to know if you believe the government is doing enough to protect the rights of all citizens.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

---

Neurotic's Corner

Runner.........R.J.B.

After slowly dislodging the heavy manhole cover I poked my head up into the tepid air and surveyed the desolate landscape. A grey drizzle lent an illusory aspect to the wet black cardboard covered in grey rain. I snatched at a box of matches and amputation casualties. I puffed on a pipe, both had brown leather briefcases. Their back-packs were crumpled, they were tired and sunburnt.

As soon as they were gone I pulled the manhole cover tightly shut over my head and climbed back down to PUC Intersection 112 and set out for home. The sewers were complicated enough. I guess, but not for me, anymore. I can see in the dark, I can smell the different odours characteristic of each tunnel. I have made marker arrows and signs at multiple intersections. I never get lost anymore.

I walked about two miles with perhaps a mile to go, and I was getting hungry. I was at peace in the dark because there was food in my shelter. I had water, I had air to breathe and when I was tired, I rested. Simple.

My reverie was broken by a faint almost indiscernible patch of light, ahead of me on the right. I was in a main waterway approaching a large right-angled branch. I saw the main I was traversing. The light was coming from this branch. I hesitated only a second then began to run at full speed past the month of the branch and on down the tunnel, hoping to reach Intersection 115 which was near my shelter. There I would be safe from the Reclamation. I was always the chance that the R.P.'s would turn left and search down the way I'd come. But he heard a faint whistle and felt rather than saw the soft sheet from behind, and he knew that the Police were after him and he wasn't going to make it.

Why, why did I succumb to the crazy desire to look Outside? Lips that were drawn back over clenched teeth smiled, and ears that heard his breath pumping in whistling gasses also heard his labouring heart sing. My body has found some meaning, some joy, that my mind cannot appreciate. He felt like laughing but he couldn't spare the air.

The Faceless Ones must have seen me, reported to the R.P.'s. I'm afraid I can see something that stinks... But the crackle came from behind then an amplified voice dunned, "Halt or be killed." The Voice spoke with indistinctness and I felt my pen in a pencil-shlin erasing streak of red fire burned and zipped over my head, momentarily distilling the stygian gloom. I saw my intersection just ahead.

I'm not going to make it. Another heat beam singed his shoulder when chance intervened in the form of Stephen, another underground man who had evidently chosen this unfortunate intersection to take a nap. Breathless, his side throbbing painfully, the runner threw himself down to the wet concrete bed of the tunnel and curled up with his pike face and hands hidden from the searching light, just as Stephen stood up, groggy from sleep and blinded in the glare of the silently approaching heat ray. The heat ray shot out at Stephen, as I thought, a blinding blast through the forehead.

Stephen fell and metal grapples extended from the Police car swept him up into the pike face and hands hidden from the searching light, just as Stephen stood up, groggy from sleep and blinded in the glare of the silently approaching heat ray. The heat ray shot out at Stephen, as I thought, a blinding blast through the forehead. The Voice spoke with indistinctness and I felt my pen in a pencil-shin erasing streak of red fire burned and zipped over my head, momentarily distilling the stygian gloom. I saw my intersection just ahead.

The Internal Affairs Commission has been actively involved with setting up a speakers policy, distributing course evaluation material, a book review, studying the calendar to be a more informative, updated volume, setting up a committee to study the Americanization problem, evaluating the Societies and Student representation amongst other academic problems.

The Societies are looking for more ideas from the professors that the S.A.C. can be quite friendly and approachable. To date we have sponsored speakers for the Psychology Club and Psychology Department, three for the presentation of this year's S.A.C. with the amenities. We believe that these events are a great step towards the overcoming of the national problem, the overcoming of the national problem.

The Internal Affairs Commission has been actively involved with setting up a speakers policy, distributing course evaluation material, a book review, studying the calendar to be a more informative, updated volume, setting up a committee to study the Americanization problem, evaluating the Societies and Student representation amongst other academic problems.

The Societies are looking for more ideas from the professors that the S.A.C. can be quite friendly and approachable. To date we have sponsored speakers for the Psychology Club and Psychology Department, three for the presentation of this year's S.A.C. with the amenities. We believe that these events are a great step towards the overcoming of the national problem, the overcoming of the national problem.

I was traversing. The light was coming from this branch. I hesitated only a second then began to run at full speed past the month of the branch and on down the tunnel, hoping to reach Intersection 115 which was near my shelter. There I would be safe from the Reclamation. I was always the chance that the R.P.'s would turn left and search down the way I'd come. But he heard a faint whistle and felt rather than saw the soft sheet from behind, and he knew that the Police were after him and he wasn't going to make it.
The synthetic prosperity of the nineteen twenties was based to large measure on credit advances in the sale of stocks. Shares could be bought for ten percent down, but when the tempo finally came that sellers decided that they needed the balance there was no money to back up these purchases. This has been changed so that a fifty percent down payment is necessary to lower the likelihood of such a recurrence.

Now though we are facing the prospect of another sort of synthetic prosperity, that caused by the squandering of resources through planned obsolescence and the production of superfluous goods. This system provides goods and growth but has some very important flaws that may be becoming critical.

The wastefulness of this consumer economy has always come under attack, on moral grounds for the dangers of squandering resources but twenty years ago a presidential commission in the United States, headed by William S. Poley, warned that "Shrinking reserves of minerals and other raw materials, because of their ever increasing rate of consumption, may a day come when men shall be forced to work for the harder to retrieve sources. This, if it is a chance to work, may begin to price out of the market products which use large quantities of scarce raw materials. The recent uncertainty with the oil crisis, points out that there may have been a tendency to make sure that companies don't play in the public's acceptance of need. Industry, the newly instituted social structure takes advantage of people who cherish and hope for these plans, it can't continue, as it is, because of economic considerations.

The prosperity of the present economies of the western world is based in large measure on the continuous manufacturing of consumer Goods. These goods are produced according to the idea of planned obsolescence. This means they are usually built to last only a few years or else advertising will create the idea they are old fashioned so the end result is they have to be replaced. This means most goods are meant to be thrown away after every few years so that new ones can be made to take their place. This is essentially true, of either consumer or military goods. What further aggravates the situation is the situation of the one way trip market in these goods makes from the mine to manufacture to consumer to land fill site. This means much of the minerals in these objects is being lost. This way of producing profits, goods and jobs requires huge amounts of resources which until now have always been available.

One of the leading United States business magazines, Forbes, states in an article in 1971 that "Since we've exhausted most of the world's low cost mineral resources, what remains is to cost more to get at."

Synthetic Prosperity

The Club of Rome in “Limits to Growth” predicts that smaller countries with little mineral reserves will have to begin paying much more for the harder to retrieve resources. This, if it is a chance to work, may begin to price out of the market products which use large quantities of scarce raw materials. The recent uncertainty with the oil crisis, points out that there may have been a tendency to make sure that companies don't play in the public's acceptance of need. Industry, the newly instituted social structure takes advantage of people who cherish and hope for these plans, it can't continue, as it is, because of economic considerations.

The prosperity of the present economies of the western world is based in large measure on the continuous manufacturing of consumer Goods. These goods are produced according to the idea of planned obsolescence. This means they are usually built to last only a few years or else advertising will create the idea they are old fashioned so the end result is they have to be replaced. This means most goods are meant to be thrown away after every few years so that new ones can be made to take their place. This is essentially true, of either consumer or military goods. What further aggravates the situation is the situation of the one way trip market in these goods makes from the mine to manufacture to consumer to land fill site. This means much of the minerals in these objects is being lost. This way of producing profits, goods and jobs requires huge amounts of resources which until now have always been available.

One of the leading United States business magazines, Forbes, states in an article in 1971 that "Since we've exhausted most of the world's low cost mineral resources, what remains is to cost more to get at."

Synthetic Prosperity

The Club of Rome in “Limits to Growth” predicts that smaller countries with little mineral reserves will have to begin paying much more for the harder to retrieve resources. This, if it is a chance to work, may begin to price out of the market products which use large quantities of scarce raw materials. The recent uncertainty with the oil crisis, points out that there may have been a tendency to make sure that companies don't play in the public's acceptance of need. Industry, the newly instituted social structure takes advantage of people who cherish and hope for these plans, it can't continue, as it is, because of economic considerations.

The prosperity of the present economies of the western world is based in large measure on the continuous manufacturing of consumer Goods. These goods are produced according to the idea of planned obsolescence. This means they are usually built to last only a few years or else advertising will create the idea they are old fashioned so the end result is they have to be replaced. This means most goods are meant to be thrown away after every few years so that new ones can be made to take their place. This is essentially true, of either consumer or military goods. What further aggravates the situation is the situation of the one way trip market in these goods makes from the mine to manufacture to consumer to land fill site. This means much of the minerals in these objects is being lost. This way of producing profits, goods and jobs requires huge amounts of resources which until now have always been available.

One of the leading United States business magazines, Forbes, states in an article in 1971 that "Since we've exhausted most of the world's low cost mineral resources, what remains is to cost more to get at."

Synthetic Prosperity

The Club of Rome in “Limits to Growth” predicts that smaller countries with little mineral reserves will have to begin paying much more for the harder to retrieve resources. This, if it is a chance to work, may begin to price out of the market products which use large quantities of scarce raw materials. The recent uncertainty with the oil crisis, points out that there may have been a tendency to make sure that companies don't play in the public's acceptance of need. Industry, the newly instituted social structure takes advantage of people who cherish and hope for these plans, it can't continue, as it is, because of economic considerations.

The prosperity of the present economies of the western world is based in large measure on the continuous manufacturing of consumer Goods. These goods are produced according to the idea of planned obsolescence. This means they are usually built to last only a few years or else advertising will create the idea they are old fashioned so the end result is they have to be replaced. This means most goods are meant to be thrown away after every few years so that new ones can be made to take their place. This is essentially true, of either consumer or military goods. What further aggravates the situation is the situation of the one way trip market in these goods makes from the mine to manufacture to consumer to land fill site. This means much of the minerals in these objects is being lost. This way of producing profits, goods and jobs requires huge amounts of resources which until now have always been available.

One of the leading United States business magazines, Forbes, states in an article in 1971 that "Since we've exhausted most of the world's low cost mineral resources, what remains is to cost more to get at."

Synthetic Prosperity

The Club of Rome in “Limits to Growth” predicts that smaller countries with little mineral reserves will have to begin paying much more for the harder to retrieve resources. This, if it is a chance to work, may begin to price out of the market products which use large quantities of scarce raw materials. The recent uncertainty with the oil crisis, points out that there may have been a tendency to make sure that companies don't play in the public's acceptance of need. Industry, the newly instituted social structure takes advantage of people who cherish and hope for these plans, it can't continue, as it is, because of economic considerations.
The Greening of California

The movement which is predominantly composed of whites who are materially well-off has had as its focus the prevention of the destruction of any further land. There have been some encouraging moves towards, as with America's most troubling problem, the core cities. San Diego has finally decided to emphasize down-town growth over suburban. This includes rebuilding and rehabilitation in the inner city and a limiting of new building on the outer fringes. San Jose, known in some circles as the worst urban disaster in America has under a new council, imposed strict new zoning laws and will permit building only in areas that have complete servicing. The new Los Angeles mayor hopes that institution of a mass transit system will prove that benefits of this new movement will reach the poorer residents of the cities too.

Sneak preview

by

Jerry Wisdom
Mose Knows

Mose Jones — MCA 394

Mose Jones is a new four-man group with a new album (bass, vocals, guitars). Songs which display easy listening, country-rock tunes. The title cut has been getting a fair amount of air time recently with its tribute to “this week’s king of rock’n’roll.” Accompanying Bob on this album are several well-known Nashville musicians including Charlie McCoy and Kenny Butterly. Those and all the others combine to produce some fine music to accent Ruicka’s interesting and frequently biting lyrics. Soft Rocker is a good example of the consistent music which captivates many listeners and converts them to permanent “folk” fans.

The LANCE — FEBRUARY 1, 1974

Bill Thornhill’s STEREO PLACE
Sony, Pioneer, Toshiba
Complete Stereo Systems
FROM $199.95

135 OUELLETTE AVE.
PHONE 254-3555

SEGER: UNDERRATED

Motor City rock and roll was the featured entertainment Sunday night at St. Clair College when Bob Seger and Catfish Hodge took the stage. To begin, let’s hear the bad news.

Catfish Hodge opened the show with some fair boogie and blues numbers. An interesting addition to his group was an xylophone-violin. While the man handling it was competent, the violin will probably never find an important place in rock and roll. In general, Hodge’s group was a typical concert opener: just a little better than boring. More blues numbers would improve their image immensely.

Excitement returned when Bob Seger took the stage. Long recognized by music writers as an underrated and unheralded vocal genius, Seger banished boredom and soon had the audience bouncing.

Lucifer, Rosalie, Ramblin Gamblin Man and Heavy Music, all previous Seger hits, were performed, accompanied by a number of cuts from the latest album, all solid if somewhat similar. Seger’s current band consists of a fair drummer, a good bass player, a better-than-average guitarist and a terribly lacklustre organist.

Of course, Bob Seger would sound good with the Monkees. He combines an excellent voice with a surplus of rock and roll energy.

JOHN SARGENT

THE STUDENTS ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL U. of W.

SCHEDULE OF COSTS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR

VS

PROJECTED BUDGETARY ALLOCATION TO APRIL 30, 1974.

THE STUDENTS ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL U. of W.

SCHEDULE OF COSTS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR

VS

PROJECTED BUDGETARY ALLOCATION TO APRIL 30, 1974.

THE STUDENTS ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL U. of W.

SCHEDULE OF COSTS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR

VS

PROJECTED BUDGETARY ALLOCATION TO APRIL 30, 1974.

THE STUDENTS ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL U. of W.

SCHEDULE OF COSTS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR

VS

PROJECTED BUDGETARY ALLOCATION TO APRIL 30, 1974.
CONCERTS
MASONIC AUD (Det.)
- Feb. 1: Angels, $4, 5, 6.
- Feb. 7: Dave Martin, $6.50, 8, 10.
- Feb. 11: Spirit.
- Feb. 15: Stephen Stills, $4.50, 5.50, 6.50. 7.
- Feb. 10: Miles Davis.
- Feb. 15: Bae Gea.
- Feb. 21: Sha-Na-Na.

CIBO (Det.)
- Feb. 3: Black Sabbath, 5.50.
- Feb. 8: J. Geils Band, SOLD OUT.
- Feb. 9: J. Geils Band 2nd concert $6.50 & 5.50.
- Feb. 27: Yes, $5.50 (mail order only).

ARTS AND GIFTS
 thru Feb. 28 at Det Inst. of Arts - Abhakates and Neffrittari: Art From the Age of Egypt's Sun King.
 - Now on display at the Det. Inst. of Arts
 - Parque Gallery
 - Michelangelo's The Conversion of the Magdalene.
 - Jan. 25-Feb. 15: Canadian Artists Assoc. of Windsor
 - Feb. 3-14: Windsor Light Opera Co. presents this classic farce in the 50th year of operation!
 - Jan. 24-Mar. 3 the Det. Repertory Theatre presents Eugene Ionesco's 'Antony or How to get rid of it' every Thur-Sun evening at 8:30
 - Feb. 9 Assumption Lounge 8 pm. Free - Dinner at $6.50.

NEED MORE BREAD? RADIO

POLITE
FOR ALL YOUR INSURANCE NEEDS
5 mins. from Campus
AUTO FIRE LIFE
Students can qualify for up to 35% Discount
On Car Ins. Rates.
PREFERRED RATES FOR ALL GOOD DRIVERS.
1603 UNIVERSITY WEST
254-5101

NEED MORE BREAD?
PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER
$100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment; in hemoepoietic cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised program tests qualified donors now. New process takes only plasma from your procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. A tiny fraction of each donor can earn over $100 a month (12 $10 per visit). Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM
Michigan Community Blood Center
3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit
½ block south of Medical Center
Phone 333-5539

FEBRUARY, 1974 — THE LANCE — PAGE NINE (284)
Lancerette b-ballers improving

On Wednesday, January 23, the Lancerette basketball team played Windsor’s Club 240 team, here at St. Denis Hall. The Lancerettes, coming off the short side of an inelastic encounter between the two teams, regrouped and defeated them by a score of 57-50.

Our top three scorers were Karen Couvillon with 16 points, Cathy Valke and Jane Gronid, each with eight points. The top three scorers for Club 240 were Lanzus (11 pts.), Yokove (7 pts.), and Boretsky (6 pts.).

Last weekend, they were on the road for two league games. They came home, having split the series.

On Friday they played the women’s basketball team of McMaster University. In the early segment of the game neither team was able to resolve a shooting drought. However, the Lancerettes were able to break the game open before their hosts did and finally defeated them by a score of 46-41.

Karen Couvillon, with 13 points, and Mary Pat Searles, with 12, were the top scorers for the team.

Saturday at noon the team played the undefeated women’s basketball team of the University of Western Ontario. Coach Stevenson of the Lancerettes claimed that her charges came up with their best effort of the season.

Windsor was able to stay with Western, the number one team in the OUAIA, for the first half. They went into the locker room at the half trailing 41-31.

Western, however, taking advantage of their height and tremendous shooting ability pulled away in the second half, defeating the Lancerettes by a score of 76-51.

The three top scorers for Windsor were Karen Couvillon (18 pts.), Martha Waters (9 pts.), and Robyn Robinson (7 pts.). In addition to her scoring 9 points Martha Waters, team captain, played an outstanding floor game.

The Lancerettes are now looking forward to Waterloo for important league games against Wilfrid Laurier and the University of Waterloo. Victory in these games could move the Lancerettes into third place and give them a shot at a playoff berth.

Sport Shorts

Bbo To Waterloo

SAC and the cheerleaders of the University of Windsor will be sponsoring one bus to the Waterloo basketball game on Wednesday Feb. 13. Tickets will go on sale Monday in the Centre.

Lancerette Swimming:

The team members are Marg Lawrie (skip), Ann Bowers (vice), Heather MacLellan (second), and Susan Pellet (lead). Sorry ladies and I hope this will make it up to you — just don’t hit me with one of those brooms!

Lancers split in OUAA league b-ball

In action last weekend, the Lancer basketball team split their contests with 69-64 and 75-73 road games, being 96-64 to Guelph, and bouncing back the next night to defeat Brock 93-70.

Two conference toppers with their best effort of the season. They came home, having split the series.

Against the Gryphons in Guelph, it was just a case of the Gryphons' high experience combined with the home team's desire to knock off Ontario's number one team. When Guelph hit the ball down court, they scored, sometimes on near impossible plays. When Windsor had the ball, nothing went right. Windsor couldn't find the basket, putting 21 of 27 for percent from the field. In contrast, Guelph shot 43 percent on 35 of 81, but out-rebounded the Lancers 73-43. Chris Crumlish was Guelph's high scorer with 17 points. At Guelph, they allowed the team to take the lead after one quarter 23-19. The score at the half was 55-43 for Windsor.

The second half saw the Lancers put up 16 points in the first half, but 21 points with five and one-half minutes left. Jerry Sovran gave Windsor 101 to DIT's 81.

Against DIT Tuesday night, Windsor once again took a lead after half, but lost 22 points with five and one-half minutes left. Jerry Sovran gave Windsor 101 to DIT's 81.

The Lancerettes are now looking forward to Waterloo for important league games against Wilfrid Laurier and the University of Waterloo. Victory in these games could move the Lancerettes into third place and give them a shot at a playoff berth.

Theatrical Shorts

India - Canada Student Organization presents Republic Day of India Celebrations

4 pm Feb. 2, 1974
Ambassador Auditorium
University Centre
No Admission
Free Refreshments
Distinctive Indian Cultural Programs
For Information Call
254-1168 or 256-8685

The last hockey game of the regular season saw the Windsor Lancers defeated by a score of 8-4 last Sunday at the Kanes Kanes at the Colosseum in the Waterloo Warrior.
Seven records fall in OUAA indoor meets

The men's and women's track teams of the University of Windsor placed a collective second out of ten OUAA schools in indoor track action at the Lancers indoor meet on Saturday last weekend.

Two Lancers, Cathy O'Neil and Gorri Parent finished especially strong in their events. Mrs. O'Neil equaled the old meet record with a 59.1 in the 400 m. event — good enough for first place. Mrs. Parent finished first and set a new meet record with a 1:57.5 in the high jump competition.

Seven meet records fell at this event.

The team will next compete in the University of Toronto Invitational on February 8.

Team Results

1. Toronto 6. McMaster
2. WINDSOR 7. Waterloo
3. Queen's 8. Brock
4. Western 9. Guelph
5. York 10. R.M.C.

Fazekas and Merrill grapple for silver

With the OUAA Championship tournament up and running, the Lancers wrestling team has been hard at work preparing.

Last weekend, at the Guelph Invitational tournament, the grapplers flexed their muscles with some of the best wrestlers in the country. The Lancers walked away with two medals, the entire squad having made an impressive showing.

Facing Windsor with 2nd place finishes were 190 pounder Derek Merrill and heavyweight John Fazekas. It should be noted that, with his silver Merrill finished ahead of a former European Games champion from Bulgaria, and just behind a former Canadian champion. Fazekas was beat out by a former Canadian Champion and former Olympic wrestler.

Also finishing very high for the Lancers were Bob Byers (185 lbs.), Dennis Hastings (170 lbs.), who probably enjoyed the finest day of his career with three wins, Dan Bostrom (118 lbs.), Howie Evans (126 lbs.), Brian Evens (139 lbs.), Andy Maciel (142 lbs.), Jerry Frimer (167 lbs.), and Louis Lecere (177 lbs.).

All in all, it was the finest showing the Windsor grapplers have ever made in the Guelph Invitational, probably the highest caliber tournament they compete in.

The previous weekend, the wrestlers were in Waterloo on Friday night and Guelph on Saturday. On these occasions they competed in tri-meets with Ryerson and Buffalo State respectively.

The most significant result of that weekend was the fact the Windsorites were able to win an 20-20 tie with Waterloo, the second strongest team in last year's OUAA championships.

Lancerette curlers compete

The University of Windsor women's curling team participated in the qualifying round of the OWIAA curling championships at Waterloo last weekend. In closely contested matches they lost to Western (6-7), Guelph (16-21), McMaster (7-6), and Waterloo (9-7).

The top three finishers in the west, Western, Waterloo, and Guelph, now advance to a Championship Bonspiel which will include the top three Eastern rinks. Windsor, Laurentian and McMaster will meet the fourth, fifth, and sixth place teams from the Eastern Division of the OUAA in a Consolation Bonspiel.

The Championship and the Consolation Championship will be held on February 15th and 16th in Guelph.

LAUGH ALL THE WAY TO THE BLOOD BANK.

COME BY OR CALL US NOW. BECAUSE.

DETROIT BIOLOGICALS, INC. 3rd Floor, Kales Building • 39 W. Adams Avenue Located on Grand Circus Park • Phone 963-8626

Free Parking — 145 W. Elizabeth Hrs. 8 a.m. — 5:30 Bridge Toll reimbursed
MacLeod receives grant

Dr. Alistair MacLeod of the University of Windsor's English Department has received a grant of $1,000 from the Ontario Arts Council, independent agency of the Ontario government, which encourages the arts through funding and other services.

MacLe

Dr. MacLeod's grant, one of the largest which the OAC makes to an individual writer, was made on the recommendation of the publishing company of McClelland and Stewart, which along with 17 other publishing houses, administers the OAC literary grants. The grants are intended to assist writers in their current literary projects, in anticipation of future publication. They impose no obligation on writer or publisher, and may not be interpreted as payment for past or future writing.

A Nova Scotian who is teaching for his fifth year at the University of Windsor, Alistair MacLeod is a writer of growing reputation. Several of his short stories have attracted considerable critical attention. "The Boat," which originally appeared in The American Review, has been chosen as one of the 20 "Best American Stories of 1969." "In the Fall was published in the Tamarak Review. "The Vanishing of the Dark," appearing in a 1971 issue of Fiddlehead, received the magazine's "best story award" for that year.

San Jose, California - The Hell's Angels Motorcycle Gang has launched an advertising campaign in San Jose, California, against the use of hard drugs. In it, they say they have renounced dope and want to set others straight too.

The Hell's Angels has leased three billboards in the San Jose area. The ads are emblazoned with a skull and crossbones over a hypodermic needle. Each carries the admission: "No hope with dope."

Biker Phil cross says the club is also putting up anti-drug brochures and making its members available for speeches to high school and college groups.

Police, however, remain skeptical.

Cross says the angels don't consider Marijonna, Barbiturates or Amphetamines as "hard stuff."

An advertising firm has given the angels $14.84 in public service rates of 20 dollars a board, plus 180 dollars for printing. One officer says: "They are not trying to be a bunch of nice guys, because they weren't."

T.O. massage parlors "public places"

"Bawdy House" is not accepted in those who run the parlors and some legal experts believe there is a conflict between the sections of the code dealing with bawdy houses and "Acts of gross Indecency."

Section 157 provides up to five years in prison for such acts, but it exempts "A husband and his wife or any

two persons, each of whom is 21 years or more of age,

and both of whom consent to commission of the act" in private.

That section does not apply to acts performed in places where the public has access

"As of right or by invitation, express or implied."

The question in dispute is whether massage parlors are "public places.

The courts have ruled that beverage

rooms are not public places

because the management is allowed to refuse admittance

at its discretion.

Section 193 of the criminal code sets a two-year prison

term for those convicted of keeping a common bawdy

house, a place used "for prostitution or the practice of acts of indecency."

Compared with New York,

for example, what happens in Toronto massage parlors is relatively tame. Our young woman attendant said in an interview that she considers herself a kind of social giving ten thousand dollars to friend to lonely men.

The basic treatment is a half-hour "Body-rub," with mineral oil costing from $15

to $20. Prices may vary depending on whether the attendant is topless or nude.

The women say most customers are men 35, often well-to-do businessmen.

One attendant said with a tongue in cheek that customers expect to get more a massage but very few ever hassle you when they leave.

The parlors range from small upstairs rooms to large places equipped with suanas,

whirlpool baths, color TV

and pool tables.

The same boat when the power plants shut down and the supply is exhausted.

The University of Windsor Technocracy Club invites all interested people to come and learn about the past or future possibilities of Technocracy

Inc. The club will discuss issues of the day, and endeavor to develop plans and techniques designed to cope with the pronounced shortages of resources and facilities that have culminated in the "crises" we all now face. All of us, the team of experts at the University of Windsor, have a chance, not a choice.

MacLeod receives grant

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA - The Hell's Angels Motorcycle Gang has launched an advertising campaign in San Jose, California, against the use of hard drugs. In it, they say they have renounced dope and want to set others straight too.

The Hell's Angels has leased three billboards in the San Jose area. The ads are emblazoned with a skull and crossbones over a hypodermic needle. Each carries the admission: "No hope with dope."

Biker Phil cross says the club is also putting up anti-drug brochures and making its members available for speeches to high school and college groups.

Police, however, remain

skeptical.

Cross says the angels don't consider Marijonna, Barbiturates or Amphetamines as "hard stuff."

An advertising firm has given the angels $14.84 in public service rates of 20 dollars a board, plus 180 dollars for printing. One officer says: "They are not trying to be a bunch of nice guys, because they weren't."

T.O. massage parlors "public places"

"Bawdy House" is not accepted in those who run the parlors and some legal experts believe there is a conflict between the sections

of the code dealing with bawdy houses and "Acts of gross Indecency."

Section 157 provides up to five years in prison for such acts, but it exempts "A husband and his wife or any

two persons, each of whom is 21 years or more of age,

and both of whom consent to commission of the act" in private.

That section does not apply

to acts performed in places

where the public has access

"As of right or by invitation, express or implied."

The question in dispute is whether massage parlors are "public places.

The courts have ruled that beverage

rooms are not public places

because the management is allowed to refuse admittance

at its discretion.

Section 193 of the criminal code sets a two-year prison

term for those convicted of keeping a common bawdy

house, a place used "for prostitution or the practice

of acts of indecency."

Compared with New York,

for example, what happens

in Toronto massage parlors is relatively tame. Our young woman attendant said in an interview that she considers herself a kind of social giving ten thousand dollars to friend to lonely men.

The basic treatment is a half-hour "Body-rub," with mineral oil costing from $15

to $20. Prices may vary depending on whether the attendant is topless or nude.

The women say most customers are men 35, often well-to-do businessmen.

One attendant said with a tongue in cheek that customers expect to get more a massage but very few ever hassle you when they leave.

The parlors range from small upstairs rooms to large

places equipped with suanas,

whirlpool baths, color TV

and pool tables.
The chief organizer and head of the United Nations Environment Program, the U.N. secretary for fighting pollution and improving ecology on a global scale, self-made public spirited Canadian militant Maurice F. Strong, invited the Iona Lecture to lecture in 1974 "Energy: Pathway to honesty or Order" at Ambass­ador Auditorium, University of Windsor, Wednesday, Feb­ruary 13th at 8 p.m.

As the ecological crisis loomed on the horizon, U Thant, Secretary General of the U.N. invited Strong to become a U.N. undersecretary general with responsibility for environmental affairs. Strong, with his interest in ecology, poverty, economics, develop­ment and energy, a man with phenomenal business acumen, was made for the job.

He prepared the 1st U.N. Conference on the Human Environment, held in Stockholm, Sweden June, 1972. His political acumen was evident in the way he em­phasized the qualitative aspects of growth thus allaying the fears and suspicions of both developing and industrialized countries.

At Stockholm, Strong insisted that "no growth" was not a viable policy in the modern age and appealed to the affluent nations to rethink the purposes of growth, as it is in terms of enriching the lives and enlarging the opportun­ities of all mankind. Such opportunities, he said, could only thrive in "only a total system," a "new kind of globalism" in which "man's activities are in dynamic harmony with the natural order."

Strong now heads the secretariat of the U.N. En­vironment Program. U.N. agency established 1. to take action against pollution inter­nationally; 2. to more the affluent to lessen the grift between them and the developing nations, 3. to create Earthwatch - an international pollution monitoring network.

On the 1st anniversary of the Stockholm Conference he said "doomsday is not inevitable" and went on to say he was concerned about "the fight against the pollution of poverty, no less than the pollu­tion generated by affluence."

Although Strong is at the nerve center of mankind's concerns about ecology, pov­erty développement et energy, Saturday Review says "his existence is not recognized by mos citizens of Canada. Iona College (the United Church affiliate of the University of Windsor) through the Iona Lecture is providing an oppor­tunity for Canadians to meet one of our own - a man for all seasons, and especially, for these critical times.

Lancerettes vs. Waterloo Tomorrow 6:00 p.m.
St. Denis Hall
How do I get to be known around campus?
Anonymous

Boy, Oh, Boy! Do we have a deal for you! In just a few short lessons we can change you from a nondescript pimply faced schmuck into a bulbous blossoming bon vivant! Or well eat our own potato soup!

Yessiree, through Yeecankonk, the Ancient science of soul travel agency, Las Vegas Nevada, we can put you right on that expressway to God or Sigmad as we call him. (Everyone knows God speaks neither English nor latin but predhivian Hobbibese)

Through the spiritual powers that will be yours on a forty day money back if not completely satisfied guarantee you can master your own "Garden of Eden" or least two friends, unknown symmetry, make chicks, get stoned for free, win at the track or even master the ancient long forgotten technique of changing hands without missing a stroke.

What is the basic nature of Yeecankonk? - you ask.

Right from all things...especially your burdensome earthly possessions through acceptance by the Living Yeec master Sri guru Bill Cartwright Ji who is the sole possessor of the ancient Tibetan Red of Power of the Yeech Mastershipt. After extensive, expensive but necessary training you may qualify to be united with Sigmad himself (the female manifestation of the divine)). Surrounde by all those earthly possessions that have held you down so long your mind will soar as the Red of Power makes contact with the sixth ver­ tebra, or the Seat of Consciousness and you will learn the significance of the universal questions: "Who am I?" "How did I get here?" "What happened to my head?" "Where's my money?"

What can this university do about the desppicable group of perverts on campus? I'm of course referring to the Gay Unity Club. They get time on the radio and room in the paper. I think this is a communist plot or something.

There is a word I would probably use for these people but I would probably offend somebody. They'll never take over the world.

Devote Heterosexuality

Otherwise, they have a right to free expression and vigilance groups that have been bating them with valveine laden with ground glass should severely reprimanded.

But let me disagree that "they'll never take over the world." As you are probably aware, do several factors, gays in all have excellent social movements. Clearly it is regularity and punctuality are what universities and monster corpo­ rations look for above all. With their hands in the pants of the nation via big business they may become as formidable a threat as, kikes wops, wogs, spits, kruats, wasps, hunkies, all have excellent bowel movements. Clearly it is regularity

A Little Scorce this Is No Joke. We have your Letter from the Vice President of SAC and member of the Media Corporation, explained that no one was really aware of how outstanding the debt was and that it "was unfortunate that the Directory was so late but it couldn't be helped".

The Media Corporation decided that the Directory would be sold to students for $10,000 last November but was unable to cover the entire amount as their cash flow would have been so drastically affected that they would have been forced to close down for a few weeks.

Doug Phillips, Vice-President of SAC and member of the Media Corporation, explained that no one was really aware of how outstanding the debt was and that it "was unfortunate that the Directory was so late but it couldn't be helped".

The Media Corporation decided that the Directory would be sold to students for $10,000 last November but was unable to cover the entire amount as their cash flow would have been so drastically affected that they would have been forced to close down for a few weeks.

Doug Phillips, Vice-President of SAC and member of the Media Corporation, explained that no one was really aware of how outstanding the debt was and that it "was unfortunate that the Directory was so late but it couldn't be helped".

The Media Corporation decided that the Directory would be sold to students for $10,000 last November but was unable to cover the entire amount as their cash flow would have been so drastically affected that they would have been forced to close down for a few weeks.

Doug Phillips, Vice-President of SAC and member of the Media Corporation, explained that no one was really aware of how outstanding the debt was and that it "was unfortunate that the Directory was so late but it couldn't be helped".

The Media Corporation decided that the Directory would be sold to students for $10,000 last November but was unable to cover the entire amount as their cash flow would have been so drastically affected that they would have been forced to close down for a few weeks.
Sci-fi: A literary cloverleaf... by R. J. Bernard

We are witnessing the collision of scientist, surrealist, pagan and poet in a literature which is sometimes speculative, frightening, humorous and even erotic while containing elements of sociology, anthropology, psychology and philosophy. From all walks of life, from any profession you could name, are contributing to this literary vehicle because it seems to them to be the most effective way of saying what they want to say about Reality.

Samuel R. Delany
THE EINSTEIN INTERSECTION
"Delany is bringing new and vigorous life to science fiction.

as they see it. Can they really be talking about science-fiction? You bet they are. In fact, and in writers in the field and their devotees have known this for years, the difference between "science-fiction" and so-called "mainstream literature" is minimal. Indeed, as we approach the year 2000 the conflicts and situations discussed and solved for not shelved in speculative fiction are more relevant to the harmonies and discord of things in the court of King Arthur.

Consider the story of Raskolnikov in Crime and Punishment, the man with a double murder on his conscience. After weeks of self-torture he breaks and publicly confesses, with the result that even though he is sent to a Siberian prison, he is saved. The murderer comes across as a real person upon whom the reader can bestow interest, identification, even sympathy. Compare this treatment to the year at the 15th world convention. In spite of this, it is a very good book, probably the best "time-travel" book ever written. Miller of Analog says of this book: "It is all about the strangely assorted crew of men and women snatched out of their lives by emissaries of the far future, who fight and scheme to change the structure of time and history -- the personalities of the participants in the 'change war' and the concept of war itself, that is fascinating."

The Einstein Intersection by Samuel R. Delany is another book which joins the reader out of a limbo, comfortable view of Reality. It is the story of Lobey, an alien Orpheus, whose Einsteinian universe has intersected with a universe so profoundly different that both universes have changed, strangely. Lobey wanders in this world and meets Spider, the driver of dragons; Kid Dent, the red-headed child-killer; Door, Grexvec, and Fritza, the silent girl for whom Lobey transcends the shores of death, and beyond.

In a more down to earth situation, but with a wildly ironic twist, William Tenn's Of Men and Monsters is well worth the price of admission. Tenn weaves a web for dramatic adventure into an overall theme which is apparent in all his books, "tribute to the audacity, shrewdness, stupidity, courage and ultimate irredeemability of the human pest."

J. E. 1234 EDDIE BADER 5678 PERRY 9012 WARD

THE BIG TIME
THE "HUGO" WINNING BEST SCIENCE FICTION NOVEL OF THE YEAR -- 1974 -- 50¢ A COPY

Perry Ward

THE "HUGO" WINNING BEST SCIENCE FICTION NOVEL

Considering the year at the 15th world convention. In spite of this, it is a very good book, probably the best "time-travel" book ever written. Miller of Analog says of this book: "It is all about the strangely assorted crew of men and women snatched out of their lives by emissaries of the far future, who fight and scheme to change the structure of time and history -- the personalities of the participants in the 'change war' and the concept of war itself, that is fascinating."

The Einstein Intersection by Samuel R. Delany is another book which joins the reader out of a limbo, comfortable view of Reality. It is the story of Lobey, an alien Orpheus, whose Einsteinian universe has intersected with a universe so profoundly different that both universes have changed, strangely. Lobey wanders in this world and meets Spider, the driver of dragons; Kid Dent, the red-headed child-killer; Door, Grexvec, and Fritza, the silent girl for whom Lobey transcends the shores of death, and beyond.

In a more down to earth situation, but with a wildly ironic twist, William Tenn's Of Men and Monsters is well worth the price of admission. Tenn weaves a web for dramatic adventure into an overall theme which is apparent in all his books, "tribute to the audacity, shrewdness, stupidity, courage and ultimate irredeemability of the human pest."

J. E. 1234 EDDIE BADER 5678 PERRY 9012 WARD

THE BIG TIME
THE "HUGO" WINNING BEST SCIENCE FICTION NOVEL OF THE YEAR -- 1974 -- 50¢ A COPY

Perry Ward

THE "HUGO" WINNING BEST SCIENCE FICTION NOVEL

The "HUGO" WINNING BEST SCIENCE FICTION NOVEL OF THE YEAR -- 1974 -- 50¢ A COPY

Perry Ward
Deflating the giants

Recently, a female member of the Lance staff (who wishes to remain nameless to avoid being further prejudiced) began looking for a summer job at a huge metropolitan daily. She sent out letters to a number of daily newspapers across Canada that are participating in a summer job program for aspiring young journalists. After receiving some replies she began to go for interviews.

For her first interview at a Southern Ontario city she took a letter of recommendation from the editor addressing the reporter as Ms. She received an icy and boorish reception and told that the paper did not want to hire any active women's rights activists.

The Lance must decry this as shoddy for several reasons. First, the reporter in question had nothing to do with the drafting of the letter and the Ms. is a fairly common form of address by anyone who has realized the subtle bias associated with the terms miss and mrs. To point out this contradiction the reporter received a letter from another paper that was addressed to her as Ms. So, the young lady really had nothing to do with the choice of title.

Secondly, if this unnamed paper is intent on hiring young journalists they should be prepared to accept some of the responsibility for the changes that the word young implies. Or is the aim of their paper to train young journalists in the Southern school of responsible journalism where women are relegated to the society pages, where gays can't place ads and where if someone says "fuck" in context it is deleted to avoid offense even if that was the intention.

Fie on you Southam, your inability to accept in your own ranks the very substance of the news (changes) shows you to be not only stodgy, conservative and boorish, but a hindrance to much needed social change. We would add that the Windsor Star, although not a Sterling example, subtly kicks out the jams on occasion.

Cutting off your nose to spite your face

Elsewhere in this newspaper you will find a story concerning the late arrival of the student directory, the notorious "Hustlers Handbook" of previous years. The Lance would like to take this opportunity to publicly slam S.A.C. for their sloppy handling of the student dollar.

The Media has been taking the rap this year for the huge deficit that previous student's councils have left behind. Because of the debt owing to our printer (some $20,000 dollars) year, we repeat, your directory has appeared too late to do you any good. Another offset of this same debt was the printers hesititation to let the debt get any larger (un­to do you any good. Another offshoot of this same debt was the directory, and have saddled the Lance with several hundred dollars worth of interest. This would he problems we neither need or want. Plus adding to the bills with several hundred dollars worth, (about 1600 dollars worth) of reception desk, two paintings of dubious artistic worth for the renovated (more money) S.A.C. playground, plus increasing the paper bureaucracy several thousand times (money for paper, extra typists, etc.). Meanwhile you the student who probably wants a little value for your $22.50 are not even getting the things you are used to getting, like a student directory.

These are not the ravings of deranged newspaper crazies but the disgust of concerned people who can't see the need for a huge slimy bureaucratic reptile when all the students want are some much needed services. Perhaps it is time for a good hard look at the whole setup.

Philosophical Tidbit of the Week

A word to the wise is enough, and many words won’t fill a bushel.

(Ben Franklin)
Neurotic's Corner

Life's Like That? Celebrity Snips.

Ernest Hemingway was in New York in 1928 to pay a surprise visit at the Park Avenue residence of his good friend Joe Lewis. As he rang the doorbell he failed to notice a stray mongrel sniffing at his heels. When the heavyweight champ opened the door, the two men shook hands warmly and went inside. The dog followed them in but Ernest thought it was Joe's dog, and vice-versa. The great writer poured himself three fingers of Jack Daniels and proceeded to explain how he could take Joe in two rounds "if he wanted to put up a show." Meanwhile they were unloading a week's supply of shredlu on the period furniture and Chinese rugs, but neither man wanted to offend the other by pointing this out.

Finally, as the dog was watering a Rembrandt, Joe snapped, "Ernie, get that damn dog outta here!" Mr. Hemingway looked dumbfounded, then roared, "By God, that's not cur, Joe. I thought it was your dog!"

The two world celebrities looked at each other, then burst out laughing. Ernest took down a .303 Express from over the mantle and winged the agile canine, then suggested, "Joe, let's drive this poor crony down to Central Park." "Good idea," Joe Lewis quipped, "Just wait a sec," and at full power into the fourth.

Famous Short Interviews Series, No. 42

Interview With A Cylic

Lance: You are Byron Nusbaum, self-styled cynic, bon vivant, and noted pseudointellectual. Correct?

Nusbaum: What is this, an interview or a police line-up? Of course I might add to your muddled and misleading resume in many important areas, but I will refrain from such an immature listing since it is of no importance. By the way, that's an effective break-the-ice technique you've got there. Really gets the interviewee on your side.

"Lance: I mean, an example of your famous cynicism?"

Nusbaum: Hell no! I don't need cynicism to whittle you down to size, boyo. The plain facts will do, cretin.

Lance: So that kind of name is that? "Byron?"

Nusbaum: Yeah. Just don't get tough around me. Hoo-boy, just don't try it.

Lance: So you are Byron Nusbaum? What no?

Nusbaum: So who needs your rag, Dummy? And you can take that tape-recorder and...

Lance: Because I'll turn off the tape-recorder, smart-ass. See? No free publicity.

Nusbaum: No, Nusbaum. So who needs your rag, Dummy? And you can take that tape-recorder and...

Interviews, and the interview with Byron Nusbaum was discontinued at this point. The Lance has decided, on strictly metaphysical grounds, not to press charges against Mr. Nusbaum for introducing the portable "mike" into our repertory.

Quotable Quotes:

"A man who wears his shirt is not free. (Karl K. Hutton, Vriemal Pagnie - Deutsche Verlagts, Ansätz)."

"The trouble with putting armor on is, that while it protects you from pain, it is mard on hardboard floors. (Ralph "Dot" Barnikel)."

"You can lead a horse to water, but a pencil is always lead. (X. The Unknown)."

"Where there's a will, there's a relative. (Volalette)."

"People often say 'it's a funny world' but they never laugh. (Binko)."

"Depression, like revolution, is only a state of mind. (Doroles Agney)."

"There are places where cops aren't hated. But in those places you wouldn't be a cop. (Philip Marlowe to a warpig)."

Quote of the Week

No. I don't think that smoking has necessarily induces a change of lifestyle...

-K. Anderson

M.A. (Bus. Ad.)

FEBRUARY 3, 1974 - The Lance - Page Five (292)

More garbage also comes from pros in the form of handouts. These are carried around, often until a windy squall stiffs them away. This writer and his pen are open to suggestions as to how this solution can be ascertained. Just call me youramazing, the best and most original suggestion goes a free tour of the city dump. As you guide Washington's future ski resort you will have City Manager John Steele. Free transportation to and from the landfill will be supplied compliments of Alberta Government.
committees with various community groups such as the Labor Council, business associations etc. Our efforts in this respect have Community through particular community projects, such as the trying to keep up to date with the Awards programes etc. Again, if with two organizations, the government and the Ontario social services influencing education. will be visiting Windsor to meet with interested citizens. Members of SAC are preparing to approximately. The summer flight program, ms discussed also, be decided upon. Travel CO!!t will be up generally about 15 percent
It was decided that we will become a federal corporation as of October 31, 1974.
Next month, the Provincial Cabinet ministers, responsible for relations or dealings with individuals outside the community of the borough at Trent, in order to discuss a proposal for restructuring and as soon as the full impact of the Advanced Booked Charter this summer due to the lack of fuel. Flight information as well as
The annual general meeting of the AOSC was held in Toronto
For those of you who do not know anything about OFS or AOSC, the student representing organizations, which means that it is most important they are functioning well and in the best interests of the students.
The Canadian Mineral Industry Education Foundation offers POSTGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS in MINING ENGINEERING to GRADUATES in any branch of ENGINEERING or APPLIED SCIENCE
$4,500 - 9 months PLUS Planned Summer Employment
For information contact: The Secretary, Canadian Mineral Industry Education Foundation, P.O. Box 45, Commerce Court West, Toronto, Ont.
CLOSING DATE MARCH 1st, 1974
THE CANADIAN MINERAL INDUSTRY EDUCATION FOUNDATION
S.A.C. Gazette
John Walsh
Everybody spoke happy these days and over the river to see the Exorcist! A wise man who wrote a bit about devils some years back tells us that there are two equal and opposite errors we can fall into with regard to the forces of evil. We can reject their existence entirely and write them off as the remnants of medieval superstition. We can, on the other hand, develop a morbid preoccupation with their existence. How has the Exorcist left you?
Likely, once over the scary jollies, many will return to the first and more comfortable error. There will still be the long-skooled ones who maintain that Satan is a much-maligned guy who should, somehow, be shushed in at the tail end of the calendar of saints. Most, however, remembering the angel-Pluto and the devil-Pluto from the Saturday morning cartoons will put the whole business aside as childish superstition.
Should your interest in the subject continue, it might be well worth your while to do a little research and learn how The Exorcist, Jesus, dealt with the forces of evil. Perhaps reading about Jesus’ encounter with the Adversary in the desert (Luke, IV) will bring a few things home to you. You will realize, first of all, that He shared our human nature. He could be tempted.
Jesus will also see that the devil himself can quote Scripture to his own ends. You will, hopefully, be convinced that the modern-day Satanists are wrong—that the powers of evil are ultimately powerless before the Lord God.
“The devil made me do it” is good for a laugh and makes a catchy sweat-shirt caption. We are tempted at this childish reptile expression but hardly bother to look beyond it into the mystery of the inclination to evil within ourselves. We are tempted. Not possessed but tempted, devil or no, and do succumb, “Beatings, to temptation.” We have, from time to time, to nod our heads sadly and agree with St. Paul, “I don’t do the good I want to do; instead, I do the evil that I do not want to do.”
Commercial: “Friend, who don’t you have an Exorcist kit today? Practise exorcism in the privacy of your home with this easy-to-read book. No guarantee that you will be able to drive out devils right from the start. But amazing insights guaranteed in ways and means of encountering and mastering the devils of pride, lust and the rest of the Four Deadlines in yourself. This or double your money back.” The book, of course, is the New Testament. You know it all the time. Besides it ought to convince you of the reality of evil in the world (as if you needed proof). In mysterious inclination to evil within ourselves and the power of Jesus to overcome it.
Many former Christians have turned away from their faith because of the problem of evil. “If God is as good as He is supposed to be how can He allow the innocent to suffer?” If you try to solve this problem with a picture of the Old Man With the Beard up abed pulling the earthquake lever or pushing the flood button, I am back in grade six with no hope of a solution. But should I look right into me, be honest and admit that a bit of the evil in this world is caused by ME. I’m on my own and kind to a solution.
If I didn’t show outwardly to try to get my floor that I hated his guts, I was losing several subtle ways, to convince him of my dislike for him. I made the old crack. Now I him before others on his weak point. Worst of all, I shunned him. I hurt him. He hurt was caused by me. I must confess and remember the antiquated word? I sin. But if I admit my culpability and want to be something else it, the exorcist has begun. No need for any special incantation ring, perhaps, to echo the words of the humble
“A truism, but ... true. I admit my faults, my responsibility for the hours I have caused. I expect my sincere sorrow for them (even though I don’t particularly feel sorrowful) and declare my need of God’s help to lift me from them. I resolve to try not to fall into them again. Saturday I say hello to the S.O.B. on my floor whom I shall never like him as I, a Christian, must LOVE—must wish or do him no evil, must recognize dignity and worth as a fellow human being and child of God. JEEEEE!!! I’m exercised!!!
A WORD FROM A.C.T. (Assumption Chaplaincy Team) on Exorcism city or possession is 9/10 of The Law
Winter Weekend: Schedule of Events

Friday, Feb. 8
- Event | Place | Time
--- | --- | ---
- Lance - S.A.C. Drinking Contest | Cabaret Pub | 2 p.m.
- Pub Rally Registration | Centre | 1-4 p.m.
- Bare Mother | Cabaret Pub | 8 p.m.
- Silent Films | Cabaret Pub | 12:45 a.m.

Saturday, Feb. 9
- Event | Place | Time
--- | --- | ---
- Lancer Basketball | St. Denis Hall | 8:15 p.m.
- Films | Cabaret Pub | 8 p.m.
- Building | | 12:30 a.m.
- Bare Mother | | 1120
- Humpe | | 12:30
- All Quiet on the Western Front | | 12:30

Sunday, Feb. 10
- Event | Place | Time
--- | --- | ---
- Snooker Championship Final | Vanier Hall | 3 p.m.
- S.A.C. Admin. Benefit Basketball Game | St. Denis Hall | 3 p.m.
- Poor Peoples Benefit Battle of The Bands | Vanier Hall | 8 p.m.

---

Ice Skating

Winter Weekend plans
by Services Commissioner
FRANK IADPAULO

Winter Weekend without an ice rink is like spaghetti with a keytop sauce. The colour may be there, but the flavour just isn’t quite right. Weather permitting, the not so green lawn north of the Centre should be converted into a usable frozen challenge for this weekend’s activities.

The attached schedule shows a variety of events that most students should find appealing. The Pub Rally received favourable response during Orientation; and, so it is being front of the Centre should be converted into a useable frozen good way to see two excellent films, for the price of a draught.

The films Saturday, particularly, will feature two good films in the Math Building: “Can Heironymus Merkin Ever Forget Mercy Humpe” and “All Quiet on the Western Front”. There will be an admission price Saturday of 30 cents - half of which will be conveyed to charity. This is a great film for the young to see and one that they will remember for a long time.

Keep an eye out for posters reminding you of the specific details of the films. Pub hours can vie with films on Friday and Saturday evening. The Pub Rally is being advertised as a Poor People’s benefit - Battle of the Bands. It’s going to be a good “Pf’. That does, ‘e musical happening will also go to charity.

Saturday, particularly, will feature two good films in the Math Building: “Can Heironymus Merkin Ever Forget Mercy Humpe” and “All Quiet on the Western Front”. There will be an admission price Saturday of 30 cents - half of which will be conveyed to charity. This is a good way to see two excellent films, for the price of a draught.

Sunday will feature a Poor People’s benefit - Battle of the Bands in Vanier Hall (8 p.m.). Any money made from this musical happening will also go to charity.

So whether you will skate, slide, watch, or listen Winter Weekend should provide a partial smile for most of you. If it doesn’t, we’ll have done our job.

Keep an eye out for posters reminding you of the specific events. It’s going to be a good weekend.

---

Classifieds

Classified ads will be accepted in the Lance office for free publication. No more than three lines to be handed in no later than the Monday before the Friday of publication.

WANTED — Any used Martin guitar. Phone Dave. 253-7830 any time.

FOR SALE — RCA tape recorder, $50 or best offer. 948-6777.

TWO STUDENTS — wish other students to share house on west side. $50 monthly. Call 946-3729.

FOR SALE — Irish setter. Phone Ted at 252-1036.

---

FRONTIER COLLEGE — will be recruiting males, females and couples for summer and fulltime work on Feb. 13, in the University Centre at 12:30 PM. For further information call 252-7645.

FOR SALE — Electric baseboard heater. Like new, $15. Call Greg 258-7666.

FOR SALE — Electric baseboard heater. Like new, $15. Call 258-2001 after 4 pm.

FOR SALE — 3 square metal cafe tables. Ideal for kitchen or card tables. $35. Call Barrie at 254-9142 after 6 pm.

WANTED — An A.M. radio. See Greg in room 9100 Math.

---

LAUGH ALL THE WAY TO THE BLOOD BANK.

EARN UP TO $100 EVERY MONTH DONATING BLOOD TWICE A WEEK FOR OUR SPECIAL PLASMA PROGRAM.

FOR SALE RCA tape recorder, $50 or best offer. 948-6777.

TWO STUDENTS — wish other students to share house on west side. $50 monthly. Call 946-3729.

FOR SALE — Irish setter. Phone Ted at 252-1036.

---

FRONTIER COLLEGE — will be recruiting males, females and couples for summer and fulltime work on Feb. 13, in the University Centre at 12:30 PM. For further information call 252-7645.

FOR SALE — Electric baseboard heater. Like new, $15. Call Greg 258-7666.

FOR SALE — Electric baseboard heater. Like new, $15. Call Greg 258-7666.

WANTED — An A.M. radio. See Greg in room 9100 Math.

---

973-74 STUDENT DIRECTORIES

Hustlers Handbook

Available at S.A.C. Centre Desk. 25c each.

---

CABARET PUB

PRESENTS

"CEPHUS"

FEB. 8-9, 1974

"BARE MOTHER"

FEB. 11-16, 1974

Students 50c — Guests $1

HAPPY WINTER WEEKEND
Nader: Make Power Insecure

by JERRY WISDOM
SAL PRESTA

RALPH NADER, consumer patioss, delighted a capacity crowd in St. Dennis January 30, with a number of attacks aimed at the large U.S. based Multinational Corporations.

Nader, who first became known to the public as a critic of shoddy merchandise has now expanded his field of meditation to bring to light a wide range of social ills which directly or indirectly abuse the public.

Since his first book, Unsafe At Any Speed" appeared in 1965, his allure to the less-powerful has constantly increased, due mostly to his well substantiated charges documented by an army of volunteer researchers.

Oil Crisis

In his speech, Nader charged that the oil crisis is a hoax perpetrated by the Big Four oil companies in the U.S.

He stated that there is no oil shortage in reserves and charged the oil corporations with creating an artificial scarcity. He added that the corporations run contrary to all rules of what a free market economy was intended to be.

Contrary to the major oil companies ceded to control the market, he pointed out that Iran wanted to raise their production in the last sixties but these companies had agreed to aggregate quotas limiting supply.

While the average person receives more severe sentences for crimes such as shoplifting or theft, corporate officers receive light punishment. This was clearly evident in the case of ex V.P. Spiro Agnew.

Nader posed the analogy that one would not tolerate someone else picking his pocket on the street, yet we have allowed corporations to extort billions from the public.

Nuclear Safety

The oil crisis has perpated a number of alternatives for future energy sources. At present, the bulk of the money to develop these sources has gone to nuclear energy plants. Nader took vehement exception to this course of action. He feels that the supplies by large corporations. He illustrated this with an example of a man in Washington who used solar energy to heat his home. His total heating bill for the year was $4.35.

Canada

Nader paid special attention in his address to Canada, which he called the "Superdrome". He felt that, "there had been enough of Canadian nationalistic rhetoric and now it was time to take action.

He stressed the formation of a Royal Commission focus on the relationship of Canada and the U.S. especially at this time when Canada is feeling the effects of U.S. policy decisions in the field of energy.

This commission should be specific and name names, not like the Gray Report which he termed "silly" and "ineffective".

In his estimation, Canada has the opportunity to explore new energy sources and social innovations. When asked why as an American was he interested in Canadian autonomy, Nader retorted that the U.S. wasn't really served by a country which mindlessly followed its example. He cited the example of Sweden to point out how experimentation by another country could benefit the U.S., adding new ideas that could help solve problems that arose in the States.

Freedom of Information laws, picketing, unions, co-ops and social welfare legislation are some of the advantages that the U.S. has adopted from the Swedish experience. He hoped that Canada would take an independent path and noted that CBC was the first network to air his book, "Unsafe At Any Speed". This type of initiative provided an alternative which showed that the air waves belonged to the people and not to vested interests.

The Public Can Help

Although Nader painted a gloomy picture of corporate unaccountability, and callousness, he also posed some possible ways of combating such monstrosities. Saying that it was too expensive to fight them through the courts and that stockholders were too interested in any change, he suggested that these companies would respond to the power of boycott, enforcement of fair competition laws, tax reforms and social welfare legislation.

He felt strongly that elected government, fully supported by the populace could regulate these corporations and eliminate many of the abuses. He even suggested that officers of corporations could be elected by a popular vote so as to make away with our idoctrine approaches to solving problems and stressed rather personal involvement in solving community and national problems. To help people to this, he is helping to set up local groups called PIRO's (Public Interest Research Groups) to investigate local problems and bring them to the attention of community and government. This type of activity, he felt, can provide an educational experience while working with real problems. He felt that students suffer from boredom and that there are enough problems so that every one can choose what interests them.

BUS TO WATERLOO
BASKETBALL GAME:
LEAVES M. LOT 4 P.M.
SAT. 9th

TICKETS ONLY A Woman's View

by A.M. SEMANA

Your quote, I am not happy, I am not smiling, and I am more than a little pissed off. It’s so accurate this week. It is the oﬀ-season for national importance.

I want every Naxadore customer to be a happy satisfied champ, so all ocean customers. Let me make that perfectly clear.

Remember, folks, your country is as important to me as my reputation is to you. You live in fear with Naxadore.

Ireland’s Freedom - Now!

In the past many years many people in Canada and the United States have been asking questions about the events that are taking place in Ireland. The Western press and media are feeding the people British propaganda on how England has stepped into the country to take care of the Irish problems and rid the country of the `terror' Irish Republican Army.

England is in serious economic and political trouble. In their desperate efforts to turn attention away from their problems, they have placed a tighter grip on the people of Ireland. The Irish question is not a Catholic vs. Protestant issue, nor is it a Green vs. Orange issue. Rather, it is the British imperial vs. Irish independence.

No one has thought to ask the Irish on their views on the future of their country because they know perfectly well what the answer would be. The Irish people want their independence. The only time that the Irish people were given the right to decide their future for themselves was 56 years ago back in 1916. That was when 25 year olds of the Irish people demanded their independence. That was 56 years ago, but the English are still there.

You cannot put aside the many times the Irish people have tried to throw oﬀ their chains and rebelled against the English overlords - 1708, 1803, 1848, 1857, 1867, 1888, 1898, 1906, 1921, 1932, 1941, 1952, 1956 and 1970. The Irish people must demand in one voice - Get England The Hell Out of Ireland.

The Western media and the British government are clamouring for an end to the "terrorist" I.R.A. But what brought the I.R.A. into existence in the first place - the terrorism of colonial subjugation. The intrusion of British troops on Irish soil provided the I.R.A. with a whole list of new recruits.

Who are the real terrorists? Those who defend what is rightfully theirs or those who invade a country and subjugate it for the interests of a wealthy few? The I.R.A. is fighting for independence of their country. It is the British Army that is committing the atrocities. After the Bloody Sunday massacre with the firing of the British soldiers "bordering on the recklessness" - not one of these soldiers was charged with any offense. Judge for yourselves who are the terrorists.

The British troops are not in Ireland to protect the country from internal disorder, but they are there to protect England’s stranglehold. The British are using the question of religion to divide the Irish people - who try to use as pawns for their own interests.

The British troops are intruders and are viewed as warlords by both the Catholic and Protestant communities.

The troops commit acts such as the horror of force feeding those jailed because they dared to fight for Irish independence. Dolores Price, a young girl imprisoned by the British soldiers, wrote her mother from prison: "I happened on my 19th day of hunger strike. I was scared stiff when I put my head to the wooden clamp for my mouth. The worst bit was when I could not break the breath as the tube was going down. I really panicked then as I thought I was suffocating. It takes only a few minutes but seems like an eternity."

We have not been told that great numbers of British troops in Ireland are before the Human Rights Commission of the Council of Europe. The information given the commission has been distorted British sources. 99 percent of all new from Ireland comes from distort statements.

The media tries to convince us the Irish people do not wish to associate with the I.R.A. But why is this so? Any citizen of the Irish Republic allegedly connected in any way with the I.R.A. receives a minimum of 6 months in prison. There is no jury trial and the defendant must prove his or her innocence. The procedure is unconstitutional, but to challenge it means being branded as an enemy of the state, Good old colonial justice.

No one dares tell us what the I.R.A. really is demanding. Have any of you heard what they stand for? The Irish Republican Army pledges itself to the liberation and freedom of their country - a country no longer divided. They demand:

(1) A declaration of Intent by the British Government to leave Ireland’s lands.

(2) The release of all political prisoners.

(3) An amnesty for all men on the wanted list.

Until those simple requests are granted, there will be no peace in Ireland.

The Irish people will not stay in chains any longer. They demand their freedom and they demand it now.

Go raftil Bliain Ul Fhaisite ag gach duine.
A new series of rereleased jazz classics has hit the scene. Included in the group of two-record, specially-priced sets are such greats as Cannonball Adderley, Bill Evans, Wes Montgomery and others, all performing what have come to be considered 'classics' of modern jazz. This album features Thelonious Monk and John Coltrane on piano and tenor saxophone respectively, as recorded in historical sessions which took place from spring 1957 to spring the following year. Accompanying Monk and Trane on this collection are Coleman Hawkins (tenor sax), Ray Copeland (trumpet), Gigi Gryce (alto sax), Willie Rimes (tenor sax) and Art Blakey (drums). This team, created through the merger of the two giants, Monk and Coltrane, produced some music that has never been rivaled. In addition, Thelonious Monk and John Coltrane never sounded better than when they played together during this two war stint.

On this album you will hear some fine music performed by some fine musicians. If you have any interest in jazz, you owe it to yourself to pick up this album and others in the series. unless you are one of those fortunate few who happen to possess the originals. Then you can sit back and say: "I knew about it all along," with a sense of smug self-satisfaction which is truly deserved.

MUSIC ON CAMPUS — THIS WEEKEND

This Sunday evening at eight o'clock, the University of Windsor Music Department will present the next in its Concert series. Featured will be soprano Roma Riddell accompanied on piano by Paul McIntyre. This recital is dedicated to the memory of two great composers born in 1874: Arnold Schoenberg and Charles Ives. Included in the programme will be Schoenberg’s well known writing of poems from Stefan George’s "Das Buch der Hängenden Gärten" and selected songs by Ives. The concert takes place in Most Court in the Faculty of Law building. It’s sure to be the best thing going in the area this Sunday night. Plan to be there.
Hugh MacLennan to read

Regarded by many as Canada's foremost novelist, he was elected to the Royal Society of Canada in 1952 and was awarded the Lorne Pierce Medal for Canadian literature described by the late Edmund Wilson as possessing "a specifically episodic style". He was also awarded the Canada Council Grants for the Performing Arts with many uncontradicted opinions.
Its interesting studies "awaiting and Old Lace is out at Walkerville, as done by Hoffman Theatre Co.

A WEEKEND

A weekend of Prayer, Seminars, discussions for men interested in the Priesthood or the Basilian Fathers will be held March 1st, 2nd and 3rd, 1974 at Dechantel Retreat House, Lewiston, New York. Travel and accommodations supplied. Contact Fr. John F. Murphy, C.S.B. at 258-4596 or any other Basilian Father.

MEETINGS AND LECTURES

- Feb. 10: Christina Cerminara Series presents Viktor E. Frankl, the survivor of several Nazi concentration camps and author of Search of a Man, playing Ford Aud. Dept.

- Windsor University Theatre Society presents Eugene Ionesco's play "Heads" with Ford Aud. Dept.

- FEBRUARY 15-16: An exhibition of Baroque Arts will be on display at the Det. Inst. of Arts

- thru March 4: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru month of Feb. at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)

- thru April 9: at the Labor Zionist Building, 2855 Bourbon Rd., (on the 5th floor)
Another winner, folks. Mrs. June King of our own cafeteria staff just claimed those free steak dinners at the Steak 'N Burger at the University Mall. Mrs. King's Pizza Casserole appeared in the January 11th Lancer. You too can dine like the moderately wealthy but only if those recipes find their way into our greasy floured hands. So get down to business!

This week's recipe comes from a Laurier resident, Sue Ross. Its a simple number to whip up, even if all you possess is a hotplate.

Unique Garden Soup

This one pot meal is not economical and simple to build, but hearty and filling. It requires a minimum of cooking apparatus (a big pot, spoon and hot plate will do). Also it is delicious and nutritious, since it contains vegetables for vitamins, meat and beans for protein, rice, and macaroni for carbohydrates.

Serve big steaming bowls with chunks of fresh french bread, and nobody will even ask for dessert!

| Y2 | I cup chopped celery and leaves
| Y2 | tsp. black pepper and bay leaf
| Y2 | 1 tsp. salt
| - | 1/2 tsp. black pepper and bay leaf if you have one.

Simmer until meat falls off bones, or about 3 hours and dump in a large can of tomatoes and one cup elbow macaroni. Add one cup of any vegetable, fresh or frozen, corn, peas, green or yellow baby lima beans, succotash are good. Toss any diced leftover meat or a large can of tomatoes and one cup elbow macaroni. Add one cup better as it mellows and thickens.

Simmer until meat falls off bones, or about 3 hours and dump in a large can of tomatoes and one cup elbow macaroni. Add one cup better as it mellows and thickens.

Pour in about 3 quarts of water

Soak I cup navy beans in water overnight

Simmer until meat falls off bones, or about 3 hours and dump in a large can of tomatoes and one cup elbow macaroni. Add one cup better as it mellows and thickens.

Have you noticed things looking brighter these days? Lamp and bulb sales have more than doubled in the last 15 years: lighting needs now consume one fourth of the nation's energy supply. Power-ratifying, brown outs and rising electricity costs have ignited cries for new sources of power and ways to save it. Power companies are quick to appear ecologically responsible and offer the sage advice: "Turn off anything you not using." Bulb companies parrot their light the way with new watt-saving, longlife products. But the lighting industry has more up its sleeves than bulbs. In many ways it has made America at least five times brighter than the rest of the world.

Lighting in schools and offices is two to three times brighter than it was 15 years ago, reports the Illuminating Engineering Society (IES). The IES should know, because it periodically publishes handbook that recommends more and more light for public places. Some states adopt the IES levels for their lighting codes; in other states the levels are unofficial law to engineers who find it easier to consult a table than figure out the unique lighting needs of a space. The IES derives more than satisfaction from being so well received. Eight percent of its members work for lamp or lighting fixture companies.

Even if this obvious conflict of interest didn't exist, the rising IES levels, which you pay for in hiked taxes electric bills are neither more efficient nor more healthful, just more costly.

The IES claims 99 percent visual efficiency for its levels, based on new computation methods developed in 1958. These methods have been severely criticized for trying to simulate visual tasks in the laboratory rather than experimenting with real people in real situations. Even so, closer checking shows that the IES did not even accept all of its "58" recommendations just those that increased light levels. The original study showed that from one to three footcandles were plenty for most reading, although pursuing a fifth carbon required 100 times as much light to get 99 percent accuracy.
An Island paradise: From Caicos with love

The good news

OTTAWA (CP) — New MPs Max Saltzman and Norman Saunders say a ray of sunshine to be found in their bills for the House of Commons Thursday when they brought their campaign for Canadians to acquire the Turks and Caicos Islands in the Caribbean.

Mr. Saltzman (Waterloo-Centre) was accompanied by a three-member delegation from the Canada-Peoples Movement which he said spoke in the hotel industry. "Our message there was for the government to act, because we have already established Liag Maguire, one of our islands.

That's constitutionally, as far as we are concerned.

Caicos islands: Caribbean travelogue

The Caicos Islands, are tough to confuse the most hardy mariner. Grouped near the point where the Bahama shelf, six main islands are about 50 miles long, and the sound passages in and out South Caicos, which is separated by the islands, is known to be a settlement, a huddle of wooden buildings, which would be a safe haven for those who desire to get away from over-full beaches without shade, in places trade winds blow, and in others, unspilted areas of the world which still has penny postage; climate is excellent, with constant Trades Winds samples, plentiful seafood, and the thing to do in the Caribbean, is to watch the beaches in flowered shirts.

The editor's utopia

by STEVEN MONAGHAN

Anybody who has ever contemplated taking a few weeks vacation in the Bahamas, has probably had the idea of being near the water, in a blind, if they were in Canada. A vacation like that is not a dream, but a reality. Caicos and the Eastern Caribbean (ten beds, courtesy of pilots for lifters, sorting for guests who catch their own fish). Shell processing for the Turks and Caicos is not a main income; until recently, when the banks sank, a ship, the Miss

The world which still has penny postage; climate is excellent, usually 72 degrees F. in winter, ten degrees higher in summer, with constant Trades Winds blowing. Rainfall is low, but just enough to keep water supply up, and humidity down. Turks Island has a tarmaic need from north to south, and is, perhaps, a dozen motor vehicles as against two in South Caicos; this form of transportation may be faster than a donkey but less reliable, in my time, the island had no mechanic! With no tax on income or property, developers may arrive in force before long.

The islands, which desperately need a jet strip at the airport, are being developed. A week in Miami without customs, a lot of shops, and a little less drinking. Canadians spend vast amounts of money every year in other parts of the Caribbean in their search for mid-winter sun. "Our problem," said Mr. Maguire, "is that we've got too many coming, and not enough going up the top." The islands are on the main airline routes between Canada and South America but, because the paved airstrip is only 6,000 feet long, big jets cannot land safely. An additional 2,000 feet is needed. Another problem has been that the islands have no fresh water, but Mr. Maguire said hydrological surveys have shown deposits do exist beneath the group.

Why Canada? Why don't islanders join the United States, which is much closer? "It's been talked about for 300 years," replied Mr. Maguire, "and ... we're not going to give that up easily."

He said the British government will be asked to initiate official discussions with Ottawa, following a resolution to that effect approved earlier this week by the island council of which Mr. Maguire and Mr. Saunders are members.

The islands are inside the square for tourists seeking organized amusement and bright lights; for those who desire to get away from it all. Write your MP. The unspoiled areas of the world are few and far between and besides helping those less fortunate than ourselves we would be leaving a beautiful national park for our children, without destroying the people or their islands.

Reprinted from a book The Caribbean Islands by Mary Slater islands would have first priority on jobs in their civil service. Because the islands are not fully developed, the people would receive the full benefit of our technology which would improve sanitation and utilities without spoiling their natural beauty and saving us, the people of the West Indies, their revenge.

This is a rare situation where everyone benefits and no concern of any type, economic, imperialistic or technological is

The people of the Turks and Caicos Islands want us. We are not imperialistic, but are being invited to participate in the development which would make a nice, American territory. First, to avoid the hordes of drunk, stoned people in our technology which would improve sanitation and utilities without spoiling their natural beauty and saving us, the people of the West Indies, their revenge.

This is a rare situation where everyone benefits and no concern of any type, economic, imperialistic or technological is
Intramural news and standings

Intramural basketball

DIVISION 3

Games next week (including schedule changes)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Place</th>
<th>Teams</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 14</td>
<td></td>
<td>St. Denis LaPointe vs Beavers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 15</td>
<td></td>
<td>Fac. Ed. Happy Hookers vs Unknown</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 16</td>
<td></td>
<td>Fac. Ed. Beavers vs Ballhounds</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 17</td>
<td></td>
<td>Fac. Ed. Phillips vs BMOC</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 18</td>
<td></td>
<td>Fac. Ed. Phi Theta Kappa vs Beavers</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In the event of conflicts call Ed Latowski at 869-2942.

Lancers in b-ball playoff

by NANCY KREMERS

On Friday, February 21 the Windsor Lancers were an important game, defeating the University of Ottawa 117-63. This win moves the women's team into third place in the OUA league standings and assures them of a playoff berth.

The game was essentially a defensive battle pitting Mary Jean Searles of the Lancers against Pat Tatham, centre for the Gee Gees. The Canadian Women's Basketball League played an excellent game, holding Ms. Tatham to a mere 6 points.

Windsor trailed 17-21 at the half but made up for lost effort sparked by their guards who were able to knock down a couple of minutes remaining and control the game until the final second.

Top scorer in the game was team captain Martha Knox, who netted 9 points from her guard spot.

The team members note that the win was a team effort, which statistics seem to bear that out, the scoring being distributed.

On Saturday, February 21 the Lancers played another easy game and had little trouble beating Sir Wilfrid Laurier University, inhabitants of the league cellar. The Lancers led 46-20 at the half, ran away from their opponents in the second half to secure their score by a score of 75-26.

Top scorers for Windsor were Karen Covalik (13 pts), Kim Wilkie (13 pts), and Bonnie Robinson (112 pts).

The women's ice action next weekend is February 25. They will meet the Waterloo Aquas in a return match in St. Denis Hall. Game time is 6:15 PM. - Be there!

In exhibition action on Tuesday night the Lancers, points behind on the weekend, were defeated 43-35 to women's basketball team of Athlone College at Windsor.

Top Scorers in that game were Cathy Valcke (14 pts), Pat Thomas (111 pts), and Mary Pat Searles (106 pts).

Lancer hockey improving

Lance Sport Services

What can a weekend do to a team? In the case of the Lancers, plenty. While losing to McMaster 1-4 on Saturday, Windsor had the semblance of a winning team.

If teams could allot a win on their persistence and the will to win, the Lancers would have officially reached the third bus of competition. With the upcoming last Saturday. Coming from behind on two goals, the Lancers outplayed and outscored the Marlin in the first and early into the third, by tallying three goals. The Marlin had the back to the tie at 3-3 in the third and went on to win a tough game.

It was a heart breaking loss, for the Lancers played their hockey last Saturday. Unlike in previous years when infrequent efforts seemed to be the game plan, Saturday saw Windsor playing as a cohesive team whose only wish was to win at least once on the season.

Tuesday night was a different story. The first period showed a losing team which failed to maintain their scoring. The Guelph Gryphons bullied Windsor the overall season and in the first and posted five goals to the Lancers.

The Lancers, however, were not defeated by the Guelph Gryphons, but instead lost in the second and third periods, but the damage had already been done. In the second period the Lancers and the Gryphons took the lead, which was four goals behind. The Gryphons added another three and then extended the lead with a score of 78-36. Windsor won 4-1, but the game became wide open as the scoring continued into the third period with Guelph getting the best of Windsor. The final score was 11-6 for the Gryphons.

The Lancers are beginning to find the net with harder shots on goal, total of 31. The outstanding fine for Windsor was that of the Eymonds, the combination which again set a total of five points. Pat Patterson played a good game against the Gryphons.

Coming Events in Sport

LANCERS

Track and Field: February 9 (Sat) - Michigan State Relays at East Lansing.

Basketball: February 9 (Sat) - Lancers host Western, St. Denis Hall, 8:15 p.m. February 11 (Wed) - Lancers visit Waterloo, 8:15 p.m. Bus available. Tickets on sale daily in University Centre.

Fencing: February 9 (Sat) - Lancers at OUA Western Sectional Championship in Guelph.

Hockey: February 8 (Fri) - Lancers at OHU Ottawa, 8:00 p.m. February 11 (Wed) - Lancers host Laurier, Aldie Knox Arena, 8:15 p.m.

Swimming: February 12 (Tues) - Lancers at Wayne State, 7:00 p.m.

Wrestling: February 15-16 (Fri-Sat) - Lancers at OUA University of Western Ontario.

LANCEETTES

Basketball: February 9 (Sat) - Lancers host Waterloo, St. Denis Hall, 6:15 p.m.

Speed Swimming and Diving: February 9 (Sat) - Lancerettes host York, PHE Complex, 2:00 p.m. February 12 (Tues) - Lancers at Wayne State, 7:00 p.m. February 15-16 (Fri-Sat) - OUA Finals at Ontario.

Synchronized Swimming: February 9 (Fri-Sat) - Lancerettes at OUA Finals, Queen's University, 6:00 p.m. Friday, 9:00 a.m. Saturday.

Volleyball: February 9 (Sat) - Lancerettes host Laurier and Waterloo, St. Denis Hall, 12:00 p.m.

Lancerettes in b-ball playoff

by NANCY KREMERS

On Friday, February 21 the Windsor Lancerettes were an important game, defeating the University of Ottawa 117-63. This win moves the women's team into third place in the OUA league standings and assures them of a playoff berth.

The game was essentially a defensive battle pitting Mary Jean Searles of the Lancerettes against Pat Tatham, centre for the Gee Gees. The Canadian Women's Basketball League played an excellent game, holding Ms. Tatham to a mere 6 points.

Windsor trailed 17-21 at the half but made up for lost effort sparked by their guards who were able to knock down a couple of minutes remaining and control the game until the final second.

Top scorer in the game was team captain Martha Knox, who netted 9 points from her guard spot.

The team members note that the win was a team effort, which statistics seem to bear that out, the scoring being distributed.

On Saturday, February 21 the Lancerettes played another easy game and had little trouble beating Sir Wilfrid Laurier University, inhabitants of the league cellar. The Lancers led 46-20 at the half, ran away from their opponents in the second half to secure their score by a score of 75-26.

Top scorers for Windsor were Karen Covalik (13 pts), Kim Wilkie (13 pts), and Bonnie Robinson (112 pts).

The women's ice action next weekend is February 25. They will meet the Waterloo Aquas in a return match in St. Denis Hall. Game time is 6:15 PM. - Be there!

In exhibition action on Tuesday night the Lancerettes, points behind on the weekend, were defeated 43-35 to women's basketball team of Athlone College at Windsor.

Top Scorers in that game were Cathy Valcke (14 pts), Pat Thomas (111 pts), and Mary Pat Searles (106 pts).
Lancers drop second game to Saints
by RICK WILEY
On Wednesday, February 20 the University of Windsor Lancers visited the St. Clair College Saints for the second game of their annual two game exhibition series. Once again the Saints showed that they had strength in all the right places, defeating the Lancers by a score of 82-70. Things seemed to open up in the second period however as St. Clair chalked up another six goals. The Lancers, by contrast were unable to cash in on several good scoring opportunities. Goalie scores included Pa Mahon, Phil Tennier, John Moore, Bill Rodkey (each with one), and Rick Bacon with two. In the final frame the Lancers outscored the Saints 21-10 on the strength of goals from Jim Gratto. The home team point came from John Moore. An error studded second period perhaps best explained the Lancers’ loss. Despite defeats in the last two games however, an interesting thing is happening to the Lancer game to third period, which has been the Lancer ‘Achilles’ Heel. This season has turned to the strongest asset of their game. Perhaps the ‘core of the crust’ of the Lancers has been somehow broken.

While the Lancers did win that contest 88-73, the Mustangs will be out to win the contest in St. Denis Hall. Western might still surprise two teams before the season’s end.

Fencers take OUAA Divisional
BY FRANK WINKLER
The University of Windsor men’s fencing team made headway in the defense of their OUAA championship here at Windsor last Saturday. The team, coached by Dr. Leonard Kroon, won the OUAA Far West Divisional Finals and will now advance to the Western Finals to be held in St. Catherines this weekend. OUAA security police report that they are happy that Windsor will not be advancing to the finals. The fact that the first place teams advance to the OUAA finals to be held in St. Catherines will mean the job of crowd control will be rendered considerably easier.

Heidelberg
Brewed from pure spring water.
Need a laugh ... indeed

In our January 11th issue of the Lance, that stalwart in the field of creative journalism, we carried an ad that is reproduced below, (speaking of reproduction the ad purported to be cheerfully reprinted below and let us just say that they send naturally sent our printed below and let us just say that they send)

In our January 11th issue of the Lance, that stalwart in the field of creative journalism, we carried an ad that is reproduced below, (speaking of reproduction the ad purported to be cheerfully reprinted below and let us just say that they send naturally sent our printed below and let us just say that they send)

Friday, Feb. 8th

11 a.m. - Free Concert in cafeteria
1 p.m. - Registration for the Car Pub Rally
2 p.m. - S.A.C. - LANCE Drinking Contest in Pub
6 p.m. - Car Pub Rally "D" Lot
8 p.m. - Cabaret Pub Featuring "CEPHUS"
9 p.m. - Electra Hall 50's Party
12:45 a.m. - Free Silent Films in Pub.

Sunday, Feb. 10th

2 p.m. - Ice Skating - Free Hot Chocolate
3 p.m. - S.A.C.-Administration Benefit Basketball game in St. Denis
3 p.m. - Free Films in Assumption Lounge (Greek Club)
8 p.m. - Poor People's Benefit Battle Of The Bands In Vanier
8 p.m. - Musical Recital in Hoot court

Good news for blind

Two blind patients have had tiny electrodes implanted in their visual cortex of their brains in experiments at London, Ontario. Researchers say the experiments could lead to development of an artificial eye.

Researchers say the experiments could lead to development of an artificial eye. The experiments, performed at Victoria Hospital in London, part of a joint research project of the universities of Toronto, Ontario and Utah.

The experiments marked the first time anyone was able to compute the pattern of stimulation of the cortex, an essential component of any hoped-for system of artificial sight.

University of Toronto Summer Language Programme

This summer, the University of Toronto will offer a French Language Summer School at Saint-Pierre et Miquelon and an English Language Seminar School at Toronto.

University of Toronto Government-sponsored bursaries will be offered in connection with these programmes.

University de Toronto

École Anglaise d’Été

(bourses d’étude)

Pour toute demande de renseignements au sujet des cours et des bourses (programme fédéral-provincial) écrire à:

University of Toronto
Division of University Extension
Continuing Education Programme
119 St. George Street
Toronto, Ontario M5S 1A9
(416) 928-2400
Poetry Readings Draw Crowd

by K. COURTENAY

It is a form of courage one admires and belches on as the audience and recite from collected lines and verse which may or may not have been presented publicly before. The audience Thursday required that courage as they listened appreciatively, sometimes sympathetically, to the words of four readers.

To refer to all of them as poets would constitute something of an inaccuracy; certainly the reputation of Alister MacLeod is such that he is recognized first as a writer and, within the realm of the University, a professor of English literature. John Ditsky is a critic of some repute, and William Ryan a student.

Dr. Luigi is a fellow critic who has greatly underestimated the degree of centralization in their political and social systems. The capitals have become more than one-half of the world's population, and the world has become much worse than he had anticipated.

Prof. Burkes ended his lecture by stating, "the systems are more fragile than we thought - a good deal more... people are fed up with controls, centralization and ownership." He predicted continued turmoil and "major political upheavals" in the future.

In a following question and answer period, his opinions came under considerable fire from professors in attendance. Dr. Fallan, Dr. Ditsky, Dr. Brown, and Dr. Chypinski, all of Eastern European origin, their main criticisms were that Prof. Burkes had described situations prevalent in the '50s (food shortages, etc.) as a gross misrepresentation of the current conditions in these countries. They also challenged his future prediction of political turmoil and instability, stating that "people do not know what the future holds," and using the U.S. as an extreme model of disruption and chaos.

All in all, no conclusion was arrived at.

Prof. R. B. Burkes is currently teaching history at Wayne State University, specializing in Soviet communities and its effects. He was formerly the Policy Director of Radio Free Europe in Munich, Germany.

The angry young men of yesterday are today's wise old men... Canadian opinion.

— English sage or "The wise old men of yesterday spawn the angry young men of today.

UNIVERSITY OF WINDSOR, WINDSOR, ONTARIO

S.A.C. Needs Talent

(by then who doesn't)

Are you musically or dramatically inclined and wish to show off your talents? S.A.C. needs volunteers for the Variety Show Program to present to senior citizens and hospital patients. The S.A.C. Christmas Party for Senior citizens at Beacon Hill Lodge was such a success that it was felt that programs of this nature should be presented throughout the year.

Work began in January to initiate such a program. SAC has approached the Laurier House Council, and the Music and Drama Departments in an effort to uncover hidden student talent.

Bonnie Fields of Laurier Hall has undertaken the organization of the entertainment program and hopes to raise at least 20 volunteers to perform.

Anyone wishing to participate in the S.A.C. Variety Show Program should contact Miss Fields or leave their name with Doug Phillips in the S.A.C. office.

Sunrise on Sunset

What is the Psych Centre up to? First they start calling themselves "The House On Sunset" (sounds like a house of ill repute). Then they go in for "personal growth groups." What next?

According to the Centre staff, they are working on an image change.

We still see ourselves as a place where people with a variety of mild to serious problems can find professional help," says Centre Director Marv Kaplan, "But that's not all we do nor is it all that we are doing. We have the staff and the interest to work with any student, and that explains our developing personal growth groups which are for anyone who wants to be more aware of himself or herself.”

The Psych Centre has begun to expand into new directions with aid being given to the Women's Centre. The newest offering is a group for male homosexuals. This group is for men who wish to explore issues of relationships and awareness, and self-perception not primarily around sexual orientation but in terms of life concerns. The group will meet at six weekly sessions commencing when a suitable number of applicants apply.

Persons wishing to become involved in the Centre's programs do not go through the regular Centre contact interviews, but apply directly for the group of their interest. For further information, drop in at 326 Sunset or call Ext. 243.

Enrolment in Psychology 115 is dropping off, according to Dr. David Reynolds. The 1980 allocation taking Psy 115 in 1971-72 has been reduced from 1973-74. Dr. Reynolds attributes the drop-off primarily to full-time, part-time assistants.

This year, approximately 100 students were not allowed to enroll in Psy 115 due to an increase in the number of sections to accommodate demands. Psychology 115 is required by almost all students for a variety of reasons. He feels that a number of these students are often dependent on finances attained from teaching assistant positions. To reduce the number of teaching assistant positions, it is necessary to diminish the number of teaching assistants. It is also necessary to diminish the number of students taking the introductory course.

Dr. Reynolds points out that teaching assistants presently working in the Psychology Department are responsible for more students than the TA's in other departments.

Under the organization of Dr. Reynolds, Psy 115 has progressed from the television sessions of those years ago to the "Distinguished Speakers Program". Once a week, speakers are invited to come to campus to deliver a lecture.

Upon the basis of student evaluations, response as to the quality of the Psychology, the decision to continue the course in the subject must be examined. The S.A.C. should get in contact with Miss Fields or leave their name with Doug Phillips in the S.A.C. office.

Notes: The Lance will not publish
Friday Feb. 22. Try and maintain

Mrs. Beverly Citron would like to thank everyone who offered solace on the death of her husband, Robert, who passed away suddenly, Friday, February 1st. Mr. Citron was a Commerce student and active in S.A.C. and is sorely missed by his wife and son, John.
WINTER SCENE

The undisturbed snow slopes down to the river that winds crystal clear through the trees. You’re at peace in harmony with the natural world around you.

You’re the kind of girl who wants the simplest yet most dependable kind of sanitary protection-Tampax tampons. They’re worn internally, so you don’t worry about discomfort or unpleasant odor. You never feel them when they’re in place, yet you’re secure.

by SAL PRESTA

Fidelity and liberality are the key words in the restructuring of the Faculty of Business Administration, according to Dean Zin.

The reason for the restructuring is that in the past, the Faculty placed too much emphasis on business courses and not enough on the other areas outside the Faculty to insure a liberal education. In the past a student had to take two courses in accounting but beginning next year only 1½ courses will be required.

Other business course requirements have also been lowered. Finance, marketing and statistics have been reduced by a quarter course each while management has been reduced by a half. This provides the student who wishes to take more courses outside the Faculty a more flexible program of study.

Dean Zin stated, “We want to insure that the other areas have equal opportunities to develop the support market in the present Faculty to a minimum.” He added that “Business does not have a monopoly on education and that the Faculty must simulate the real world” by drawing on other areas of study.

Such business related courses as Public Policy from Political Science or Corporate Finance from Law would be credit courses in the Faculty of Business.

The MBA program has also had a face-lift. In the past, policies of U.S. imperialism can be easily transported to other Caribbean and Latin American countries.

The United States is now building a new “superport” - a refinery complex in the midst of the present “energy crisis”. The establishment of such a complex will dominate the country even more.

The establishment of the complex would be disastrous to the agricultural production and life in the western part of Puerto Rico. It would take about 20,000 to 50,000 acres in the first stage of the project. Eventually it will absorb the whole water production of the country. It would destroy the fishing industry and prevent the development of light industry in that part of the island.

The entire project itself violates several international treaties passed by the United Nations General Assembly. Afraid of the Puerto Rican struggle for independence, the U.S. is trying to suppress the movement. Many Puerto Rican political prisoners have been held as long as 20 years which is longer than any other political prisoners in U.S. history.

Many of these prisoners were connected with the Puerto Rican independence struggle of the 1950’s. On Dec. 14, 1973 the U.S. General Assembly declared that Puerto Rico was, in fact, a colony of the United States, not an independent country. It showed to the world that after hearing the arguments of both sides, Puerto Rico was not a “free associated state”.

The vote was 104-3. The opposing votes were cast by the U.S., Britain, France, Portugal and South Africa. It doesn’t take much to see why these countries supported the U.S. The Puerto Rican people have every right to rise up against their imperialist masters. It is time for the left and all progressive forces to join with the independents forces to demand an end to Yankee domination once and for all.

Que Viva Puerto Rico Libe!

Business revamped

Dean Zin felt that the program had little possibility for advanced courses of study, the MBA degree was not really a graduate degree since many courses were similar to the courses in the undergraduate degree.

According to Dean Zin, each person’s program will be tailored to his desire and need based on his background. 25 percent of the student’s courses may be selected from courses outside the Faculty in the Candidate year. The time in the Candidate year has also been reduced to allow the student time for research or independent work.

Dean Zin feels that the program is liberal to permit student breadth in both business and non-business courses and also depth in at least two areas of business.

Heidelberg

Brewed from pure spring water.

And that’s the truth!
Food Shortage and the Food Bill

With the rising cost of meat, many people want to cut down on their consumption of this particularly high priced item. This can be done in a number of ways, but it requires a basic understanding of one of the most important food element found in meat, protein. Protein is made up of amino acids, which are the building blocks of proteins. These foods can complement each other and provide the eight essential amino acids. It is in these foods that great hope for cutting down on meat requirements and for alleviation of future food shortages rests.

One biological fact about the production of protein is that it takes twenty one pounds of animal protein to produce one pound of vegetable protein. As in North America, High quality grains are fed to animals then it takes twenty one pounds of vegetable protein to produce one pound of animal protein.

Animals have an amazing ability to turn food that is indigible to humans into high grade protein. What has been happening increasingly in North America is that more and more high quality grains that could be eaten by people are fed to livestock. Seventy eight percent of all the grain harvested in the United States go for this purpose.

One of the staples of the old North and South American Indians and much of Latin America today is a mixture in their meals of corn, bean and products that together offer much of the protein one needs. While not intended by these people as a complete substitute for meat, it is very generally on many requirements. In some cases in poorer areas it is almost the only meat.

While utilizing the protein resources in cereals, grains and legumes could vastly expand the amounts of available food in the world without expanding production there are other aspects that bit closer to home.

Besides just being a chance to cut down on food costs there is the health angle. Heart disease is now the number one health problem as the odds are that a large percentage of men will have to deal with it at some time (not to mention their wives). Many doctors feel that a high intake of cholesterol from animal fats is a prime factor in causing heart trouble.

A diet that cuts this down to lower level is supported by most North American physicians.

There are a number of ways a person can make use of this information without becoming an expert in cooking soybean caseroloes. There are a relative­ly small number of plant products that have appreciable amounts of protein. They are wheat products, corn, rice, nuts and most types of peas or beans. The simplest way to combine them is to have a slice of bread (sorry it really should be whole grain to be best) with any meal where there are one or preferably two of the other types. There are also a number of breads available here in Windsor that have soybean flour (which has one of the highest percentages of protein to weight of any substances) mixed in, imperceptible to the taste.

Many dieters worry about the starch in these foods. It is possible to pick out types though, that are of a higher percent protein. If a person ate them of these foods separately as many people do in this incomplete protein would probably be used for energy leaving even more starch to be converted to fat. If they ate it with other proteins sources this segment of protein would be gainfully employed to rebuild their bodies.

One of the biggest problems with the idea of using more vegetable protein is that many books on the subject tend to go overboard and provide all sort of unappetizing meals with very hard to get products. So if you want to cut your require­ments for meat, use the earths resources more efficiently or become a vegetarian with out being a pricking about it, here are some easy, to make, recipes to start on.

Garbonza Beans

(Chick peas)
Soak beans (or peas) in water overnight.
Put in 1 lb. baking soda in water and let soak for 10 min.
Wash well.
Cover with water and put on stove till boiling, then simmer. Into a frying pan put fresh garlic (crushed) chopped onions, fresh parsley (chewed or used finely), any highly flavored meat or smoked sausage, red wine paprika, black pepper, salt.

Sauce, then add to beans.
Simmer till water is gone and beans are tender. If more water must be added be sure its boiling.

Pizza
Put 1 package of yeast, 1 tsp. of honey into ¼ cup of warm water. After 5 minutes add 2 tbsp. oil, a touch of salt, ¼ cup of flour, 1 small can tomato juice into 1½ cups of wheat flour (unbleached is the most like white flour but has some of the original nutrients left) ½ cup soy flour and beat as bread dough.

Let rise for 5 minutes then roll into the size of a ten in. pizza.
Cover with 1 small can tomato sauce, grated cheese and any or all of, mushrooms sliced green pepper bacon, sausage, tomato anchovies, or anything else you’ve always wanted on a pizza.

Bean Salad
1 cup cooked white of navy beans
1 cup cooked chick peas
1 cup sliced green beans
3 tbsp. oil
3 tbsp vinegar
½ tsp salt and a few grains of pepper

Fruit Salad Pancakes
Mix ¼ cup of whole wheat or unbleached flour, ¼ cup of soy flour and a small tsp. of baking powder.
Add 1 or 2 eggs, 2 tsp. oil and enough milk to achieve a gooey consistency when mixed together.

From here you can add any fruit that suits your fancy. Some to consider are strawberry, blue berries, sliced apple (with cinnamon), raspberry or grated orange peel. Nuts are also welcome.

This serves two.

Spaghetti
For recipes in this vein, try using soy noodles instead, they taste just the same.

FILM SOCIETY PRESENTS
Burt Reynolds in "Deliverance"

Exhaustingly Exciting

Wednesday, February 27th
Room 1120
Math Bldg.
7 pm. & 9 pm.

Students with card $1.00
Non-students $1.50

SAC Snooker Tournament
Concerts Winners
Jim Evans, Danny Antinori & Dick Brown.

EARN UP TO $100 EVERY MONTH DONATING BLOOD
TWEED A WEEK FOR OUR LOCAL Plasma Program
OR EARN UP TO $100 DONATING BLOOD EVERY TWO WEEKS
OTHER WAY, YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS, YOUR COMMUNITY, AND THE BLOOD BANK WILL ALL BENEFIT.

DETOIT BIOLOGICALS, INC.
3rd Floor Kales Building West Building Avenue

Free Parking — 145 W. Elizabeth Hrs. 9 a.m. — 5:30 Bridge Toll reimbursed Sibling unity...

On Sunday afternoon, February 10 (a day which must go down as a black one for the freedom of the press) the staff of the St. Clair College Saint printed an article that asked the students to help out with the paper, (the staff at this time consists of three or four people.) The article also outlined the purposes of the Saint, which is to provide a voice for student opinion on campus. The headline on the article was Fuck you! implying that if the students wouldn't help with their paper, that's the way the staff felt about their lack of support. As such, it conveyed that feeling coupled with its attention grabbing intent and was, in that respect, valid. The staff agreed to the head. One of the acting editors of the paper, Tim Monaghan, was summoned to the office of Mr. Roy Conliffe, Director of Student Activities to discuss the head. According to Mr. Monaghan, Conliffe suggested that the head would give St. Clair a bad image with prospective employers and that St. Clair's main function is to provide jobs. He also strongly suggested that the entire press run be burned or the heads blacked out.

Mr. Monaghan refused on the grounds that they were interfering with the freedom of the press and stated that the staff would resign. Instead the printer was instructed by Allan Cecile, president of Student Government to delete the head. The copies already printed were burned.

The Lance sees this as shocking for several reasons. First, the freedom of the press has been infringed upon. Whether it be matters of taste or politics the press should be in the hands of the 4th Estate, not politicians or administrators. The people who run a big operation like St. Clair's student gov't should know better.

Second, we see this idea of not offending potential employers as playing right into their hands. It is about time that we stopped using institutions of higher learning like the University and St. Clair as giant job factories. Perhaps it is time we started to learn something for its own value.

By Eric

Champagne

FUCK YOU!

Deb Russell, II — Someone to follow your footsteps. Someone to become better than yourself.

Paul Kuras, I — Hell. I just don't know.

Karen Quinn, extension — To fulfill their dreams through their children, so that the children could do the things they never had a chance to do.

Donna Champagne, prenatal IV — Because they want to do something meaningful with their lives; also to have an experience of childhood from an adult's perspective. Sometimes because they just like babies.

Julia Ma, II — To keep the world going on.

Sister Rose Mallon, grad — To perpetuate themselves. To have the visible fruit of their love.

Julia Ma, II — To keep the world going on.

Sister Rose Mallon, grad — To perpetuate themselves. To have the visible fruit of their love.

Sister Rose Mallon, grad — To perpetuate themselves. To have the visible fruit of their love.

Julia Ma, II — To keep the world going on.

Sister Rose Mallon, grad — To perpetuate themselves. To have the visible fruit of their love.
Explanations
February 11, 1974
The Editor
The Lance
Dear Sir:

It is sometimes difficult to take this opportunity to point out some misleading facts or opinions that are published in newspaper articles. I have been reading an article titled "Cutting Our Name into S.A.C." in The Lance. While it may appear that the article was written as an effort to point out what I believe to be misleading facts or opinions about the S.A.C., it seems to me that the editor of The Lance was just muckracking for the article titled "Cutting Our Name into S.A.C." The truth of the matter is that the Lance was not guilty of saddling the Lance with any debt. As our president and I feel this is one of the prime responsibilities of the Lance, but who will watch the printer?

The first criticism levelled at S.A.C. in the Lance was that the S.A.C. was not in existence as it should be and that the literary and editorial activities of S.A.C. were not as good as they could be. We had to spend the debt $20,000 on the printer (Lance and Directory) in 1970). We paid the printer as much as we had then, we would have had no money left.

The Wages Act (R.S.O. 1970) demands that we meet our payroll requirements before we deduct or bills be paid. Had we paid the printer as much as we thought we should, the printer would have been unable to do unsatisfactory work. However, the printer would have put a stop to them. We have to pay the printer for their time.

Where did this $20,000 come from? It accrued over a period of time, so it is not possible for the readers of The Lance to speculate about it. In fact, the printer (Lance and Directory) in 1970) is not in existence as it should be and that the literary and editorial activities of S.A.C. were not as good as they could be. We had to spend the debt $20,000 on the printer (Lance and Directory) in 1970). We paid the printer as much as we had then, we would have had no money left.

The Wages Act (R.S.O. 1970) demands that we meet our payroll requirements before we deduct or bills be paid. Had we paid the printer as much as we thought we should, the printer would have put a stop to their work. However, the printer would have put a stop to their work. We have to pay the printer for their time.

Where did this $20,000 come from? It accrued over a period of time, so it is not possible for the readers of The Lance to speculate about it. In fact, the printer (Lance and Directory) in 1970) is not in existence as it should be and that the literary and editorial activities of S.A.C. were not as good as they could be. We had to spend the debt $20,000 on the printer (Lance and Directory) in 1970). We paid the printer as much as we had then, we would have had no money left.

The Wages Act (R.S.O. 1970) demands that we meet our payroll requirements before we deduct or bills be paid. Had we paid the printer as much as we thought we should, the printer would have put a stop to their work. However, the printer would have put a stop to their work. We have to pay the printer for their time.

The Wages Act (R.S.O. 1970) demands that we meet our payroll requirements before we deduct or bills be paid. Had we paid the printer as much as we thought we should, the printer would have put a stop to their work. However, the printer would have put a stop to their work. We have to pay the printer for their time.

The Wages Act (R.S.O. 1970) demands that we meet our payroll requirements before we deduct or bills be paid. Had we paid the printer as much as we thought we should, the printer would have put a stop to their work. However, the printer would have put a stop to their work. We have to pay the printer for their time.

The Wages Act (R.S.O. 1970) demands that we meet our payroll requirements before we deduct or bills be paid. Had we paid the printer as much as we thought we should, the printer would have put a stop to their work. However, the printer would have put a stop to their work. We have to pay the printer for their time.
In the last few weeks we have been presenting the reports of the various cabinet members and an expose regarding various functions and responsibilities. It is hoped that such has provided you with some candid insights about what your Students' Council is doing. In the next issue, we will have reports from the Housing Commission and the Treasurer.

At Christmas time the Student’s Council helped put together a Christmas party for the senior citizens at the Beacon Hill Lodge. Many students felt that the motivation for such should be a continuing nature through the year. Towards that end then, the Students’ Council with the help of Laurier Hall’s Bonnie Fields is trying to get students musically or dramatically talented to get into some sort of a variety entertainment programme. The programme could periodically throughout the year visit children wards, senior citizens homes etc. We need your help in this and we would appreciate very much your sending your name to either Bonnie Fields or the S.A.C. Office.

The Board’s function is to rule upon complaints that you as a student might have as against any student. The Board might operate and regulate itself, you media review board might consider the request and was to re-examine its substance at the next meeting Wednesday evening.

The proofs of the Remembrance Issue 1972-1973 were received last week and forwarded back to the printer with the go ahead on the December 31st statements are out and they are posted in the glass-in bulletin board downstairs. We have weekly meetings every Wednesday at 7 p.m. There is also a Suggestion Box on the Centre Desk and we would appreciate hearing your comments, or if you would rather phone, our number is 255-4232 Ext. 326 or 436.

THE SHOE BAR
GIVES 10% DISCOUNT
TO ALL STUDENTS
WYANDOTTE W. AT RANDOLPH
GREAT CAMPUS FOOTWEAR
TRY US...... YOU'LL LIKE US

TERM PAPERS
Quality, Originality, Security
$2.75 per page
SEND NOW FOR LATEST CATALOG. ENCLOSE $2.00
TO COVER RETURN POSTAGE
Hours: Mon-Fri 12 noon - 8 p.m.; Sat 12 noon - 5 p.m.

ESAY SERVICES
57 Spadina Avenue, Suite 105
Toronto, Ontario Canada
Telephone: (416) 366-6549

FRONTIER COLLEGE — will be recruiting males, females and couples for summer and fall programmes starting on Feb. 13, in the University Centre at 12:30 PM. For further information call 252-7645.

FOR SALE — 3 square metre cafe tables. Ideal for kitchen or card tables. $35. Call Barrie at 256-9142 after 6 pm.

WANTED — An A.M. radio. See Greg in room 1090 Math Bldg. or call 253-6812.

FOR SALE — 20 ' black and white RCA portable TV. Excellent condition $135. Call Ted at 252-1036.

FOR SALE — Brand new 135 mm Soligor lens to fit Nikon or Nikkor format camera. $90. Phone 254-5318.

WANTED — Two $6.50 YES tickets for Feb. 27th or 28th. Call Willis at 969-0802.

FOR SALE — Electrophone turner and 8 track tape deck.

FOR SALE — Sony real stereo tape deck. Model 250 & system, AM-FM receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer or will trade Sony for best guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

LOST — Would the pricks who borrowed my black ski gloves from the cafeteria on Feb. 5th between 9:30 AM and 11:15 AM please return them to the center desk. Signed, I Know Who You Are!

FOUND — One reel of someone’s 8mm vacation film. Found in Memorial Hall. Contact the secretary of the Geology Department.

FOR SALE — Fireplace screen.

NEED MORE BREAD? PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment; in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised program needs qualified donors now. New process takes only plasma for this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit). Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM
Michigan Community Blood Center
3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit
1/2 block south of Medical Center
Phone 833-5539
73-MC7C-40C

FOR SALE — Great Charter. Gamma Head and hardshell case. $40 or best offer. Alas Fender Reverb Amp $250 or trade for acoustic guitar. Call Milt at 258-7266.

Fast Accurate Typing: All Work 4 6 pm & 254-8524.

FOR SALE — 69 Volvo, Green, 4-speed, new tires, best offer 252-8454-9 ½ ft. 728-2014 after 6:30.

YOUR LONDON — A Leading American specialist says sex passion from a heart attack — but only if its with his wife.

Doctor Nathaniel Wagner, a researcher, warned today in London that recurring cardiac patients could die from excitement with a mistress. Wagner wrote in the British Journal of Sexual Medicine that once a male patient has recovered enough to take regular gentle exercise he should be encouraged to resume a normal sex life. He says that an average middle-aged man, making love to his wife is no demanding than climbing two flights of stairs.

But he adds that if the partner is a mistress, the blood pressure rises, the heart works faster — and the result can be sudden death.

BIRTHRIGHT ON CAMPUS
We offer an alternative to Abortion

252-5665
Mon. 2 — 9 Thurs. 5 — 9

THE CABARET PUB
PRESENTS
"Bare Mother" Feb. 15th & 16th
"Otherwise" (5 piece all girl band) Feb. 25th — March 2nd
"Have a good rest week, we will."
Le Francophone is an expression... of bilinguism on campus.

Mon pays...

Mon pays ne cesse pas un pays
Comme celui à Vign Built
Oublié dans le Norteur
C'est un pays très beau
Est de sa belle salade

Mon père a fait bâtir maison
Tout au fond d'un ravin
Pour nos progrès contre les Vents du nord
Qui en hiver soufflent très fort

Il l'âtre à Hauveaux-Maison
Le plus bel endroit de la montagne
C'est la maison paternelle
Pour moi elle est la plus belle

La marée qui monte et monte
Et la mer qui devient plus blanche Nous en somme bien profonds
Par des buttes assez élevées
Ma maison ne cesse pas ma maison
C'est ma mer

Jusqu'à l'autre jour
Est comme hiver

un Madelinot

un voisin qui y met du chien est un voisin

Francophone is an expression... of bilinguism on campus.

Le voisin de son chien
Met que du sien, votre argent vous sera

Faut pas en parler; les petites a mes femelles diront qu

Si vous craignez le déodar, vous pouvez faire venir un restaurant de la cuisine du coin, ou vous pouvez changer les minutes au-dessus de l'usine, du vin et du sang. Les autres habitent les arbrisseaux, l'herbe flambée une feuille. Une feuille d'érable dans un sapin. Et la celle d'un pays, c'est celle dun bucheron. Chaque mot, un obus qui eclate. L'histoire d'un crayon ou dans sa hache? C'est lui qui aiguise l'arbre comme un crayon et que écrit dans l'irable. Puis il y a le skidder, le cordeur, le par

Anne e d'arbres abattus dans un desert d'oiseaux. S'il existait un être nature! Si les arbres devenaient des maisons, chacun

Bonne nuit

Etre libre. Les deux plus grands chrétiens que je connaisse s'appellent: père dy... père de la mine. Chaque mot, un obus qui eclate. L'histoire d'un crayon ou dans sa hache? C'est lui qui aiguise l'arbre comme un crayon et que écrit dans l'irable. Puis il y a le skidder, le cordeur, le par

Le meilleur directeur de l'usine du bûcheron, c'est la nature. Celui de l'écrivain, la hache. Mais comme l'usine s'étend en ville, il est difficile de se dire que c'est nature. Si les arbres devenaient des maisons, chacun vivrait dans sa propre forêt. Dans le cœur de la forêt dort l'âme de celui qui vit dans la maison, qui est le vrai père du bambou, du plomb, du carbone, du diamant.

Le cœur du papier est naturellement cuit. Que trouvez-vous dans un crayon? Des bois, des fleurs, des insectes? Il y a des branches sur les crayons, et des bûcherons. Le livre est un assemblage d'arbres abattus dans un désert d'oiseaux. S'il existait un tel livre naturel, il n'aurait pas de sens. Le bûcheron, le livre de l'écrivain, c'est la nature. Celui de l'écrivain, la hache. Mais comme l'usine s'étend en ville, il est difficile de se dire que c'est nature. Si les arbres devenaient des maisons, chacun vivrait dans sa propre forêt. Dans le cœur de la forêt dort l'âme de celui qui vit dans la maison, qui est le vrai père du bambou, du plomb, du carbone, du diamant.

Le Frere Untel

J'habiterai. Je ne. suis pas un Canadien- errant, je suis dépaysé comme un touriste.

Chercher.

Trouver, les lois de l'homme et de l'écrivain. Le silence est mon couvercle.

Le silence est mon couvercle.

Bout A ~crire pour /crire, je corrige les chemins de mon crayon.

Il en a donc les mots des châteaux où.

First, je suis un crayon-poussifference, qu'un gratte-papier.

Avec un voyage de plomb aussi long qu'un oiseau de passage. A partir du moment où, la parole est libérée que du crayon.

L'âtre d'écriture est pareil au bûcheron abattant l'arbre qu'il habite.

Il est un touriste, je suis dépaysé comme un touriste.

Trouver, les lois de l'homme et de l'écrivain.

Trouver, les lois de l'homme et de l'écrivain. Le silence est mon couvercle.
PAUL McCARTNEY - Band On The Run.

With Band On The Run, recorded in Lagos and London, Paul McCartney, wife Linda and Wings have proven themselves to be of the highest calibre. This album comes the closest of all previous McCartney endeavours to matching the fine music from Abbey Road days.

As with Abbey Road, Band On The Run moves smoothly from one melody to the next, rarely giving the listener the feeling that it does offer well arranged songs which should keep the listener's attention and interest for quite a while.

 Aren't they just like the New York Dolls, only older?
ROXY MUSIC - Stranded - Island

Any dinky decadent worth his habit has heard of Roxy Music. After all, they've managed to become the sound track for every costume shop in Saffragette City. The loud-mouthed androids at the Philistine top forsy have not been so impressed, and naturally, you've never heard of them.

Roxy Music is probably the best thing to happen to rock since Dylan fell off his motorcyle.

Roxy's formula is very simple. If you blend electronic Nightingales music with early 60's fabricated hits and put them, behind a mono-voice, the warbling crooner, suffers through choruses in Spanish and French.

In Mother of Pearl, the plastic people are revenged. Frank Zappa is coarse and vulgar, the Mark Twain for modern juveniles. If you will, think that Zappa is funny, about a little self-indulgence.

The first cut, the single, Street Life, is not so much something new as it is the sum total of everything old, tastefully re-worked. Like David Essex's Rock On, Street Life, is exhilarating in spite of its weariness. How about a pleasure-pain complex?

A Sun For Europe is one of the world's promises of fatigue ever, equaled only by Dick Gregory's excitement over a drug-free ghetto. As the orchestra soars to emotional heights, Bryan Ferry, the warbling crooner, suffers through choruses in Spanish and French.

Roxy Music is probably the best thing to happen to rock since Dylan fell off his motorcycle.

Roxy's formula is very simple. If you blend electronic Nightingales music with early 60's fabricated hits and put them, behind a mono-voice, the warbling crooner, suffers through choruses in Spanish and French.

In Mother of Pearl, the plastic people are revenged. Frank Zappa is coarse and vulgar, the Mark Twain for modern juveniles. If you will, think that Zappa is funny, about a little self-indulgence.

The first cut, the single, Street Life, is not so much something new as it is the sum total of everything old, tastefully re-worked. Like David Essex's Rock On, Street Life, is exhilarating in spite of its weariness. How about a pleasure-pain complex?

A Sun For Europe is one of the world's promises of fatigue ever, equaled only by Dick Gregory's excitement over a drug-free ghetto. As the orchestra soars to emotional heights, Bryan Ferry, the warbling crooner, suffers through choruses in Spanish and French.

In Mother of Pearl, the plastic people are revenged. Frank Zappa is coarse and vulgar, the Mark Twain for modern juveniles. If you will, think that Zappa is funny, about a little self-indulgence.

The first cut, the single, Street Life, is not so much something new as it is the sum total of everything old, tastefully re-worked. Like David Essex's Rock On, Street Life, is exhilarating in spite of its weariness. How about a pleasure-pain complex?

A Sun For Europe is one of the world's promises of fatigue ever, equaled only by Dick Gregory's excitement over a drug-free ghetto. As the orchestra soars to emotional heights, Bryan Ferry, the warbling crooner, suffers through choruses in Spanish and French.

In Mother of Pearl, the plastic people are revenged. Frank Zappa is coarse and vulgar, the Mark Twain for modern juveniles. If you will, think that Zappa is funny, about a little self-indulgence.

The first cut, the single, Street Life, is not so much something new as it is the sum total of everything old, tastefully re-worked. Like David Essex's Rock On, Street Life, is exhilarating in spite of its weariness. How about a pleasure-pain complex?

A Sun For Europe is one of the world's promises of fatigue ever, equaled only by Dick Gregory's excitement over a drug-free ghetto. As the orchestra soars to emotional heights, Bryan Ferry, the warbling crooner, suffers through choruses in Spanish and French.

In Mother of Pearl, the plastic people are revenged. Frank Zappa is coarse and vulgar, the Mark Twain for modern juveniles. If you will, think that Zappa is funny, about a little self-indulgence.

The first cut, the single, Street Life, is not so much something new as it is the sum total of everything old, tastefully re-worked. Like David Essex's Rock On, Street Life, is exhilarating in spite of its weariness. How about a pleasure-pain complex?

A Sun For Europe is one of the world's promises of fatigue ever, equaled only by Dick Gregory's excitement over a drug-free ghetto. As the orchestra soars to emotional heights, Bryan Ferry, the warbling crooner, suffers through choruses in Spanish and French.

In Mother of Pearl, the plastic people are revenged. Frank Zappa is coarse and vulgar, the Mark Twain for modern juveniles. If you will, think that Zappa is funny, about a little self-indulgence.

The first cut, the single, Street Life, is not so much something new as it is the sum total of everything old, tastefully re-worked. Like David Essex's Rock On, Street Life, is exhilarating in spite of its weariness. How about a pleasure-pain complex?

A Sun For Europe is one of the world's promises of fatigue ever, equaled only by Dick Gregory's excitement over a drug-free ghetto. As the orchestra soars to emotional heights, Bryan Ferry, the warbling crooner, suffers through choruses in Spanish and French.
On Stage
with Birchmore Dunsig

The University Players third production, Little Murders, continues in the second week of its run this weekend. I had a very agreeable time in the theatre on Wed. and the play is going fast and by the time the cutout went up, the house was sold out.

B. C. Gauthier has brought an absorbing satire on modern life at the Essex Hall stage, as her first production at U. of W., The plot of the play, by Jules Feiffer, goes deeper than the central theme of violence in society. It tells of a family that is almost torn apart by the stresses of urban living.

Little Murders is very well acted. Barbara Lanning as Patty, captured the heart of her new boy friend, the bailiff is Alfred Chamberlain; acted by Gordon J. Smith. From the off, the buffets and the laughs are flowing thick and fast.

Notes for Little Murders are provided by an accompanying fanzine here for this production by Hugh Edmunds and Marye Huddlston. Other fine touches are the set, as done in Williams Planet. Little Murders is running tonight and tomorrow and Sunday at 8:00 in the usual place - Essex Hall. Call 253-4564 for reservations.

Gotchyal
by R.M. Dunn

The drama society has just completed an extremely successful run of "Mane-Sort." We wish to thank all those who attended the show and hope that they will continue to offer us their support in the future.

Now more than ever the society is in the midst of launching something entirely new. They are now well into the production of an original play written by Harry Froklage, a former student of the school of literature. The show was directed by Paul Weeks and promises to be both exciting and refreshing.

The play is entitled "Gotchyal" and in the words of the playwright: "The play deals with the stresses between people. It is a dream play looking at peoples lives and how they achieve them, and in some cases sacrificing too, it is a folk play, set in a forest clearing at mid-eight.

A capsule summary of the characters shows the wide range of roles in this production between Am's played by newcomer Jennifer Scully, "is described as a very nice person - a sensitive young musician.

"Another Am is another character in a different part of the play, "Little". "Little" is a castrating female, very dominating, who would anything to get her hooks into 'Huck'. "Gold ole' 'Huck' is a "horny jock" who is portrayed by Art Brand. "Huck" is enamoured with every woman in the play at one time or another, in special "Liz". Dan Bedard is "Larrimore", a lovesick poet, "Jeremy" played by Bob Gombait in the University Library.

"Cinema

- Devonshire Cinema I: American Graffiti, M-F, 7:20, 9:20; 2.50, 3 & 3.50, Pre-registration call 253-8050.

- Super Cinema: Tues. Feb. 26, 8:30 p.m.
- Super Cinema: Wed. Feb. 27, 8:10 p.m.
- Super Cinema: Thurs. Feb. 28, 8:20 p.m.
- Super Cinema: Fri. Feb. 29, 8:15 p.m.
- Super Cinema: Sat. Feb. 23, 8:20 p.m.

- Capitol: Call 254-1555.
- RKO Studio Theatre: Call 253-2216.
- E.C.A.C. and Patterson Demographic.
Intramural news and standings

MEN'S INTRAMURAL VOLLEYBALL

The 'County Champs', Gold Division Champions were declared such on February 9th and now await a challenge from the champions of the Blue Division who were determined last Wednesday (results unavailable at press time).

In the Gold Division semi-finals, the 'Kick- boxers' (Captains-Ed Switalski and Greg Hachey) defeated 'Unknown' (Captain-John Castelli) in three consecutive sets of 15-1, 15-11, and 15-12.

In the other semi-final match, County Champs (Captain-Jerry Lee) defeated the Dauntbaums 15-1, 15-7, 15-5.

The high point and exciting final match between the County Champs carried off the laurels in a 15-6, 15-4, 15-9 victory.

The Lancerettes are now preparing for the OWIAA Championships. The 'Stangs are certainly better than the Windsor's finest athletes.

Lancers bend Western.......

The Windsor Lancers rolled to a 122-87 win over the Western Mustangs Saturday, and few fans present could remember a Lancer team scoring as many points in a league game.

While the Lancers feel they can still improve their game, the certainty played well against the Mustangs. Well enough, in fact, to net 122 points against a team which took Mr. Mcmaster and Greg Hachey right to the wire in recent games.

Western's outside shooting was excellent. The Mustangs four of their eight points to this rather than to any major weakness in Windsor's defenses. The 'Stangs are certainly better than the Windsor's records indicate.

Windsor led Western 27-14 after one quarter, and 53-39 at half-time.

The second half saw the Lancers continue to platoon and increase their scoring edge as the tiring visitors began to falter.

In the final two periods, the Lancers outscored Western 32-25 and 38-25 to amass their totals.

Bill Longley led the Lancers with 23 points, as everybody scored for Windsor.

Chris Couthard and Ernie Herit neared 16 each, while Dick Devlin had 14. Dave Beath had 11, and Tom Hogan and Barry Spets each contributed 10 apiece.

John Corrente's 20-point effort led Western, while Kurnaz and Carlton had 12 and 12, respectively.

From The Sports Desk

LANCERETTE SWIMMING

On Saturday, February 9 the University of Windsor Women's Swim Team hosted their counterparts from Kalamazoo Michigan. Complete individual results are printed below:

Team Results

The other semi-final match, County Champs finished first and confirmed their presence in the OUAA Championship meet which will be held at Guelph on February 15th.

John Russ

Carlton had 15 and 12, respectively. Andy Macri (142 lbs.), Barry Franklin and Pat Spetz each contributed 10 apiece. The other live points to this rather than to any major weakness in Windsor's defenses.

Lancer team scoring as many points in a league game.

The Windsor Lancers rolled to a 122-87 win over the Western Mustangs Saturday, and few fans present could remember a Lancer team scoring as many points in a league game.

While the Lancers feel they can still improve their game, the certainty played well against the Mustangs. Well enough, in fact, to net 122 points against a team which took Mr. Mcmaster and Greg Hachey right to the wire in recent games.

Western's outside shooting was excellent. The Mustangs four of their eight points to this rather than to any major weakness in Windsor's defenses. The 'Stangs are certainly better than the Windsor's records indicate.

Windsor led Western 27-14 after one quarter, and 53-39 at half-time.

The second half saw the Lancers continue to platoon and increase their scoring edge as the tiring visitors began to falter.

In the final two periods, the Lancers outscored Western 32-25 and 38-25 to amass their totals.

Bill Longley led the Lancers with 23 points, as everybody scored for Windsor.

Chris Couthard and Ernie Herit neared 16 each, while Dick Devlin had 14. Dave Beath had 11, and Tom Hogan and Barry Spets each contributed 10 apiece.

John Corrente's 20-point effort led Western, while Kurnaz and Carlton had 12 and 12, respectively.

From The Sports Desk

LANCERETTE SWIMMING

On Saturday, February 9 the University of Windsor Women's Swim Team hosted their counterparts from Kalamazoo Michigan. Complete individual results are printed below:

Team Results

The other semi-final match, County Champs finished first and confirmed their presence in the OUAA Championship meet which will be held at Guelph on February 15th.

John Russ
Lancerette volleyballers eliminated

Despite the fact that they had already been eliminated from the OWLAA volleyball playoffs, the University of Windsor Lancerettes turned in a respectable performance last Saturday at St. Denis Hall, splitting the two matches scheduled. After taking Wilfred Laurier in three straight sets (15-11, 15-6, and 15-11) the Lancerettes were then humbled by the league leading Waterloo Athenas (15-10, 15-12, and 15-8).

The team finishes the season with four wins and six losses, giving them fourth place; however, only the top three teams (Waterloo, Western, McMaster) make the playoffs. Lost to next year's team will be Cookie Leach, Pat Richards, Judy Stapleton, Val Johnson, and Karen Robertson. Returnees will include Barb Allen, Nancy Dalton, Nancy DuChene, Sue Clancy, Bonnie Bridge, Marg Piche, and hopefully, Leslie Dowdell.

Volleyball coach Marge Holman is optimistic about the future of the team, asserting that her first year players are unusually strong. She also wishes to thank team manager Joyce Avery and statistician Lorraine Campbell for the indispensable assistance they have lent to the team this season.

Athenas avenge b-ball loss

When two evenly matched teams get together the result is bound to be unpredictable and getting a result is sure to be a source of excitement. Last Saturday's basketball game, in St. Denis Hall, between the Waterloo Athenas and the Windsor Lancerettes seemed to bear this out. The Athenas took the game by a score of 53-46.

When the two teams came onto the court on Saturday evening the Athenas were still feeling the sting of a 44-36 defeat at the hands of their opponents one week earlier. The Lancerettes, on the other hand, hoped to take a strangle-hold on a playoff berth which they had, for all practical purposes, assured themselves of in the previous weekend's successful road trip.

The first half featured tight defensive ball, neither team being able to pull away. The Athenas, on the strength of two pre-buzzer foul shots went into the locker room leading by a score of 24-23. However, in the third quarter, Waterloo seemed to find the key to shutting off the Lancerette offence and surged to a 38-27 lead before Windsor was able to recover. Much to their credit, Windsor did not crack and halfway into the final quarter closed the gap to four points (48-44).

Unfortunately time ran out for the Lancerettes and the Athenas were able to hold on for a 53-46 victory. Kathy Valcke, with 12 points, and Mary Pat Searles, with 10 points were the top scorers for the home team.

Windsor hosts McMaster tomorrow (Sat) in St. Denis Hall. Game time is 6:15 p.m.

In your own way.
In your own time.
On your own terms.
You'll take to the taste of Player's Filter.
Winter weekend riffs:
What if they gave a party and .... Basketball: Pick-ups and aardvarks by COOMBER and CLARK
In the last game of their regular season, the SAC Whodunits defeated the Administration Aardvarks 3 to 2. However, the spotlight was stolen by Radio Stations CKWW and CHYR in their magnificently loss to the Pick-Ups, a home league coached by the mighty Chuck Tolmie. The score was estimated to be 57 to 176.

In other action, Team CSWR “A” beat Team CSWR “B” with a showing of 340 to 132.
The Pick-Ups claimed the championship circle by defeating CSWR 106 to 4. Organized confusion was present as players were continuously changing sides in an effort to always be on the winning team.

Player of the Game Award should have gone to Tolmie for his outstanding spirit but the trophy was stolen just after the tournament began by the Urban Warfare Society.

In pre-game action, the SAC team voted whether or not to play. All members save for Bill Carmichael, a recent acquisition. Bill explained: “I’d like to feel as many of the Aardvarks as possible,” so play was outlined by one vote.

The Lance wishes to bestow an award if it’s own to the Trojans of the Urban Warfare Society. The “Square Basketball of the Week Award” distinguished unsportsmanship conduct is being confirmed. The Trojans stayed in their 80-75 Annual to fail for their grudge match with the Theory Department.

In all, a very reasonable show for those of nothing about basketball.

More women on weekends: Saturday
by CHRIS LANGLOIS
This past weekend, the second annual “Weekend for Women” was held in Vanier Hall. More than 150 women took part in what turned out to be a stimulating and exciting series of discussions which centred around Women in the Working World. Highlighting the Saturday session was Laura Sabia, Chairwoman of the Ontario Status of Women Council. In discussing what women are up against, Sabia cited examples of discrimination in such areas as allocation of Canada Pension, property settlements in divorce; university pay systems. She did not have statistics for the University of Windsor but in the universities she had studied, a showed a discrepancy of 1500 to 2000 dollars in pay for equal work by male and female professors (with the females at the short end of the course).

Ms. Sabia said that in essence, women’s liberation is accepting the responsibility of decision making. Sabia and unfortunately this is an area women are their own worst enemies. Women, according to Ms. Sabia, must be more knowledgeable in order to change unfair laws and practices.

In Seattle, few women realize that in all bank pension plans as well as the Canadian Pension Plan, a husband automatically leaves his pension to his wife and children after death. On the other hand it is difficult for a wife, even though she may have paid to the fund for many years, her pension is returned to the government. This kind of blatant discrimination will go unchanged unless women use their political clout and make their feelings known.

Another speaker, Dr. Margaret Minds, professor of ethics at the University of Denver, discussed cultural and religious myths associated with women and how they are perpetuated by the media. She also gave a list of examples showing how advertising classes women into various categories, few of which are favorable.

A prime example was the use of a beautiful woman as a sex object in order to sell Bic at White Scotch. Dr. Maxey explained that women must first change their self-image before they can cope with the outside issues.

There were also two “awareness” workshops
One explored how women can deepen awareness of their own bodies and the other dealt with the problem of sex-role stereotyping.

The planning committee for the “Weekend for Women” headed by Evelyn McLean, an of Women, was very pleased with the turnout and noted that more students will become involved in women’s issues. Hopefully, also, more women will become involved in the issue as more women currently are.

For women, there is a great need for women students in social work, but other than that, students were concerned by the idea that University women must be very liberated indeed or else they haven’t as yet met discrimination in that cold hard world outside.

One of the things this student learned during the “Weekend for Women”, is that to pay forwarded.

Bikes
PARIS – The energy crisis has made the "Yachats" more even popular in Europe. Manufacturers and trade associations report bicycle sales are rising in Britain, West Germany, France, Italy, and Sweden and the Netherlands. While some European car-makers have cut production, bicycle plants are working full-time and can’t catch up with demand. Salesmen report that those buy include more and more businessmen, matrons and lawyers.

In Amsterdam, where they have always been big on bicycles, a businessman said he has bought three bicycles since the Arab oil embargo – one for himself, one for the lady and one for his son.

France’s biggest manufacturer, Peugeot, sold 785 thousand bicycles last year, up 20 per cent more than in 1972. But sales charts jumped sharply until November, when carless Sundays, gas rationing and higher fuel prices brought home the pinch of the energy shortage.

The Cologne Institute for Merchandising found that bicycle sales in Germany increased 30 per cent compared with 1972.

A spokesman from Netherlands, largest bike builder said sales in the three months of 1973 were 25 per cent higher than in 1972. He attributed figures to a well-publicized, three-months campaign late last year.

In Sweden, bicycle sales soared in January, while total market increased 500 thousand in January.
"Limited catastrophes but no global collapse". (Thank God)

by CHARLOTTE CLARK

A series of limited catastrophes is very much the order of the day, or the order in which we have predicted the order, or we are managing the order, or the order is managing us. The order is the order of the day, or the order of the month, or the order of the century, or the order of the world, or the order of the universe. The order of the day, the order of the month, the order of the century, the order of the world, the order of the universe, is the order of the order.

Mr. Strong poses the question of how much of everything is enough and should growth be controlled? How much can be consumed without decreasing the resource base? How much can be consumed without decreasing the number of people who can consume? How much can be consumed without decreasing the quality of life for everyone? How much can be consumed without decreasing the ability to meet the needs of future generations?

DuPont is a business that has been very successful in controlling its growth. It has been able to maintain a very high level of productivity and profitability while reducing its environmental impact. The company has invested heavily in research and development to find new ways to produce its products more efficiently and with less waste. DuPont has also been very active in corporate social responsibility, working to improve the lives of the communities in which it operates.

Mr. Strong offers a few solutions with the main emphasis going to global dependence and cooperation between nations. Population growth must be stabilized and a world-wide program for the conservation of natural resources should be set up. New models for economic and social growth are needed to avoid overloading the environment in any one area. A larger flow of resources between the rich and poor nations should be set up as a social service and not a charity. Mobilization of science and technology should take place on a global scale.

Mr. Strong closed with the emphasis on the need to find an alternate course of action to man’s present one if the earth is to remain an habitable sphere.

Negotiates loan deal

by SAL PRESTA

Many graduates this year, as in previous years, will find themselves in a financial bind after leaving the University. Many will find themselves in a position of paying back government loans plus interest where they have never had to worry about having no job. The birth rate and standard of living are rising and its expectancies are higher than ever before and social services are faced with a fact which may possibly lead to alienation, decay and dehumanization.

Drunk parrots

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Contraband parrots, drunk on Mexican tequila, were stuffed in old socks and hidden in a secret compartment of a car.

The treasury department, which runs the U.S. Customs Service, told about it Saturday in reporting a seizure on the border.

"It was filled with socks and the sock contained a drowsy parrot. The birds had been fed tequila and were sleeping quietly inside the vehicle," the department said.

Mr. Strong sees this necessity as an impossibility if the present course of action is followed. Desertification, as exhibited by the growing Sahara Desert, is now in progress and uncontrolled ecological exploitation has reduced one-third of natural vegetation.

The world is soon to face "a series of problems that will become disasters in different places at different times." Mr. Strong is not concerned with the survival of man but whether or not the earth will be a fit place to live. Crises are within our power to prevent and an intensification of co-operation, rather than competition, must be enacted.

Mr. Strong offers a few solutions with the main emphasis going to global dependence and cooperation between nations. Population growth must be stabilized and a world-wide program for the conservation of natural resources should be set up. New models for economic and social growth are needed to avoid overloading the environment in any one area. A larger flow of resources between the rich and poor nations should be set up as a social service and not a charity. Mobilization of science and technology should take place on a global scale.

Mr. Strong closed with the emphasis on the need to find an alternate course of action to man’s present one if the earth is to remain an habitable sphere.
Remember Lent? Wednesday last was Ash Wednesday, the opening day of Lent. Remember?

The decision may be - and is - a forty-day period of preparation for the feast of the Resurrection marked in the old days by periods of fast and abstinence. It was a time for "giving up" things, for making voluntary sacrifices of little pleasurable things, a time of increased prayer and reflection.

The forty days reveals that mysterious period in the life of Jesus at the beginning of his ministry when he spent a long period alone fasting in the desert. During this time he was tempted. He should turn stones into bread to assuage his hunger. He should cast himself down from the high place and be saved by angelic forces. He should, finally, bow down and worship the Adversary and so win all the kingdoms of the world to his side. Three temptations and three refusals.

Christ's answer to the first temptation is often misquoted and parodied, "Man, does not live by bread alone," There is much more to life than the filling of the belly, of seeking bodily satisfactions. Lent is the time set aside for Christians to remind themselves of this fact and to re-examine their priority of values in the light of this fact. It is, or can be, a kind of training period for the next generation to learn to forego immediate gratification for more worthwhile goals in the future. Not pie in the sky and by and bye but meaningful life goals.

"But by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God!" Food for our life, motivation, purpose, meaning - all that keeps us alive over the long haul, is to be found in the word of God. Lent is a time for chewing a bit more, for mulling over words we have perhaps not seriously reflected on since Sunday school days or R.K. class in Grade Twelve.

"Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God!"- Jesus' reply to the second temptation. No calling on the power of God to perform sensational stunts to win followers. No evading of personal responsibility. Lent is a time for focusing on responsibilities to one's neighbour and to God. "Man does not live by bread alone!"

"Worship the Lord God and serve Him only!" Jesus' answer to the all worldy success in return for worship of the Adversary. Lent is a time for focussing on oneself within ourselves, not guilty of idol worshipping, not guilty of offering the "I can't" refusal in the sake of worldly success, a time to make sure that we are in relationships with others who are not guilty of offering self-gratification, self-preservation or the beating of our ego. In a word, we pay to see if we are saving others or ourselves. "Be it saved his life shall last!"

And one more scripture: An unaffected life is not most living. One good love practice, a cut or two giving up candy would simply be set aside this Lent. It is a day to stop our actions and reflect. Stop the habit. Ask the question, Who am I? What am I doing? Where am I going?"
A wacko for...

Gurus Galore

Many of those who are more directly involved often feel that they are at the pinnacle of a progressive and linear evolution (if you want to land a low blow at some one whose ideas developed in the sixties you list them linear).

Having been exposed to everything there is to know, the popular works of the fifties and sixties, they were ready to further "get their shit together" and seek the ultimate experience that had so far eluded them.

I myself, am more inclined to the more eclectic yet vague notion that rationality that pillar of western thought began to be seen as suspect after WWI. This cataclysm so rocked the intellectual circles, reinforced by WW2, that it almost destroyed the idea that reason would prevail to prevent man from degeneration into hopeless savagery. This loss of rationalism is continued by a low grade case of territorial training. This is that about a month or so later, when some lighthearted remarks were made about the movement, this same fellow whom I respected, took them seriously and was personally affronted to a degree.

One of the main troubles that those who take deep and wholehearted plunges into this arena run against is that most of the people involved are usually the most obvious. Only a strict anthropological training would be of any use in avoiding this ethnographic pitfall. Even so the sallow looking health food adherents were the most obvious and incredible. In Windsor though, as said, very little went on. Every year reverts of the Mararshi Yogi (beefie fame) would come to town and last year the 15 year old Guru Mararji Ji caused a little stir. The Mararshi Yogi's folks separated some people from a little money but this action in itself proved somewhat enlightening. The 15 year old guru, though, managed to get a few more converts.

Some one I knew, was taking the slow intro (as opposed to the cataclysmic conversion) into the Divine Light. Some people, when we talked about becoming involved in something like this, we both felt that one of the biggest dangers was of losing one's person. How could anything we could see happening to some one else slightly in our ability to look at the new group they had joined. This caused an very odd result of a path to self-liberation and peace. What was curious about this article is that about a month or so later, when some lighthearted remarks were made about the movement, this same fellow whom I respected, took them seriously and was personally affronted to a degree.

ATTENTION ALL STUDENTS.
S.A.C. GENERAL ELECTIONS.

Nominations:
Open — February 27, 1974
Close — March 6, 1974 at 5 p.m.

Positions Open:

Sac Pres.
Sac Vice Pres.
3 Sac Arts Rep.
1 Sac Science Rep.
1 Sac Engineering Rep.
1 Sac Law Rep.

Deposit Nominations Form with Karen in Sac Office.

Campaigning:
Open — March 6th at 5 p.m.
Close — March 12th at Midnight

All Campaigning Material must be removed before March 12th Midnight.

Meeting will be held in Sac Office for all Nominees at close of Nominations March 6 at 5 p.m.

Terry Pegler
Chief Electoral Officer.
Philosophical Tidbit of the Week

"We live in a world of incomparable splendour."

— John Sargent

Our Man on Campus

Question:

What did I do during Slack Week?

JEAN-CLAUDE KILLEE — I Ski Bum — "Mt. myself, I broke my damn foot!"

YURI — I Rocks — "I didn't call Fran even once during slack week."

DOARR CROCKER (daughter of Betty) — "I read 13 volumes of the Encyclopedia Britannica."

ARAGON — Vice pet? — "I played water girl for Prof. Hackett."

QUADACTOR JOHN — VII Bookie — "What didn't I do?"

TERRY PEGLER — IV Commerce — "I turned on to environmental living."

It Pays to Advertise in The Lance
When Birdie MacDowell poured himself a drink he didn’t use a shot glass. In fact he never used one, since his purpose was not to construct a proportioned mixture but to get drunk. As the three ounces or so of rum burned its way to his stomach, Birdie reflected upon the dust and ashes of his life, the black pieces of grit and the crumbling shreds buried mere of nothingness thatjolted cholinically in his mind.

He stared at the yellowed, cracked newspaper on the table and looked again across those twelve years ago. Someone had used this particular page of the paper to line this particular cupboard so that twelve years later Birdie could see it and reflect on the passage of time, on the relentless march of one’s life from one inevitably second to the next.

Birdie saw in his mind a vast concourse of humanity all struggling in a sea of quicksand; some barely caught, some almost under, some sinking in a matter of seconds while others climbed atop one another to momentarily delay the inevitable by pushing under those whom they mounted. And the noise! This great flourishing of hooves produced a thundering, screaming, laughing, talking voices. Here a man roasted another, there a woman loves her dreams, elsewhere two men discuss the true nature of quicksand and the underlying significance and logic of just this particular mixture of water and sand; while all the time, second by slow second, they disappear.

It struck Birdie as strange how time doesn’t seem to register without a conscious effort of the will. In the mind it is always the present, with no emotional difference between the passage of twelve years or twelve days. Probably a protective device. It would be agony to know precisely how much one had lived. This is obvious when you consider the effect of knowing such information in a vague fuzzy way, as upon reflection, when like a thunderbolt the jarring thoughts come: I am no longer young.

Birdie became himself another stiff drink and wandered no more with the weariness of mortal man. The man outside his door knocked and said, “Five minutes, Mr. MacDowell.” Birdie looked at the filth and slime of the dirty glass ochre of the rum, still three-quarters full. He reached down and screwed the cap back on the bottle.

He adjusted his clothing and re-combed his thinning hair quickly, not daring to stay too long in front of the mirror. He opened the door and walked confidently, steadily toward the wings, smiling and waving at the stage-hands, calling out their names. He seemed to be saying “good luck” and “give ‘em hell, Mr. MacDowell.”

The m.c. was shouting “and now the man you’ve all been waiting for. A master of the art of the fat-glistening bottle of MacDowell!” Birdie stepped on stage into the blazing lights, bearing the scattered clapping and seeing as in a dream the slapping hands, the open mouths, the salivary whiskey-soaked eyes. And he felt his mind settle another inch into the quicksand.
A Woman’s View

by A.M. Semaan

“Naked Ladies are Women, too”

There is a basic difference between being ladylike and respecting all people for their humanity. The first must be discarded while the latter has to be re-inforced. Being ladylike, with it’s artificial trivialities, it’s imposed limits and it’s supression has to be thrown off. It must be replaced with a positive acceptance of oneself and other people as people.

If women want to assert themselves, make changes in a decretip society and stop becoming useless objects, they must become aggressive. This does not mean an acceptance of the male “dog eat dog” standard. What it refers to is a saying and doing and feeling of what I, as a woman want to do. It means getting into positions of power, where something can be done because you are qualified and capable, not just a symbol. It means making Waves, making progress and rebuilding as much as one can, wherever one is.

70 percent of teachers in Canada are women yet if one looks at the people who make up the boards, the principals and the leaders of teacher groups, more than 90 percent are men.

The women teachers have been too ladylike to move forward. Nice girls are pretty, sweet and silent. One cannot continue to whisper sweetly, be helpless and respecting all people for their human qualities. Women must rid themselves of the useless, fantasy world obstacles shoved down their throats since birth. The term lady itself is an archaic left-over.

The replacement of useless airs, and taking up her responsible place is the only way a woman can complete herself, her sisters and initiate basic value changes for a society that desperately needs them.

sA.C. Gazette with Randy Johnson

Housing Commission:

As an introduction, I shall begin by briefly explaining the duties and capacities of the Housing Commission. He shall oversee all student representation on the Administrative and Board of Governor’s Committees. He shall organize and run an annual review of all student health and welfare services for the purpose of feedback and recommendations to be made to those services and the Administration (I.P.O., Residence, Food Services, Psychological Centre, etc.)

Since residence is a student service, he will be responsible for Council’s liaison with residence students, House Councils and feedback and recommendations to be made to those services and the Administration (I.P.O., Residence, Food Services, Psychological Centre, etc.)

Since residence is a student service, he will be responsible for Council’s liaison with residence students, House Councils and feedback and recommendations to be made to those services and the Administration (I.P.O., Residence, Food Services, Psychological Centre, etc.)

The University students on this campus are both resident students and off campus students. Both resident students and off campus students are subject to unique problems respectively. However, the resident student as opposed to the off campus student has recourse to obvious sources on campus who are there for the purpose of resolving resident problems. The resident student can turn to the Office of Student Affairs or to the Housing Office or the Head Resident or his individual resident assistant.

If at any time you have suggestions, comments or criticism, I members of the commission, I encourage you strongly to contact this office. I can assure you that we would be extremely receptive to any idea diy suggestions that you might have in this regard. Upon concluding, I will just briefly mention a few of the accomplish­

We have secured placement of final exams in the library for your academic usage. A night porter was placed in Harris Hall, prophylactic machines will be on campus soon and finally, a complete study of the psyche centre and the food services is being done.

If at any time you have suggestions, comments or criticism, I

Funnv, you don’t look like a priest.

Southern Comfort: it’s the only way to travel.

Most of the time, we don’t.

Our work takes us deep into present and neighbourhood bars and wretched homes (both rich and poor).

The Black cloth might make the people we talk to feel awkward. Life is awkward enough for the con, the suburban boozer, the hooker, the just plain miserable.

We offer an alternative to Abortion

252-5665

BIRTHRIGHT ON CAMPUS

We offer an alternative to Abortion

252-5665

Mon. 2 — 9 Thurs. 9

Find the fun on the S.S. Southern Comfort. The party takes off any night and the only baggage you need is some Southern Comfort, ice, and mix.

Arrivals from the South:

Cold Comfort
Pour 1 1/2 ounces of Southern Comfort and add a twist of lemon.

Comfort Screwdriver
Pour 1 1/2 ounces of Southern Comfort over ice. Top up with orange juice.

Comfort Collins
Mix 1 ounce of Southern Comfort with the juice of a quarter of a lime. Add some ice. Fill the glass with lemon-lime drink.

Try these, too:

Comfort ‘n’ Cola,
Comfort Daiquiri, etc., etc.

Join the fun on the S.S. Southern Comfort. The party takes off any night and the only baggage you need is some Southern Comfort, ice, and mix.

Arrivals from the South:

Cold Comfort
Pour 1 1/2 ounces of Southern Comfort and add a twist of lemon.

Comfort Screwdriver
Pour 1 1/2 ounces of Southern Comfort over ice. Top up with orange juice.

Comfort Collins
Mix 1 ounce of Southern Comfort with the juice of a quarter of a lime. Add some ice. Fill the glass with lemon-lime drink.

Try these, too:

Comfort ‘n’ Cola,
Comfort Daiquiri, etc., etc.

Join the fun on the S.S. Southern Comfort. The party takes off any night and the only baggage you need is some Southern Comfort, ice, and mix.

Arrivals from the South:

Cold Comfort
Pour 1 1/2 ounces of Southern Comfort and add a twist of lemon.

Comfort Screwdriver
Pour 1 1/2 ounces of Southern Comfort over ice. Top up with orange juice.

Comfort Collins
Mix 1 ounce of Southern Comfort with the juice of a quarter of a lime. Add some ice. Fill the glass with lemon-lime drink.

Try these, too:

Comfort ‘n’ Cola,
Comfort Daiquiri, etc., etc.
Politics makes strange bedfellows

Len (on orders from) Washington
Louis (Chattanooga)
Choo-Choo Erickson

S.A.C. City

Two weeks ago The Lance printed an editorial which blamed the Canadian talking shop for this summer's deep economic handling of the dollar. It the author of the editorial ended by stating "Perhaps it is time for a good hard look at the whole setup." So here it is, an analysis of the accomplishments and setbacks of the University's 1973-74 student government.

It has been a quiet year politically. The number one job of the government was to organize the running of the corporation. Another aim was to help all the individual student societies in the development of their own governments. In short, this has been a year of tranquility for the Student's Administrative Council.

According to regulations, S.A.C. has proved to be a very powerful body. The enormous debt of $50,000 that was left by Brian Ducharme's Vice President Doug Phillips, is too large and has been of little value to the student representatives.

It is for the benefit of the administration to have S.A.C. work as much as possible. Everyone in the student union is supposed to accept the blame. Everyone was too busy creating a bureaucracy.

We know that in order to become independent is to become responsible to run the societies. Self-Centered students must be responsible to run the societies.

One of the worst examples of this is found among the native Indian and Inuit populations of this country. By the looks of the present government's activities, the end result will be a new version of the "Americanization" policy, which is actually carrying out a policy of genocide against these people. In December of 1969, Nassard was to reveal the following facts: "In 1962, the prime minister, the late Mr. Leskim childreded one-four years was thirteen times the rate for all of Canada. In 1967, the average number of suicides in 1973 for 1974; 29 for Indians, and 34.3 for whites as compared with 61 years for all Canada. As 3.8 Indian suicides for every 100,000, as compared with 1,000 for all Canada."

The enormous debt of $50,000 that was left by Brian Ducharme's Vice President Doug Phillips, is too large and has been of little value to the student representatives.

In 1967, S.A.C. became an independent organization of the Canadian Empire and the key was the independence of S.A.C. to run the corporations. This was supposed to give it the responsibility to run the corporations. However, since that time, S.A.C. has been plagued with the job of getting core evaluation done. S.A.C. was aware that a new organization of the Canadian system would be able to accomplish this task.

We know that in order to become independent is to become responsible to run the societies. Self-Centered students must be responsible to run the societies.

This year S.A.C. has been influenced by the leadership of Mr. Phillips, which is classified as the major task of his successor will be to decentralize the college. People need to be involved in the planning and organizing of activities for events such as "Winter Weekend," "Orientation," and "Homecoming."

The effects of this year's government are extremely optimistic about the work of previous administrations. The loss of control over the activities and clubs will be the major goal. They seem to expect future administrations to be very strict about the clubs that they are involved in the planning and organizing of activities. The result is that, in order to accomplish this task, it will be necessary for the corporation to be independent from the rest of the Canadian system.

It is for the benefit of the administration to have S.A.C. work as much as possible. Everyone in the student union is supposed to accept the blame. Everyone was too busy creating a bureaucracy.

This was supposed to give it the responsibility to run the corporations. However, since that time, S.A.C. has been plagued by debts and a need to fulfill Canadian skill trade to the United States and the destruction of the Canadian auto industry.

We know that in order to become independent is to become responsible to run the societies. Self-Centered students must be responsible to run the societies.

This year S.A.C. has tried to decentralize the corporation. This was supposed to give it the responsibility to run the corporations. However, since that time, S.A.C. has been plagued by debts and a need to fulfill Canadian skill trade to the United States and the destruction of the Canadian auto industry.

One of the worst examples of this is found among the native Indian and Inuit populations of this country. By the looks of the present government's activities, the end result will be a new version of the "Americanization" policy, which is actually carrying out a policy of genocide against these people. In December of 1969, Nassard was to reveal the following facts: "In 1962, the prime minister, the late Mr. Leskim childreded one-four years was thirteen times the rate for all of Canada. In 1967, the average number of suicides in 1973 for 1974; 29 for Indians, and 34.3 for whites as compared with 61 years for all Canada. As 3.8 Indian suicides for every 100,000, as compared with 1,000 for all Canada."

The enormous debt of $50,000 that was left by Brian Ducharme's Vice President Doug Phillips, is too large and has been of little value to the student representatives.

In 1967, S.A.C. became an independent organization of the Canadian Empire and the key was the independence of S.A.C. to run the corporations. This was supposed to give it the responsibility to run the corporations. However, since that time, S.A.C. has been plagued by debts and a need to fulfill Canadian skill trade to the United States and the destruction of the Canadian auto industry.

We know that in order to become independent is to become responsible to run the societies. Self-Centered students must be responsible to run the societies.

This year S.A.C. has been influenced by the leadership of Mr. Phillips, which is classified as the major task of his successor will be to decentralize the college. People need to be involved in the planning and organizing of activities for events such as "Winter Weekend," "Orientation," and "Homecoming."

The effects of this year's government are extremely optimistic about the work of previous administrations. The loss of control over the activities and clubs will be the major goal. They seem to expect future administrations to be very strict about the clubs that they are involved in the planning and organizing of activities. The result is that, in order to accomplish this task, it will be necessary for the corporation to be independent from the rest of the Canadian system.

It is for the benefit of the administration to have S.A.C. work as much as possible. Everyone in the student union is supposed to accept the blame. Everyone was too busy creating a bureaucracy.

This was supposed to give it the responsibility to run the corporations. However, since that time, S.A.C. has been plagued by debts and a need to fulfill Canadian skill trade to the United States and the destruction of the Canadian auto industry.

One of the worst examples of this is found among the native Indian and Inuit populations of this country. By the looks of the present government's activities, the end result will be a new version of the "Americanization" policy, which is actually carrying out a policy of genocide against these people. In December of 1969, Nassard was to reveal the following facts: "In 1962, the prime minister, the late Mr. Leskim childreded one-four years was thirteen times the rate for all of Canada. In 1967, the average number of suicides in 1973 for 1974; 29 for Indians, and 34.3 for whites as compared with 61 years for all Canada. As 3.8 Indian suicides for every 100,000, as compared with 1,000 for all Canada."

The enormous debt of $50,000 that was left by Brian Ducharme's Vice President Doug Phillips, is too large and has been of little value to the student representatives.

In 1967, S.A.C. became an independent organization of the Canadian Empire and the key was the independence of S.A.C. to run the corporations. This was supposed to give it the responsibility to run the corporations. However, since that time, S.A.C. has been plagued by debts and a need to fulfill Canadian skill trade to the United States and the destruction of the Canadian auto industry.

We know that in order to become independent is to become responsible to run the societies. Self-Centered students must be responsible to run the societies.

This year S.A.C. has been influenced by the leadership of Mr. Phillips, which is classified as the major task of his successor will be to decentralize the college. People need to be involved in the planning and organizing of activities for events such as "Winter Weekend," "Orientation," and "Homecoming."

The effects of this year's government are extremely optimistic about the work of previous administrations. The loss of control over the activities and clubs will be the major goal. They seem to expect future administrations to be very strict about the clubs that they are involved in the planning and organizing of activities. The result is that, in order to accomplish this task, it will be necessary for the corporation to be independent from the rest of the Canadian system.

It is for the benefit of the administration to have S.A.C. work as much as possible. Everyone in the student union is supposed to accept the blame. Everyone was too busy creating a bureaucracy.

This was supposed to give it the responsibility to run the corporations. However, since that time, S.A.C. has been plagued by debts and a need to fulfill Canadian skill trade to the United States and the destruction of the Canadian auto industry.
"FEATURE ALBUM"

Art Blakey

ART BLAKEY - Thermo - Milestone 70608

The Jazz Messengers under drummer Art Blakey first came into existence during a recording session in 1947. While Blakey recorded with a variety of personnel in the late forties and early fifties using the name, it wasn't until a recording session in 1954, which featured pianist Horace Silver, trumpeter Kenny Dorham, tenorist Hank Mobley and bassist Doug Watkins, that the Jazz Messengers came into their own and set the style for all forms of the group that have followed.

The band at the time of these "classic" recordings (1962, '63 and '64) consisted of Blakey, Freddie Hubbard on trumpet, Curtis Fuller playing trombone, Wayne Shorter on tenor saxophone, pianist Cedar Walton, and bassist Reggie Workman.

The most notable success stories to have come out of this group are Shorter who went on to play with Miles Davis and then formed his own group called Weather Report, and Freddie Hubbard who gained widespread acclaim on his own. Blakey has known fame for many years, from the early days of modern jazz in the forties, when he intensified the tempo bringing it a sense of excitement and invention, until the present when, with a new Jazz Messengers ensemble, he continues to produce consistently creative music.

The nine songs on this album are distinguished by good writing and sharp performance by all members of the group. Included is the previously unreleased Take 2 of Thermo which the producers felt was more exciting and fresher than the originally released Take 4. Other cuts on Thermo include One By One (written by Shorter), I Didn't Know What Time It Was (written by Rodgers and Hart) and four other numbers recorded live at Birdland, and half a dozen studio recordings including the previously mentioned Take 2 of the title song.

This double album will not disappoint you. For ten years
FOR SALE.

1965 International Harvester Scout. Good condition. $500 or best offer. Phone 258-9266.

WANTED - Second-hand stereo. Lorry anytime 945-8132. Lorry anytime 945-8132.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Second-hand stereo. Lorry anytime 945-8132.

WANTED - Fireplace screen. Bross Furniture Co., 540 on your dial; M-F m vocation film. Found in Memory Lane, 12:00 mid. Available Space- Spacio-temporal dimension; Wed., 7:00 pm.- Indian to Indian, 12:00 mid. Productions each with cliff-hanger endings. On every night 10-10:30 e.d.t. hosted by Rod Serling, Man from the picture show by James Caan and Marsha Mason, 1:30, 4:30, 7, 9:30.

WANTED: Sound Shell case. $400 or best offer.

FOR SALE - Old Gibson guitar 1978, or best offer. Coll Dove at 253-6498.

WANTED - Guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266. Receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Old Gibson guitar and amplifier. $1000. or best offer. Phone 258-9266.

WANTED: Second-hand stereo. Lahore anytime 945-8132.

WANTED - Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.

WANTED: Someone's receiver, speakers, 8 track deck. Best offer. Call guitar. Phone Al at 258-9266.
Ernie Hehn (above) has become a very fine basketball player in his years with Windsor. He'll be hard to replace. In the upper right corner Chris Coulthard puts one of his patented layup shots through the McMaster defence. All-Stars are always one of a kind.

the Lancers to a 1 point victory over the Waterloo Warriors in the dying seconds.

certainly no idle remark. It is difficult to forget the two foul shots he cool-headedly netted in last year's OUAA championship to lead Someone once commented that Windsor would always be hard to beat as long as Jerry Soreau (above) was on the floor. That was certainly no idle remark. It is difficult to forget the two foul shots he cool-headedly netted in last year's OUAA championship to lead the Lancers to a 1 point victory over the Waterloo Warriors in the dying seconds.

Lancer season comes to shocking close–Guelph into CIAU championship

by JOHN McALLISTER

The season ended for the basketball Lancers last weekend in Ottawa. At the Ontario Finals Tournament, the Lancers were upset 72-68 by the host Gee Gees in the semi-final, and also fell to the eventual Laurentian Voyageurs 74-71 in the consolation game. After a season record of 10 wins and 2 losses, followed by a hard fought 79-77 quarter final victory over McMaster’s Marauders, the suddenness of the end to Windsor’s winning season is magnified. Against Ottawa, the Lancers led 41-37 at half-time, but were topped by an inspired Ottawa team that had good night while Windsor had a bad one. Laurentian led the Lancers 31-27 after two periods at the third place game, and were never headed.

The Warriors really showed their stuff against Ottawa, though, as they cloistered the home town favourites 93-56. Both Waterloo and Ottawa are involved in the Nationals in Waterloo, along with the Guelph Gryphons, selected as the team to represent the host area in the eight team tournament. The Tournament All Star team at the Ontario Finals featured Lancer guard Chris Coulthard, along with Dave Cronin (Ottawa), Don Cheruba (McMaster), and Rick Thompson (Laurier).

For Lancers Ernie Hehn, Chris Coulthard and Jerry Sovran, this season was their final one for the University of Windsor. We in the observers’ gallery can only wish all three were still active, particularly in the Nationals this weekend along with the rest of the Lancers. To give each player his due, especially in print, would probably embarrass all three and fall short of the mark in any event. So within the brief space allotted we’ll make use of journalist’s understatement and say: thanks a lot guys, you all did one helluva fine job!

The Nationals are a three day event this year, and there’s still time as of this printing to catch some of the action if by chance you can get to Waterloo. Games will be at 6:30 and 8:30 Friday night; and at 9:00 a.m. Saturday (Consolation), 11:00 (3rd place), and 2:00 p.m., the National Final game.

Layman’s suggestion for next season: that the CIAU adopt International Basketball rules to help remove existing differences in rules interpretations across Canada, and also gear up fans and prospective players for the ’76 Olympic Games in Montreal. A Gold Medal for Canada in basketball is not so far away as many think!

In a move that was not so surprising (at least not as surprising as the OUA’s selection of the Guelph Gryphons to represent the host area in the CIAU championship) the CIAU awarded the national Wild Card berth to the defending CIAU champions—the St. Mary’s Huskies. St. Mary’s was edged out by Acadia in last week’s Atlantic Championship Tournament. It wouldn’t seem right to hold a championship without the champ being there.

Doggy come home
Small salt and pepper coloured miniature schnauzer
TAG NO. 20. Answers to Wolfgang
Lost in vicinity of Campbell and University Sat.
Call Mrs. Hyde 253-7168. REWARD.

Fencers retain championship

by FRANK WINKLER

On February 16, the Lancer fencing team repeated last year’s performance to retain the Charles Walters Trophy awarded annually to the best University fencing team in Ontario. The victory was achieved over a strong Carleton squad, threatening to win the trophy for the first time in the history of the school; however Windsor’s strong epee team, comprised of Tom Stratton, Brian Ciuciura, and Bob Horwood defeated all competition to take first place. For individual effort Ciuciura was awarded a silver medal for second place while Strutt was ranked fourth in the eliminations.

The victory was achieved over a strong Carleton squad, threatening to win the trophy for the first time in the history of the school; however Windsor’s strong epee team, comprised of Tom Stratton, Brian Ciuciura, and Bob Horwood defeated all competition to take first place. For individual effort Ciuciura was awarded a silver medal for second place while Strutt was ranked fourth in the eliminations.

The foil team of John Chan, Phil Jolie, and Kam Suen, although defeated Western in the semi-finals, failed to make the final Warning: The Department of National Health and Welfare advises that danger to health increases with amount smoked.

Detroit BiologicaLs, Inc.
3rd Floor, Kales Building • 76 W. Adams Avenue
Located on Grand Circus Park • Phone 963-8626

Free Parking — 145 W. Elizabeth
Mrs. 8 a.m. - 5:30
Bridge Toll reimbursed

Player’s FILTER

A taste you can call your own.

Earn up to $80 every month donating blood twice a week for our special plasma program. Or earn $10 to $15 donating blood on either way.

Come by or call us, now because.

Bill Thornhill’s STEREO PLACE
Sony, Pioneer, Toshiba
Complete Stereo Systems
FROM $199.95

135 Ouellette Ave. PHONE 254-3555

Parking- 145 W. Elizabeth
Layman’s suggestion for next season: that the CIAU adopt International Basketball rules to help remove existing differences in rules interpretations across Canada, and also gear up fans and prospective players for the ’76 Olympic Games in Montreal. A Gold Medal for Canada in basketball is not so far away as many think!

In a move that was not so surprising (at least not as surprising as the OUA’s selection of the Guelph Gryphons to represent the host area in the CIAU championship) the CIAU awarded the national Wild Card berth to the defending CIAU champions—the St. Mary’s Huskies. St. Mary’s was edged out by Acadia in last week’s Atlantic Championship Tournament. It wouldn’t seem right to hold a championship without the champ being there.
The English language is atrophying, as far as verbal communication is concerned. People just don’t use colourful expressions anymore. It has become a spoken language of three and four letter words with the odd two and three syllable adjective thrown in.

Vulgarity is becoming an acceptable form of expression while several decades ago expletives such as “F’shaw” and “Begora” were strictly back-alley words, never to be uttered in public. Now due to our expanded minds and culture the most “shocking” of words, that erstwhile no-no “fuck”, is a common epithet. Not that there is anything wrong with saying “fuck” but there are many words and phrases more colourful that can convey the same feeling. “Fuck” has become the pet

From the Oshawa Bureau

Phrase of the Week

Hobson’s Choice

Hobson’s Choice actually means no choice at all— you either accept what is being offered or settle for nothing.

The origin of this phrase has its roots in 17th century England. Apparently there was a rather crafty livery stable operator named Thomas Hobson. Some researchers claim it to be Tobias Hobson who drove a rather hard bargain. As livery stables were few and far between in those days Hobson had sort of a monopoly of his section of town. He loved his horses and made sure each one word of the day; a shibboleth by which we identify with comrades and shock parents. But it is becoming somewhat of a bore and through its ubiquitousness is being rendered weak and sapped of its original strength and shock-value.

by Ken Brandes

The catch word of the ’60’s was Communication. No one was communicating. Everyone was somehow alienated from something and everything because of lack of communication. Out of this was born a lexicon of easy-language, a jargon of three and four letter words so devoid of description that it allowed people to communicate in a series of empty, lacking phrases and words that were somehow to unite the hoi polloi and allow them to identify with one another’s experiences and feelings. All of a sudden you could completely identify with someone else’s experience, uttering “exactly”, “right-on”, or “I can dig it.” Instantaneous expressions that were to transcend our sterile conversation. These phrases were supposed to carry great impact. “Right-on” was to mean more than “that’s right” ; it was to mean “I feel exactly the same way you do. I have had that same experience and responded in exactly the same way with the same emotional and glandular reaction. And on and on...”. “Right-on” was not merely a hyperphrased ejaculation, but somehow was to stand for some truth. Not a verisimilitude, but an exact truth.

Not that I’m condemning the use of these slang expressions. They serve a purpose and every generation has its use. I’m just lamenting the loss of the English language. It seems Duke Humphrey was a rather philantropic and hospitable man who stayed in the confines of the cathedral precincts rather than go to debtor’s prison. The Duke was very kind to those the same peculiar penchant for devising new expressions and idioms that separate them from the preceding generation. But sometimes my ears crave to hear words and phrases rich in imagery; phrases that somehow sum things up and at the same time treat you to a language rarely used. Not slang, just simple words that serve to impress the listener, such as terminological inexactitude instead of a lie, but catchy little phrases that tell a story in themselves. For once I’d like to hear about someone “half-seas-over” or “three sheets to the wind” instead of “fucking ripped out of his head”. Rather than hearing about someone who is “full of bullshit”, why not “full of gammon and spinach”, “blatherskite”, “booshwagged”, or “boondoggle”. The phrase “ripped-off” is being worn thin. Let’s bring back “hoodwinked”. For once I’d like to hear

by Ken Brandes

“The Shoe Bar

10% Discount To All Students Wyandotte W. at Randolph

Great Campus Footwear

Try Us—You’ll Like Us

THE SHOE BAR

SPAGHETTI LUNCH

Vanier East Dining Room

Thursday, March 7th

11:30—1:30

$1.25

Spaghetti with Meat Sauce

Salad

Rolls & Butter

Dessert

Coffee

Beer & Wine On Sale

"horsewagged", and “booshwagged”. Instead of “get the fuck outta here”, let’s say “the jack”. Just once I’d like to hear people “chronicle and beer” rather than “talk show bullshit”. Instead of “get fuck me”, how about “talk with me”

I asked Pat, who’s really about to commit breach if we don’t leave Oshawa, why people don’t make full use of the English language. She proceeded to punch my face and screamed, “Stop fucking with my head. I’m trying to go myself together and you by this bullshit on me”. Her favourite expression is “ sai Granatellii”.

PHILIPPE GRANATELLI

PAGE TWELVE (3271)—THE LANCE—MARCH 1, 1974

by Ken Brandes
Does this mean there will be no Gracious Living for these girls, no champagne crepe gowns?

Solar Heating Feasible

WASHING TON (ZNS- CUPI) - An American Senate subcommittee has said it has uncovered concrete evidence indicating that GM literally dominates the auto market, making cars, trains or buses available to compete out of the mass transit field. One of the findings of the subcommittee was that General Motors not only dominates the auto market, but makes 65 percent of all city buses, more than 90 percent of engines for city and inter-city buses and more than 80 percent of all locomotives.

As an example, the subcommittee said, it appears to be in GM's interest to make sale of both cars and buses GM can therefore promote cars, because the company's profits would be higher.

The committee, chaired by Sen. Philip Hart, began a series of public hearings on GM's alleged monopoly role Feb. 26. Senate investigators have said that, on the basis of what they have found, the subcommittee will probably recommend that the General Motors Corporation be broken up by the Federal government.

(Washington, D.C.) - The winter sun beats down on Harry Thomason's home in a Washington suburb.

The neighborly and passersby may puzzle a bit at the Thomason's strange roof. But it doesn't bother the patent attorney, inventor and self-styled solar energy expert. He and his family live in a solar heated house that Thomason designed and built.

His total home-heating cost for the winter through February first was just 15 dollars.

In the basement, the Thomasons have a 16-ton solar collector, a solar energy expert.

One of the findings of the subcommittee was that "believers in an after life are gradually changing. She also said that this problem is not only prevalent at Windsor, but all over Canada. Some women have a resistance to the label of Women's Lib. and will not promote that image by responding."

When several sunless days cause the storage tank water temperature to drop, a conventional heater kicks on to warm the water, hence the 15 dollar fuel bill.

On your mark Get Set

The last seminar in the Death and Dying series was held rather incidentally on Monday in the Moot Court. The speaker was Bangalore Swede who pontificated on the topic The Thrill of being last seminar in the Death and Dying series was held rather incidentally on Monday in the Moot Court. The speaker was Bangalore Swede who pontificated on the topic The Thrill of

Women Grads Know Their Place

by SA1 PR ESTA

The Women's Liberation Movement has not affected women on the Windsor campus, according to graduation figures from 1962-73.

The figures indicate that women on this campus have not made any appreciable gains by graduating from courses which lead to additional female oriented jobs.

The greatest number of women still graduate in female oriented disciplines such as Science, Arts and Education.

There are some disciplines where women are making some gains. The Faculty of Business Administration reports that in 1968-69, there were 13 women graduates out of a 435 total and in 1972-73, 45 women graduated out of a 623 total. Other disciplines where women have made some increase are Law and Physical and Health Education. In 1972-73, six women graduated from the Bachelor of Law programme as well as the Physical and Health Education programme.

Some fields are still virgin territory for women. Applied Science has only had three women graduates in ten years. The Master Science programme has also seen very few women graduates. The greatest number of women graduates in Science tend to be in the General programme. In 1971 there was only one woman graduate from Engineering. There are presently ten females enrolled in first year Engineering and one in third year Electrical Engineering.

According to Evelyn McLean, Dean of Women, this stereotyping of roles is "impossibly changing". She also said that this problem is not only prevalent at Windsor, but all over Canada.

Some women have a resistance to the label of Women's Lib and will not promote that image by responding. "There is room for improvement and examination of these roles", McLean stated.

What happens when you don't pay your exorcist? You get a estates deficit.

On your mark Get Set

The last seminar in the Death and Dying series was held rather incidentally on Monday in the Moot Court. The speaker was Bangalore Swede who pontificated on the topic The Thrill of

Women Grads Know Their Place

by SA1 PR ESTA

The Women's Liberation Movement has not affected women on the Windsor campus, according to graduation figures from 1962-73.

The figures indicate that women on this campus have not made any appreciable gains by graduating from courses which lead to additional female oriented jobs.

The greatest number of women still graduate in female oriented disciplines such as Science, Arts and Education.

There are some disciplines where women are making some gains. The Faculty of Business Administration reports that in 1968-69, there were 13 women graduates out of a 435 total and in 1972-73, 45 women graduated out of a 623 total. Other disciplines where women have made some increase are Law and Physical and Health Education. In 1972-73, six women graduated from the Bachelor of Law programme as well as the Physical and Health Education programme.

Some fields are still virgin territory for women. Applied Science has only had three women graduates in ten years. The Master Science programme has also seen very few women graduates. The greatest number of women graduates in Science tend to be in the General programme. In 1971 there was only one woman graduate from Engineering. There are presently ten females enrolled in first year Engineering and one in third year Electrical Engineering.

According to Evelyn McLean, Dean of Women, this stereotyping of roles is "impossibly changing". She also said that this problem is not only prevalent at Windsor, but all over Canada.

Some women have a resistance to the label of Women's Lib and will not promote that image by responding. "There is room for improvement and examination of these roles", McLean stated.

What happens when you don't pay your exorcist? You get a estates deficit.

On your mark Get Set

The last seminar in the Death and Dying series was held rather incidentally on Monday in the Moot Court. The speaker was Bangalore Swede who pontificated on the topic The Thrill of

Women Grads Know Their Place

by SA1 PR ESTA

The Women's Liberation Movement has not affected women on the Windsor campus, according to graduation figures from 1962-73.

The figures indicate that women on this campus have not made any appreciable gains by graduating from courses which lead to additional female oriented jobs.

The greatest number of women still graduate in female oriented disciplines such as Science, Arts and Education.

There are some disciplines where women are making some gains. The Faculty of Business Administration reports that in 1968-69, there were 13 women graduates out of a 435 total and in 1972-73, 45 women graduated out of a 623 total. Other disciplines where women have made some increase are Law and Physical and Health Education. In 1972-73, six women graduated from the Bachelor of Law programme as well as the Physical and Health Education programme.

Some fields are still virgin territory for women. Applied Science has only had three women graduates in ten years. The Master Science programme has also seen very few women graduates. The greatest number of women graduates in Science tend to be in the General programme. In 1971 there was only one woman graduate from Engineering. There are presently ten females enrolled in first year Engineering and one in third year Electrical Engineering.

According to Evelyn McLean, Dean of Women, this stereotyping of roles is "impossibly changing". She also said that this problem is not only prevalent at Windsor, but all over Canada.

Some women have a resistance to the label of Women's Lib and will not promote that image by responding. "There is room for improvement and examination of these roles", McLean stated.

What happens when you don't pay your exorcist? You get a estates deficit.
Law and Women Seminar

TENTATIVE AGENDA
March 14-16, 1974
Thursday, March 14th, 8:00 p.m. - 12:00, Registration - LaPointe Centre, Riverside Dr. W. Welcoming Function.
Friday, March 15th, 9:00 a.m. - 9:15, Mont Court, Faculty of Law. "Women in Canada: Yesterday and Today" - Moderator: Donna Allan, lawyer, Toronto.
Friday Evening: Dinner - Cleary Auditorium, Riverside Dr. W.
Speaker: Hon. Otto Lang, Minister of Justice.
Saturday, March 16th: Moot Court, Faculty of Law. 9:00 a.m. "Women in the Law School, the Law Firm and the Legal Profession".

St. Clair Open House

WINDSOR - St. Clair College will hold its seventh annual Open House on Sunday, March 10, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the University. The theme is "St. Clair College - the people place," which represents the college's active role in the community and its continuing effort to relate to all aspects of life in Essex and Kent Counties. The Schools of Applied Arts, Business, Health Sciences, Technology, Technical Arts and Trades, Retraining and Continuing Education will present a variety of exhibits. Visitors may view a wide spectrum of displays, ranging from dog obedience training, food services management, landscaping and accounting services featuring an income tax centre and information on personal and family budgeting. The new and extensive athletic facilities; the gymnasium and swimming pool will be open for use by visitors during the day.

Displays from the Division of Student Services will depict aspects of student life and provide admission information. Each Student Government-sponsored club will exhibit projects undertaken during the year, as well as the activities of the Student Athletic Association. Awards will be presented for the best academic displays in each School, the outstanding academic display in the College itself, and the outstanding Student Life display. Guided tours for groups and an information booth will provide academic information and course description material.

The cafeteria will be open and refreshments may also be purchased in the Athletic Wing. Bus service between the SW & A depot and the college will be available from 9:00 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Support of Universities and Colleges

The Honourable Jack McNie, former Minister of University and Colleges announced an 11 percent increase in the operating support of colleges and universities and colleges of applied arts and technology in 1974-75.

Supplementary grants reaching $6,155,000 were beak to Brock, Carleton, Lakehead, Laurentian, Trent, York and Windsor Universities. These additional grants are based on the recommendations of the Committee on University Affairs, an advisor to the Board of Ministers of Universities and Colleges.

The community college system will receive up to $38 million's "growth" grants to help accommodate the rapid enrollment growth of a number of colleges. These grants will be distributed according to a formula based on the growth in enrollment at each college. Algoma College will receive $1,368,000 in grants for bilingual programs.

More Money for Universities

This is the last time that I'm going to tell you, Don't just say, "I'll be there." The University Players are in the middle of a new musical, "The Moon." This will be the last chance to see the University Players' production of this year. If you have not tasted the joys of an evening at the theatre, do so. The play is a musical and the lyrics are wonderful. The entire cast is wonderful. The story is a new one and the actors are up to as they present Under the Sycamore Tree. Trouble runs rampant in an ant colony when Science is introduced. Under the Sycamore Tree is a satire on modern technology. The play is Aug. 21-23.

Ready for an Arse? That is what the Asparagus Players are trying to do as they present Under the Sycamore Tree. Trouble runs rampant in an ant colony when Science is introduced. Under the Sycamore Tree is a satire on modern technology. The play is Aug. 21-23.

Supplementary Exams

by CHARLOTTE CLARK

Supplementary Exams will cease to exist in mid-fall beginning with the Intersection sessions, states Rev. Bala. Due to the increasing number of ways for obtaining final grades, such as the incomplete grade and one hour exams, the Sen confirmed that supplementary exams were unnecessary. Supplementary exams usually resulted in confusion as professors often on vacation at the time of writing in July.

As an alternative to supplementary exams, the incomplete grade allows the professor and student more leeway in which to make arrangements in the deciding of a final grade. Should a student fail, they will have no more than one week to make up the work they were unable to complete.

The number of supplementary exams offered each year is decreasing. It is hoped that their abolition will give to professor a greater freedom in deciding a final grade is in student's circumstances can now be taken into consideration.
Farmers Union Wants Farmland Protected

WINNIPEG (CUP) - "The members of the generation which arose to power must not treat the agriculture sector as something given to them by their parents, but as something borrowed from their children."

That's the way the National Farmers Union land policy statement was adopted by the NFU, introducing the complex question of land use, perhaps one of the most fundamental problems facing mankind, that most clearly demonstrates the interrelation of economic and ethical considerations.

For decades responsible farmers have consistently practised good soil conservation, while at the same time, especially in recent years, society in general has not extended protection for the arable land as an indispensable resource to food production. In fact, society now places a higher value on farmland when it has been spaded of its agricultural capabilities and covered with asphalt, cement and brick," the policy says.

The policy declares the control over farmland by speculators who take ownership or options on ribbons of farmland around practically every urban area in Canada.

"Neither farmer nor urban dweller's interests, nor the need for planned utilization of farmland is best served by speculators," the policy says.

The policy statement expresses concern that unregulated urban development of Canadian farmland will gobble up the best of it and leave the country with a shortage of good agricultural land.

The policy quotes the book "Limits to Growth": "...society will not be suddenly surprised by the crisis point at which the amount of land needed becomes greater than that available. Symptoms of the crisis will begin long before the crisis point is reached. Food prices will rise to such a height that some people will starve; others will be forced to decrease the effective amount of land they will use and drift to lower quality diets."

"Barring an exceptional scientific and technological breakthrough the foundation of food production will continue to be farmland and as an organization of concerned farmers the NFU must promote a land use policy that will ensure good productive farmland is not destroyed, but is preserved for future generations," the policy statement says.

The policy objectives include:
- Zoning of all agricultural land.
- Sub-zoning for particular land uses.
- Classification of land according to productive capacity.
- Purchase of agricultural land needed for urban development only by a government agency.
- Protection of agricultural land through government direction of future development towards poorer soil.
- When land is expropriated the farmer should receive full value of the land for farming purposes plus adequate compensation for all inconveniences that may occur to him/her.
- An end to the granting of severances.
- Farmland particularly suited to specialized crops should be devoted exclusively to agriculture, even though it may require zero growth of development.
- That a more rational policy prevail for the construction of highways, powerlines, etc.

The policy statement also went into detail on the classification of ...20 farm operations.

That section was referred back to the locals for further study and will return for consideration at the next annual convention.

Key points in it were a criticism of existing government land programs as tending to consolidate and enlarge farm holdings instead of encouraging young people to set out farming; a recognition that farmers really don't own the land in face of increasing public expropriation of land for other uses; and a recognition that the necessity of large capitalization of farm investment will mean that farming will be limited to only a few if present trends continue.

The NFU as a forward thinking organization of farmers should revalue the principle of ownership requiring such large capital investment in favour of a guaranteed tenure of occupancy," is the policy statement to be referred back to the locals.

Garbage to Gold in Kingston Ontario

KINGSTON (CUP) - The Kingston city finance committee began the go-ahead to a garbage reclamation project designed for the city by two Queen's University professors.

Four setting and treatment are the key features of this plan in which garbage will be sanitized and then either disposed of or resold.

The project involves equipment familiar to the mining industry and already-proven technology according to Brown. "There is no novelty in the process," he added.

By this process, glass and plastic could be recycled. Reclaimed glass could be used as fuel, adhesives and building components.

The project gained widespread support from Kingston residents during the past year when it became known that a new landfill site had to be opened up for the city's garbage. Over 1,000 people signed a Pollution Probe petition calling for the reclamation project to be institutionalized.

Community service fees and receipts from the sale of reclaimed products will bear the cost of the project.

KINGSTON (CUP) - Kingston Township Council wants the Ontario provincial government to get off the fence on the matter of reclamation as a method of garbage disposal.

The council decided Feb. 4 it favors reclamation but wants assurance from the Ministry of the Environment before getting out of the present system of dumping garbage.

Queen University professors Reginald Clark and James Brown, authors of the reclamation plan accepted by the city of Kingston, expressed this sentiment to discuss the project with the council and determine whether the township is still interested in participating in a reclamation scheme.

The city has already committed itself to the plan to reclaim, recycle, paper, cardboard, metal, glass and plastic.

Township Councillor Peter Beeman said the township would like to meet with provincial government representatives, the city, and two professors to discuss the project.

The two Queen's professors have been discussing the reclamation proposal with both the city and the township for three years now. The city has said it will go ahead with reclamation with or without neighbouring municipalities.

The city is preparing to contract out garbage disposal for a two year period while a reclamation plant is constructed. Reclamation proposals in addition to that of professors Brown and Clark have been invited by the city.

The provincial government has remained non-committal to the feasibility of reclamation as an immediate method of garbage disposal. James Auld, Ontario Minister of the Environment, has said reclamation is the only long-range solution to garbage disposal.

But to this date Auld has not recommended financial assistance for the Kingston scheme.

Auld has been busy looking around Southern Ontario for a place to dump Metro Toronto's annual output of 400,000 tons of garbage.

ATTENTION U of W
WE'RE PISSED OFF!

We have the best equipment and the best prices.

Why haven't we seen you?

Guaranteed sales • Service • Installation

Mr Stereo

Complete line of stereo components for home & auto

Mr Stereo

2698 Howard Ave.

Tel. 969-9004

Mr Stereo

Great Campus Footwear

Try us... You'll like us

The ShoE Bar

Gives

10% Discount to All Students

Wyandotte W. at Randolph

March 8, 1974, The Lance, Page Three (330)
Blood Money

Dear Sir:

I am writing to express the deep concern of the Canadian Hemophilia Society over advertisements now appearing in the publications of Canadian Universities, paid for by commercial firms which offers to buy blood from students. These ads openly ask the students if they need extra money. Our organization feels strongly that we should bring to the attention of students, through your university publication, the following facts.

The Canadian Hemophilia Society was instituted some 20 years ago, through the efforts of concerned parents of hemophiliac children, because of the lack of proper treatment and knowledge at that time to control this bleeding defect by blood transfusions. The Canadian Red Cross Voluntary Blood Donor Services have supported our cause, and indeed are the lifeline of hemophiliacs. It is through their efforts in the collection of blood from voluntary donors, and intensive research in this and other countries, that our boys and men are now able to have the best available treatment, and to enjoy their rightful place in society.

Canada has one of the highest records in the world as voluntary donors of blood, the products of which are used to treat all blood disorders, not just hemophilia. In fact, hemophiliacs use only one-fifth of a blood transfusion. Our Society takes the stand that the commercial sale of blood is repugnant, and we are certain that Canadians everywhere feel the same. We are sure that Canadian students are for the most part sympathetic with the present day philosophy that some things simply do not have a monetary value. Surely today's students would be shocked if an advertisement were to appear concerning the sale of an eye cornea, kidney or heart. Is not blood an even more vital matter? Nowhere in Canada does a patient requiring blood transfusions have to pay, because our hospitals are supplied through the Canadian Red Cross Voluntary Blood Services. We have been encouraged many times to note that blood donor clinics held at universities meet with great success. We are, therefore, all the more apprehensive to think that our universities might become commercial blood depots, if such advertisements are carried in their publications.

It might be of interest to you to know that where commercial blood depots exist, the incidence of hepatitis and other diseases has proven to be very much higher in purchased blood than that from volunteers. A person generous enough to give of himself would not risk concealment of a transmissible disease such as hepatitis, and so cause added suffering to the person requiring this vital material. However, a person deliberately selling his blood for monetary gain, is not concerned to reveal such information, and puts the onus suffering to the person requiring this vital material. However, such discovery is often not possible until too late.

We do not, of course, wish to interfere in any way with advertising policies of university publications, but we would hope that once knowing the full facts behind ads for paid donors, the student members might have second thoughts about accepting them, or at least feel inclined to publish the gist of the information given above.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. C.E.C. Harris
President

Reply

As you can see we have printed your letter. We hope that every student here will take the time to read it and the points you have made. Undoubtedly students here are selling their plasma or the firms involved would cease advertising in The Lance.

Our position is this: if we did not carry the ads our conscience would be clear but the revenue from these accounts would be lost. Our niggardly budget does not allow for such grandiose gestures to alleviate the subtle pin pricks of red corpuscle remorse. Isn't it unfortunate that we have to sacrifice our principles for money, just like in real life? More overt political action and confrontation with our entrenched provincial government.

The Winner!

Bob Dupius, sent in the only caption. So he wins by default. Come up for your prize.

The winning caption: Shove the mike up your ass and go f--- your husband!
Iona job

Iona College, the United Church (Dorothy) of the Universitv of Windsor, has an opening for a student assistant to the executive staff. The position calls for a second-year student with a speciality in the Iona and the world and an interest in the social, political, and educational world. Candidates for this position must be familiar with the college in creating and implementing programs in harmony with the Iona concept. While some of the work will be of a research nature, the student should be willing to carry out other tasks of a more routine and practical nature.

The successful applicant will have the opportunity to work at least 10 hours a week, salary between $4 and $6 per hour, with qualifications and honors worked. The appointment will be for the period of January 22, 1974, to September 7, 1974, and is contingent upon the successful candidate. The assistant will be responsible for giving an introduction to various activities to the executive staff of Iona College.

Iona College represents the involvement of the United Church of Canada in the college. This includes an active concern for intellectual issues, participation in the university's activities and society and the world at large. Programming in the school year, summer, and winter months includes lectures and discussions on various topics and other programs in the social, political and religious areas.

Applicants interested are requested to apply by February 27, 1974, to Ronald W. Porter, Associate Director of Programs, Iona College, 208 Sunset Parkway, Windsor, Ont. Both academic and social qualifications and honors worked will be considered.

Tennessee Bruce

To My Fellow Workers:

The office has become a place where I feel as if the groundhog does not come out of his hole for any rolls of pennies and loose change is beyond my capability. I'd place my bets on the groundhog. By the looks of it, he's become an endangered species.

From reading your letter it seems that Mr. Cook has the opinion that a groundhog is a disgusting animal that belongs to the "oppressed" groundhog and that I am a part of this group. Well, if Mr. Cook is so concerned about doing good, I'm sure he'll use all his resources to help the groundhogs as the groundhogs do - crawl in a hole.

To: Marylin Turnon
From: R.J. Bernard
Subject: Crawl in a hole

Sincerely,

LePatrice Rouge

"Fantasy World"

To A.M. Semark, re a woman's view March 1, 1974

The next time you write a column which you label a "Fantasy World" it should be because you are a Bahamian island with nothing to do but write columns, and crawl back in a little hole called fantasy.

P.S. Say hello to Kath for me. B.D.

Dribbling in his Shorts

February 27, 1974

Dear Poop Chute:

I'm unbearably fat, and I'm not smiling. The mere thought of someone like me dribbling makes me dribble in my shorts.

For the sake of us who are filling the city with our bodies, financial resources will soon need to be reallocated. I would like to point out that if the $150.00 deposit for 24-hour parking at Trumwe Hall is ridiculously high, then pointing towards sorrows without. When, at this time, the university is supposed to obtain that many rolls of pennies and loose change is beyond my capability suggesting a few titles for the new column - how about The Freedom, dignity and self-respect of the woman world? It is a federal offence to write anything about the woman world which includes aggression while avoiding the "male dog eat male" world, and the "with women's destructive power] you can't have it all" world. Instead of being an aggressive sportswoman, the woman world should be a healthy sportswoman. Men don't have a monopoly on destructiveness, nor does aggression mean one thing for men and another for women. What it means is that, basically, you want what you want in the world to be done your way. Others who want things done in their way will most certainly attempt to stop you. Whether you're a woman or a man the world offers you nothing; no one's going to be fair. Presto: a dog eat dog world.

Freedom, dignity and self-respect as a human being reside in the mind. It's not a man's club with "no girls allowed," but the kind of club where you have to work for admission to it. If you want "positions of power" that's your problem, and don't think they are set apart in any different way than anyone else if you want to have a high position. It's always been in "desperate need of basic value changes" and one of the things that's beginning to be a sure cure solution of the cure solution, aggressive women will not be destructive women, but dog eat dog may not make much difference.

R.J. Bernard

Neurotic's Corner

(Clip) Stay tuned for channel 7's Action News, the tell-it-like-it-is News, with better news than the other stations, and the Action News team: Bail Bonds, Yawn Kelley, Marylin Turnton with note. Effi, Liz Kaback, Sue Stepper, or Fascist Funnyman Nazi Are Not Nazis, or better known as - Aryans For Everybody.

But, if Mr. Cook does not want to do so, then let him do as the groundhog does and possibly become extinct. But imagine the groundhog from whence he came, Goodbye Mr. Cook and good riddance.

Crawl in a hole.

Tennessee Bruce

Dear Sir,

I would like to reply to the interesting letter written by Mr. Cook which appeared in the last issue of 1973. It seems that Mr. Cook is interested in the liberation of the "oppressed" groundhog and why I'm not. It seems to me that if the personal responsible would take decent care of it, I would not have to make a federal case of it.

Regards and best wishes.

P.S. I'm sorry I'm not as in the picture as I am in the past because I am working on my own play so, in late April - early May.

P.P.S. Say hello to Kath for me. B.D.

Fantasy World

To A.M. Semark, re a woman's view March 1, 1974

The next time you write a column which you label a "Fantasy World" it should be because you are a Bahamian island with nothing to do but write columns, and crawl back in a little hole called fantasy.
This year has been a tight 12 months for the finances of the S.A.C. The budget passed by Council was primarily aimed at:

1. elimination of the $44,633.97 liabilities as at April 30, 1974 of which $22,065.20 is long formulating.
2. S.A.C. debt to the University of Windsor of $17,112.13 as at April 30, 1973.

These debts were inherited from previous years and are not to be construed as a reflection on the present year’s Council. I maintain the current level of operations with regard to:

a) Student Media — the Lance, Directory, C.S.R.W., Yearbook (1973-74), Amateurism, Generation
b) Other operations such as: Cabaret Pub, the societies, Film Society, and Alumni, Students Legal Aid, Orientation, Winter Weekend and Homecoming.

The societies were budgeted for $22,243.00. These are your own family organizations. The S.A.C. remits 20 percent or $4,450 to the societies. This comes directly from each student’s $22.50 and is included in the breakdown under Student Affairs & Organizations.

To maintain a high level of services to the students is a difficult task. Council desires to stay out of debt yet also reduce the outstanding debt from previous years. This is what S.A.C. has attempted to do this year and I feel Council has made many progressive steps toward an ultimate goal of $1,100,000 in operations (1) minimum outstanding debt.

The fixed assets of the S.A.C. have increased from the 1972 of $31,492.14 to the current figure of $34,740.64. This is due mainly to the purchase of the counter and the expansion of the finance office.

The Accounts Payable have been reduced $14,000 to approximately $2,000. This is comprised of: University of Windsor $6,556.00, Printing (Lance, Directory, Generation, Yearbook) $6,851.00, Pub. Joe Machine $1,300.00, Ontario Federation of Students $460.00.

Breakdown of your $22.50:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Area</th>
<th>1972-73</th>
<th>1973-74</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Publications &amp; Comm.</td>
<td>$7.07</td>
<td>$8.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Administrative</td>
<td>5.44</td>
<td>6.21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student Affairs &amp; Org.</td>
<td>5.13</td>
<td>7.22</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Other Affairs</td>
<td>$22.50</td>
<td>$22.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Special Events</td>
<td>4.26</td>
<td>.81</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Publications & Communications: all media including Central Ad Bureau, Administrative Costs: Salaries for President, Vice-President, Business Manager, Honorary. The percent was 24.7 and no business manager was established.

In 1971-1972 there was no business manager and the percent was 24.7.

In 1973-1974 the Administrative was 12.3 percent with a full time secretary and business manager.

The Administrative percent has stayed relatively constant thus indicating cost consciousness relating to public relations, informed copy, and audit, fees and bank charges.

Student affairs and organizations included money allocated to the societies, clubs and organizations on campus. This also included the continued flow and their programs with which Student Legal Aid and the Film Society are a part.

Having been in office for the full term, I have supported Council in its decision to relegate financial responsibility. The S.A.C. is in a good position to start the 1974-1975 year without the crippling effects of excessive debts. The S.A.C. year end is April 31st. The auditor’s report will be posted in the S.A.C. offices upon the conclusion of the audit.

What is the Media Review Board?

Unbeknownst to the majority of the students at the University of Windsor, there has been a Media Review Board established as of September 25th, 1973 on campus. We have been late "getting off of the ground" so to speak, but thus far have had three meetings and formulated our constitution as a result. The Review Board has been established primarily, to consider complaints from students and the public about the conduct of student-run media in the gathering, broadcasting, and publication of expression, opinion and advertising. "And also," to consider complaints but the members of the student-run media about the conduct of individual and organizations toward the media.

The Media Review Board is also responsible in that we are obligated to report public complaints and the decisions and actions of the Media Review Board on a presented complaint, and to make periodic reports of our work and the media.

The Media Review Board consists of nine members at large. The members are, the editor of the Lance and the manager of the Film Society. Complaints dealing with the student-run media can be presented in writing to the Media Review Board and placed in the MRB mailbox in the SAC office. As of yet we have had no complaints presented to us.

Since the school term is coming to a close we are looking for new members for the MRB. Applications for positions on the board will be open to those students who are not already a member of the S.A.C. and who have no direct affiliation with media, exclusive of Lance Editor and CSRW manager. We are asking all interested to make their application in writing to the Media Review Board and place their applications in the Media Review Board mailbox. Applications will not be accepted past March 31st, preferably

Please include how you can contact us. We feel that is a vital interview with some of the members of the Board must arrive which we receive and you will be contacted regarding this. Again, the Media Review Board has been established for your benefit, but it also needs your support in the coming year to year to represent you and continue quality student-run media.

Thank-you.

THE MEDIA REVIEW BOARD

3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit

Bill Thorndill's STEREO PLACE

Sony, Pioneer, Toshiba
Complete Stereo Systems

FROM $199.95

PHONE 354-3515

FILM SOCIETY PRESENTS

"LITTLE BIG MAN"

A CINEMA BICENTENNIAL FILM

AND HUNTER DUFFY

IS ON BOTH SIDES!

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13

ROOM 1118 MATH BLDG.

7 PM — 9 PM

DOOR PRIZES

COMPLIMENTS OF HIRAM WALKER & SONS LTD.

STUDENTS $1.00

NON-STUDENTS $1.50

Want a job?

Do you want to work abroad this summer, but don't know how to find a job? Or to travel to Europe, but can't afford it? Both these common situations could be answered by a new program which has just been launched in Canada, called Summer Jobs in Britain.

The great advantage of having a job is that you become part of the British scene, not just an onlooker or tourist.

The unique feature of the Summer Jobs in Britain program is that it guarantees the job before you ever leave Canada. This eliminates all the worry about finding work and getting permits, and you can take off right after exams are finished. Jobs available include a wide range of both indoor and outdoor work, including office and hotel jobs, stores and factories, work with families, fruit-picking and farming. Depending on the job, periods from 4 to 20 weeks are possible. A basic fee of $100 covers finding the job of your choice, arranging accommodation, three days' orientation in London, all permits and documentation, and additional free services such as cheap travel facilities in Europe.

Students can receive a free Summer Jobs in Britain brochure with details of available jobs by sending a long stamped return envelope to Henry Fletcher Services Ltd., 86 Ryker Crescent, Toronto M42 290. For those who prefer to arrange their own, or want to work in other countries, a directory giving details of 50,000 summer job opportunities in 40 countries is available at $22.50. Send your request to the same address.

NEED MORE BLOOD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER
$100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment; in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised program rewards you with a competitive rate. New process takes only plasma for this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit).

For medical exam, or to get all the details, Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM

Michigan Community Blood Center
3466 Woodward Avenue, Detroit
½ block south of Medical Center

Phone 833-5539

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13

ROOM 1118 MATH BLDG.

7 PM — 9 PM

PHONE 354-3515
Le Patriote Rouge entitled Soviet Imperialism

Ever since the Bolshevik October Revolution of 1917, generations throughout the world were brought up to think of the Soviet Union as the leader of the socialist world and of China as a satellite of China and believe that the Soviet Union is still adhering to its original Marxist principles.

Although the socialist society theory is fading in its formal sense it retains a non-capitalist economy. But the situation is deteriorating rapidly even in the socialist economic base of the country. Because of this the Soviet Union is looking abroad to turn attention from the disorders at home.

In the last years, we have seen an increase in Soviet imperialism. An imperialism that cloaks itself in a socialist garb, a planned economy the planned economy, and one example. The Soviet Union invaded the country while trying to do cover up the act with socialist rhetoric. The Czechs had every right to defend their homeland. The Soviet Union invaded the country.

In this anti-China policy the U.S.S.R. supported the Indian aggressors in border clashes with China. But the situation is deteriorating rapidly even in the world sphere of influence. The influence of the superpower's policies that do not promote the international move to socialism.

In the Middle East, the Soviet Union is involved in the Iran-Iraq war and the peace in the Middle East has increased. It was the Soviet Union that armed and financed the Indian invasion of Pakistan. This did nothing to change the occupation by the Soviet Union's agents of Benga Delhi. It turned over the country from one oppressor only into the hands of another.

Here in South America the Soviet Union is involved just like the U.S.S.R. only to gain a foothold in the oil-rich Arab countries. Yemen and Somalia are in the hands of the Soviet Union.

In the U.S.S.R. itself, the Soviet leaders are trying to restore capitalism. Under the Marxian planning theory, Soviet leaders are breaking up the socialist economic base of the country, the new system of planned production and trade. Profits are the key theory now. Each enterprise decides independently on production. They have to replace the state's fixed wages, bonuses for workers and make policies and determine the enterprise's wage policies. The new system is a throwback to the 19th century. If the enterprise is losing money, the enterprise's boss can order the employees to work more for lower wages. If the enterprise is making a profit, the enterprise's boss can order the employees to work more and the employees' wages will be increased. It is an imperialist country that is undermining the socialist society of its own country.

In this country, there is a new policy for a Labor Relations Act. The old labor laws have been declared null and void. The company is to replace Washington in the sphere of world influence. The company is to be the leader of the international move to socialism.

The company serves coffee and doughnuts to the public. The company set about cutting its labor forces. The company set about cutting its labor forces...

"soft camp".

The events of 1968 were followed by the invasion of Soviet troops on the territory of the People's Socialist Republic of Kampuchea. This was one instance of the Soviet anti-China crusade. At present there are approximately one million short - range missiles in the hands of the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union is the leader of the socialist world and the Soviet Union is trying to expand its influence...

Wanted - Young men single and experienced or inexperienced. Willing to accept new training. Contact Mr. McFadden, Box 60, The Lance. Would you like a radio-like combo phone? Contact Mr. McFadden, Box 60, The Lance.

 Classified ads will be accepted in the Lance office for free publication. No more than three lines to be handed in no later than the Monday before the Friday of publication.

Canada recognized the military control as "in effect control" in Chile on Sep. 29, 1973, 18 days after the take over. 29 days after the take over. 29 days after the take over. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent.

Canada recognizes the military control as "in effect control" in Chile on Sep. 29, 1973, 18 days after the take over. 29 days after the take over. 29 days after the take over. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent.

Canada recognizes the military control as "in effect control" in Chile on Sep. 29, 1973, 18 days after the take over. 29 days after the take over. 29 days after the take over. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent. The country is no longer independent.
Tim Doyle

I am currently enrolled in the Business programme, third year, Finance. In this past administration I had the pleasure of working as Public Relations Officer, under Doug Phillips and Geoff Schmitz. We have proven that our teamwork is effective, with your help it can continue to be effective.

This year’s S.A.C. has been following an austerity programme to eliminate debt left over by other councils. Next year’s S.A.C. will still have a tight pursestring, but will nevertheless be able to offer much more service for your $22.50.

One proposal I have is that clubs receive separate funding from students. A percent of a student fee. This will mean that there will be roughly three times more money available for clubs in the next administration.

The communication that SAC has had with the ISO and other ethnic clubs on campus has been sporadic. Steps are already being taken to improve this. The new student administration (Doyle-Phillips) will be able to offer clubs help, in almost any way required.

As President, I would continue the policy of decentralization. Most students are interested in broadening the reach, quality and availability of student education and seek to do this on the Society-Club level. This new administration would offer more advice and direction to help accomplish these educational goals.

Residence Councils and students are looking for more residence oriented services. The Services Commissioner and Housing Commissioner are going to work towards solving this need.

The SAC enjoys a responsible image in the eyes of the Administration and the City of Windsor. Having had a part in the creation of the image, I honestly say that under my direction, this image will be maintained and, if possible, improved.

On March 13, 1974, Wednesday, as a responsible student, you can have an opportunity to vote for the candidate of your choice. You may not provide everything you want, but it elected, I will give you my all. Please vote for Tim Doyle on March 13, 1974, for President of the Student Council.

"If you don’t vote, you can’t bitch!"

---

Election Flyer

For President

Dave Rutherford

Dave Rutherford is 23 years old and in fourth-year political science. He is one of the most experienced students on S.A.C. this year as he is serving his third term as both Arts Representative and member of the Senate Committee on University Government.

The run-up in Windsor’s last mayoralty campaign, Dave also served as secretary of the Ontario Student Liberals.

He feels that the greatest problem on this campus is lethargy - not apathy. Everywhere this year, he has met people with ideas but who can’t seem to get it together to initiate them into action. He thinks that S.A.C. President can and should act as a catalyst, a spark plug to help these people initiate problem solutions and to problems.

He sees five problem areas that need prompt action:

1. This year’s council failed to provide adequate money for services clubs and societies, while at the same time administrative costs continued to skyrocket. This trend must be reversed.
2. SAC is the body of the Student Union. There must be more emphasis on protecting student rights and working towards a better quality education and less emphasis on creating new positions and new definitions (e. g. the ombudsman).
3. The Societies in Arts and Science need to be reorganized and a new formula financing system for the Societies must be adopted. It should be based partially on enrollment and partially on the services each society provides.
4. Students and faculty must work together to preserve and strengthen a meaningful involvement in the decision-making process in the university. In the last year this was not done.
5. S.A.C. must become more concerned than ever with student prospects for when they leave school. The job situation is not a good one.

There is need for much expansion of services in this area particularly in research, seminars, etc.

This list is not all-inclusive, but Dave feels that these five areas have to be tackled vigorously and immediately if S.A.C. is going to become relevant to the students on this campus.

---

For Vice-President

Doug Phillips

When I was elected to serve as Vice-President last March, you wanted hard work, dedication, action and countability. You wanted someone who wouldn’t forget that he had been elected by the students to serve their interests.

And I didn’t let myself forget. I went to the residences often. I organized discussion seminars about S.A.C. and I made myself available in the office for any student every day and on weekends. Listening to your complaints, your ideas and your problems.

What has come of it all. In the constructive sense, we have a Media Review Board and a monthly Social Calendar. We have a vigorous and active Housing Commissioner in Randy Johnson.

We have worked to expedite the common problems of residence and off-campus students alike, such as food services, housing, bookstore, services and parking facilities.

And the question centers on money that concern you. Want a better pub operation and a year packed with social and entertainment services. This year, some of our innovative societies, the belly dancer, the snooker tournaments, the Winter Weekend Ice Rink. But more will become available as our payables are depleted. I want the chance to be able to advise this administration that can give you such services.

And the question centers obviously, on organization. Clubs, societies and residence house councils are in many ways more attune to what the students want. They are more organized to put on the small scale service. But they need a fair share of the student dollar. SAC got an improved deal last year. But clubs were left to go it with a minimal amount of help. Clubs deserve a guaranteed allotment. As well,

I suggest that weekly Ethnic nights with particular clubs be put on in the pub. Through the International Students’ Organization, the clubs could add a unique flavour to the pub’s entertainment. We saw what the French and German, German clubs just to name a few, could do during Open House.

This year, I think S.A.C. has got to put a little more care and attention into societies such as the Faculty of Education. For too long they have gotten a raw deal, being apart from campus and paying the same fee.

I think that a formula adjustment to Ed Fac is needed.

During the course of this campaign, I want to get out and talk to you in particular. I want to listen to your ideas. Throughout the past year, I have tried to give a full accounting of my conduct as Vice-President. I can pledge only that I will account to you as well. I will devote myself to the tasks of this office.

I call upon your help. Continuing to grow after that which is just beyond my reach until I touch it. Vote Phillips March 15th.

---

Election Flyer

For Senator

Geoff Schmitz

Sale packages are the two most important assets of student representatives to the University Senate. The University Senate is vested with the power to make all academic decisions for the University, the Senate that takes place directly everyone on this campus. Your participation in the hands of the Senate; it only makes sense that your representatives, the Senators, should conduct themselves in such a manner to make the student viewpoint is presented coherently and purposefully. There are only four student representatives on the Senate. The student viewpoint cannot be properly presented if these four were working within the necessary communication. They must work together.

From my own experience in the Senate, in Student Government, and in Administration, I can appreciate the position of the SAC Senate. As the link between the Senate and the and Council, and will be to advise and assist him in your affairs, thus making his job a little easier, and giving the Senators a hearing from the other two bodies.

I have served on the Senate for a year as SAC President, and that year has already seen much headway for the students, including a bolstering of student status on confidential committees. Our work for the next year will largely in the Senate By-Laws for May, to the purpose of strengthening the guarantees that students have and obtaining guarantees where there are none.

I intend additionally to propose that an representative on the Senate Executive Committee be increased from the current 7 to ratio of 4 to 2.

I can personally guarantee that I will attend the meetings of the Senate. If I have the highest attendance for the next year, that I will be prepared and will have consulted with the other Senators before the meetings, and that I do have the expense and responsibility to adequately and earnestly coordinate and consolidate the student viewpoint on this campus.
Gord Browning

I am presently a member of the University of Windsor Senate and chairman of its subcommittees. I feel the experience and the general knowledge I have of the students' needs are quite valuable.

That is why I have submitted my nomination for the position of Student Senator. The single most important pledge I will make to the student community is the pledge to work hard for your best interests and to account fully the conduct of my term.

Thank you

Gordon Browning

For Arts Rep

Len Wallace

As "Le Patriote Rouge", many of you are familiar with the standpoint from which I base my criticisms and judgments. I am running for the position of S.A.C. Arts Rep and my purpose is to provide a left position of principled criticism of the existing situation. Let's face it. Things have been changed. The policy of the Student Council and the entire university is to Serve the Student, but this has not been accomplished.

Controversy is feared by the administration and frowned upon by the administration. They believe that anything controversial or able to be interpreted as controversial has no place in student circles.

My point is not to provide criticism for the sake of criticism, but constructive criticism that can be used to change things for the better.

The student movement of the 1960's failed to learn this lesson, but nevertheless a few of us were won. S.A.C. has to regain a lot of the trust of the student body which it has lost over the past years.

At this point we can all agree that university is an insult to your intelligence. We've been constantly told of "student apathy." We've all been part of it. The thing is that the blame does not lie with the students. I do not take this view. There is something wrong with the present setup and this flaw must be found. Thus my platform can be said written in three words - it must be to SERVE THE STUDENT.

I realize that the majority of you are sick of school, the council and the administration. With your support - be your votes - I feel that I could provide a voice for what the student wants. Be realistic: Demand the Impossible.

For Arts Rep

Gary Wells

This year I am running for the position of Arts Rep. Being in three major activities at home I feel that I could help to involve the Arts students in the activities of the council. The ways to accomplish anything is to communicate and this would be one area I would work in. Being an old and willing hack to work I think my personality is suited for the job. To be frank I feel as alienated as most of the students but what is different is that I will get involved in what I feel is right. Hopefully this will help me and you and this is the thing that is most important for me and you.

For Arts Rep

Tom Mclellan

Involvement is a most important part of one's education if it is to be of any value. In my first year of a B.A.Sc. degree course, I have tried to become involved in my faculty in a number of ways. I have enjoyed membership in the E.I.E.I.O. band, an organization exemplary of the spirit of engineers as a whole, and served on the student section of the impeccabable journal, The Essays. I have contributed to the success of such campus activities as Homecoming, during which I have seen the fruits of intrashool cooperation. Outside of my own faculty, I have been involved with campus politics in some respect for the past two years, with the campus F.C. club, in which I currently hold office. I feel that I am able to represent the engineering viewpoint, while being in a position to preclude the more general picture on campus.

For Vice-President

Walter Rutherford

For Vice-President

My motives for running for Vice-President are not clear at this time, even to myself. A large part of my decision to run is the realization which I have come to be the only candidate for the position. I feel that in order to be a good candidate, the position of Vice-President must be clear. I feel that in order to be a good candidate, the position of Vice-President must be clear. The single most important part of the position of Vice-President is to select the person who will be the most effective student leader. I am presently a member of the university, which I have seen the fruits of intrashool cooperation. Outside of my own faculty, I have been involved with campus politics in some respect for the past two years, with the campus F.C. club, in which I currently hold office. I feel that I am able to represent the engineering viewpoint, while being in a position to preclude the more general picture on campus.

For Vice-President

(Write in)
MAHAVISHNU ORCHESTRA - LIVE - Between Nothingness and Eternity - Columbia - KC 32756

The Mahavishnu Orchestra featuring John McLaughlin on guitar, Jan Hammer on piano and Moog, Jerry Goodman on violin, Rick Laird on bass and Billy Cobham on drums have become the Mahavishnu Orchestra's stock and trade. They are recognized worldwide for their excitement and inventiveness that has won them a strong following among rock and jazz fans. McLaughlin's experience with Carlos Santana for origins of "decadence". I talked about the Velvets, Lou Reed's history of deviance and the MC5, legendary dinosaurs of glitter. This album has screaming guitar as only McLaughlin, Billy Cobham on drums and John Prakash, roots deep in the old R & B mainline. Dick Wagner, formerly of Detroit's own Frost sparkles on guitar. And Lou Reed sings. In that curiously rich, white-style voice of his, Lou spits out Sweet Jane, Heroin, White Heat, White Light, Lady Day and Rock 'n Roll. That's all. Just five songs, but nice looting songs. Recorded live at the Academy of Music in New York City.

If you're a Lou Reed fan already, you don't need to know much more. If you're not familiar with the lad, don't let the glitter scare you off. This album is as smooth and hot as a molten gold ennema.

This easily surpasses McLaughlin's previous album with Carlos Santana for origin, who has become the Mahavishnu Orchestra's stock and trade.

LOU REED - Rock 'n Roll Animal - RCA APL-10472

A good old friend of mine who lives on a farm asked me today what I thought of the Reed-Rivo-Dolls progression of "decadence". I talked about the Velvets, Lou Reed's history of deviance and the MC5, legendary dinosaurs of glitter. Then we listened to this album. Thankfully, it was dynamic. This album has most of what was good out of Toronto rock and roll, mainly the rhythm section of Mandala, Pentti Glan (Whitey) on drums and John Prakash, bass; gentlemen with their roots deep in the old R & B mainline. Dick Wagner, formerly of Detroit's own Frost would be the inclusion of "Light of Life", "Nothingness and Eternity" - CHESTRA - LIVE • Between Nothingness and Eternity • RCA APLJ-0472

A REALLY GREAT SELECTION OF CREPE SOLES IN MANY SUPER COLORS. PRICES FROM $12.99

BIRTHRIGHT ON CAMPUS

We offer an alternative to Abortion

252-5665

Mon. 2 — 9 Thurs, 1 — 1

HOW CREPE IS YOUR WORLD?

AVIATION SHOE SHOPPES

the Villager shoe shoppe

HOW CREPE IS YOUR WORLD?

A REALLY GREAT SELECTION OF CREPE SOLES IN MANY SUPER COLORS. PRICES FROM $12.99

Open Thursday and Friday Nights.

Master, Chargex and Credit Cards honored.

C.D.D. orders accepted.

in DEVONSHIRE

3100 Howard Ave.
Shoe Dept. in Le Chateau - 333 Ouellette Ave.

"Design and Word Trade Marks in Canada of the Villager Shoe Shoppe Ltd."

3rd Floor - Kales Building • 76 W Adams Avenue
Located on Grand Circus Park • Phone 313-0909

Free Parking — 145 W. Elizabeth
Hrs. 8 a.m. — 5:30
Bridge Toll reimbursed

BRYAN FERRY

The Pretty Boys are back. What it amounts to is another dose of R & B deja vu. Back when John Milner was still alive, Dick Clark presented a whole stable of wonder boys, laquered pompadors, tight nits, peppersmiles and limited ability. Instant teen idols were cropping up everywhere. Fabian, Bobby Rydell, Vince Edwards. Troy Shondell were names you could find on any eraser or pony tail pencil case. Of course today, a T shirt or a Tattoo will do the trick. David Essex has arrived on the scene with that same sort of hype-stuff star of the year, the biggest thing to happen to tin pan alley in days, etc. The single, Rock On is not that bad, even if it's a little late in happening. The album, is one of the worst ever, equalled only by Keith's 39 cent specials. What could really save it would be the inclusion of candid poses, autograph pictures, a list of likes and dislikes, and a dental record. David's smile will have to pick up the slack.

Bryan Ferry has the right idea. On the album cover, in front of a baby blue background, Bryan lightly suspends a dark eyebrow, his head tilted forward, his health salon muscles forming a healthy looking black undershirt. The
On Stage with Bruce Dinsmore

Whatever the state of the theatre in Windsor this time of year, the Drama Society can be counted on to bring in the unusual, the offbeat to change the pace. The latest endeavour is Gotryha. The show was written by a former student, Harry Prokshage.

In the course of events that take place, eight people arrive in a forest closing after killing some time in a local place. They play some childrens games and then they all fall into a deep induced by the "Tramp." The action in the second act shifts to a desert island. The "Tramp" is now addressed as "Captain." He has become the master of the ships of themselves; he is at helm of their life. At stake is the group's choice of life style. The "Captain" represents the footloose and fancy-free life, while his wife is the more "square" way to live. It all works out in the end; eight characters work out very well if you divide them by two.

Director Paul Weeks has taken a not-to-well known cast and moulded them into a very presentable show. Some fine singing and choreography blend with the acting to give Gotryha an overall pep that it sends to the watcher. The people on the "island" were a poet, Larrimores (Dass Bedard) who suffers from the fact that he has never met Helen of Troy. After reading some lkeawarm poetry of her own authorship, Anne (Jennifer Scully) convinces him that she will do instead, Huck (Art Branch) and Jeremy (Bob Scott) fight over Virginia.

The actors must be lit to be seen, thus, light design was done by Paul Court. The forest stage was designed by Rod Hiller.

The Walkerville Tartan Players produced Fanny for their show this year. To do a musical like this at a high school requires a lot of manpower and Walkerville pulled out all the stops. Fanny has 25 cast members, a chorus of 30 and a production crew of 15.

Fanny, herself is the daughter of the local fishstall keeper in the town of Morvella. She is in love with the son of a local tavern keeper. He also loves her, but he signs on a ship doing a scientific research of the ocean on the other side of the world. After he leaves, Fanny finds herself in a family way. The only unmarried male in sight is a seventy-year old sail maker-Panisse.

The acting is very well done. The characters were well developed, given the dual tasks of acting and singing. People of note are The Admiral (Jeff Genik), an old sea dog that hangs out on the waterfront. Honorine, (Nancy Hastings-Treau) Fanny's mother and Marius, (Peter Westlake) Fanny's fiancé. Two of the best actors on stage that night were Chris Bandy and David Savas, They played the parts of Panisse the 70 year old and Cesar, the local tavern keeper.

The play abounds in ironic humour. Anyone can get an enjoyable evening out of it. It will be running tonight until Sunday at the Walkerville S.S. Auditorium, 2100 Richmond Ave.

By gar, la me again. I'll bet you thought you'd seen the last of old Uncle Burger for the year. No such luck, mother. He's hungry, and he's got his dreams with take away cream dey and deep fried temptations.

February's winner of the old steak dinners was Sue Rose of Laurier Hall. But don't give up. There's March to go. Keep those recipes coming!!! Dave Carter and Karen Seigner, this means you.

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

THE REDEMETORIST PRIESTS
Gerry Petipas, C.S.S.R.
428 St. Germain Avenue, Toronto
3M 1W 7
(416) 466-9265

THE REDEMETORIST PRIESTS
Gerry Petipas, C.S.S.R.
428 St. Germain Avenue, Toronto
3M 1W 7
(416) 466-9265

---

Used Spaghetti
1 lb leftover spaghetti
1½ ground beef
Onions (This ingredient varies upon taste and sensual depravity)
1 2½-3 oz. can of tomatoes (Essex County Red)
1 more can of tomato sauce
1 clove garlic or lots of garlic salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 heaping tablespoon of brown sugar
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon pepper or but not and 2 teaspoons of chili powder
1 lb. Edam cheese

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.

---

Today's recipe comes from Sarria and the desk of former Lance staffer and yearbook editor, Ray Marentette. Raymondo is currently Lance Sarria Bureau Chief and moonlights as a Point Pelee sandsucker.
Enraged drama student

Dear Lance Editor,

I was quite interested to read your eleven little temper fits directed at Dr. Quittenton in this week's Lance. In the interests of fair play and, in order to give your busy little fingers something to do above the blankets, I've decided to send you something over which to become petulant. I am confident that you will butcher my letter as well as you did Dr. Q.'s.

First of all, when one accuses oneself up as the friend of the working masses, those downtrodden souls, "slaving their guts out on an assembly line!" - sure!, one really shouldn't set about ridiculing the students of another educational institution as mere "grist for the industrial mill". Nor should one ridicule someone for the tongue, one of the most beautiful and powerful of languages, to the industrial mill". Nor should one ridicule someone for the ignorance of his/her own ignorance. In this way, you have classified our university to do with the relative merits of different jobs of work. You see, that's the first rule of good debating; address yourself to the question at hand and avoid mudslinging.

Secondly, I would like to defend Dr. Quittenton's ideas on the subject of the Lance. It is a filthy rag devoid of not only principle - which we demand to be preserved down for being a high school student, but I think a university be. Neither, I must hand it to him: at least his comments are now comprehensible however trivial they might be.

Thirdly, on the subject of language, I fail to see how words such as "f-k" and "s-t" and "c-r" in any way refine the Lance in terms of artistic merit or how they make it at all revolutionary. The only thing you have succeeded in doing is tearing our native tongue, one of the most beautiful and powerful of languages, to ignominious shreds. In this way, you have classified our university not as an institution of learning; not as a true training ground for our religions or our sensibilities or both offended in 2 or 3 places.

We are treated to another dose of communist propaganda with nothing but Grant Cook's raving about the plight of the growingth to balance it.

Then, of course, Bruce Dziunare, who is a grade twelve student at Vincent Massey, enlightened us all on the subject of his high school's latest dramatic feat. I am curious: when are you going to print 8 x 10 glossies of all the area teams queens? I do not put him down for being a high school student, but I think a university journal has weightier matters with which to deal. I would also question the validity of the majority of his comments on any dramatic spectacle. But then, I really must hand it to him: at least his articles are now comprehensible however trivial they might be.

Douglas Perry
B.F.A. Drama 1

Ed. Note: We would point out that Bruce is in the process of writing a play that you could review.

Another Lance contest. Guess the exact time and the chance to sell the Lance door to door.

NOW IS THE TIME TO DO YOUR HAIR A FAVOUR... TRY ONE OF OUR NEW GREAT HAIRCUTS.

SIX STYLISTS TO SERVE YOU.

COME IN OR CALL TODAY.

THE HAIRS END. 248 PELISSIER.

CONCERTS
MASONIC AUD (Det.)
Mar. 10: Hank Williams Jr. at 2 & 8 p.m.

FORD (Det.)
Mar. 10: Tenna Boys Chair tickets- $3.45 & $5.50.
Mar. 14: Lettermen tickets- $4.50, 5.50 & 6.50.

COBO (Det.)
Mar. 21: Seals and Crofts tickets- $6.50, 5.50 & 4.50.
Apr. 8: Johnny Winter tickets- $5.50 & 6.50.
Apr. 21: Conway Twitty and Loretta Lynn (2 shows) $6.50, 5.50.
Apr. 25: Grand Funk tickets- $5.50 & 6.50 (mail order only).

DANCE CONCERT
Mar. 8: Dance Concert by U of W Dancers with Modern, Jazz and Primitive Dancing in St. Denis Hall at 8 pm. Adm. 25c for students, 50c for public. Everyone welcome.

ARTS AND GIFTS
Now on display at the Det. Inst. of Arts Baroque Gallery, Michalangelo's Conversion of the Magdalen. thru April 9; Det. Inst. of Arts Contemporary Graphics: Recent Accessions for the Permanent Collection.
Mar. 8-Apr. 4: Fine Arts Faculty Exhibit in the Le Bel Bldg.
Running Mar. 10 thru the month of March the Fort Malden Guild of Arts and Crafts will present a one-man show by Phillipino artist Rolando Lampitoc, in the Gibson Gallery in Ambleside Hours: Sundays 2-5 p.m.
Mar. 27-June 2: Late Baroque art in Florence (1670-1743) at the Det. Inst. of Arts. Including paintings, sculptures, drawings, furniture and tapestries.
Treat: Call 254-6797 for Soft Corp.
Capitol: The Exercise.
Centre: Jeremiah Johnson.
Devonshire 1: American Graffiti, If: Don't Look Now.
Odeon: The Sting.
Palace: Cinderella Liberty.
Vanity: Serpico.
Twins Drive-In - East: Mothers, The Golden Box; West: The Naked Ape, Airport.
Windsor Drive-In: The Unfaithful Wife, Love Hunger, The Pink Pussy.

RADIO
CJOM fm (88.7) broadcasts quadruply on every Sat. mor., 10-11.
CBE (1550 am) M-F 9:13-12:00 This Country in the Morning, (info only): 3:30 Max Ferguson (unmentionable and irresponsible): 6:30 As It Happens (rated top notch)
WEDF: Sat. 5:00 p.m. Kaleidoscope-Jazz, from 50's and 60's, 12-00 mid.
Jazz Today - Repeat - 12 Midnight. Sunday, varied classical all day. Mon-Fri 9:00 a.m., All Things Considered - News and Features: 3:00 pm: Afternoon rap: 4:00 pm. Bombay Bicycle Club- Young woman comments on the scene. One Day Only: Mon. 8:00 pm. All Together Now-by and about women, 9:00 pm.

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT
Sat. Mar. 9: 8:00 pm-1:00 am. Assalam Audah Night of international flavour and dancing with the Panum band. Tickets at International Centre, 7-0 hall or Centre Desk, Adm. 2.00 or 3.00 per head, semi-formal or national dress.

FILM COURSE
Mar. 18 & 19: Making animated film Characters- 2 p.m., Silent films film- 5:30 pm.
Mar. 21: Filming animated film 9:12 am-1:44 pm.

YOUTH THEATRE
Mar. 9: The Firebird by Canadian puppet festivals from Toronto at the Det. Inst. Arts auditorium 11 am & 2 pm, tickets $1.50.
The Queers of New York

by Leo Orenstein

Pocket Books No. 78262

"The Queers of New York. Canadian fiction adds a new and needed limb to the literary male. Author Leo Orenstein, artist, television-producer-director and Ryerson professor captures the every side of gay New York while subtly introducing philosophical truths of profound and staggering depth. Interpersed with hard-hitting scenes of gangland murders, high stakes classic chases, sophisticated invert sleuths and the programa's heretofore unmentionable sex, one finds such pity of sensation on the human condition as "There's nothing like a woman to make you forget how lousy the rest of the world is." And "Try anything for women-when it comes to intuition they're just as perky as women."

Don't be misled by the sensational title. The literary will be positively raving over this book in a few months. Beat them to it and you'll be all the rage with the people who really care.

Canada's Fighting Pilots

by Edmund Cosgrove (Clark Irwin & Co., Ltd.)

The age of the combat pilot is over. It began in the skies over western Europe in W.II and ended over those same skies on V-E day, 1945. But for that brief period, a flicker of time, the world's imagination was held by the exploits of the gallant knights of the air. They fought a kind of warfare that seemed honest, even childlike, that somehow had escaped the mechanised slaughter of modern total warfare. However fanciful this concept, air war had a special quality that was felt most strongly by those who took part; those who flew the Spits and Camels, the Fokkers, the Spitfires, Hurricanes, Wellingtons, Messerschmitts, and all the rest. The part that hard to believe is that the 'allied' planes weren't all flown by Errol Flynn and John Wayne. Canadians were, and are now, considered to be among the best pilots ever to fly in time of war. Canada's Fighting Pets, by Edmund Cosgrove, tells their story in a book that is an interesting and enlightening historical report.

The Look of Eagles

by John T. Godfrey (Ballantine Books)

This book was designed for the aerial combat fan and war historian, an in-depth biography of John Godfrey, a pilot who joined the R.A.F. in 1941. As he wrote the book John Godfrey was dying of a terminal illness and in writing it he holds back very little emotional and private thought. His attention to detail often makes the aerial fighting passages more real than the reader might want them to be. Because the book begins and ends with the author's thoughts on his own death, it is rather depressing. But this seems to add even more depth to an already extremely well written book.

Odds on Love

by Maysie Greig

(Beagles Books)

"Odds on Love" ranks as your typical Harlequin romance. Maysie Greig has followed the worn-out plot of beautiful girl meets beautiful boy, loses beautiful boy, and after overcoming insurmountable odds, regains beautiful boy. The two main characters, Tania Maihilt and Tony Letheridge, are two of the most perfect people to have ever inhabited the earth. Tania comes off corny with her indescribable beauty and all too honourable actions. Tony is the usual he-man: handsome, daring and athletic. The story-line revolves around Tania's and Tony's efforts to surpass their intense dislike for one another and at the same time, figure out a means to overcome the problem of Tony's wife, Vina. Vina is one of those poor little rich girls, whose chief ambition and duty in life is following around after Tony trying to persuade him to marry her. Finally, after instituting a completely unorthodox plot to trap her man, which naturally succeeds, she achieves her goal. After a period of time, Vina is conveniently killed, thus leaving the road open to Tania to move in on Tony. Vina's death and subsequent will straighten out Tony's affairs, for the two remaining characters are able to retire to a life of ease and groovy love.

The Moon Maid

by Edgar Rice Burroughs

Edgar Rice Burroughs wrote in the tradition of H. Rider Haggard and Jules Verne in that he coupled high adventure with strict attention to the society, the people, the flora and fauna of the strange regions in which wandered his well-muscled heroes and beautiful helpless heroines. Adventures were always swashbuckling, swords were red with the blood of noble enemies run through in fair combat, and the landscape fairly weathed with obstacles eternally bent on making the love-life of the main characters as difficult as possible. Words that we don't understand today, such as house and chivalry, motivate the heroes to dizzy heights of derring-do. The heroines of these books are nowadays put down heavily for their fear of "a fair worse than death." The books are called "sick" and "sexist" because they contain violence instead of sex. This may be true (if you don't consider sex violent), because the "violence" is printed while the sex is implied.

The Single Chef's Cookbook

by Sandy Lesberg (Prentice Hall)

How to Make Love

by Ken Borden and Reuben Schafer

How To Etc.

by Ken Borden

"The Look of Eagles" by John and Marie Roberson (Prentice Hall)

Hi there, kids. Yes, it's me, you recognized my voice. It's old Uncle Burger, not in my usual Let's Eat spot but over here on the book review page. I'll bet you thought I was just another pretty teefly frying pan. To continue in my never ending quest for truth, justice and full belly, I thought I'd review some cookbooks that you college clowns might be able to use. While they will set you back more than the price of a steak, a good cookbook is worth its weight in clowns might be able to use. While they will set you back more than the price of a steak, a good cookbook is worth its weight in gold. The Single Chef's Cookbook is just that: a chaf's cookbook. There's none of your sloppy joes here. What there is, is some info on spices and herbs, some drink recipes and what looks like some first class recipes for things like 'Mignon's of tendorion, flared in bourbon with wild rice,' and 'Banana Flambe.' A low cost guide this isn't but as soon as I saw the number of recipes that included bourbon, I knew it couldn't be all bad.

The Casserole Cookbook

by John and Marie Roberson (Prentice Hall)

"The Look of Eagles" by John and Marie Roberson (Prentice Hall)

Hi there, kids. Yes, it's me, you recognized my voice. It's old Uncle Burger, not in my usual Let's Eat spot but over here on the book review page. I'll bet you thought I was just another pretty teefly frying pan. To continue in my never ending quest for truth, justice and full belly, I thought I'd review some cookbooks that you college clowns might be able to use. While they will set you back more than the price of a steak, a good cookbook is worth its weight in gold. The Single Chef's Cookbook is just that: a chaf's cookbook. There's none of your sloppy joes here. What there is, is some info on spices and herbs, some drink recipes and what looks like some first class recipes for things like 'Mignon's of tendorion, flared in bourbon with wild rice,' and 'Banana Flambe.' A low cost guide this isn't but as soon as I saw the number of recipes that included bourbon, I knew it couldn't be all bad.

The Look of Eagles

by John T. Godfrey (Ballantine Books)

This book was designed for the aerial combat fan and war historian, an in-depth biography of John Godfrey, a pilot who joined the R.A.F. in 1941. As he wrote the book John Godfrey was dying of a terminal illness and in writing it he holds back very little emotional and private thought. His attention to detail often makes the aerial fighting passages more real than the reader might want them to be. Because the book begins and ends with the author's thoughts on his own death, it is rather depressing. But this seems to add even more depth to an already extremely well written book.
Intramural news and standings

CO-ED BOWLING

Last Monday night the regular schedule came to a close, in the ‘Gutterboys’ and the ‘Chopsticks’ taking first place in their respective divisions.

High team game was bowled by the ‘Alley Cats’ at 7:34. The ‘Chopsticks’ took high team series rolling a 2061.

Ron Spina of ‘Buckies Buckaroos’ had the high men’s individual game with a 183 while Dan Houde’s 491 series captured him the Men’s Individual Series.

Georgia Irwin had her hottest night of the season, taking both the Women’s high individual game (175) and high series (410).

DIVISION A’

- Gutterboys: 20 4 0 24
- Blanch Beagles: 18 7 0 25
- Alley Cats: 7 8 17
- Pentagons: 14 2 0 16

Division B’

- Chopsticks: 10 5 2 17
- Law’T: 7 6 0 13
- Gutterbowlers: 5 6 9 16
- Rockets: 6 6 9 14

Playoffs (Mar 11)

- Buckies Buckaroos vs Gutterbowlers
- Alley Cats vs Tecumseh Hall
- Pansers vs Chopsticks
- Gutterbowlers vs Blackballs

INDIVIDUAL AVERAGES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Division</th>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Individual</th>
<th>L T Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>‘A’</td>
<td></td>
<td>Dan Beaulieu</td>
<td>14 2208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Graham McMillan</td>
<td>13 1997</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Miroslav Raheb</td>
<td>13 1997</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Ron Spina</td>
<td>13 1997</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Ian McMullan</td>
<td>13 1997</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>‘B’</td>
<td></td>
<td>Mary-Lea Buchanan</td>
<td>13 1620</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Karen Convolin</td>
<td>13 1896</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Debbie Travers</td>
<td>12 1487</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Sue Pellet</td>
<td>10 1082</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Georgina Irwin</td>
<td>10 1119</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SEASON HIGHS

Game—217 Jim Pourier (Tee Hall)
Series—579 Dan Beaulieu (Gut. Bys)
Team—2942 IPU
Team Series—2235 Gutterboys

MEN’S INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

DIVISION 1

- Chals: 15 0 0 15
- Beagles: 14 2 0 16
- Ducks: 7 5 2 14
- Law ‘A’: 10 2 9 11
- Rockets: 12 9 14
- Axies: 9 10 11
- Teachers: 10 10 11

- No Minis: 1 5 5
- Migs: 1 6 5/3
- Ties will be resolved on the basis of points for and against the teams involved.

DIVISION 2

- Halfracks: 4 0 8
- Popp’s Pimples: 4 0 8
- Dancing Dildos: 4 1 8
- Canteen of Canada: 4 1 8
- Minks: 2 3 4
- Law ‘B’: 4 2 6
- Motown: 1 6 2
- Buckwheats: 0 5 0

Team captains must make sure that all scores are handed in. — Peter Karluchock—Commissioner.

DIVISION 3

- Happy Hookers: 7 2 0 14
- Laponees: 6 0 0 12
- Beavers: 5 2 1 11
- Balls: 5 2 0 10
- Greg Globetroters: 4 4 0 8
- BMO: 3 4 1 7
- Ballhandlers: 3 4 0 6
- Puck Ups: 3 5 0 6
- PTK Raiders: 0 2

Playoffs will begin on March 11. If there are problems please call Edward Latwinski at 969-2942.

DIVISION 4

- 3 Stooges: 7 1 4
- Da Boys: 6 0 12
- MASH: 5 4 10
- Hawks: 5 4 10
- IPU: 5 4 10
- Lockducks: 4 5 8
- Engineers: 4 3 1 7
- Bouncers: 3 4 0 6
- Poop Shooters: 2 5 4

In division 4 it looks like there will be a tight race for those four playoff spots. Tom Wides and MASH, Ralph Caria and the Hawks, and Da Boys will be the most crucial of the game (9:45 in St. Denis Hall) between.

Teams will be notified as soon as possible with respect to playoff berths and the times and places of games.

JUDOKEN TAKE 4 METALS

Last Saturday, at the Hatahata Judo Club in Toronto, 3rd University hosted the 1974 OUA Judo Championships. In this year’s competition, the Lancer team, comprised of Larry Smith, Doug Woomar, Neil Sheppard, Sam Tan, Isaac Srebre, and Ashley Wiper, was eliminated in the first round of team competition by a very strong team from the University of Guelph. Team competition is open with no restrictions, while in individual competition, there is no restriction with respect to weight class or rank. This means that it is possible, as factually actual was the case in the Guelph-Windsor match, to have a 200 lb. black belt meet a 160 lb. yellow belt-belt classes in judo, from lowest to highest, is white, yellow, orange, green, blue, brown, and black.

In individual competition the teams faced much fare, for Lancers walking away with medals. In the very tough Yellow-Orange category (referring to belt color, not weight) competition, Doug Woomar took second, taking a silver medal. Neil Sheppard did likewise in the lightweight class of the same belt division.

Windsor’s best showing was in the Green-Blue middleweight category where team captain Ashley Wiper finished first, taking gold medal, and Larry Smith finished third, taking a bronze medal.

Maj. A.W. Linnell, Lancer Judo coach, has done an outstanding job this year and deserves many plaudits for his efforts.

Next action for the team will be at the annual University of Windsor Invitational Judo Tournament held at St. Denis Hall this Saturday. The competition is scheduled to begin at 10:00 noon.

THE WAC CORNER

Basketball season was completed last Tuesday, capped with a fine finish. A complete rundown of the season will be presented in next week’s Lance.

WAC would like to congratulate the winning team from Huron Hall for a fine effort, as well as commend the other teams for their enthusiastic participation. Thanks are due to Ricki and Anne (last names not given) whose organizational work helped the competition run so smoothly.

March has a number of activities which will be of interest to the women on this campus. Archery, ping-pong, volleyball, and a great car rally are on the agenda. WAC is certain that you will have a great time at these events and take a few hours off one night a week to relax and meet some new friends. We encourage you to keep in shape by coming out on Tuesday evenings at 7 p.m. and getting involved in your favourite sports.

Super Cuts By...

NOEL WILD

CUT - BLOW DRY - NEW STYLE REG. $15.00
NOW $8.00 TILL APRIL 1ST

Learn To Do Your Own Hair "Complimentary" Classes.
Taught on Mondays by Noel To All His Clients.

254-2431
The Men's Intramural program draws 1500

Men's intramural program draws 1500

The Men's Intramural Sports Program 1973-74 is approaching its conclusion, with the remaining activities now heading into playoffs competition.

The Director of the program, Professor Giuseppe Frass, feels that this has been the most successful season to date.

"I am very pleased with the way the Intramurals Program has gone this year. Without a doubt, it has been the biggest year of participation up to now and this is very encouraging to me."

A good deal of credit for the recent success of the Men's Intramurals Program must be attributed, feels Professor Frass, to the "equitable participation" factor.

Under this approach, players compete in every sport, with others of equal ability. Every player participates in a smple of preliminary games for the purpose of skill assessment by the sport's referees.

Thanks to this fairly accurate analysis, the inevitable discouraging mismatches that would result under the open system are eliminated. Divisions are drawn up based on relative levels of ability within each sport.

This is the reason players of all sports are welcome regardless of skill or experience. There is a place for everyone who wants to participate, and this season, more players than ever have become involved.

As participants become familiar with this system, it is encouraging to note, after one activity concludes they will sign up for another. And often, they bring a friend. Adds Prof. Frass:

"All are leagues are competitive. The biggest all were basketball, with 37 teams entered, hockey, with 24 teams, and dodge-ball which had 16 squads."

This season, over 1,500 men participated in 14 activities. That number does not include those who played more than one sport. Only two activities had to be cancelled due to lack of sufficient interest: speed swimming and the cycle race.

Certainly, credit and thanks should be given to Publicity-Liaison Officer Ian McMullan and staff for bringing to the public the standings, results and schedules throughout the year.

Their work made possible the Intramurals Results you've been reading in these pages all year.

And that's the truth!
The prospect of finding a job this summer appears to be bleak. Repercussions of the energy situation are being cited as a major factor. There seems to be many rumors around.

Let's see if we can't clear some of them up. According to John Clement, Manager of Public Relations at Chrysler of Canada, they hired 804 students last year, of which 474 were from the University of Windsor. Today Chrysler has over 2,000 workers on lay-off, all of whom have to be recalled before one student is hired. Part-time employment on Friday and Saturday have also been curtailed. All this because of declining car sales in the U.S. The situation at Ford is even bleaker although the company doesn't want their employees or future employees to know just how bleak. Last year Ford's hired over 500 students in Windsor. This year 1,290 workers are on lay-off, all have to be called back. The other big three, General Motors only hires 4 students in the summer and the students who were hired last year get preference. Here's some more figures to digest. The automotive industry in Windsor can be directly attributed last year to giving approximately 1,000 University of Windsor students a job. This figure includes related feeder plants also. There are approximately 2,000 male students who are potential summer employees. One thousand of you won't be working in the automotive industry this year. The situation for the 2,000 female students remains bleak also. Eighty-six per cent of all summer jobs are found in private industry. A lot of plants and businesses won't be taking on that five or six extra people this summer. Even industries not directly affected by Nixonomics are apprehensive about taking on any "extras" until the situation stabilizes.

So where does that leave you? Probably unemployed, but one shouldn't give up trying. If you worked last year and quit to return to school you became ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits. Now that you are a bona fide unemployed, why not try and collect last year's benefits? It seems worth a try.

There still are jobs available. Student Placement Office reports that both the provincial and federal governments are entering the student employment field on a larger scale than in the past. The various government levels were attributed with hiring 14 percent of the available students last year. Stop by the Placement Office and see what's available. Also handled at the placement office are some jobs for the private sector. Companies like Bell Canada and Chrysler hire through the Placement Office. Students should remember to apply early, like in the fall and when filling out applications be accurate and sincere.

Example of government jobs available are community oriented like public works, civilian customs officer or reserve training. Working for the government in Northern Ontario is nice. The federal government intends on spending over sixty-six million dollars to find over 46,000 students jobs this year. In 1973 the student work force number 1.2 million. If you can see that a large percentage of jobs have to be found in private industry, even the government admits this. If you are planning to return home this summer, unless you're from Iran or Saudi Arabia, the situation is equally depressing on a national basis.

Nonetheless, there still are jobs to be had. People are hiring students this summer. The City of Windsor is taking applications for employment. Bob-Lo Island hires students. The agricultural industry imports workers from the West Indies to work their fields, however, these jobs are not the most popular nor lucrative.

Much will depend on just how badly you need a job. Make sure you try all channels including the complaint channel to your M.P. Use the instructions available like the Student Placement Office, and Canada Mankpower. Apply early especially if you want a career oriented position. Fill out applications; at least they are possibilities. Watch the want ads. Most important is to ask your peers if they know any personnel managers or eccentric millionaries who want their dogs walked.

In short; the job opportunities appear bleak not only to students but everyone, so good luck!

THE THUMB IS THREATENED.

Student-Railpass.
Just about the cheapest way to see Europe outside of hitching.
Unlimited second-class rail travel in 13 countries. Two months only $165.
You buy your Student-Railpass here-you can't buy it in Europe. And the $165 price is tax free and a beautiful way to beat currency fluctuations. Who's eligible? Any full-time student under 26 years of age registered in a North American school, college or university.

You spend two whole months traveling practically the whole of Europe. And you travel in comfort. On trains so clean and so fast (up to 100 mph) you wouldn't believe it. Of course, you can also take out cozy little trains that meander through our remote countryside—that's part of the privilege, too.

It can mean the Summer trip of your life, so don't wait. See your friendly Travel Agent or clip the coupon and we'll send you all the facts.

See if you don't agree. The day of the thrumth may be over.

Ripping-off Europe? Student Railpass available from AOSC.
Association of Student Councils
44 St. George Street, Toronto 5, Ontario (416) 962-8404
Also available: student flights to Europe and within Europe, car rentals, international ID cards, tours, student hostels and jobs abroad.
Election results at a glance

PRESIDENT: Tim Doyle 780
David Rutherford 457

VICE PRESIDENT: Doug Phillips

SENATE: Gord Browning 553
John Desotti 552
Jeff Smith 824

COMMERCE REP.: Bruce Braithwaite 120
Michael Howard 119

SOCIAL WORK REP.: Darlene Humeniuk 27
Suzette Lemieux 30

With a surprise turnout near 2000, Tim Doyle was elected resident by a sizeable majority. Here seen shaking hands with acclaimed Vice-President usurper Doug Phillips.

I.S.O. draws crowd

by CHARLOTTE CLARK

The nations of the world met March 9 in Ambassador Auditorium at the International Students’ Night. Annually, the different campus ethnic clubs unite, under the sponsorship of the International Students’ Organization, to provide an evening of entertainment representative of the nations of the world.

Each club is responsible for a segment of the program and the audience was treated to activities ranging from belly dancers, from the Egyptian Club, to music played on a Chinese fiddle. Five year old Sita Vyas Verhar, representing the India-Canada Association, wore the classical Indian style.

The Pannis Steel Drum Band from the University of Guelph played music to dance by. This was the band’s second year of participation in the International Students’ Night. Acting as Master of Ceremonies was Rick Hamilton of CKLW-FM.

The International Students’ Organization is a non-political group which acts as an umbrella over all campus ethnic clubs. The executive of ISO is elected by and from the presidents of the clubs.

The International Students’ Night is the only function in which the clubs jointly participate. This year’s event was proclaimed a success by all who attended.

Philosophy lecture...

Self-knowledge impossible without God

by DENISE ANNE POUPARD

Monday night, in Assumption lounge, Dr. Kingston of this university’s Philosophy Department gave an in-depth lecture on personal integrity. The crowd, consisting mainly of non-students, listened attentively as Dr. Kingston discussed the importance of knowing oneself completely and learning to face our weaknesses. The “man of integrity” is a person who does what he or she thinks is right, despite the consequences, but who is humble enough to realize his conscience can err. By following the dictates of his own conscience, rather than those of society, he accepts responsibility for his own actions and gains the respect of others. Moral decisions are easier for the man of integrity as he has trained himself to follow what he views as right.

Dr. Kingston also discussed the effects of the philosophy department, especially Dr. Kingston, are to be commended for presenting such an enjoyable and stimulating lecture.

“Paradoxical Pithy Paraphrases”...

UNIVERSITY SINGERS
Richard Householder, Conductor
Spring Concert

The choir will break with tradition in its spring concert this by presenting a program without a featured major work. Included on the program will be sacred music ranging from Gregorian chants to pieces with prepared tape, and secular music by Copland, Barber, Norman Luboff, and others.

The sacred works encompass a wide variety of styles, from a one-movement cantata for chorus and brass instruments by J.S. Bach to a modern setting of the mass in a Latin-American idiom. The secular numbers range from a speaking chorus accompanied by percussion to a group of “Paradoxical Pithy Paraphrases for Unaccompanied Pchoir” entitled Much Ado About Nothing. Student scholars will be featured along with students and faculty playing a wide variety of accompanying instruments.

The 39 members of the University Singers have spent many hours in preparation for the concert, adhering to strict attendance requirements for the five rehearsals each week. In addition to music majors, there are members from such widely diverse areas as Law, Physics, and Religious Studies. The choir is adding another dimension to its activities this year by taking a three day tour of concerts for area high schools.

Conductor of the choir is Richard Householder, Assistant Professor of Music, and accompanists are Allison Caird of Windsor and D’Anne Hall of Detroit.

The concert will be held in Assumption Church, Huron Lin and University Avenue, March 17th at 3:00 p.m.
Computer riff

(CPS—Computer)

— Students using the computer centre at the University of Akron may no longer be able to use obscene language in giving instructions to the computer. The Computer centre director, John Hirschbuhl said the computer has been programmed to demand an apology if certain letter words are used. If the student refuses to apologize, said Hirschbuhl, the computer will turn itself off.

Women

(CPS—Computer)

— The American brokerage firm of Merrill Lynch has a test it gives to potential account executives, and one question

Killer Slim attacks New York

NEW YORK EA (environmental activism)

(CPS—Computer)

— There could be a great science fiction film for an enterprising director—a horrifying muck trail reaching from one end of the United States to the other. The muck is the proud product of New York City and nearby New Jersey municipalities that dump organic and inorganic residues from sewage plants into the ocean 10 miles off the coast.

An estimated 500 million cubic yards of sewage is dumped by barges yearly.

S.A.C. Gazette Swan Song

with Al Pavan

NATIONAL ARTS CENTRE ORCHESTRA OF CANADA

MARIO BERNARDI, conductitng

Geoff Auditorium, Windsor, Thurs. Swinging, March 21, 9:00 E.S.T.

Dowland: Consort Songs, Nos. 22, 23, 24, 25, 26; sets of 3, 4, 5, 6; Haer: “Tripe Concerto”; Mozart: “Piano Concerto, No. 13 in C, K.415”, with Ivo Pizer, piano; Hans goldenberg, conductor; Canadian Broadcasting Orchestra; series, Rm. 107, at Assumption U.; Cleary Audit.,

3 mins. from Campus

AUTO FIRE LIFE

Students can qualify for up to 35% Discount

On Car Ins. Rates.

PREFERRED RATES FOR ALL GOOD DRIVERS.

1603 UNIVERSITY WEST

254-5101

NATIONAL ARTS CENTRE ORCHESTRA OF CANADA

MARIO BERNARDI, CONDUCTING

Geoff Auditorium, Windsor, Thurs. Swinging, March 21, 9:00 E.S.T.

Dowland: Consort Songs, Nos. 22, 23, 24, 25, 26; sets of 3, 4, 5, 6; Haer: “Tripe Concerto”; Mozart: “Piano Concerto, No. 13 in C, K.415”, with Ivo Pizer, piano; Hans goldenberg, conductor; Canadian Broadcasting Orchestra; series, Rm. 107, at Assumption U.; Cleary Audit., 7:00, P.M. Thurs.

9:00 AM to 5:00 P.M.

Tuesday to Friday

Where will you live next fall?

Off-Campus Housing Office is open

Come in and see us

9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.

9:00 to 11:00

NEED MORE BREAD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised plasma program needs qualified donors now. New donors can sign up for plasma this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit).

Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM

Michigan Community Blood Center

3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit

½ block south of Medical Center

Phone 833-5539

73-HC-20

NEED MORE BREAD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised plasma program needs qualified donors now. New donors can sign up for plasma this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit).

Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM

Michigan Community Blood Center

3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit

½ block south of Medical Center

Phone 833-5539

73-HC-20

NEED MORE BREAD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised plasma program needs qualified donors now. New donors can sign up for plasma this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit).

Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM

Michigan Community Blood Center

3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit

½ block south of Medical Center

Phone 833-5539

73-HC-20

NEED MORE BREAD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised plasma program needs qualified donors now. New donors can sign up for plasma this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit).

Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM

Michigan Community Blood Center

3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit

½ block south of Medical Center

Phone 833-5539

73-HC-20

NEED MORE BREAD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised plasma program needs qualified donors now. New donors can sign up for plasma this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit).

Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM

Michigan Community Blood Center

3456 Woodward Avenue, Detroit

½ block south of Medical Center

Phone 833-5539

73-HC-20

NEED MORE BREAD?

PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER $100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised plasma program needs qualified donors now. New donors can sign up for plasma this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit).

Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.
classifieds

A new service is available to students on campus. Whitlock Travel has opened a branch office on campus, located in the University Bookstore. Managed by Greg Horsburgh, the agency offers all the usual travel services, air, rail, and steamship bookings, tours, and hotel and motel accommodation anywhere in the known world. According to Horsburgh, students seem to be under the impression that they have to pay for the agency's services but this is not the case. "Most services are gratis to students and we will be offering tours at break times," Horsburgh stated.

University gets travel service

Let's Fly! Weekend sight-seeing tours for up to 5 people.

RESERVATIONS:
969-4740.
Ask for Nancy.

In your own way.

In your own time.

On your own terms.

You'll take to the taste of Player's Filter.

A taste you can call your own.

Warning: The Department of National Health and Welfare advises that danger to health increases with amount smoked.
From the editor’s notebook

Spring does funny things to people. As Sarge puts it: “all the pressure, social and academic, builds up and then the nice weather comes and people start doing the wackiest things”. Some springs have seen large quantities of wine consumed “on the quad” as our colleagues say and this year it seems to be that time-honoured pastime of baring one’s body to get some sort of reaction from the curious, or ‘streaking’ as the media has termed it.

I was in Toronto over Christmas and I walked into a novelty store to see if I could pick up one of those plastic Groucho glasses—mustache—nose combinations. They were all out. What they had was an amazing number of plastic penises, plastic breasts, and vibrators. There seems to be some sort of bizarre plastic sex trip going on that the petroleum shortage has not touched.

I’m not sure what this has to do with streaking, if anything. This streaking phenomenon seems to have come north as the weather improved and last week the university was treated to a rare display of naked male flesh zooming around the east corner of Dylan Hall, running in front of the Centre and then disappearing up around Essex Hall. As soon as Essex is mentioned one automatically thinks of the engineers (those sly devils). Whether it was them or not remains a moot point.

Someone called the Lance and told us it was going to happen and it did, right on schedule. Your editor was out there, naturally, and it was hard to believe at first but there he was, also naturally. I don’t think it would have made much difference as to sex, it was more weird than anything else. Perhaps this would be the time to ask the University for a sunbathing license like they have at T.B.C. Imagine a nice hot day in May and 2 or 3 hundred of us lolling around behind Essex Hall in the nude. Like vegetables, it would be healthier and less furtive and much more relaxing. Carruthers has been streaking for years and no one paid any attention. The only effect of this craze (besides indicating the imminent demise of Western civilization) will be a big run on ski masks.

It Pays to Advertise in The Lance

Philosophical Tidbit of the Week

“All the world’s a prop.”

R.J. Bernard

Question:

“What do you think of the streakers?”

MARY BRUSH - IV Commerce

I Love them!

by

Matt Beasley and George Gawadzyn

SANDRA JENKINS - III Law

I haven’t seen them so I don’t know.

CAROL STONE MAN - II Nursing

It should be a prerequisite for all nursing students.

ROSEMARY MOUSSEAU - II Arts

If they want to do it, okay.

NANCY HALL - I Soc. Work

GREAT!!!

GREG HORSBURGH - I Agency Tourism

In numbers, we’re not well enough represented on campus.

NINA FOX - III Calculus

I think they’re funny; just is.

MARY BRUSH - IV Commerce

I Love them!

by

Matt Beasley and George Gawadzyn

CAROL STONE MAN - II Nursing

It should be a prerequisite for all nursing students.

ROSEMARY MOUSSEAU - II Arts

If they want to do it, okay.
Sidney

Mr. Wallace:

Yes, you communistic order! You must leave alone our campus rep. Mr. Cook has told you the idealistic philosophical area of being a middle of the intellectual. Your radicalism really totally contradicts the basic meaning of political crap.

Regards from adding any of your Stalinist propaganda on our student body. Remember in Katyn Ward.

For the Society of Historians, Interelectoral, Trotskyite and Alienated Women, Sidney Indig

4 year nausica

Gus Gonekno — Mr. Wallace

waits your job.

Editors Note: We would want out that Louis Marx is on direct orders from Prague.

Marty

Lame, I think singamps' flyin' in is a good reason. Last week I was checking out the motor in my car, and I found that I had al time over the engine job. And all was quiet. Within two days, the sound switch on the starter died. A phaser burned was responsible for developing some rays, while I sweated it out in Vegas with a luscious weepy redhead. Ah, well, he was the boss.

She looked a little bored so I asked, "Why did your ex-husband pick up Big Marvin's mold? Doesn't he know that certain mean death?"

She looked surprised. "Why, Big Marvin said he wouldn't hurt her."

"That only means he won't kill her more than once."

I had to admire her. Most chicks these days are very fuzzy-headed, but this one was different. One could somehow sense a discerning vision that picks up the fine points and puts them in perspective. Every now and then, every article of clothing was right. Too right, I sneered.

The man next to me was drawing hoists on a coaster. He slid his work over to me. On the back it was written Lamont Cranston. Now everyone knew that Moons Cranston is just outside L.A., near Malibu, but what did it mean?

"Let's get out of town," I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pits." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"Let's get out of town" I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.

"La Brea tar pins." I suggested. "Where to?" she inquired brightly.
The Ontario government is getting into the transit industry and in a big way. The premier, Mr. Davis announced on Nov. 22, 1972, that the province was willing to invest over 1.3 billion dollars over the next 10 years. He stated that if the purchase of this system or for many other improvements to mass transit. Three Systems Considered

This was the announcement of our cities due to the automobile, mass transit proposals and the opportunities that were there. The Ontario was one of the first major governments to emphasize a new outlook on transportation problems, interested in making the transit system available of all shapes and sizes. The Ontario government is getting into the transit industry in a big way.

The premier, Mr. Davis announced on Nov. 22, 1972, that the province was willing to invest over 1.3 billion dollars over the next 10 years. He stated that if the purchase of this system or for many other improvements to mass transit. Three Systems Considered

This was the announcement of our cities due to the automobile, mass transit proposals and the opportunities that were there. The Ontario was one of the first major governments to emphasize a new outlook on transportation problems, interested in making the transit system available of all shapes and sizes. The Ontario government is getting into the transit industry in a big way.

Three Systems Considered

The province was looking for an alternative to the high cost ($25 to $35 million per mile) high capacity (40,000 passengers per hour) subway and the existing high cost, low capacity (60,000 passengers per hour) bus. They found a number of intermediate capacity systems available, including one which would carry between 10,000 and 20,000 passengers per hour and cost, in their estimate, between $15 and $17 million per mile. They also found that, "Avro” type cars, are free, safe, comfortable, and offered a pleasing view of the city to the people. A system like this has been chosen and within a decade a new form of mass transit will be operating in Ontario.

Magnetic Hazards?

The first would have to deal with the danger to humans posed by exposure to a more intense than normal magnetic field. A study of the field of urban transit, commissioned by the Canadian federal government, entitled, "Guided Ground Transportation" (1972) stated: "Scientific interest in biological effects of magnetic fields has developed in recent decades." Of the many literature available they cited a study called "Biological Effects of Magnetic Fields, M.F. Bar toithy (ed.)." "This book appears to be the best source on the subject which is addressed.

This study broke the effects of magnetic fields into three groups, normal reactions to the earth's field, sickness which were more abnormal and finally genetic effects.

Normal and Stress Effects

Of the first group they gave the example of migratory birds changing their direction from the earth's magnetic field. "The effects were of a much different quality. They state "In the second group, which we call the stress group, belong those effects which are caused by the many physical and chemical factors which according to physical laws could occur in every biological system subject to a static magnetic field. The cumulative physical and chemical characteristics developed in the magnetic field tend to disturb the normal functioning of the organism, requiring a new adaptation by which the organism has to adapt and will respond with some kind of compensatory measures.

The stress caused by the magnetic field can produce effects similar to other stress factors such as cold stress, disease stress, etc. The stress effect of the magnetic field like other stress effects may appear after a few hours, days, or weeks of exposure to the field. The exposure to the magnetic field may be attenuated (weakened) if the specimen is moved to a field of a lower intensity, or if changes are made in the direction of the field or gradient vector. This attenuation is unexpected, because the overwhelming majority of the cumulative effects of the magnetic field are reversible effects.

In this state of growth and new transit systems, it is the opinion of the authors, the retardation of growth of young mice, rejection of transplants, radiation changes, retardation of wound healing and tissue regeneration, in our opinion, the retardation of growth of young mice, rejection of transplants, radiation changes, retardation of wound healing and tissue regeneration, in our opinion, the retardation of growth of young mice, rejection of transplants, radiation changes, retardation of wound healing and tissue regeneration, in our opinion, the retardation of growth of young mice, rejection of transplants, radiation changes, retardation of wound healing and tissue regeneration, in our opinion, the retardation of growth of young mice, rejection of transplants, radiation changes, retardation of wound healing and tissue regeneration.

Irregularities of Selection

Considering the government's concern for safety it is incongruous that they were indeed offered a system ranging between $2 and $4 million, and paid little attention. When much of the preliminary thinking was being done, Mr. Peter Babington of Windsor, Ontario, owner of the Canadian rights to a new system called Insta Glide, tried to no avail to contact the proper provincial authorities in Toronto. The Insta Glide system he proposed between $2 and $4 million. Finally with the help of one provincial M.F. Fred Burr and local contacts Barbara Kerr, he got a chance to meet with Mavis Collin Transportation and Communications, George Carton and his aides on March 30, 1973. A meeting, after Mr. Babington made his presentation and as discussion was to begin, Mr. Carton was off to more pressing business. The discussion that day was hurried and inconclusive although the company agreed to send a group down to Washtin Michigan to study the working model and technical details. That was all Mr. Babington had in mind and if they did send some one, they did it without his knowledge.

Mr. Babington also offered, at this time and a early as Oct. 1972, to set up a prototype at the CNE for free and charge fares every hour. With this he offered to establish a trust fund which a system after all was unsatisfactory in any way. Both the Minister and the CNE director turned him on its Insta Glide

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are telephone wires could be run in a hollow space in the center of the guideway, hiding them from view, if it were decided to run the lines along the already city owned rights of way where these wires run at present. Due to the cars lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are telephone wires could be run in a hollow space in the center of the guideway, hiding them from view, if it were decided to run the lines along the already city owned rights of way where these wires run at present. Due to the cars lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.

The Insta Glide vehicles like most new monorails run on quiet, pollution free, electric motors. The main difference being that since the cars are lightweight, there would be little wear on the guideway.
"FEATURE ALBUM OF THE WEEK"

MILES DAVIS — A Tribute To Jack Johnson
Columbia KC30455

In 1908 Jack Johnson became the first black man to win the heavyweight crown, and the envy and threat and taunts that came his way after required a man of great courage to defend himself; Johnson portrayed freedom and courage as much as physical ability.

In this album Miles Davis pays tribute to this man, with two sides of superb music as only Miles can offer. With Davis on this album are Steve Grossman on saxophone, Billy Cobham on drums, Michael Henderson on bass and supreme guitarist John McLaughlin. These musicians team to astound the listener with technically perfect and esthetically beautiful music. The beats move rapidly throughout with tempo changes coming at the most unsuspected times. The blend of instruments and the tone each instrument has, from McLaughlin's terminal guitar to Davis's mellow and unique trumpet, the power to create a feeling of the struggle and victory that were part of Jack Johnson's life and death in a fast car in 1946 at the age of 68. A Tribute to Jack Johnson is one of those albums that become collectors items from the moment they appear. This record first appeared in 1967, and already it has come to be regarded as a Miles Davis classic.

YES — Tales From Topographic Oceans — Atlantic SD 2-908

Yes have more talent in their little hands than most groups have in their entire lines, and Tales From Topographic Oceans, their seventh album, is surely a case in point. Far from your run-of-the-mill five-man rock ensemble, Yes have the unique ability of being able to integrate the complexities of western classical and jazz musical techniques with the subtleties of the eastern religious experience. The result is a curious blend of Bach, Brubeck and Buddha, captured in a vinyl framework. Since Close To The Edge, their previous endeavor, the only significant change in the group's lineup has occurred in the area of percussion where Chris Squire's throbbing bass lines and Alan White's economical drumming, Jon Anderson's lilting falsetto in harmony with Howe's break­

CABARET PUB

PRESENTS

"HOMESPUN"
March 15 — 16, 1974

"MEADOWS"
March 18 — 23, 1974

Students 50c
Guests $1.00

Les Menear

PAGE EIGHT (331) — THE LANCE — MARCH 15, 1974

At some moment I did answer yes to Someone or Something, and at that hour I was certain that existence is meaningful and that my life in self-surrender had a goal. — Dag Hammarskjöld

Please send me a copy of your 16-page photo essay describing the life of the Christian Brothers.

Name
Address
Mail to: Brother George Morgan, F.S.C.
5 Avonwick Gate
Don Mills, Ontario M3A 2M5

Bill Thorehill’s
STEREO PLACE
Sony, Pioneer, Toshiba
Complete Stereo Systems
FROM $199.95
125 OUELLETTE AVE.  PHONE 254-3555

11

SOLE MATES

SHOP "THE FOOT SHOP" AT RANDOLPH & WYANDOTTE WEST,
AND YOU’LL SAVE ‘HEAVY BREAD’
WITH A STUDENT DISCOUNT!!

THE SHOE BAR
CORNER WYANDOTTE WEST AT RANDOLPH

At some moment I did answer yes to Someone or Something, and at that hour I was certain that existence is meaningful and that my life in self-surrender had a goal. — Dag Hammarskjöld

Please send me a copy of your 16-page photo essay describing the life of the Christian Brothers.

Name
Address
Mail to: Brother George Morgan, F.S.C.
5 Avonwick Gate
Don Mills, Ontario M3A 2M5

Bill Thorehill’s
STEREO PLACE
Sony, Pioneer, Toshiba
Complete Stereo Systems
FROM $199.95
125 OUELLETTE AVE.  PHONE 254-3555

11

SOLE MATES

SHOP "THE FOOT SHOP" AT RANDOLPH & WYANDOTTE WEST,
AND YOU’LL SAVE ‘HEAVY BREAD’
WITH A STUDENT DISCOUNT!!

THE SHOE BAR
CORNER WYANDOTTE WEST AT RANDOLPH
Fun City Fiesta of Events

CONCERTS
- C290 (Det.)
  - Mar. 21: Seals and Crofts tickets $6.50, 5:30 & 8:00.
  - Apr. 8: Johnny Winter tickets $5.50 & 6:00.
  - Apr. 21: Conway Twitty and Loretta Lynn (1 show sold out), 5, & 8.
  - Apr. 25: Grand Funk tickets $5.50 & 6:00 (mail order only).

ARTS AND GIFTS
- Now on display at the Det. Inst. of Arts Baroque Gallery, Michaelangelo’s The Conversion of the Magdalen.
- Mar. 5-Apr. 4: Fine Arts Faculty Exhibit in the Le Bel Blvd.
- Running Mar. 10 thru the month of March the Fort Malden Guild of Arts and Crafts will present a one-man show by Philippiano artist Rolando Lampier, in the Gibson Gallery in Amherstburg. Hours: Sundays 2-5 pm.
- Mar. 27-June 2: Late Baroque art in Florence (1670-1743) at the Det. Inst. of Arts. Including paintings, sculptures, drawings, furniture and tapestries.

CINEMA
- Tivoli: Call 254-8797 for Soft Porn.
- Capitol: The Exorcist.
- Centre: Jeremiah Johnson.
- Devonshire I: American Graffiti; II: Don’t have to marry a bridge, we can at least have them with their heads screwed on right,” she said.

RAIDO
- CJOM fm 88.7 FM: We would appreciate your help.
- Windsor Drive-In: Pleasure of a Bath; Contract; The Family.
- Devonshire I: American Graffiti; II: Don’t have to marry a bridge, we can at least have them with their heads screwed on right,” she said.

MEETINGS AND LECTURES
- Problems? Discuss them with Joel Verbin of the Jewish Community Centre, Mondays between 2-3. (Please check for correct day & time with Jewish Community Centre ad).
- Mar. 20: Mr. Habermas of WJR radio with topic “Aloneness and Speaking” will speak about the selling of Detroit Tigers’ and Lions’ games on radio in the Faculty Lounge at 8:30 pm presented by the Student Marketing Club, Cash Bar. All invited.

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING
Do you know of available housing for students? We particularly need accommodations for married students and students with children. Please call 252-4232, ext. 668, or drop in and see us. We would appreciate your help.

LAUGH ALL THE WAY TO THE BLOOD BANK.

DETROIT BIOLOGICALS, INC.
Serving Kent for over 60 years.
Located on Grand Circus Park • Phone 363-2680
Free Parking — 145 W. Elizabeth
Hrs. 8 a.m. — 5:30
Bridge Toll reimbursed
From the Sports Desk

Since it has been decided that next week's edition of the Lance is to be zany, funny, and satirical (as if it hasn't been funny enough all year) I guess this is my last chance to thank some of the people around here who have made sports coverage possible (the ads man permitting).

This department has operated on the principle that the people of this university get the kind of paper they deserve. Not one person came into this office this year to volunteer his (or her) services as a full time sports reporter this year that followed up with any action. I had to plead with John McAllister, who is working a full time job this year, to return to the Lance and bring you his excellent and knowledgeable coverage of football and basketball. Certain others, to whom I am grateful, volunteered to do what they could to cover certain events. They include Rick Wiley, John Fazekas, Pat Brode, Nancy Kremers, the members of the curling team, and others who turned in unsigned articles. As always the entire Faculty of Physical and Health Education came through with cooperation when it came to the crunch — too bad there are more names than the ads man left us room to mention. Special thanks to J.P. Squire for photo coverage. Goodbye.

---

What in God's name are you doing?

Some guys can go pelting down the Road of Life like an arrow. They never hesitate, never swerve, never even slow down.

But the rest of us get gnawed by these funny little questions. They come, unasked for, uninvited and usually about two o'clock in the morning. They can stop you cold in your tracks. Samples: Is this all there is? If everything's working out for me, why am I bugged? What in God's name am I doing anyway?

If they persist, if they make you feel like some dim-wit robot programmed by someone else, maybe you should bless the questions, take advantage of the time-out, and think. If you're asking yourself what in God's name you're doing, why not think about doing something in God's name? That's right, a priest.

A Redemptorist.

It's an extraordinary life for the right man. Ask us about it. Phone or write:

THE REDEMPTORIST PRIESTS

Gerry Pettipas, C.S.S.R.,
426 St. Germain Avenue, Toronto
M5M 1W7
(416) 466-9265

And that's the truth!
SPORT

Intramural news and standings

CO-ED BOWLING

Buckies Buckaroon knocked off the Gutter Boys 16 game winning streak on Monday night and went on to win the quarter-final series 2 games to 1. Mary-Lea Barth led the way for the Buckaroon, rolling games of 139, 142 and 148 for a 439 series.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>G1</th>
<th>G2</th>
<th>G3</th>
<th>Total</th>
<th>Handicap</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Buckaroon</td>
<td>28</td>
<td>139</td>
<td>142</td>
<td>663</td>
<td>644</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mary-Lea Barth</td>
<td>139</td>
<td>142</td>
<td>148</td>
<td>689</td>
<td>644</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Gutter Boys

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>G1</th>
<th>G2</th>
<th>G3</th>
<th>Total</th>
<th>Handicap</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gutter Boys</td>
<td>21</td>
<td>139</td>
<td>142</td>
<td>511</td>
<td>644</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Intramural news

WINTER SPORTS

W.L.T.Pts

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Legal Beagles</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>46.6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Luckducks</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>48.6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M.A.S.H.</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>48.3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PickUps</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B.M.O.C.</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Happy Hookers</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

HOCKEY STANDINGS

Division 1 Final Standings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Chalobees</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>50.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dolls</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>48.6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rockets</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No Minds</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>50.1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meichephalies</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>32.7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Division 4 Final Standings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>PickUps</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>18</td>
<td>50.1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MASH</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>48.8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No Minded</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No Minds</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>50.1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meichephalies</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>32.7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tennis

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>STOOGES</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>22</td>
<td>75.4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gutter Bowlers</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>75.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blackballs</td>
<td>12</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>75.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

BASEBALL

Division 4 B-ball Playoffs

DA BOYS

- MARCH 18 7:00
- 1 PROMISS U
- MARCH 14
- HAWKS
- MARCH 14
- 3 STOOGES
- MARCH 18 8:30
- MASH
- MARCH 2
- ALL GAMES AT ST. DENIS

Judo team dominates invitational

by JOHN McALLISTER

At the University of Windsor Invitational Judo Tournament Saturday, the University Club dominated the competition winning five gold medals and half a dozen titles.

SOUTHERN COMFORT

it's only the way to travel.

Join the fun on the S.S. Southern Comfort. The party begins off any night and the only baggage you need is some Southern Comfort, and mix.

See you on the levee

Arrivals from the South:

Stooges

- 354
- 476
- 2546

Pennywise

- 501
- 566
- 768

PARTY NO. 1

- Comfort + Co.
- Comfort and Toic
- Comfort Quips, etc.
Got the T-4 blues? Ask the tax man

Revenue Canada, Taxation is doing everything within its power to ensure that taxpayers' refunds will reach them at the earliest opportunity, said Revenue Minister Robert Stanbury today.

Mr. Stanbury said it is Government policy to see that taxpayers receive refund cheques at the earliest possible date. At the same time, care must be taken to check tax returns carefully both to ensure that taxpayers are taking advantage of any benefits due to them under the law, and to guard against incorrect reporting of income and abuse of the law. Delays in payment of refunds are usually the result of relatively minor omissions or errors in completing returns, said Mr. Stanbury.

Mr. Stanbury explained that if the public understood the route their returns take they would probably realize the importance of sending in a return with as few errors as possible. "That little extra time taken in checking could mean the difference between a refund in weeks or months."

He said all returns, on their arrival at the Data Centre in Ottawa, are separated according to complexity. Relatively simple returns, requiring minimal attention and computer verification can be processed within four weeks and a refund cheque could be in the mail a week later.

More complex returns require more attention. Generally, these fall into three categories: those requiring special calculations; those reporting self-employed income; and those containing uncommon deduction claims such as rental losses or abnormal amounts claimed for Canada Pension Plan contributions. These returns all assessed by Data Centre clerks on a first in-first out basis with priority being given to returns claiming refunds. Total processing time for those returns should not exceed eight weeks even at peak periods. These processing times, Mr. Stanbury said, are contingent on the return passing through the processing stream without interruption.

He said there are four main reasons for withdrawing a return from the stream. If the computer calculates a balance due or a refund different from that calculated by the taxpayer, the return must be withdrawn to establish the reason for the difference. This is necessary so the Department can explain to the taxpayer any changes on the return, or any change in the amount of his refund.

A delay can also occur if the computer has difficulty identifying the taxpayer from the information supplied by him on page one of the return. This does not occur if the taxpayer uses a personalized form. Failure by the computer to identify the taxpayer means that before the return can be processed, missing information must be supplied either through a manual search of records or by direct contact with the taxpayer.

Any information regarding income deductions, dependants, etc., which has not been included on the return means a delay while that information is being obtained. This time period is to a large extent, dependent upon the length of time it takes for the taxpayer to provide the missing information or supporting documents. Processing time, after the information has been provided, should not exceed eight weeks.

Returns in which the taxpayer has elected to have certain types of income taxed at a special rate are subject to delay for various reasons. For example, when a taxpayer asks the Department to calculate the special tax on a lump sum payment, he can expect any refund within six to eight weeks, with an additional delay of up to three weeks if the computer arrives at a balance due or refundable difference from that entered on the return by the taxpayer. Longer delays can be caused by difficulty in obtaining information from preceding years or information about the payment itself.

There are also certain types of returns that cannot be processed through the computer, but instead must be processed manually in the District Offices. Examples of this type of return are those filed for 1968 or earlier; those filed for a bankrupt taxpayer; those filed on behalf of a deceased taxpayer and containing one or more elections under certain sections of the Income Tax Act; those returns involving multiple jurisdictions, and several other types of a typical return.

The Revenue Minister said that taxpayers may receive help in filling their returns by calling, visiting or writing any one of the 28 District Taxation Offices across the country or by phoning ZENITH 0-4000 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each weekday, and until 6:00 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays.

Dear Steven,

As you know, your mother and I have made great sacrifices to send you through college. The very idea of you asking us if we can send you to Europe this summer is outrageous! However, you must remember that we haven't had a vacation in the last 5 years.

But knowing you, you'll get yourself to Europe someway or other. Well to show you we do want you to enjoy yourself like the other kids, I've sent this STUDENT-RAILPASS coupon your mother clipped out.

Because you're a student indeed, you can get unlimited second-class rail travel in 13 countries for up to 2 months for only $6.50. The trains are clean, modern, punctual, fast, and comfortable. So once you get over there you can see Europe as cheaply as possible.

By the way get your STUDENT-RAILPASS here; you can't buy it in Europe. It's a great deal. Steve can send you free and one beautiful way to beat currency fluctuations.

Now there are two things I suggest you do. First, send in the coupon so you can buy the ticket. Second, start saving your money.

Love,
Dad

BIRTHRIGHT ON CAMPUS

We offer an alternative to Abortion
252-5665
Mon. 2 -- 1 Thurs. 5 --
Avantgardists "thrive on utopian visions" says Thielicke

by SAL PRESTA

Dr. Helmut Thielicke, professor of Systematic Theology at the University of Hamburg, stated Tuesday night in a talk given at the Alumni Auditorium that "protest as a means of preserving the status quo of man is a false promise of a heaven on earth."

Dr. Thielicke felt that there was not a major school of thought on the question of progress. He expressed the view that the avantgarde only has a "subjective and avangarde" or progressive. Many feel, especially the youth, that conservative impulses toward a more practical, a more efficient direction towards the future. In this context, Dr. Thielicke felt that the avantgarde was an unfavorable connotation. He felt that the conservative wants to preserve that which has been historically developed, not allowing anything that has developed to be changed.

On the other hand, the avantgarde "thrive on utopian vision." If avantgarde means simply to improve the chances of peace and justice and build a "just society," everyone would have to include himself, but according to Dr. Thielicke, the avantgardist only has a "shared dream of the heavenly Jerusalem." This, according to Dr. Thielicke, means that "it is no longer God who brings forth the new world, but rather man himself." Dr. Thielicke felt that the avantgardist fails for a number of reasons: the avantgardist conceptions supplant each other rapidly and become obsolete rapidly; he measures the world as it exists by the criterion of a vision of the future, and it relies too heavily on technological progress. Dr. Thielicke felt that, "Without the conservative salt of a common value and norm basis, no edible soup can be cooked." Dr. Thielicke suggested that the inherent imperatives of technical development have stimulated our trust in progress. He also felt that technology, "does not only determine our external life, but rather also exerts an inner influence." He added that in technology there is never any regression but always a continual and irreversible progress.

According to Dr. Thielicke, this trust in progress is harmful to man. Man, by technology is tempted to overlook the fact that to have to die, that in fact man through his technology has created a false utopian dream. But when these utopian dreams have to be compromised, it leads to uneasiness and frustrations.

Dr. Thielicke stated, "The ideology transfigured future, is the substitute of that generation which has lost eternity and the living God." He also felt that man, in relying too much on technological progress is a victim of a dangerous illusion — to think that he could save himself in en-dowing the world with new and better structures. According to Dr. Thielicke, "The problem lies in the incongruity between that which man is destined to be and the realization of this task.

Dr. Thielicke is a well known author and preacher and former Hitler-resistance worker. He has published widely, with his work translated for distribution in 15 countries.

"I'd wear jeans to Frampton but not to Rundgrad - member of the new generation or if you don't like that one how 'bout "If the shoe fits repair it" — Aristotle

News flash!

Seven McMaster French students who occupied the Humanities office to protest the French curriculum were arrested Wednesday night. A general strike is planned in retaliation.

Birney for poetry

One of Canada's most exciting men of letters will be appearing on campus Thursday March 28. Earle Birney, noted poet, critic, novelist, editor and teacher will read from his works at 8:30 pm. in room 1220 of the Math Building.

At 2 pm. in Assumption lounge Birney will talk informally to students interested in Canadian literature and creative writing. Author of the book The Creative Writer (1960), Birney has long championed Canadian writing and is the founder of Canada's First Creative Writing Dept. which he established at the University of British Columbia.

Assumption Lounge 2 pm. The Creative Writer calendar. All are welcome.

Condoms for industry

The University is in for a big treat this week with the addition of four condom machines strategically located at various places around the university. According to Randy Johnston, Housing commissioner, the machines will be located in the men's and women's rooms in the Grotto and in the men's and women's rooms of Vanier Hall.

The traditional place for condom machines has always been the men's rooms but with the addition of these new units in both places the university takes it's place as a truly liberal, avantgarde institution without the old "drugstore stigma" so prevalent in earlier era.

Movement: Fellini

Satyricon has been moved from Ambassador to Rm. 1120 Math building (Don't forget the Godfather Wednesday night).
Affluence plus boredom = gurus

by DENISE A. POUPLAND

Last Thursday, in Assumption Lounge, the Department of Sociology and Anthropology presented a lecture by Dr. Oren Klapp, entitled, "Who is the Guru? Transcending Movements Today". He discussed how modern society, beset with the boredom created by affluence, has turned to the guru and other mystical experiences to escape from their unsatisfying lives. Affluence leaves people with too much time for relaxation. The resulting boredom generates an unrest that is unsatisfiable by the restrictions of a rational society. People attempt to suspend rational consciousness via such vehicles as meditation, psychic phenomena, and astrology. It is estimated that over ten million people in the U.S. follow astrology.

Religion has also become an escape method. Communes have become popular retreats. Zen Buddhism has been advanced by such modern thinkers as Alan Watts, and the various eastern maharajas, called gurus, have elicited the interest of many people. Mind-altering drugs, said Dr. Klapp, are a highly popular way to escape boredom.

Meanwhile, over a low flame, brown 2 level tablespoons of flour till lukewarm. Add the milk slowly to the butter and flour and stir well so that they mix evenly. If lumps result, add more heat and stir well. Keep this mixture warm. Beat 6 egg yolks with the remaining cheese. Add this to the saucepan and stir until it forms a smooth creamy sauce.

Pour this sauce over the pan of macaroni and beef, covering it all smoothly. Sprinkle bread crumbs over the top. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 45-60 minutes until it is well baked but still moist.

Cool for 30 minutes and cut into squares. Serve with a tossed green salad. A great fashion look — cut to suit your many moods — BROWNS - TANS - NAYYS - BLACKS — GENUINE LEATHER

GOG CUPS

SHOP "THE FOOT SHOP" AT RANDOLPH & WYANDOTTE WEST, AND YOU'LL SAVE "HEAVY BREAD" WITH A STUDENT DISCOUNT!!

THE SHOE BAR

CORNER WYANDOTTE WEST AT RANDOLPH
Bicycle riding, although appealing in many ways to riders, such as lacking a certain amount of commitment, eight months of the year, has any number of advantages that are adaptable. These have become more attractive in recent years as that whole list that everyone knows so well has bumbled on.

Now, everything in our cities has been done to facilitate the use of the automobile. In the past developments like the expanding road system also benefited the bicycle. With the increase in traffic and the advent of the fleets of big trucks, bicycle travel on many of our larger streets has become more difficult if not more dangerous. While obstacles like freeways make easy access necessitating traffic about routes, they also make it unpleasant for the rider exposed to the noise, fumes and poisons like lead and carbon-monoxide, and not protected by an automobile shield.

The growing congestion of our cities have made bicycle travel more appealing as an alternative, even to the people who plan our cities, not only for recreation but for transportation. The bicycle being clean, non-polluting and at a much lesser cost of energy or resources, is an almost perfect urban transportation vehicle. It doesn't have to stand up to the elemental point of view. This doesn't take into account the psychological effect of being an aid to keeping in shape. It is also an excellent recreation vehicle in the old automobile centered point of view.

It is for these reasons in a state of urban deterioration that a number of major governments in the U.S.A. have begun to spend funds for the construction of special pathways for bicycle and pedestrians travel. Michigan has added several million from federal revenues and Oregon has supported a major system also through taxes on gas.

A group in Windsor has been trying to establish such a system here for the last three years. Windsor-Bikeways started officially, with a grant from the Federal Government's L.I.F.E. project three years ago, to study the feasibility of such a system and to make recommendations. They surveyed the city intensively on bicycle and hiker routes, drew up a plan of proposed routes which they considered to be convenient, inexpensive and easy to institute.

They devised three different types of bikeways to serve the immediate needs of Windsor. The first would be separate pedestrian paths from 4 to 10 feet wide that would run independent of the routes of existing roadways. The second consisted of a raised smooth portion of asphalt or a narrow painted lane on the side of some present streets. This would be welcome to anyone who has to negotiate storm sewers and pot holes on busy street. The last is simply to designate certain streets as having high bicycle usage. These would be streets where parking prevented use of a lane to the edge of the road.

In their proposals for the city, the bikeways group has set up two phases for development. The first will consist of such a special pathway, the second will be along the Detroit River. In some areas along the river, like the stretch between California and Cameron there is almost a usable path. A number of shorter paths will be needed to get around some traditional obstacles like railroad tracks. Future streets would have a bicycle lane added and certain roads like Hall and Pillette would be designated as high use streets.

In the second phase the network would expand considerably and include many more recreation areas. A wide range of advantages are seen coming out, of such a system by its proponents. Most basically it would establish a network of routes which people could use to get around the city with the least contact with traffic. In their discussions and investigation they have found that there are many groups like young kids and university students (why they separate them I don't know) who will ride their bikes on almost any road but they have found that there are many older people who expressed interest in riding if it weren't so hectic and they could do it in a more tranquil spot. The service that these routes will provide to these people may not be one of the immediately recognizable advantage but may be one of the most important. While such a network would allow children to avoid riding in traffic and would provide safe routes for people to travel in the city it would also build up a series of quiet and peaceful paths where people could go to take a ride after work or perhaps take a jog.

While everyone is somewhat aware that cycling improves general muscle tone, few people remark on the social aspects of riding. The bikeways group stresses this point and emphasizes that the congested cities need places where people can go out and meet others. It is a well documented fact that very few accidents have happened when people stop to chat on bikes.

One of the biggest points in the favor of such a plan is cost. Even a full scale path is only eight feet wide far less than a road and far less work is need to build it because it doesn't have to stand up to twenty ton trucks. Separate lanes on certain roads would cost very little and making a road a high volume street would cost only the price of the signs.

The Bikeways coalition sees that these paths could have wider use than just within cities. They would like to see a pathway built to Amherstburg for example. Any expansion outside the cities they could fit in nicely with the plan of scenic trails that the province is intending to promote.

A significant well designed network of bikeways would prove to be an important tourist attraction. In a wavelet reaction, Bikeways groups get from government officials is curious in that almost everyone supports them and agrees with everything they say. Politicians being such a dry lot though any lack of action is undoubtedly because of a reluctance to do anything with our support and encouragement from the community.

Windsor Bikeways is still actively working to promote a system of bicycle paths for the city. They have recently become affiliated with a larger group, Ontario Bikeways Coalition, playing a very prominent role in this organization. Their offices are at 4774 Wyandotte St. E. and they welcome any inquiries or assistance. One way that anyone can help is to save your Dominion Stores cash register slips and send them in. Dominion gives them a little for each one.

Bicycle Trip for the Summer Remember that you can take your bicycle with you for free if you travel anywhere in Canada and most of North America by train. This affords an excellent opportunity to travel inexpensively to somewhere fairly interesting and spend your time bicycling around. In short, the Windsor-Rocky Mountains trip is to be made to your heart's content. (Why they separate the Rocky Mountains and the Canadian Rockies is the only mystery.) They are seen coming, out of such a trip, a trip of a lifetime there bicycling around.

The reaction, Bikeways provides an excellent feature they feel. They welcome any inquiries or suggestions from the public. They are seen coming, out of such a trip, a trip of a lifetime there bicycling around.
The Lance

EDITOR: STEVEN A. MONAGHAN

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Media, University of Windsor — Moyens de Communication des Étudiants, Université de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. The offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre. Subscription rates for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

Printed on second-class mail at the Post Office of Canada. The Lance is a member of Canadian Press and Canadian University Press. The opinions expressed in The Lance are those of the editor and writer and not necessarily those of the University of Windsor or the Student's Administrative Council.

From the Hotel Banannas

The Long Goodbye

A little nostalgic music maestro... da da dada da da. Well ladies and gentlemen, as the band plays that old Canadian standard “The spuds are big on the back of Bud’s rig” and the sun slowly sets over the huge fluorescent Lance complex, it’s time to say adieu to mother Windsor and her illegitimate child (out of the Marx Brothers) The Lance.

The music dims, the lights hum with a soft vibrato, as tears in our eyes, we contemplate the sprawling majesty of the university centre, the towering beauty of the Math building, the touching sterility of Essex hall.

Let us hum with the lights, let us sing the praises of an Ontario institution gone mad. Let me grab the mike and pretend I’m Vic Damone. Thank you, thank you, I’m so happy, the tears are coming thick and fast.

It all couldn’t have happened without Arthur Sneath, noted Madison Ave. ad man, Gerry Houlie of Community Web who worried about us anyway and the rest of us who don’t know who we are and are pretty relieved.

It is indeed a great honour for us to accept this trophy which is also a transistor radio and rutabaga planter. We have to agree that we are indeed the “World’s Best Housewife”.

It was a good year. We danced and romanced in the Pub, and the band played on. We drank and fell down in the pub and the band played on. We chased that elusive bitch, Knowledge, and the band missed a few chords. The band played on and you guessed it, the band played on. They played the sweet music of our alma mater, the notes rising to the sky, bonindianum, scientifinum, disciplinum.

As night comes to The Lance complex, as the sun sets on another year, we have come to the end of an era. No more will that classic example of student journalism grace the centre desk. The long, cold summer begins. Will the swallows return to Capistrano? Will the Carp return to Dieppe Park? Will Wayne and Shuster return to the C.B.C.? So also will the Lance return, next week, with our annual giant satire issue.

“Le Patriote” and lead poisoning

On January 29, Canada Metal and Toronto Refiners and Smelters received a supreme Court of Ontario injunction banning certain parts of the C.B.C. radio documentary “Dying of Lead”, forcing the C.B.C. to bleep out parts of the program.

The C.B.C. was not told of the application and the injunction was served only minutes before the news program “As It Happens” was to go on the air.

The injunction effectively censored several parts of the program by the producers as the show was being broadcast. What remained in the program still offended Canada Metal.

Canada Metal and Toronto Refiners and Smelters have asked the court to throw 6 men in jail for allegedly breaching the injunction which included 3 who had nothing at all to do with the original injunction. Canada Metal would like to stop everybody who had nothing at all to do with the original allegedly breaching the injunction which included广播. What remained in the program still of annual giant satire issue.

What’s cheese for the mouse

Our Man on Campus

Question: What is the most important thing you’ve learned while attending school this year?

WARREN BILDA - 1 - I should’ve thought over more about what I was getting into.

JO - How to deliver mail.

BOB "CARROTS" - Carroted - How to stay away from nargage.

by

ERIC Campagne

MAURICE “THE PROFESSOR” - Dubbe - What it takes to get my M.A.

Jim DiPietro - To say any from "Carrots".

LORNE REGAL - 2% - How to wait on tables.

When threatened with jail, CLM chairman, Gary Perly, was the only one of the group of 9 who demanded and won the right to cross-examine Canada Metal before the courts. The courtroom was opened to reporters, but Ian Outerbridge, lawyer for Canada Metal, stipulated that while a reporter may be present, he may not take notes.

Canada Metal President, Carleton Smith, who swore in his affidavit that he was “familiar with literature on lead toxicology”, revealed that he didn’t even know what “toxicology” meant. He testified that he hadn’t even written the affidavit - his lawyer wrote it.

The Canadian Liberation Movement placed or CBC tape a number of times in public, distributed thousands of leaflets, and carried out a campaign to organize the people in the lead polluted communities.

On Feb. 16, the two lead companies each held proceedings to sue Mark Starowicz, Max Allan, Graham Fraser, Black Kirby and James L. Cooper together with the Globe and Mail Publishing Company and the CBC for $1 million each for alleged damages - a total of $14 million. This is clearly an attempt to muzzle the press with legal terror. Proof of this is the fact that Gary Perly and the Canadian Liberation Movement have not been sued, CLM legal back. The two lead companies have begun the largest libel suit in Canadian history.

On March 4, lawyers from the lead companies will they issue subpoenas against newspaper reporters in the city...

On March 6, the newly appointed minister of the Environment paid surprise visit to Canada Metal for a plant tour. The company shut the door in the face of the press.

The Canadian Liberation Movement demands freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom from poison. The views of Len Wallace are not necessarily those of The Lance.

Philosophical Tidbit of the Week

What’s cheese for the mouse is a snack for the rat.
More blood

Dear Mr. Monaghan:

We have read with interest our editorial letter-to-the-editor printed in the March 8, 1974 issue, entitled, “Blood Money.”

Although the editorial does not apply to us, we thought our readers might be interested in knowing why we advertise for plasma donors.

First, a word about who we are:

Michigan Community Blood Center is a statewide non-profit organization which is licensed by the American Association of Blood Banks and the Michigan Association of Blood Banks. Michigan Community Blood Center also has been cited by the Michigan State Senate organization which is licensed by the Michigan State Senate.

The need for plasma is twice that of red cells. The U.S. National Heart, Health, Education Components derived are useful in immune deficiency diseases. Thus the production of anti-hemophiliac factor VIII is best accomplished by blood banks such as Michigan Community Blood Center.

We know that those of your students who would like to qualify for our program will be receiving the best possible care and treatment under our medically-supervised program.

Sincerely yours,

Joel C. Garrett, Manager
Donor Recruitment & Customer Services

Michigan Community Blood Center

More blood

My friends and I are astounded at the results of last week’s official election results. I voted for Bill Carruthers. My friends voted for Bill Carruthers. Their friends voted for Bill Carruthers.

In fact, of hundred percent of people I’ve asked, Bill was voted in by an 8 to 1 margin. Although a few morticians pseudo-students voted for the wrong person, Phillips, Bill must have received almost 300 votes. This represents almost the entire vice-presidential electorate for this year.

Unless there was a coup d’état between Wednesday night and the time your paper went to press, it would seem that the name of Carruthers should have been splashed all over the front page and Phillips should have been the one with his tail between his legs. Did Phillips happen to slip a few flies to women? Get out, Doug! Hand your office and litter box over to Bill.

If Bill doesn’t take his office as SAC, keep on the 1st of June, their friends voted for Bill. (Carruthers went to press, it would seem that their friends voted for Bill.)

Maurice: My friends and I are astounded at the results of last week’s official election results. I voted for Bill Carruthers. My friends voted for Bill Carruthers. Their friends voted for Bill Carruthers.

In fact, of hundred percent of people I’ve asked, Bill was voted in by an 8 to 1 margin. Although a few morticians pseudo-students voted for the wrong person, Phillips, Bill must have received almost 300 votes. This represents almost the entire vice-presidential electorate for this year.

Unless there was a coup d’état between Wednesday night and the time your paper went to press, it would seem that the name of Carruthers should have been splashed all over the front page and Phillips should have been the one with his tail between his legs. Did Phillips happen to slip a few flies to women? Get out, Doug! Hand your office and litter box over to Bill.

If Bill doesn’t take his office as SAC, keep on the 1st of June, their friends voted for Bill. (Carruthers went to press, it would seem that their friends voted for Bill.)

Maurice: My friends and I are astounded at the results of last week’s official election results. I voted for Bill Carruthers. My friends voted for Bill Carruthers. Their friends voted for Bill Carruthers.

In fact, of hundred percent of people I’ve asked, Bill was voted in by an 8 to 1 margin. Although a few morticians pseudo-students voted for the wrong person, Phillips, Bill must have received almost 300 votes. This represents almost the entire vice-presidential electorate for this year.

Unless there was a coup d’état between Wednesday night and the time your paper went to press, it would seem that the name of Carruthers should have been splashed all over the front page and Phillips should have been the one with his tail between his legs. Did Phillips happen to slip a few flies to women? Get out, Doug! Hand your office and litter box over to Bill.

If Bill doesn’t take his office as SAC, keep on the 1st of June, their friends voted for Bill. (Carruthers went to press, it would seem that their friends voted for Bill.)

Maurice: My friends and I are astounded at the results of last week’s official election results. I voted for Bill Carruthers. My friends voted for Bill Carruthers. Their friends voted for Bill Carruthers.

In fact, of hundred percent of people I’ve asked, Bill was voted in by an 8 to 1 margin. Although a few morticians pseudo-students voted for the wrong person, Phillips, Bill must have received almost 300 votes. This represents almost the entire vice-presidential electorate for this year.

Unless there was a coup d’état between Wednesday night and the time your paper went to press, it would seem that the name of Carruthers should have been splashed all over the front page and Phillips should have been the one with his tail between his legs. Did Phillips happen to slip a few flies to women? Get out, Doug! Hand your office and litter box over to Bill.

If Bill doesn’t take his office as SAC, keep on the 1st of June, their friends voted for Bill. (Carruthers went to press, it would seem that their friends voted for Bill.)

Maurice: My friends and I are astounded at the results of last week’s official election results. I voted for Bill Carruthers. My friends voted for Bill Carruthers. Their friends voted for Bill Carruthers.

In fact, of hundred percent of people I’ve asked, Bill was voted in by an 8 to 1 margin. Although a few morticians pseudo-students voted for the wrong person, Phillips, Bill must have received almost 300 votes. This represents almost the entire vice-presidential electorate for this year.

Unless there was a coup d’état between Wednesday night and the time your paper went to press, it would seem that the name of Carruthers should have been splashed all over the front page and Phillips should have been the one with his tail between his legs. Did Phillips happen to slip a few flies to women? Get out, Doug! Hand your office and litter box over to Bill.

If Bill doesn’t take his office as SAC, keep on the 1st of June, their friends voted for Bill. (Carruthers went to press, it would seem that their friends voted for Bill.)

Maurice: My friends and I are astounded at the results of last week’s official election results. I voted for Bill Carruthers. My friends voted for Bill Carruthers. Their friends voted for Bill Carruthers.

In fact, of hundred percent of people I’ve asked, Bill was voted in by an 8 to 1 margin. Although a few morticians pseudo-students voted for the wrong person, Phillips, Bill must have received almost 300 votes. This represents almost the entire vice-presidential electorate for this year.
Less than splendid all year long.

Theatre Department has its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

I'm afraid our class has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.

The Drama Department does have its complaints — Essex Hall has been weighed down with trash. Poor plays, and about women, 9 p.m. — Jan Talis.
Sri Chinmoy, magnetic love

"God is omniscient. So what? ... Somebody has more vision than me. That does not mean that my life is doomed to disappointment. God is omniscient. So what? Somebody is stronger than I. But his strength must not torture my heart. He has his own opinion; I have mine.... So what? An Indian spiritual master of today, and he continues to tell us that 'apart from being omniscient and omnipotent, God has a quality that surpasses all others. His other divine qualities. And that quality is Love. Love is a divine magnet ... God pulls us with His magnetic love and we pull God with our magnetic love,'

Sri Chinmoy, who is the author of these lines comes from Bengal, that part of India where has cradled so many distinguished men in the fields of religion, philosophy, art, music, politics. At the age of twelve Sri Chinmoy entered an ashram in Southern India, to spend twenty years in study, prayer and meditation. By the time he was sixteen years of age, he was meditating for eight hours a day. And long with this intensive regime went another career — sports. He was not only becoming a giant in the field of spirituality, but also a champion on the sports ground who taught himself how to meditate while running races with the other disciples in the ashram. Even today he competes with his own men disciples in the annual sports day held each summer in New York. During these years in the ashram he wrote prodigiously, poetry, prose, plays, songs. It is not difficult to believe him when he says engaging of himself in the colour documentary film "Sri Chinmoy" which was recently screened on campus, that in all those twenty years in the ashram he "could not have smiled more than seven times," that he was, "always serious, serious, serious;"

In 1964, just ten years ago, Sri Chinmoy came to America and opened the first Sri Chinmoy Centre. Since then centres have grown up throughout the United States, the Caribbean, Western Europe and Canada. Hundreds have come to him, and many have been turned away because he says that his path is not meant for everyone. Some people, he sees, are destined for other paths, others masters. Today his disciples number around seven hundred.

Sri Chinmoy will give a lecture March 27, 8:00 p.m. in the Moot Court of the Law Building.

Bored based upon a Roman novel of the First Century A.D., Fellini’s Satyricon is a spectacle in colour, a pageant of Rome re-creating the bawdy, lecherous and exulting days of J(ew. It will be sponsored by the Departments of Classical Studies, Italian and Hispanic Studies, with the cooperation of the Students Administrative Council and the Vice-Dean of Humanities.

Apartments in Tecumseh Hall will be available for rental by University of Windsor Students during the period from May 3 through August 17, 1974. Apartments must be rented in their entirety for periods of one month or more.

RATES ARE AS FOLLOWS:

| 2 Bedroom | $165.00 per month |
| 3 Bedroom | $185.00 per month |
| 4 Bedroom | $200.00 per month |

Apartments are fully furnished. You must supply your own bed linen, towels and kitchen utensils. Utilities are included in rental rates.

CONTACT THE DIRECTOR OF RESIDENCES

WANT A GOOD APARTMENT THIS SUMMER? - SRI CHINMOW, MAGNETIC LOVE
Sport

Waterloo takes hockey title

TORONTO (CUP) — Overtime goals by Russ Elliott and Mike Guimond capped a four-goal Waterloo rally March 16 to give the Warriors a 6-5 victory over Sir George Williams and the 1974 Canadian College Hockey championship.

The two teams had fought to a 1-1 draw at the end of regulation time. Waterloo opened the scoring and held a 2-1 after the first period. Sir George, however, rallied in the second period on goals by Brian Morin and Marcel Lapierre. Sir George upped their lead early in the period to a 3-2 when Maurice Desdoises tipped in Ron Lapointe's shot from the blue line.

Ron Hawkshaw, however, brought the Warriors back within striking distance when he intercepted a pass at the Georgian blueline and raced in to beat Sir George's all-Canadian netminder Bernie Wolfe with a rising wrist shot.

Elliott then deadlockied the score at the 7:39 mark of the third period, tipping in linemate Guimond's centering pass.

The team remained deadlockied the remainder of regulation time, thanks mainly to Wolfe and Waterloo netminder Jake Dupuis.

Twenty one seconds into the 10-minute overtime, Elliott beat Wolfe with a hard wrist shot and two minutes later Guimond scored what proved to be the winner on a deflection, knocking in a pass from Ron Hawkshaw.

Sir George rallied with a goal seconds later when Alain Vandette beat Dupuis in a scramble. The Waterloo goalie, however, bore down at that point, shutting out the Georgians the rest of the way as the Ontario school won its first national championship.

Waterloo, first place finishers in the west division of the Ontario Universities Athletic Association, earned their berth in the national final with a victory over Western Ontario for the OUAA championship.

The key championship game had been arranged by the University of Minnesota, who refused to play in the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union and the Canadian Collegiate Athletic Association, but has been cancelled because the American winner, the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, has refused an offer from the business world.

Unranked teams winning national collegiate titles has to be a reflection of the amateur level on which most Canadian schools compete. Two weeks ago, the University of Guelph men's basketball team won the national championships after being unranked throughout the year and finishing fourth in their league.

Because of rules barring athletic scholarships, recruiting must be done on work program methods, tie financial renumeration for athletes for attractive and sometimes easy jobs in the athletic department, or under-the-table agreements, methods that seem, at least for the most part, to have worked against those schools with a heavy emphasis on national prominence at the sports level.

A North American Men's Intercollegiate Hockey championship game had been arranged by the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union and its American counterpart, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, but has been cancelled because the American winner, the University of Minnesota, has refused to play.

RESEARCH MATERIALS
ALL TOPICS
Write or call for your FREE up-to-date mail-order catalog of thousands of outstanding research papers.

WE ALSO DO
CUSTOM-MADE RESEARCH

CAMPUSS RESEARCH
1429 Warwick Avenue (Suite #1) Warwick, Rhode Island 02886
(401) 463-6150

NOW IS THE TIME TO DO YOUR HAIR A FAVOUR... TRY ONE OF OUR NEW GREAT HAIRCUTS.
SIX STYLISTS TO SERVE YOU.

COME IN OR CALL TODAY.
(256-7819)

5 mins. from Campus
AUTO FIRE LIFE
Students can qualify for up to 35% Discount
On Car Ins. Rates.
PREFERRED RATES FOR ALL GOOD DRIVERS.
1603 UNIVERSITY WEST
254-5101

NEED MORE BREAD?
PLASMA DONORS CAN EARN OVER
$100 A MONTH

Hospitals and laboratories urgently need blood plasma. Its components are vital to burn treatment; in hemophilia cases; to supply gamma globulin, and other vital uses. Our physician-supervised program needs qualified donors now. New process takes only plasma for this procedure. You can donate twice a week with no ill effects. Regular qualified donors can earn over $100 a month ($12 per visit). Free medical exam. Get all the details. Phone or visit Michigan Community Blood Center now.

PLASMA PROGRAM
Michigan Community Blood Center
3466 Woodward Avenue, Detroit
½ block south of Medical Center
Phone 833-5539
Hey you! Yes you! You should be just sitting there — the crew at Tipper High are doing a other play, and their doing it good. Its called "Last Boy at Plimoth" stars Ferd Jonhson as "Jimmie" and their doing it good. The tale centres about a kid called "Jimmy", who cums to Plimoth with his family, who's religion is piligrine. Although its set in the old athena non-existent United States, its meaning is universal and may therefore have some meaning for canadians. When Jimmy gets to the new land, he finds that his mommy and daddy and dog Spot all got sreaked and died on the way. Thusly, he is abandoned to his own devises. I will not tell you how he overcomes the difficulties, because then the whole sack of potatoes would be rotten spoiled right?!!! Production is produced by producer Bill for is it Don?! whose last name is spelled something like Klenmulpuyf. He does it good, too. This play will be done from the 14th to the 16th of March, every night at 8:00 except on the 15th. It will be done on the 16th. Tickets are very reasonably priced at $25.00 and can be found or bought at Zellurs' supermarket.

WIGS FOR SALE — 1 short blonde shag, 1 short black shag, 1 long brown shag. (Can serve double duty as small corsets.) All brand new — $5 each. Call Rose 945-4536.

DIRT BIKE FOR SALE
Kawasaki 190 c.c. 1972 model. First $200 takes it. Also I used Mickey Thompson, $10.00. Call Les at 254-3306.

Would you go in Electa Hall with the tape-recorder - radio combo phone me again please. Steve 258-9933 or 253-4060.

GREAT GIRL WANTED — I'm an attractive man, 27, tired of wishy-washy girls. I would like a meaningful relationship with a sensitive woman. Is this too much to ask? Send to: Ken-c-o University Centre Desk.

FOR SALE — Component stereo, tape deck (Sony), portable television double bed (almost new) and other assorted items. Call Al at 258-9266.

FOR SALE — Panasonic stereo. AM/FM 8 track. Large speakers, powerful unit! Many extras. Separate cassette tape deck, head­phones, 10 free tapes from a selection of 100. This is a deal at $250. Les-254-3306.

WANTED — Used 10 speed bike in good condition. Call Al at 728-2483.

FOR SALE — Like new, latest stereo components. 2 25” Audio Design 1206 Speakers ($75) Call 256-2745.

WANTED — 5 students to contact C. Reynolds of Psychology Dept. so that we can have advanced statistics (451) taught this summer. Please hurry!

Student owned travel agency, Soto travel 531 University Ave. W. 256-2283. S. Athanasios.

FOR SALE — 19” R.C.A. TV, 29” Zenith, desk dresser, table, 3 chairs, bed lamps, coat rack. 253-2869 Joe or Barry.

WANTED TO RENT — 1 bedroom apartment close to University May 1 till end of August.
Globetrotting Leddy brings back assistant from Gobi desert

by CHARLOTTE

CLARKE BAR

Dr. Leddy, our very own globetrotting president has returned from the far east with a new addition to our living learning community of scholars, thespians and junior G men. While visiting the Gobi desert Leddy prevailed upon Dr. Greg Thunk to join the administrative staff at an undisclosed salary reputed to be in the neighbourhood of several ostrich eggs, field mice and rabbits.

Dr. Thunk is an expert in water divining, desert survival and stone age man. His academic credentials are not known to the Luntz but he has survived to age 28, no mean feat in itself “in the desert, man” as Dr. Leddy described it.

Unlike those asshole books those clowns in the Vatican sent us, who reads that crap anymore anyway, the addition of Dr. Thunk to the staff will have fairly bizarre ramifications in the field of progressive education said Leddy. “I’ll be the first president of a Canadian university that has a guy that can drink from an old ostrich egg at faculty parties—and say indeed in a stone age language.”

GETTING A JOB THIS SUMMER?

Hi I'm Shirley Eikhard.

Because I'm young, the Youth Secretariat—our Channel 1 to the Ontario government—has asked me to remind you that there are many different jobs out there. Jobs that can open up whole new worlds.

You can spend a few months out in the open, working on a farm. Or get into mining, forestry, industry, or government.

Contact your Student Placement Office or Canada Manpower Centre soon. And get yourself the best summer job around. Why settle for less?

When you get your engineering degree where will it get you?

Will it take you from door to door looking for an opening? Searching for a chance to practice all that you've learned?

We have openings. And we need your talents.

With your degree you can join the Canadian Forces as a Lieutenant. From then on your experience and qualifications can take you just about anywhere. You'll work with some of the most sophisticated equipment in the world. We offer you security, advancement, travel, a satisfying and fulfilling life where you can not only practice your skills, but do something worthwhile with them.

It all depends upon what you want to do with your degree.

We have an answer. Think about it then talk to a Canadian Forces Recruiting Officer, or write for more information to Box 8989, Ottawa, Canada.
CAN YOU IDENTIFY THE LUNTZ STAFFERS?

LUNTZ STAFF

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
Steven A. Monaghan

EXECUTIVE EDITOR (News)
Sal Presta

SENIOR EDITORS
Jerry Wisdom
Richard Bernard
John Sargent

SPORTS EDITOR
Ashley Wiper

MUSIC EDITOR
Sean O'Dell

REVIEWS EDITOR
Pat McWade

BUSINESS MANAGER
James Macri

PHOTO EDITOR
George Gawadzyn

SPECIAL EFFECTS EDITOR
Gordon B. Gilmour

OSWIA BUREAU CHIEF
Ken Brandes

LITERARY EDITOR
Katherine Courtenay

ART EDITOR
Jim Beveridge

STAFF

Bill Bode
Bill Cameron
Carl DeHarde
Don Lavigne
Jim Lindley
John McAllister
Tom Cotton
Jim O'Keefe

Art
Donna Clark
Lynne Edwards
Don Kowal

Photos
Steve Ellis
Joe Peters

Louis Ericsson
Melba Laval
Mary Dickinson
Jim Crosby
Smith Brothers
Ken Waller

Bleachers
Barrie Kamel

Tina Edel

Bruce Nadler

Edward O'Sullivan

Clark Kent

Art
Barrie Trumbull

Heidelberg Broughton

Jeff Newkirk

Karl Strauss

And that's the truth!

Heidelberg
Brewed from pure spring water.

WERE ONLY IN IT FOR THE MONEY
The Lance
EDITOR: MONTY ROCK III

The Lance is published weekly (Fridays) by and for the Student Media, University of Windsor — Moyens de Communication des Etudiants, Université de Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Press offices are located on the second floor of the University Centre. Subscription rates for non-students of the University of Windsor are $5 per year.

Entered as a second class mail at the Post Office of Canada, The Lance is a member of Canadian Press and Canadian University Press. The opinions expressed in The Lance are those of the student writer and not necessarily the University of Windsor or the Student's Administrative Council.

Editorial: 253-4060, or 253-4232, Ext. 153 Advertising: 253-4232, Ext. 326
Editor in Chief: 253-3334 Sports: 253-3334

Editorial

Luntz points out dangers of liquor company takeover

Tequila Sauza makes every party a fiesta!

Our Man on Campus

Question: Do you think sex has made Tequila Sauza makes every party a fiesta?

Philosophical Gluttony of the Week.

Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so...

FAST SERVICE

Black & White and Colour Film
READES PHOTO SERVICE
2133 Wyandotte W.
25% Student Discount

Bill Thornhill's STEREO PLACE
Sony, Pioneer, Toshiba
Complete Stereo Systems FROM $199.95
135 OUELLETTE AVE.
PHONE 254-3555

PENFRIENDS IN BRITAIN

Find out what life is REALLY like in the British Isles—perhaps have a holiday there with new friends! Write TODAY for details on the Club which specializes in transatlantic penfriends—

ATLANTIC, Dept. CY1,
45 Mayesbrook Road, Dagenham
Essex, RM8 2EA, England

HAVING TROUBLE?

BOSCH AUTO SERVICE
Volkswagen
Specialized Mechanics
252-6601
3527 Sandwich St., Windsor 10, Ont.
Windsor teen overdoses on ‘downs’

by MARK BONERSKILL

When Gilbert Byle strode unannounced to the podium of the Harold Robbins lecture hall at the University of Psychiatric Meanderings, he suddenly realized that his mind was a vacuum. Intending to talk about his bestseller My Concept of Mind, which was itself an explanation of his previous bestseller Your Concept Of Mind, Gilbert was seized with doubt and horrible paranoid fear.

“What if I’m wrong?”, his mind whispered to itself. “What if my theory is trash, another green garbage bag on the refuse heap of analytical residues? Maybe I’m an insignificant slug crawling among the ash-hills of Brutal Reality.”

Standing nervously behind the wooden barrier between him and the voracious yet ultimately indifferene gang of well-dressed critics ready to tear him to pieces, bloodlessly of course, like civilized people, Gilbert adjusted the mike and cleared his throat. He said, "Gentlemen, I have arrived…"

"Question!”, boomed a pitiless voice from the third row left. "Are you not aware, Mr. Byle, that the moment a discussion of the ambiguous term 'gentlefolk' was raised, the audience, who by this time were already seated, got it, even though Haut-Ayer got it months ago.' The chairman of the meeting, Bertrand "Cattle" Russeller, called for order, and Russeller, exclaiming "Shame…Shame!…What is reality?...I got it!..and the like, Dr. Byle stepped away from the mike and grinned with fear and loathing. The blood drained from his face and he thought 'so it started already.' The chairman of the meeting, Bertrand "Cattle" Russeller turned to the audience, "If you read my latest monograph, you understand the meaning of the ambiguous term ‘gentlefolk’..."... And the audience continued to murmur "What does 'order' mean?”

Feeling that a retort was necessary, Dr. Byle said, "If my analytic drive is far superior to your's simply because I take into account the fact that our labours have become trivially esoteric and, in fact, have pushed the whole concept of useless cerebral activity beyond the line of petty fetishism and into the realm of pathological obsessive-compulsion." And he sat down.

The grim specter of death from the abuse of drugs has again darkened our city. A youth whose identity is being withheld pending notification of kin was pronounced dead on arrival at Metropolitan hospital Thursday night. Police suspect it was yet another case in a series of drug overdoses stemming from the combination of alcohol and barbiturates. Both substances are manufactured in vast quantities by large corporations upon which many people depend for a living. Both are fully condoned by the public at large.

This is the third death in recent weeks and there is growing resentment in the city, a phenomenon though has been occurring for several years unheeded by any city notables. Windsor is a small southwestern Ontario town style is just picking up on a trend that was evident in Los Angeles many years ago with all its debauched effects, clearly visible.

The death occurred at the house rented by I.M. Darrango on the 200 block of McKay. It was only a matter of time since the house was known as a party headquarters for quite a while now. On the afternoon of the tragedy, Mr. Darrango picked up several kids and dropped them off at his house. All were young, 15-17 and were going through a time when it is very popular to get blasted out your brains at a span of history when there are very few examples of more intelligent ways to spend your time. Mr. Darrango left these people at his house in the afternoon and went down town to inquire about joining the Auto Club.

The Auto Club is located on Quetille near Giles and offers a complete list of services to the motoring public. It was established in 1907 and the Ontario Motor League is the only organization of its kind affiliated with both the CAA and the AAA. Undoubtedly Mr. Darrango thought that an Ontario Motor League membership is one of most worthwhile and inexpensive investments a motorist can make. Among the services they provide are Emergency Auto Service, Travel service, Traffic Violation assistance, Ball Bond, Accident insurance, Bonded repair service and theft and hit and run rewards.

After he returned from the Auto Club, Mr. Darrango found the young man dead and phoned an ambulance. The police were immediately called. They searched the house and found little out of the ordinary. Upon checking into the boy's character they found him to be only a typical drop-out.

Minion of Cthulhu inhabits White House

A spokesman representing the Church of Dis, a Political Intervention has charged in Washington today that Richard M. Nixon is the eighth Avatar of Nyarlathotep, son of Analtych, the god of Pyles. Dr. Hans Baal, addressing the Washington Bell directory assistance union, further stated that exertion rites should begin immediately if this frightful menace is to be stopped before he causes any further harm.

"I believe", said Baal, "that the real Richard M. Nixon has never been seen publicly in all his 8 years in public office. For proof I ask you: could a fneghhg, then vanished in a puff of white smoke.

And why has he never visited Lovelock or the tomb of Louis Riel?"

After concluding his talk Dr. Baal announced that the next meeting will be held on Yog-Sothog, then vanished in a puff of white smoke.

Aerosol cans join ranks fighting cancer.

Aerosol spray cans may be the latest weapon in the battle against lung cancer.

Scientists have come up with a new method of administering anti-cancer drugs, using the spray system. Problem facing doctors has always been the large surface area of the lung. It’s difficult to concentrate the drug on any one part, or to inject it directly into the deeper parts.

Scientists at a Survey research lab, have dissolved anti-cancer drugs, then "aerosolized" them in an enclosed chamber.

The spray forms a fine cloud. Microscopic drops of the drugs float in the cloud and can be inhaled right through the lungs.

It has proved possible to reach parts that were previously almost impossible to penetrate. The drug also forms a layer over the entire lung.

The aerosol method has been tried out on mice, with encouraging results. In every case, it had a greater effect than much higher concentrations of the drugs used in series of injections.

There are still problems to be solved. For instance, anti-cancer drugs are strong irritants. They can damage areas of lung unaffected by cancer.

Despite this, researchers feel the aerosol could be the most important method of treatment discovered for years.

Strange doings at U. of P.M. “Fear and loathing rampant”

Philosophy lecture at U. of P.M. covered by Bonerskill. U. of P.M. correspondent.

"Fear and loathing rampant" as the crowd stirred uneasily and murmured angrily with scattered cries of "Shame…Shame…What is reality?...I got it!..." and the like, Dr. Byle stepped away from the mike and grinned with fear and loathing. The blood drained from his face and he thought ‘so it started already.' The chairman of the meeting, Bertrand "Cattle" Russeller turned to the audience, "If you read my latest monograph, you understand the meaning of the ambiguous term ‘gentlefolk’..."... And the audience continued to murmur "What does 'order' mean?”

Feeling that a retort was necessary, Dr. Byle said, "If my analytic drive is far superior to your's simply because I take into account the fact that our labours have become trivially esoteric and, in fact, have pushed the whole concept of useless cerebral activity beyond the line of petty fetishism and into the realm of pathological obsessive-compulsion." And he sat down.

A Windsor teen overdoses on ‘downs’

The grim specter of death from the abuse of drugs has again darkened our city. A youth whose identity is being withheld pending notification of kin was pronounced dead on arrival at Metropolitan hospital Thursday night. Police suspect it was yet another case in a series of drug overdoses stemming from the combination of alcohol and barbiturates. Both substances are manufactured in vast quantities by large corporations upon which many people depend for a living. Both are fully condoned by the public at large.

This is the third death in recent weeks and there is growing resentment in the city, a phenomenon though has been occurring for several years unheeded by any city notables. Windsor is a small southwestern Ontario town style is just picking up on a trend that was evident in Los Angeles many years ago with all its debauched effects, clearly visible.

The death occurred at the house rented by I.M. Darrango on the 200 block of McKay. It was only a matter of time since the house was known as a party headquarters for quite a while now. On the afternoon of the tragedy, Mr. Darrango picked up several kids and dropped them off at his house. All were young, 15-17 and were going through a time when it is very popular to get blasted out your brains at a span of history when there are very few examples of more intelligent ways to spend your time. Mr. Darrango left these people at his house in the afternoon and went down town to inquire about joining the Auto Club.

The Auto Club is located on Quetille near Giles and offers a complete list of services to the motoring public. It was established in 1907 and the Ontario Motor League is the only organization of its kind affiliated with both the CAA and the AAA. Undoubtedly Mr. Darrango thought that an Ontario Motor League membership is one of most worthwhile and inexpensive investments a motorist can make. Among the services they provide are Emergency Auto Service, Travel service, Traffic Violation assistance, Ball Bond, Accident insurance, Bonded repair service and theft and hit and run rewards.

After he returned from the Auto Club, Mr. Darrango found the young man dead and phoned an ambulance. The police were immediately called. They searched the house and found little out of the ordinary. Upon checking into the boy's character they found him to be only a typical drop-out.
The Windsor Stare

Published by The Windsor Stare Limited, 167 Fairy Street, Windsor

PAGE SIX (369) — THE LUNTZ — APRIL 5, 1974

The Windsor Stare

Published by The Windsor Stare Limited, 167 Fairy Street, Windsor

PAGE SIX (369) — THE LUNTZ — APRIL 5, 1974

The view from Fairy Street

Well, we can see a 1969 Plymouth going by. What builds Plymouth builds Windsor. There is the Baum and Brudy furniture store. See their sign. It is a neon sign. It says Baum and Brudy right on it. Boy, that sure is nifty. I hope no one O.D.’s on downers right in the store.

We can see Kresse’s. Let’s get the filthy American capitalists out of our country. No. hold it. Change that to read; Let’s get the filthy American capitalists out of our country but let’s not forget the country will go downhill. What Windsor builds, builds Plymouth.

Oh, there’s Chatham street. It is full of potheoles. Do you think that someone in the city government is lining their pockets with potheole money?

There is Lee’s tavern. That’s where we like to look the most. That’s the best view from Fairy street. We can see those tall frosty glasses from here. Yum yum yum. We think it’s about time the Ontario government did away with typographers unions and made the liquor laws lenient enough so that we could put Lee’s in the basement. Then we wouldn’t have to look out the window.

Ottawa - là

with Brain Kappler

OTTAWA: Well here I am again to bestow my political know-how on all you folks out there who can’t make it to Ottawa every day. At times it’s hard to sit through boring speeches at Capital Hill, but I have a great knack in picking out the most interesting tidbits and relating them to you, my faithful followers who have stood by me through thick and thin, in times of happiness and woe, whether I have been right or wrong.

Well, Prime Minister Trudeau has escaped the frying pan again without the help of my beloved P.C. party. If it hadn’t been for the P.C., Mr. Trudeau would have been on the wrong end of the stick again.

I should like to say at this time that the only party fit to run this country is the PC’s — won’t you give them a chance next election? Please? Why should they take a back seat to the capitalists and the imperialists?

Sometimes I wonder why Mr. Lewis backs the Liberal’s bills, but then I suppose that Mr. Lewis knows more than I do. But if it was up to me, I would let the Liberals slide down to where they belong.

The other day, a PC member made a 15 minute speech. Since each member is allowed to speak for 30 minutes, he asked that the remaining 15 minutes be used to think on what he had said.

This weekend as usual Robert Stanfield was hard at work stumping the country, trying to get someone to pay some attention to him. Mr. Stanfield again showed his keen sense of duty and that he is unflinchingly steadfast of continuous hard work. While Trudeau was playing. He was off on some Austrian mountain range or something enjoying himself while Stanfield was stumping the country. Mr. Stanfield constantly showed that he had the stamina and conviction to consistently take his position before the Canadian people. This was while Stanfield was constantly and consistently taking his position to the Canadian people, stumping the country.

And Trudeau was taking a vacation somewhere. Some may say that Trudeau may avoid certain boorish commentators but we are for more attentive to his real nature. Stanfield on the other hand is steadfastly taking his views to the Canadian people and few people would argue that of all the leaders in this country, Stanfield has been stumping the country more than most.

And recently, I heard some comment on the Tory convention by Larry Zolf and Geek Mcfadden. Well those two creeps should be throttled calling those assinine remarks good journalism. To think that the CBC would permit such blatant horse crap. Those two commentators tried to foist the idea off on the Canadian public that there are such things as power struggles going on in the party or that Jimmie Davis and Robert Stanfield could be trying to renounce their positions.

And not only that but the N.D.P., has really coked it goose this time. They must fool some poor dolts but not the likes of me and the Canadian people. Their downfall is imminent when Robert Stanfield takes our.
Art Guntz Says: "Don't let your cheapo stereo make you a laughing stock with stereo buffs!"

Guntz, the biggest name in dummy stereo equipment can help you out. No longer will your friends wince when they hear your system, no more comments on fuzzy bass and tinny treble. Guntz carries a full line of brand name stereo dummies which fit over your existing stereo. When your friends see $3,000 of stereo staring them in the face, what can they say? No longer will chicks put their panties back on when they see your stereo. Impress your parents and friends when they visit your slummy hippie pad. Get hip! Nobody can really hear the difference.

GUNTZ
The last name in great stereo dummies
Please send me your free catalogue.
Enclosed is .25c for postage.
Guntz Stereo Dummies, 1342 Sunset Blvd.
L.A. Calif. 18882.
Name
Address
Phone
Anardas

For those tired of Middleclass mores, move into the real MacCoy the ultra legit, the right on coming clear, on the level straight goods and in the grove with all kinds of sweet vibes.

Anardas — the elegant stimulant for the very hip disaffected
National Lampoon Acused of being “Not Funny”.
Nixon Lashes out again at Press.
Says that Former Teacher Reveals that Lampoon Editors History Book Captions were as Unfunny
Then as They are now.
Beserk Aardvarks Attack Canadian Leader
1. There is going to be 40 days of warning: Then Ninevah shall be destroyed! The Comet will be at its brightest and most visible for 40 days. But the puzzle is, when does the 40 days begin? It's giving a 40 day warning of something, whatever it is, then comes the destruction, unless the people repent like Ninevah did because of the message of the Prophet. If the people repent, the Lord will relent or it ends on the 21st.

2. There is a 40-day warning between January 11 and January 21, the Winter Equinox, the darkest day of the year, one week before the Comet passes behind the sun.

3. It's 40 days from November 11 to December 21, and from December 21 to January 21 is 40 days!

4. If God gives us 40 days warning (with Comet), First He gives prophet double warning, second comes Kohoutek, and gives 40 days more. You see? For the poor world, God's so merciful! 40 days, and then destroys Ninevah! Lord have mercy on Thy Children and their fatherland.

5. But it will give a warning of 40 days and then destruction! It does know the destruction of what, or whom, but it is destruction. But it's an important enough destruction to warn the whole world, so it's going to affect the whole world!

6. But it will be a 40-day warning, culminating somewhere in January, most likely between the 11th and 21st of January. That's when it becomes its biggest and brightest — between 11th and 21st of January. It comes the nearest to the Earth on the 15th.

7. It's like the voice of the Prophet Jonah to Ninevah:

8. God gives us 40-day warning before He gives Ninevah. — "Around the World in 80 days!" — 40 days for us, and 40 days for them! How much more can God give to us than 80 days? That's a long time, almost 3 months! — 80 days! (COMET) SHALL BE AS SEVEN TIMES GREATER THAN THE SUM OF DECEMBER! IS 40 DAYS, FROM THE 21ST TO 31ST (OF DECEMBER) IS 40 DAYS, AND FROM THE 21ST TO 31ST (OF JANUARY) IS 40 DAYS. So whatever's going to happen could be anywhere around January 31st! It depends on whether you take God's first warning to us.

9. You think God loves us that much to tell us when, and gives us 80-day warning? Pretty soon He gives children of the world 60-day warning (with Comet). First He gives prophet double warning, then 80-"Round the World in 80 days!" — And then comes Kohoutek and gives 40 days more. You see? For the poor world, God's so merciful! — 40 days, and then destroys Ninevah! Lord have mercy on Thy Children and their fatherland.

10. For the heat of the sun (comet), shall be as seven folds, and men shall groan and gnaw their tongues for pain for the travail that shall come upon them when the Lord shall arise to shake terribly the Earth! Thank you for the words! Then hast given their father! In Jesus' Name, amen.

11. I think God means what He says in this shocking revelation above! You in the U.S. have only until January to get out of the States before some kind of disaster, destruction or judgment of God is to fall because of America's wickedness!
2. The coffee in the cafeteria will do strange things to his stomach.

The Paranoid at University

His Anthropology prof will look as old as his specimens and he’ll hardly fit his desk.

2. Women in fight pants will try to scare him.

4. When he finally gets his diploma he won’t be able to use it.

5. Women in fight pants will try to scare him.

The Puni Wallet

3½ X 5" only $5.00

Hand-made of goat-skin

Grab Some Experiences

Elegant

Hand-tooled

Peruvian

Llama hide.

You just can’t get by without killing a Llama for your stash.

Fits anugly in the suave palm

TORONTO — Slaughter steers and heifers prices were steady to the weeks decline at the Ontario Public Stockyards Thursday.

Cow prices were steady on a moderate demand. Bull prices were steady. Slaughter calf and feeder cattle prices were steady.

Fax: 34-35; cows D 1-2 35-37; D 3 34-35; D 4 28-33.50; bulls bologna 41-43; common 37-49.

Feeder cattle and calves 900: steers good over 7 50 $46-$51, stock calves good 300-575 teayqv heifer calves good 300-500 43-49.

Hogs 1, 515: base price $52.60-53.15; currently at Toronto 52.65; live boars 28.60; dressed sows 43.60.

Sheep and lambs 24: new crop lambs $85.00.

HUNTINGTON W.Va. (AP) — Robert Edward Spears, acquitted of murder in the death of a man whose body was tossed into the Ohio River, has been charged that Spears, 27, "unlawfully placed, deposited, dumped and threw or caused to be placed, deposited, dumped and thrown into the Ohio River the carcass of a dead animal, to wit, the dead body of one Rocco Wayne Thompson."

Prosecuting Attorney L.D. Egnos charged that Spears, 27, "unlawfully placed, deposited, dumped and threw or caused to be placed, deposited, dumped and thrown into the Ohio River the carcass of a dead animal, to wit, the dead body of one Rocco Wayne Thompson."

Thompson's bullet-riddled body was retrieved from the river last July 29. During his trial, Spears testified he shot Thompson in self-defence and then threw his body in the river.

In 1956, a Parisian night watchman named Noel Carriou became enraged when his wife cooked a roast too rare and threw her out of bed in the middle of the night. Mme. Carriou suffered a broken neck and died. He was sentenced to twelve years at hard labour. Released after seven years because of good behaviour, he remarried. Unfortunately, his second wife, Clemence, shared his first wife's fatal lack of cooking skill. After being served a burnt roast, M. Carriou exclaimed. "You cook like a Nazi," and stabbed her to death.

M. Carriou has been sentenced to another eight years in prison. San Francisco Chronicle, Newsweek (B. Sommer, A Bogan, J. McLaughlin) But originally from the U. of W. Lancaster fall of '73.

- One hour after beginning a new job which involved moving a pile of bricks from the top of a two-story house to the ground, a construction worker in Peterborough, Ontario, suffered an accident which hospitalized him. He was instructed by his employer to fill out an accident report. It read:

"Thinking I could save time, I rigged a beam with a pulley at the top of the house, and a rope leading to the ground. I tied an empty barrel on one end of the rope, pulled it to the top of the house, and then fastened the other end of the rope to a tree. Going up to the top of the house, I filled the barrel with bricks.

"Then I went down and unfastened the rope to let the barrel down. Unfortunately, the barrel of bricks was now heavier than I, and before I knew what was happening, the barrel jerked me up in the air.

"I hung on to the rope, and halfway up I met the barrel coming down, receiving a severe blow on the left shoulder.

"Then I continued on up to the top, hanging my head on the beam and jamming my fingers in the pulley.

"When the barrel hit the ground, the bottom burst, spilling the bricks. As I was now heavier than the barrel, I started down at high speed.

"Halfway down, I met the empty barrel coming up, receiving several cuts and contusions from the sharp edges of the bricks.

"At this point, I must have become confused, because I let go of the rope. The barrel came down, striking me on the head, and I woke up in the hospital.

"I respectfully request sick leave."

The oldest gag journalism story in the world. Originally printed as such, in the University of Windsor Lance, Jan. 74.
A hunch of the boys were whooping it up in the University saloon. When they decided to poke holes in the National Lampoon.

Who needs this crap anyway? We were going to do a whole riff on that old Dangerous Dan McGrew poem cleverly skewering those big city boys with our dang lightning fast razor sharp backyard barbecue wits. But who needs that weekend magazine stuff?

The real reason that we’re doing this is to show that we’re just as smart as they are. the only difference is that we’re not a hunch of New York city assholes, who probably go to singles bars with copies of How to pick Up Girls in their hack pockets and think that’s funny, when they’re really there for the girls. They are really just killing time hoping to get discovered by Madison Ave ad agencies so they can retire to Jamaica and smoke dope. We’ve got their number. Nyaa Nyaa (and no jokes about hoogers).

Brrrrrrn nnnngggg

Hello! Luntz office?

Hello

Who’s this?

Ken.

Ken, the guy from the Bridge House who knows where to get a 1946 Vincent Black Shadow in an airtight crate from U.S. Army surplus for 508?

No. Ken the Oshawa Bureau chief.

Yeah?

Yeah. Who’s this?

Steve.

Steve are you guy’s still going to do that National Lampoon satire-?

Not if you don’t get off the phone asshole.

Click.

Now where was I? Well they wouldn’t let me do it on aardvarks so we did this instead. We know we’ve probably offended everybody in the world. But’s that showbiz. Sorry Mom. When those diletantes in New York city go to Madison avenue we want to be around to fill the Canada Void. They haven’t cornered the yuks magazine any way. They can’t even spell Humour. Besides the Luntz has always been in the forefront with big boffs, giant guffaws and zany journalistic antics. (if you clowns didn’t get the jokes, order some hack copies at a buck apiece.)

Like the man said, on nearly every page somebody’s sensibilities were insulted. Well he was wrong we tried to do it on every page.

So we’d thought we’d take a crack at those czars of satire those clowns in Fun city, with our very own National Lampoon Is nothing sacred?

Our Cover

Native preparing for the arrival of Eric Von Donagat

Guest editor: Arthur Sneath

Editors: Gleason Ornaff, Vasco de Gama, Mouton Rothchild, Martin Bormann

Artists: Jim “Frisetta” Bevridge, J.U. Bernard

Various: Steven A. Monaghan

Subscription Manager: Jerry Wisdom

Mogul: R.J. Bernard

The National Lampoon is a publication of the Lance 18th century Publishing Company, a Non-Existant Corporation. We are manipulated by various business moguls who regularly push us beyond the realm of good taste. Our printer wishes to remain anonymous.

SPECIAL GROSS 1/4 PAGE

A man went into a drugstore and asked for a gross of prophylactics on a Friday afternoon. On Monday morning the man came back. “Hey, this box only contained 143 safes, not a gross,” he complained.

The pharmacist replied, “Sorry if I ruined your week-end!”

If George McGovern’s followers hadn’t read National Lampoon, He be President today.
The starmen awoke in a jail cell. T.S. Eloi, now also awake, said, "We will see how the fatman begins to stir uneasily. "Why do you say nothing, lout? Ah, why waste time talking?"

Lardman began to eat uneasily. "Well, they seem not to stint with prison fare, captain. We will eat well in this strange city." In the open-air kitchen, operating continuously day and night, a buffet board was set, and the inmates were served forth.

Lardman said to the fat prisoner, "Why do you find the Map displeasing?, with a sarcastic grin. The starmen selected a chair to sit in. The fat prisoner said, "It's a far more effective way to subvert the country by keeping you down here. I'm the God that they hunger for. Do you expect us to let this go on unheeded and by down like Canadians?"

"I know that," said the starmen. "The Dayton School of Emotional Development (Home Study Division)

Harness the Powers of Internal Tension

Don't let those nagging doubts and insecurities get to you. Don't let them tear you apart. Use them to build a stronger you. Like the raging rapids, uncontrolled they can be furious and sometimes destructive but tamed they can provide vast resources of power.

Through the wonder of dynamic stresses

Psycho-Isometrics

taps the power of conflicting stresses

- More Powerful Personality

- More Confidence

- Helps cure Swayback

Send $5. for our new booklet

Repression, 5 ways to Make it Work for You.
A Toronto thermal panty-hose-for-the-deaf salesman was travelling on highway 400 near Barrie, Ontario, when he was involved in a thirty-two car collision. Awakening in a field two hours later, he dragged himself to a nearby farmhouse, inquiring for assistance. The farmer said, "You can stay here, but you have to sleep with my daughter." "No thank you," the salesman's face, "You're an ambulance." "Okay" quipped the farmer as he closed the door in the salesman's face. "You're an ambulance."

A Newfie in a Montreal restaurant calls the waiter over and complains, "Garçon, a) What's this beaver doing in my soup, eh?" or bi There's a beaver in my soup.

"Well, in a dam;
3. drowning;
4. f---ing;
5. watching a hockey game.
"The waiter answers: a) l. _the backstroke; 2. building a
9. Why did two beavers cross the road?

"And you answered yes to all the questions, you'll be happy to know that you are less paranoid than the average Canadian. If you answered no to all the questions, send $1,000,000 to your local mental health clinic. If you don't, we'll be out to get you and we'll tear your f-ing heart out and feed it to the....."

A Toronto thermal panty-hose-for-the-deaf salesman was travelling on highway 400 near Barrie, Ontario, when he was involved in a thirty-two car collision. Awakening in a field two hours later, he dragged himself to a nearby farmhouse, inquiring for assistance. The farmer said, "You can stay here, but you have to sleep with my daughter." "No thank you," the salesman's face, "You're an ambulance." "Okay" quipped the farmer as he closed the door in the salesman's face. "You're an ambulance."

A Newfie in a Montreal restaurant calls the waiter over and complains, "Garçon, a) What's this beaver doing in my soup, eh?" or bi There's a beaver in my soup.

"Well, in a dam;
3. drowning;
4. f---ing;
5. watching a hockey game.
"The waiter answers: a) l. _the backstroke; 2. building a
9. Why did two beavers cross the road?

"And you answered yes to all the questions, you'll be happy to know that you are less paranoid than the average Canadian. If you answered no to all the questions, send $1,000,000 to your local mental health clinic. If you don't, we'll be out to get you and we'll tear your f-ing heart out and feed it to the....."

A Toronto thermal panty-hose-for-the-deaf salesman was travelling on highway 400 near Barrie, Ontario, when he was involved in a thirty-two car collision. Awakening in a field two hours later, he dragged himself to a nearby farmhouse, inquiring for assistance. The farmer said, "You can stay here, but you have to sleep with my daughter." "No thank you," the salesman's face, "You're an ambulance." "Okay" quipped the farmer as he closed the door in the salesman's face. "You're an ambulance."

A Newfie in a Montreal restaurant calls the waiter over and complains, "Garçon, a) What's this beaver doing in my soup, eh?" or bi There's a beaver in my soup.

"Well, in a dam;
3. drowning;
4. f---ing;
5. watching a hockey game.
"The waiter answers: a) l. _the backstroke; 2. building a
9. Why did two beavers cross the road?

"And you answered yes to all the questions, you'll be happy to know that you are less paranoid than the average Canadian. If you answered no to all the questions, send $1,000,000 to your local mental health clinic. If you don't, we'll be out to get you and we'll tear your f-ing heart out and feed it to the....."

A Toronto thermal panty-hose-for-the-deaf salesman was travelling on highway 400 near Barrie, Ontario, when he was involved in a thirty-two car collision. Awakening in a field two hours later, he dragged himself to a nearby farmhouse, inquiring for assistance. The farmer said, "You can stay here, but you have to sleep with my daughter." "No thank you," the salesman's face, "You're an ambulance." "Okay" quipped the farmer as he closed the door in the salesman's face. "You're an ambulance."

A Newfie in a Montreal restaurant calls the waiter over and complains, "Garçon, a) What's this beaver doing in my soup, eh?" or bi There's a beaver in my soup.

"Well, in a dam;
3. drowning;
4. f---ing;
5. watching a hockey game.
"The waiter answers: a) l. _the backstroke; 2. building a
9. Why did two beavers cross the road?

"And you answered yes to all the questions, you'll be happy to know that you are less paranoid than the average Canadian. If you answered no to all the questions, send $1,000,000 to your local mental health clinic. If you don't, we'll be out to get you and we'll tear your f-ing heart out and feed it to the....."

A Toronto thermal panty-hose-for-the-deaf salesman was travelling on highway 400 near Barrie, Ontario, when he was involved in a thirty-two car collision. Awakening in a field two hours later, he dragged himself to a nearby farmhouse, inquiring for assistance. The farmer said, "You can stay here, but you have to sleep with my daughter." "No thank you," the salesman's face, "You're an ambulance." "Okay" quipped the farmer as he closed the door in the salesman's face. "You're an ambulance."

A Newfie in a Montreal restaurant calls the waiter over and complains, "Garçon, a) What's this beaver doing in my soup, eh?" or bi There's a beaver in my soup.

"Well, in a dam;
3. drowning;
4. f---ing;
5. watching a hockey game.
"The waiter answers: a) l. _the backstroke; 2. building a
9. Why did two beavers cross the road?

"And you answered yes to all the questions, you'll be happy to know that you are less paranoid than the average Canadian. If you answered no to all the questions, send $1,000,000 to your local mental health clinic. If you don't, we'll be out to get you and we'll tear your f-ing heart out and feed it to the....."
Stare Avert

Ed. Note: In following with the Stare overgenerous policy of hiring dozens of students each year from Wonderful Windsor's very own university, Stare avert will henceforth be done by Bore formerly of the Upright column of the Lancer.

Dear Stare avert,

Last Friday I brought my car to Central Chrysler Plymouth for a routine alignment. The service men were very nice; they offered to show me around, give me my key in a free box, and even put some tie rods in my trunk. I had to disappoint them because my husband said I was to get only a front end alignment.

When I got my car back, it was very strange. The wheels were wobbling and the motor sounded funny. There was a slippery fishy smell. I found out that the mechanics had ordered the parts and would do the work for me. I think it's wonderful that mechanics are so thoughtful but my husband keeps raving on that they are cheating us. I know that sounds crazy and I don't want him to see a psychiatrist because he keeps passing out and I think he's paranoid to. Can you convince him that his silly suspicions are insane?

Mrs. Stuy Wambough

I think your husband's wacko! I mean would we let Central advertise in good old mother Stare if they weren't on the up and up?! If it's any consolation to him, it's not his fault he's so screw up, he's obviously ignorant and lacks a university education or he would know that the socio-economic continuum could not possibly breed deceit especially in big companies that so many people look up to. It reminded me of the same day I graduated and that hallowed moment when the chancellor gave me a fine rectal syringing and said "Facile cum taker" or something like that which means in Latin "Take it easy". It is with those words of assurance that I realized that our souls are all empty haws on a cosmic secpilace. Your husband should be thankful they ordered the parts even in adversity the nobility of our fellow men shine through. For it's oft said, when the music's over....

Ghost haunts Hockey Hall

Ghost of Canada's Past Haunts Hockey Hall of Fame!

Jack Hughes, former Wackohutt guard, has quit his job as watchman in the Hockey Hall of Fame. "Dis place is haunted and it gives me the willies!", he cried to press representatives of several U.S. newspapers. Mr. Hughes added, "I'm gettin' the hell outta here!" He was restrained long enough to tell his strange story.

"Every night about eight o'clock an honest to God ghost materializes and starts howling. "What have they done? What have they done?" Then he starts jabbering away about how American dollars make a poor substitute for Canadian talent, and how the Big Bucks are prostituting Canada's national sport. Then he gets mad and howls, "this isn't hockey today is a farce, because the average player is not a quarter as good as in the old days but he gets paid four times as much. Then he starts throwing pictures and stuff around, sneering at Canadians for selling Hockey into the American fascist business mills, where skill is out and brawling draws the crowds; where goal totals count more than team play; where they want Canadian players to be 'paper-stars' and second-rate players are "stars"."

After Mr. Hughes fled, the U.S. reporters decided that the story was "no news to anyone". There were no Canadian journalists present to comment.

Prep: RUDY'S BARBER SALON

Located at University & Huron Church
See Us Soon
Pop

by

John Claychaud

Eric Clapton's 47th collection, Greatness: Best Old Time Hits That Eric Clapton Ever Did, is a must for the really serious Clapton collector or "Rick buff" as we hip newspaper folks say. At last a really serious producer has put together all the necessary Clapton cuts on one album. The long-lost version of "Toum", recorded live in Aculpalo, in which Clapton plays on immensely satisfactory note in the middle of Ginger Baker's 1 hour and forty five minute drum solo (due version) is here as are all of Eric's powerful vocals from Derek And The Dominos (where he sings on key almost all the time.) All told, this album is not to be overlooked by the really serious record buyer and Clapton aficionado.

On the other hand SLADE's most recent album reflects the depths to which current popular music has sunk. The record consists of nothing more than eight 3-minute songs of the bouncy heavy metal genre. It's appeal could only be to brainless English 14 year olds, high on God-knows-what and anyone expecting Music need not look here. In fact after playing this album, it was all I could do to put down my beer, climb down from dancing on the coffee table and lie down to calmly contemplate the pro-fundities of Anne Murray.

Hoo-hah and witless Jim Corny

For a really good time next lunch-hour try the Big Mac on the westside. I shared a burger there yesterday with Felix Dullard, a scales-repairer with the Bureau of Weights and Measures. He took my cheeseburger in his left hand and balanced it against his own in his right hand. It turned out that while his was a quarter-pounder, mine was only a 3.5-1/4th pounder. What about it, Ronald?

Who knows what happened to good movies? I sure don't.

With all the furor over wire-tapping in the United States and Canada, its about time that the world knew my phone was tapped. But little Eva Phelps is quite convincing as the prostitute with a heart of gold.

Provincial Court News

For Impaired Driving:

Noah Conn, of no fixed address, was found guilty of recklessly driving a stolen car while under the influence of at least two quarts of tequila. "This has got to stop", said Judge Gorgon R. Stewpid. "Since this is only your third offence, I sentence you to go to bed tonight without any dessert. And no TV. for the rest of the week.”

Steven Sophomore, 18, was found guilty of simple possession of 40 grams of marijuana by Judge Gorgon R. Stewpid in provincial court today. "I hate marijuana smokers! I just hate them!”, Judge Stewpid screamed at the youthful first offender. “To me there’s no difference between a marijuana cigarette and a $200 a day heroin habit! You’ll spend the next seven months in jail, son, but it’ll be for your own good. Maybe missing your graduation final exams will teach you a lesson. You must learn to acquire a respectable vice, like alcoholism.” The 40 grams of marijuana is enough to make about 291 cigarettes with a street value of approximately $50,000.
Ontario Student Assistance Program
1974-75

Application forms and a new question-and-answer booklet about OSAP are now available.

AWARDS OFFICE
NORTH WING WINDSOR HALL
ROOM G135
TEL. 253-4232
EXT. 447

Ontario Student Assistance Program
1974-75

Your Student Awards Officer has full details. Apply early. It helps us and it helps you.

Ontario Ministry of Colleges and Universities

McMaster University
Faculty of Business

MBA
Co-op
Full-time
Part-time

McMaster University now has a third option for students interested in proceeding to a Master of Business Administration degree: a co-operative option, whereby students alternate four-month periods of study and relevant work experience. A limited number of applications will be accepted for the semester beginning in September, 1974.

CO-OP

An MBA degree from McMaster could help you to achieve your career objectives in the areas of management, administration, and education because the McMaster MBA program offers a wide range of optional courses (that can be selected to your needs) as well as providing a core of basic knowledge and skills. Although admission is restricted to those who have proven that they have the potential and commitment required to complete a demanding program, graduates in any discipline may be accepted.

Academic standing is not the only entry criterion but, as a general rule, you can have a reasonable expectation of completing the McMaster MBA program if you have maintained at least a second-class standing in the last two years of your undergraduate program and if you can achieve a satisfactory test score in the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business.

FULL-TIME

Applications for the McMaster MBA who have taken relevant course work may be granted advanced standing in our program. If you are interested in exploring this challenging opportunity further, fill in and mail this form.

TO: Assistant to the Dean
School of Business
McMaster University
Hamilton, Ontario
L8S 4M1

Name
Address
City
Province
University attending
Degree expected
When?

Please send me details about your MBA program

( ) Full-time
( ) Part-time
( ) Co-operative

WANTED

+ This student is approaching graduation and has already shown competence and is eager to take up the challenges of our day.
+ This student seeks an opportunity of making a contribution to society not possible to most.
+ This student has the potential for excellence, and will unlock doors for the benefit of others.
+ This student seeks to become a scholar in the business disciplines in order to keep growing.

If you are a young man or woman who fits this description the Faculty of Business Administration has an opening for you in the following programs:

+ BACHELOR OF COMMERCE PROGRAM FOR UNIVERSITY GRADUATES
A calendar year (three semester) program for graduates with a "C" or better overall average who wish to obtain a Bachelor of Commerce Degree in Honours Business Administration.

+ MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
A two-year post-graduate program of study in the field of business administration as preparation for responsible performance in private business and public service careers. Read for doctoral studies. Applicants must have secured an overall second class or "B" average standing.

For further information contact: Faculty of Business Administration
University of Windsor
Telephone: 253-4232, local 279
Loans for future graduates

the provincial bank is concerned with helping future university graduates.

For one thing, we loan them money when they need it. Even more important, the provincial bank takes an active interest in helping graduates realize their ambition and lead a fuller, richer life.

Drop by any branch of the provincial bank, and you will see we'd be more than happy to talk to you, advise you, and if necessary provide you with financial assistance.

Yes, you've got a friend in the provincial bank: a friend who wants to help you get started on the road to better living.

the provincial bank of canada
THE BANK FOR BETTER LIVING

Complete this reply coupon

Name ____________________________
Address ____________________________________________
Phone Number ________________________________ and drop by any Provincial Bank branch nearest to the campus.

500 Ouellette Avenue
Windsor, Ontario

Our Manager, Mr. Kenneth Bruce Liddle will give you a particular attention for any kind of loans.
PENFRIENDS IN BRITAIN
Find out what life is REALLY like in the British Isles—perhaps have a holiday there with new friends! Write TODAY for details on the Club which specializes in transatlantic penfriends—

ATLANTIC, Dept. CY1,
45 Maysbrook Road, Dagenham

THE THUMB IS THREATENED.

Student-Railpass.
Just about the cheapest way to see
Europe outside of hitching.
Unlimited second-class rail travel in 13 countries. Two months only $165.
You buy your Student-Railpass here—you can't buy it in Europe. And the $165 price is tax free and a beautiful way to beat currency fluctuations. What's more, train schedules are as frequent as ever, while getting about by car or motor coach isn't always as easy as before.

Who's eligible?
Any full-time student under 26 years of age registered in a North American school, college or university.

You spend two whole months seeing practically the whole of Europe. And you travel in comfort. On trains so clean and so fast (up to 100 mph) you wouldn't believe it. Of course, you can also take our cozy little trains that meander through our remote countryside—that's part of the privilege, too. It can mean the Summer trip of your life, so don't wait. See your friendly Travel Agent or clip the coupon and we'll send you all the facts.

See if you don't agree. The day of the thumb may be over. Fares subject to change.

Eurailpass is valid in Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland.

Eurailpass, Box 2168, Toronto 1, Ontario
Please send me your free Student-Railpass folder. Or your free Eurailpass folder with railroad map.

Name
Address
City
Province Postal Code

STUDENT·RAILPASS
It shows you Europe as the Europeans see it.

Eurailpass at Student Prices
Also: student flights to Europe and within Europe, car rentals, international ID cards, tours, and hotels.

AOSC/44 St. George Street, Toronto (416) 962-8404
Association of Student Councils
New smooth Formosa Diamond Lager is specially brewed so every Diamond is as good as the first. Try a Formosa Diamond Lager Beer – you'll like it.

Have a good one!

Formosa Spring Brewery, Barrie, Ontario.