"WHERE DO YOU GO FROM HERE?"

HITCH YOUR WAGON TO A STAR
LOOK TO THE FUTURE

Your success in life will be largely determined by the type, quality and character of training you receive, together with the advice and placement assistance given you, Shorthand, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Accounting, Business English, and other correlated subjects are all necessary as a background for a business career.

OUR SUGGESTION . . .

If a good office job . . . at a good pay interests you . . . and you realize that it takes Business Training at a professional level to give you confidence and ability to hold the better job, register without delay for interesting and successful training at B. B. C. Business and professional men prefer B. B. C. graduates because they are expertly trained.

No Signs, No Symbols, No Machines

You simply use the letters of the alphabet.
No previous knowledge of shorthand needed.

Fastest, easiest shorthand to master, SPEEDWRITING is simple as A. B. C.—even a child can learn. No tedious study required, no "foreign language" of signs or symbols to learn—you simply use the letters of the alphabet. That is why you can actually start taking dictation the very first day instead of spending months learning shorthand characters.

"THE TOWERS" EDITORIAL STAFF

ALEX AIREY
Editor-in-Chief

EDITORIAL

We of the editorial staff take pleasure in presenting the 1952-53 edition of "The Towers." We sincerely hope that you will like it. A great deal of work has gone into its preparation and an effort has been made to have all of our school activities represented. We feel that this book will be of interest to every individual in the school. The graduates, especially, will treasure this book as it is a memento of their final year at Lowe Vocational.

The Year Book is produced at considerable cost and could not be published without the generous support of our advertisers. You would be doing the book a service if you would patronize these friends and, when doing so, mention that you saw their advertisement in "The Towers."

THE FRONT OFFICE

J. ORD, Principal

In early February, The Towers is about to go to press. May I first speak in appreciation of all the work which must be done by teachers and students in the production and financing of a year book. Were it ever necessary to discontinue publishing the year book, we would all be sorry; for the year book, not only in its articles and photos, but also in the recollections which it stirs, reminds us of our achievements in the year which it records.

We should not forget that our school is an educational institution and that, along with desirable growth in personality and character, our young people are here to learn more about the qualities of the good citizen. The good citizen knows that in Democracy we can preserve freedom only by learning self discipline. If we have not learned willingly to respect manners, fair play, and our laws; if we have not learned to value goodness and truth—we are not educated, no matter what skills or book learning we have mastered.

To all our students, and particularly to those who are graduating, I extend sincere good wishes.

—J. Ord.

We are all proud of the achievements of our teams—golf, tennis, soccer, rugby, volley-ball, gymnastic, basket-ball, and hockey. The scoring of a goal or the completion of a difficult play may seem quite simple to the spectator, but we all know that this skill is only acquired after many hours of practice and co-ordinated effort by each member of the team.

If we wish to succeed in the business world, we should be prepared to spend many hours of study and practice, so that we, too, will have the necessary education and skill required to play the game in a highly competitive world. We hope that you will take advantage of the many opportunities offered by this school, so that you will play a competent part in the business and industrial world.

—George F. Dean.

G. F. DEAN, Director of the Commercial Dept.

C. H. MONTROSE, Director of the Technical Dept.

Thirty years ago, in 1923, this school opened its doors to meet the vocational educational needs of Windsor, Walkerville and Essex County. To-day, after three decades of conscientious service, we can look with pride upon our record.

During this period we have trained and placed thousands of fine young people into a variety of occupations. We have also provided these students with an appreciation of the finer things of life. In addition, it has been our constant aim to impress upon them a high sense of idealism; a realization of the truth that it is only in the service of others that we find our greatest happiness in life.

—C. H. Montrose.

T4A—Girls

All our teachers ask us,
Just why we come to school;
To dream awhile—to scheme awhile
Then turn around and fool.
You never, never concentrate,
They tell us every day;
You're here in classes badly
But mentally far away.
But really, fellow students
Do you think they understand?
It's just a student's nature
To roam in a pleasanter land.

Could You Imagine in T4A—Boys

Haisman—without a date,
Lenar—being wide awake;
Aldea—not carrying the attendance sheet,
Branget—doing his drafting neat;
Harper—with hair nice and curly,
Pella—getting home early;
Chulomovich—going to a formal,
Fekete—acting normal;
Myket—not going steady,
Parent—not playing hockey;
Knight—not beating his drum,
Rigney—going back to London;
And Oxford getting things done,
McCarthy—paying attention,
Gryce—getting a detention;
Irving—when playing soccer always alert,
Warren—never standing first;
Oreskovich—not being a gymnast,
Sullivan—trying to stand last;
Caza—with his homework done,
Reaburn—not having a little fun;
Walker—not being a football star,
Turok—not having a car;
Savage—taking sewing,
Tellerd—not bowling;
Beemer—getting high marks in Adsett's,
Manias—not thinking of cadets;
Condick—without a percent of 72,
Neilson—with something to do,
And Ray Chin, well he's new.
(Cherniak, he's Vocational's president)
And Frimer, well.....?

Mr. Wallen: As we walked outdoors on a cold winter's morning and look about us on every hand what do we see?

M. Ross: Gloves, sir.

Mama: Let's buy Junior a bicycle.

Papa: Do you think it will improve his behaviour.

Mama: No, but it spreads his meanness over a wider area.

Zipper will never take the place of buttons. You can't put zipper on the collection plate.

CLASS NEWS

T48

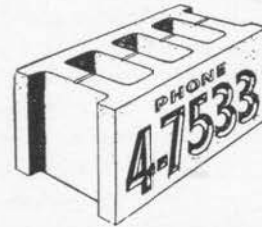

The bell rings its warning—another day has begun,
 Patiently we wait for the entrance of Davidson.
 We then all depart for learning and lore,
 And to catch up on sleep missed the night before!
 With Shakespeare the subject, Adsett tries in vain,
 To dust a few cobwebs off Stobbs' cloudy brain.
 In Math, our attention is called to the board;
 By questions from Bennett we all are floored.
 Welsh and Brooks offer suggestions so bright:
 You're wrong, kids, so you can stay in to-night.
 In Chemistry, Dyke busily putters around
 Constructing bombs to lower the school to the ground.
 Drazic and Penny are very deep in a daze
 Thinking of all the schools' new basketball plays.
 Afternoon to our major shops we depart;
 The six woodchoppers tear houses apart.
 In Auto, seven coveralls tear into space
 Looking for a wrench someone misplaced.
 In drafting, the boys a new house do draw,
 While Kirst dreamily lights his torch with a straw.
 In Sheetmetal, the boys make a lot of tin cans,
 While our excellent artists a masterpiece plan.
 Our class is quite large but we have lots of fun
 And this is a good time to thank everyone.
 We've come a long way with mishaps very few
 And we all hope to graduate in the class '52.

Class C3B

In the class of C3B,
Where Miss Coughlin is the boss,
Where Joan and Beverly,
And, says Shirley, "What a loss".

Where Dolores B. and Betty I.
Have finally caught their beaus,
And prompt Mary Horvath
Is always on her toes.

Then there's Annie Lyons
Who has that pepsodent smile,
Willie, Cassie, Gail and Shirley
Who do work all the while.

There's Carolyn, known as "Ducky",
And Kathy who goes with Bill;
Pat who has an eye on Les,
And Lilly Jean with good-will.

Comical Gloria Johnson
Forever talking of Lou,
When Marlene steps up
And says, "What's what and who's who."

Next in line is Lorna
With funny jokes galore,
While Bev Pray and the two Barbaras
Try to learn more and more.

Barbara K. and Ann MacCharles
The two blondes in the class,
Along with Valerie and Lidia,
Are girls that are sure to pass.

Where's Rosemary and Cecile?
Oh, they're strolling down the hall,
On the way they see pert Helen,
And Oline who is tall.

Audrey, Lois, Janet and Betty
Here too, and you can see
That they and all the other girls
Join to make C3B.

—SHIRLEY REYBROEK.

What Would It Be Like in C1E If:

Mary Bateson wasn't in the game
And Sheila didn't do the same?
If Roma didn't act the clown
And Pat Murtagh didn't have a boy around?
If Helen didn't have Joan as a chum
And both were seen without their gum?
If Ethel Theoret stood up straight
And Doreen C. had no date?
If we had no typist like Phyllis Doe
And Teresa M. didn't have a beau?
If Lucy C. wasn't shy,
Then Anita didn't whistle at all the boys going by?
If Patricia Shelson didn't stay away from school for days
And Gloria didn't have her cute ways?
If Teresa N. didn't like her men,
And Mary doesn't play with her dog again?
If Edna didn't have a brain,
Her pony-tail would never be the same.

—E. MADILL AND P. MURTAGH, C1E.

Can You Imagine in C1F—

Doreen M. and Red not behaving in Mr. Adsett's class?
Ruth T. being tall?
Beverly M. not being smart?
Carol Ch. not eating in Mr. Levine's class?
Marlene B. not putting on makeup?
Lorraine B. not smiling?
Yvonne B. not dragging her feet?
Margaret G. going out with a boy?
Violet H. talking in school?
Gladys R. without wearing glasses?
Madeline C. and Shirley T. not teasing anyone?
Yvonne O. and Ruth Ch. being late?
Heather B. not playing sports?
Mary B. fed up with boys?
Geraldine B. and Elaine M. being good friends?
Marian Illnicki not having curls?
Doreen Maisonville not talking to boys?
Beverly C. having short hair?
Alice G. not being neat?
Lillian and Lorette not saying "sh" in Mr. Fraser's room?
Alice A. not being able to type?
Barbara M. not behaving in Mr. Durocher's room?
Sally R. not helping Mr. Fraser?
Marlene Wogan not having a nice complexion?
Pat Green not wearing tight skirts?
Georgina L. being able to type?
Joan R. not being a Twin?
Agnes T. not being quick?
Shirley Labreque not being French?

CLASS NEWS

T3A Wouldn't Be T3A If:

Barbara Beemer didn't talk about a certain party at Graceland College.

Henrietta Jahn's favourite colour wasn't navy blue, and she wasn't attracted to the sea.

Marilyn Marshall didn't wear her hair in a pony tail, and didn't get excited when the Oshawa Generals come to town.

Ruth Rowe hadn't suddenly become attracted to the Windsor Spitfire Hockey Team. It couldn't be No. 2 could it?

Marilyn Fraser wasn't particularly interested in a Patterson Collegiate boy.

Loretta Harrison ever missed a Spitfire Hockey Game. We wonder why, eh, R.G.?

June Swan didn't want to get L. R. on a slow boat to China (so she could push him off).

Gail Brimmer didn't blush every time we mentioned a certain party in the Cadet Corps.

—RUTH ROWE.

T3B Sports Roundup

T3B has a good record in sports this year. In interform soccer, basketball and hockey, the T3B teams made the finals in each sport, losing to the winner by very narrow margins. Two of T3B class, Louis Tome and Armand Mastelletto play on the school hockey team.

T3B is proud of its "sportsmen" and intends to uphold the standards of good sportsmen both in school and elsewhere.

—MURRAY TOPLIFFE.

Let's Imagine, T2A

Bill and Paul without their bikes,

Our Literature brain being Mike.

Carl Ouellette willing to try it.

Harold Moore being quiet.

George Mayne never on a team.

Frank Greenwood right on the beam.

Alfred Laforet refusing a date,

Edward Boismier never being late.

Roger Deschamps giving a speech,

Richard Sauchereau making us screech.

Don Simko without a song.

James Woodrich our class clown.

Bill Prosser quitting school,

John Waterman with a great big drool.

Norman Zamczyk with a violin,

Luc Masse acting Errol Flynn.

Nick Spoiala learning his history,

John Landon a great big mystery.

CLASS NEWS

Can You Imagine in C2A?

Dorothy Wright not making eyes
At all available fellows and guys;
Olga without her sugar sweet smile,
Barbara without her expression of guile;
Rita Colautti without her Mounties,
All C2A without such bounties.
Of variations of geniuses with all sorts of characters
Who surprise all their teachers and paters and maters
With such mischievous tricks and pranks
That make almost everyone think they are cranks.
Why, this is the class that's supposed to be brainy!
Who would have thought they'd act so zany.

—GLADYS POPIEL, C2A.

C2A and the Teachers

Mr. Cook of course makes us laugh and swoon
And we like Miss Connerty, when she's out of the room
Miss McManus reminds us to curve our fingers
Miss Coughlin says that we're terrible thinkers
Miss Green informs us we're quite a team
But Mr. Jennings says we do our Math in a dream
Whenever we're noisy and shout in the halls
We're sure to be lectured by dear Miss Falls
We're the only girl class taught by Mr. Mills
We tease him so much he began taking pills
Miss Gignac and Miss Layman don't say much of the gang
But I know we'll get over with a great big bang.

—MARY BALYO, C2A.

Favourite Sayings of C2A

Betty Marocchia—What's a Matter?
Helen Halas—Holy cow!
Elsie Padovan—Quit Picking on me.
Caroline Pitrus—Will you go or no?
Eva Sebestyn—Oh, Moe.
Pat Oana—Holy Hanagan.
Mary Balyo—Go tell the Marines.
Thirza Dix—Put a nickel in it.

—MARY BALYO, C2A.

Can You Imagine in C2B?

Olga D. without a date,
Eleanor O. not being late.
Mavis W. short and fat,
Carol F. playing with a cat.
Jacqueline F. not wanting Cliff,
Frances M. wanting a kiss.

Ann V. without nice posture,
Pat G. without clothes that cost her.
Jean B. tall and thin,
Pat P. looking grim.
Winnie B. sharp and keen,
Barbara L. looking mean.
Rose D. not living in town,
Marion D. not falling down.
Rosemary D. not being a flirt,
Shirley B. playing basketball in a skirt.
June T. without her toni,
Miss McKay riding a pony.
Elaine R. pale and white,
Stella S. not looking for a fight.
Can you imagine??

What Would C2C Do If?

Jean Ducharme suddenly grew tall
And Mary Ann got very small.
Betty Jean didn't say something witty
And Matty hadn't written this ditty.
Janice wouldn't sing now and then
And Louise DeVittori did not attract men.
June Antoschuk didn't have her "Eddie"
And Sara Ursu was going steady.
Cathie was real tall and thin
And Doreen had a double chin.
Margaret Atkin refused to speak
And Jane was very humble and meek.
Betty Pattison had a homely face
And Nancy Stoddart wore pink and lace.
Ruby Tiller cut her hair
And Irene didn't do her share.
Bev didn't represent our class
And Gail became a quiet lass.
Barb. Cherry wasn't full of joy
And Doris hated every boy.
Donna came no more to school
And Marg lived up to every rule.
Marilyn's manner got very stern
And Illene did not her shorthand learn.
Theresa began in math to fall
And Barb. Little started a brawl.
Dorothy recited from "Edger Allen Poe"
And Betty Tait her Geography did know.
Mary Lou and Jean Sego didn't pass notes to and fro,
Jo-Ann made a lot of noise,
And Diane began to play with toys.

If Mr. Cook did't teach C2C, this ditty wouldn't be here for you to see.

CLASS NEWS

—C2D—

This year it was again possible to form a commercial second form class for boys only. Mr. McManus was appointed our Home-room teacher.

C2D has had its share of "brilliant young men" and seems to be heading for a good year. Our class president is Gary Awad.

C2D is following the precedent set by former C2D classes. This year we won the inter-form volleyball championship and were runners-up for interform basketball honours. Larry Mogg and Mel McCartney are our basketball stars, while Peter Varga and Ed Latouf stand out in football. We might say too, that C2D is setting a hard pace for the other second forms in mathematics and we hope to keep a good record and be a credit to our school.

—So we peer into the future
Dreaming of what we are to be
And of what we might accomplish
We, the class of C2D

—GERALD ABBEY

FOOTBALL

The Rough Riders lived up to their name during the 1952 W. S. S. A. football season and for the first time in seven years, the team made the playoffs. Our team was voted the most improved team in 1952, which won us the white football. Under the guidance of Mr. Gene Durocher and Mr. John Murray the team took to the field in each game intending to win, and, despite reverses, our team never lost their spirit.

Our well balanced backfield, made up of Jim Veitch, Murray Walker, Roman Ursu, Russel Clinansmith, M. Martinello, H. Batagello and Eugene Lysay could hold their own against any team in the city. Our line, consisting of Norm Varga, Fred Philchuck, Morris Prymack, George Mayne, Al. Hoffman, Glen Rigney, and Frank Stevenson, played a big part in most of our games, especially the playoff game against Patterson in which our team was a constant threat throughout the whole game. Their determined spirit in this game won our team the admiration of the whole city.

SOCCER

1952 marks the first time since 1945 that Lowe Vocational has won the W. S. S. A. soccer championship. The team won four games by shut-outs, tied one game and lost one game. In the three playoff games against the defending champions, Walkerville Collegiate, our team won two games while one game resulted in a tie.

Our win in Windsor put us in the playoffs for the W. O. S. S. A. championship at London. There we won our first game against London Beal Technical School after two periods of overtime. The final game, played against Sarnia was lost by a 1-0 score because of a poor decision by the referee. Our protest on this decision has been accepted and is pending decision by a board of referees.

Our whole team functioned very smoothly. With such a good group of athletes it is difficult to choose outstanding players, although we should mention that Ray Norris' play in goal was spectacular.

All being well, Mr. Cowgill, our coach, hopes for a repeat performance from the team in the next campaign.

GOLF TEAM

THE W. D. LOWE VOCATIONAL SCHOOL GOLF TEAM

Each member of our golf team this year was a keen competitor in his own right. We have seen excellent teams in our school, but there is nary a team that can be called better than our present one.

Under the fine coaching and leadership of Mr. Augustine, our quintet performed what may be called a "grand slam," for, in four years of our participation in W. S. S. A. competition, we won four W. S. S. A. championships.

This year our team was composed of Rudy Cherniak, Mike Saffran, Eli Popovich, Peter Dragicevich and George Hollensky. The school will suffer a loss, however, upon the graduation this year of Rudy, Mike, Eli and Pete. These boys have contributed greatly to the honour of our school and are leaving behind a fine record.

In October, we entered the W. S. S. A. High School golf tournament. The boys were well prepared for this event for previous to this long-anticipated tournament, we had practiced often and arduously.

In the W. S. S. A. competition, our team placed first with a team total of 320. Our nearest competitor was 36 strokes behind.

In our own school, competition for individual championships, long driving Rudy Cherniak was defeated by a veteran of the fairways, Mike Saffran.

Our Junior Champion this year was Harold Hollinsky, a first year student. His fine score of 82 defeated all other contenders.

LOWE VOCATIONAL GYM TEAM

Our Gym Team is one of Canada's most outstanding gymnastic organizations and is fast becoming known through the midwestern United States. This has not come about by luck, but through much time and expense by the team's coach, Mr. Bernard Newman.

The Gym Team travels more than any other school team. They have often travelled to the University of Michigan and to Michigan State College where they have picked up many new gymnastic movements. The Gym Team has travelled to Penn State where they saw the greatest gymnasts in America go through their paces; that was the American Olympic trials. At the Athenaeum Turner's Club in Indianapolis our Gym Team was the back-bone of the Windsor team that won the Grand Team Championship. Then again at the Detroit Turner's Club, our Gym Team won the Junior Boys Championship.

At the Detroit Turner's, Al Cornwall won the Junior all-around individual championship, with Wayne Warren, third. Ed Gagnier, although competing in the Olympic Class, tied the 1951 Big Ten champion for first place on the parallel bars. He also finished second on high-bar and third on trampoline. Observers at the Detroit Turner's told Mr. Newman that Ed Gagnier, Al Cornwall and Wayne Warren are all sure-fire prospects for the 1956 Olympic Games.

The Gym Team is also intending to travel to Lansing, March 7, to witness their fourth Big Ten Gymnastic meet and also to Syracuse in April to see the National Collegiate Meet.

Good luck, Mr. Newman, with your future teams and competitions!

SENIOR GIRLS' VOLLEY BALL TEAM W.O.S.S.A. CHAMPIONS

Our Senior Girls' Volley Ball team had an exceptionally good year. They are now the Western Ontario champions. Our team worked hard to reach the top, and they well deserved this recognition. We are all proud of our girls for bringing this title back to Vocational.

They started out by winning the first 2 games against St. Josephs and Walkerville. In their third game, however, they suffered a loss against Kennedy. But this did not discourage them, they played the next game even harder and won over Patterson by a score of 29-22. The following week, Vocational and Forster had a playoff game at Patterson. This was necessary because W. D. Lowe Vocational had lost one game against Kennedy and Forster had been defeated by our Lowe girls. In this game our girls showed plenty of good team work and walked away with the W.S.S.A. title with a terrific score of 29-6. This was the first time in the history of Volley Ball at Lowe Vocational that the girls had captured the W.S.S.A. championship.

After winning the city championship, our senior girls went to London to play for the W.O.S.S.A. Championship at the University of Western Ontario. Here, they had to play the various teams in their district on three different volley ball courts. It was certainly a new experience for them. They started out very well by beating Stratford, 34-20. The next team, London Beal Tech, was an easy take, 27-19. At this point the girls stopped for 15 minutes to have their lunch. Although they were tired and still hungry, they played on. The third game was played against Chatham, and once again Vocational came through, wiping out Chatham 54-10. Then came the final event, the playoffs. The team that Lowe faced was London Central. It was a close game at the beginning, but London Central came up and won the game 30-16. Tired and disgusted our team left the floor with the one thought in mind, "we lost the W.O.S.S.A." But when it was discovered that they had to play two games out of three, they went back on the floor with renewed energy and won the other two games. Jennie Gallas, Beth Purton, Norma Browning and Pat Affleck played exceptionally well that day. The scores in the final set were: Lowe 20-Central 17; Lowe 19-Central 13.

All these games were played in succession from 11:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. They were tense and exciting with some really outstanding playing from our girls. Although the competition was tough, our girls didn't let us down, they came through victorious. The girls, through the coaching of Miss Pougnet, did a wonderful job.

Congratulations to Miss Pougnet and the Senior Girls' Volley Ball Team.

—NELLIE WEIKO.

JUNIOR GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL TEAM

JUNIOR GIRLS' VOLLEY BALL TEAM

The Junior girls had quite a good season this year, tying one game and losing two. They started out very well winning over St. Joseph's by 43-8. Their second game against Walkerville proved to be a little harder, however, but they still came through with a score of 19-13. In the next game, they left Kennedy far behind by 13 points, score 26-13. Shirley Browning, the captain, played exceptionally well that game, scoring 7 points. The next team Lowe faced was Patterson. It was a fight-to-the-finish game, the final score being a 20-20 tie. But our girls were not so fortunate in their next game against Forster; they lost by 5 points, score 16-9. The junior girls were very close to the W.S.S.A. championship this year, but they didn't quite make it. We hope they have better luck in the coming year!

—NELLIE WEIKO.

TENNIS

Gloria Rakos is our school's outstanding representative in tennis. For the last two years she has won the W.S.S.A. singles championship, and has been our entry in the annual W.O.S.S.A. tournament at London.

Gloria continued her tennis beyond the school tournament this year and won the Windsor Women's singles championship, the first junior ever to do so. As a result of her achievement in Windsor, Gloria was entered in the Ontario tennis tournament at Toronto, and came third in the women's singles. Congratulations to Gloria.

VOCATIONAL UNITED EXECUTIVE

Left to Right: Mr. G. Pew, Rudy Cherniak, Mary Trentin, Mike Saffran, Ron Erwin, Miss M. Connerty.

VOCATIONAL UNITED

Greetings:

As president of Vocational United, and on behalf of my fellow executives, I would like to express our heartfelt appreciation for the honour bestowed upon us. Not only has it been an honour, but it has also been a pleasure for us to head such a fine student body.

Special thanks are due Miss Connerty and Mr. Pew, our sponsors, and to Mike Saffran, who, as vice-president has assisted in the carrying out of leadership duties.

"The Towers," which is sponsored by Vocational United, again promises to be a success in every respect, and the appreciation of the executive is extended to all who have taken part in the publication of this book, the record of our remembrance of happy days gone by.

RUDY CHERNIAK,
President, Vocational United.

MEMORIAL DAY ASSEMBLY

On November 11, 1952, the entire student body gathered in the auditorium for this very solemn occasion. Our assembly, led by Wayne Warren, was opened with "God Save the Queen" and the Lord's Prayer; then the students sang "Abide With Me," accompanied by the school orchestra. Kenneth Dix sang an appropriate solo. Wayne Warren offered a prayer in remembrance of the fallen.

At the center of the stage was a white cross with a remembrance wreath at its base, guarded by a uniformed cadet.

After the service, as the school orchestra played the Recessional, the students filed quietly past the memorial tablets in the main hall and adjourned to class.

UNITED NATIONS ASSEMBLY

Students and teachers of W. D. Lowe Vocational School marked United Nations Week with impressive and colorful assemblies, bringing forcibly to the attention of the big school's enrolment the vital place the organization plays in attempting to bring peace and improved conditions throughout the world. Above is a group of girl students in the costumes of the various nations—many of these are from families who came to Canada from the lands their costumes represent. The colorful pageant was arranged and directed by Miss Gertrude Green, a Vocational School staff member. In addition to the part played by the girls, the assemblies heard from special speakers, including the Hon. Paul Martin, on the work of the U.N. and listened to specially arranged music by the school band. The group above represents some 20 nations.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

Christmas Assembly was held again this year as usual, on the afternoon of closing day before Christmas. A varied and entertaining program was presented, featuring mass singing of Christmas carols, tap-dancing numbers, musical numbers, and skits. One of the highlights was a skit by Beverley Lossowski (Grad. '52) shown at the left whose humorous monologue "brought down the house." Jack Burke delighted the audience with his rendition of popular numbers on the piano, and the orchestra also rendered special Christmas music.

COMMENCEMENT, 1952

COMMENCEMENT ASSEMBLY

The thirtieth annual commencement was held on Friday, November 14. The graduates filed into the auditorium in formal procession for the last time as a class. Mr. Ord, the Principal, welcomed the graduates and Mr. A. R. Davidson of the Board of Education added his congratulations and extended those of the Board.

The main speaker, Mr. H. R. Beattie, Director of Guidance for Ontario, was introduced by Mr. Frank Clute, General School Counsellor for the Windsor Schools. In his address Mr. Beattie stressed the fact that one of the greatest aims of modern education in Ontario is to help students develop the ability to make decisions. "Decisions let the world know what kind of a being you are," he stated.

Shown at the left are Valedictorian William Martin, receiving the Vocational United Award from Rudy Cherniak, President of Vocational United. In his valedictory, William Martin paid tribute to the school, the teachers, and to the parents "who made sacrifices on our behalf that we might be given the opportunity of an education."

After the assembly, the graduates received the congratulations of friends and relatives waiting in the halls. Later they met in the Cafeteria for refreshments, followed by dancing in the gymnasium.

VOCATIONAL DAY AT "SMITH'S"

1952 marked the fifteenth annual "Vocational Day at Smith's." This event has become an institution with us, and one that the school and, we are assured, the C. H. Smith Co. looks forward to with great anticipation each year. The date is usually the first Saturday of November in any year, and for several days previous to that date the students are carefully coached and "groomed" for this one-day job. This year about 175 students participated in the merchandising activities of the more than 50 departments of this big store.

In the picture to the left Mr. Joseph Ord, our principal, is shown double-checking on the salesmanner and ability of two student sales ladies, Miss Marie Cuku at the left and Miss Angela Marinelli centre. Mr. Ord is being "sold" a new tie.

—E. DARIO.

THE EXPERT TYPISTS' CLUB

"There is always room for improvement"—and members of the Expert Typist's Club took this to heart after watching World's Amateur Champion, Miss Irma Wright, in action at a special commercial assembly, February 18th. Here is a true champion, in every sense of the word, and her visit was an inspiration and a delight to all the commercial students. After the assembly, tea was served by the girls of the Club in the Home Economic's Room, in honour of Miss Wright.

This Club was organized by the girls of C3A in January, 1952. Since then, it has met each Tuesday afternoon for practice and tests under Miss Donaldson's direction. This group of 18 girls hold: 43 Royal certificates, 32 Underwood certificates and fifteen school pins for net speeds ranging from 50 to 80 words per minute net. The highest award, the school gold ring, is now held by Elda Gava, Vera Turus and Angela Marinelli.

HOMEWORK

My homework, My homework, I wish I never was born;
 All night I have worked on my homework till hours of early morn.
 My Spelling is terrible; Math fills my heart with fear,
 I'm scared to think of Easter when exam days appear.
 My homework, My homework, at home nights I've got to stay;
 I cannot go out skating, I have no time for play.
 My Correspondence is not finished; I'm slipping, it appears;
 When I think of Miss Connerty, my eyes are filled with tears.
 For teachers that give us homework, and have gone their merry way
 To nightclubs or the show—they've lots of time for play.
 I hope their eyes are burning and no sleep comes to their eyes;
 God make them homework conscious and homework minimize.

—MORRIS PRYMACK, C4A.

PENCIL SHARPENERS

Mr. Jennings will have many partners,
 As he declares war on pencil sharpeners:
 For when the girls go in to Math—
 They do their best to rouse his wrath,
 By making the pencil sharpener grind—
 (That's the working of genius minds)
 Just when he's trying to say his piece,
 Telling the solutions to all those geese.
 Of insanity he's on the brink;
 Why, you can't even hear yourself think!
 It will grind and growl and fret and stew,
 'Tis he feels like yelling, "Now, stop that, you!"
 But he must admit, as they stand their ground,
 The things really are handy to have around.

FROST

The frost on one cold morning
Was fascinating to me,
As it covered the bedroom window,
Making a fairyland wondrous to see.

* * *

For whirls and twirls and frosty curls,
Such artistry divine—
Met my eyes as I sat gazing
On that masterpiece of design.

* * *

Like the work of elfin painters,
So delicate and fine:
Never thought I to see it gracing
Such a humble room as mine.

* * *

For it could not be work of mortals,
I reasoned as I sat and dream'd:
Only the little ones made such exquisite things;
That's how to me it seemed.

* * *

And yet as the patterns melted away
With the coming of the sun
I asked, "What is its equal?"
Back came the answer—"none".

—GLADYS POPIEL, C2A.

LONESOME

You write me that you're lonesome,
That you miss my pretty face,
That you never date another girl
And don't go any place.
You tell me that a hermit's life
Describes what you are leading
And every evening after chow
You spend your hours reading.
You tell me that the thought of me
Is all that you require.
I write you that I do the same,
Now who's the biggest liar?

BOOKS

We have books for every day,
Some we'd like to throw away.
Spelling, English, and such,
These we don't care for much.

These books do not our minds enhance.

ALICE IN WONDERLAND

Seeing a rabbit in britches one day,
 Alice decided to chase it away.
 They entered a deep, deep hole in the ground—
 She fell to the bottom, got up, looked around.
 The rabbit by now was nowhere in sight
 And so Alice followed the road to the right:
 She walked for a while, then saw a glass door,
 Which led to a garden with flowers galore.
 But alas! it was tiny, too small to enter—
 She wished she were smaller to continue her venture.
 Now beside the door there stood a glass table
 On which was a jar on which was a label.
 The label said "Drink Me"—Alice did so,
 And then smaller and smaller she began to grow,
 And still smaller and smaller 'til she was small as the door
 (But it was locked) so she cried, and then cried some more.
 Now she sat near the door near which was the table
 Under which was a cake on which was a label.
 The label said "Eat Me"—Alice did so,
 And as she ate she began to grow.
 "Curiouser and curiouser" said our heroine.
 To stand in the house she was much too tall e'en.
 It wasn't possible now to ever enter the door,
 The door with the garden and flowers galore:
 So poor little Alice sat down on the floor,
 She sat on the floor and began to cry more.
 Then followed the shrinking of Alice again
 (But her tears had already formed a pool, as the rain.)
 Round this pool Alice swam, until then she met
 A mouse who was angry, and thoroughly wet.

They swam on together until they met others
 At the edge of the pool—brothers, sisters, mothers.
 Animals of all kinds, making different noises,
 Were talking 'mong themselves in all sorts of voices.
 They discussed the problem of getting dry;
 The faces they made were decidedly wry.
 Next thing she knew, everything disappeared,
 And there was the rabbit, who might be late (he feared).
 Now next to the window there was a small table,
 On which was a bottle on which was a label;
 The label said "Drink Me"—Alice did so,
 And as she drank she began to grow.
 She grew 'til she couldn't stand up, so,
 She sat down and placed her hand out the window.
 The stones that the rabbit threw through the window
 Turned into cakes (Alice should know).
 "These," Alice thought, "should make me shrink,"
 And so Alice ate them. They did what you think.
 Next came the "Caterpillar", the Duchess, then tea party,
 Where Mad Hatter and March Hare all ate quite hearty.
 After this followed the meeting of "Her Majesty" the Queen,
 Who yelled "Off with her head!" She was certainly mean.
 Then there was Mock Turtle, who sang a nice song;
 Alice thought it was int'resting but a little bit long.
 After that came the matter of stealing some tarts,
 And this was done by the Knave of Hearts.
 "You're nothing but a pack of cards!" our Alice said;
 So, readers concerned, I'm afraid it's the end.

MY FIRST TYPING LESSON

Do you remember your first typing lesson? It suddenly came back to me when I went into the typing room with a message. The moment I set my foot in the room, I realized that this was a first year typing class. Now, believe me, I have nothing against first formers, for were we not all first formers once? The slow, hesitating clicks of the typewriter and the bewildered expressions of that class forced me to smile, as my mind wandered back three years when I was sitting in that very room with the same mystified feeling as this class presented.

It was the year 1949, and the class of C1B entered room 312. We all ran and grabbed a typewriter, saving the one next to us for our friend. We were all very content to have chosen our typewriter with our companion next to ours, and like normal human beings, began to chit-chat. To our dismay, we were all moved around, our positions being determined under the alphabetic order.

I looked at my typewriter. I was faintly aware that the teacher was talking. This was the closest I had ever been to a typewriter, and, to my surprise, the letters were all mixed up. I looked at the typewriter next to mine, but that one, also, was all mixed up too, so I decided there was nothing wrong with my machine. The teacher was still talking. I put my finger down on a key to see how it felt. The key went down! And still the teacher talked! I decided it was time to listen, and when I looked up, everyone had their paper in the machine, everyone, except me, of course. After a lot of fumbling and commotion with the paper, and threatening the machine if it didn't keep the paper in place, I managed to get my now sadly crumpled and torn piece of paper in the machine.

And now, for the grand finale! I was ready to type. I imagined myself at a bank, and having starry-eyed children staring at me. I was on the threshold of a new career, I was going to do the impossible—I was going to type! I . . . Oh, what was that? The teacher was expressing her thoughts at my actions quite forcibly. She had called my name out loud and telling me to pay attention. . . Oh, well, that's life.

The teacher showed us the home-row position for the fingers. She told us to press the little finger of the left hand in order to get the impression "a". I pressed down my little finger and it went right down—between the keys. I became discouraged, but an old saying came back to me, "If at first, you don't succeed, never stop from trying; all that's great and good is done, just by patient trying." Now, I felt better. I tried again. I did it—the letter came out! How I stared and stared at the letter I had typed. My imagination started up again, and I thought I was well on my way to a typing job. I . . . and then . . . the bell rang.

With the ringing of the bell, I came back to 1953, and hurried along to my next class.

My first typing lesson—what a wasted period!
