President's Message

On behalf of the Staff and the Administration of the University I welcome you warmly to Assumption. We hope that you will enjoy and profit by your stay here.

Some students come on campus because it is the first thing that the University is doing so. However, good students come on campus prompted by an act of faith that higher education is a good thing, and they desire to possess it. We hope that all our students will believe in their ability to learn, and that there are things worth learning. They must make an act of faith that the University is a center of learning equipped with an intelligent staff, good libraries, laboratories and a milieu where all seek truth in all its ramifications.

Students who have no ambition to learn and no appreciation for the intellectual purposes of this institution are in the wrong place.

We hope that each and every one of you can derive something from our University Life and contribute something to its growth and value.

May God bless each and every one of you in your life at Assumption.

Million Dollar Edifice Opens

After three years of planning and a year of construction, the University Library is now completed.

The building, a tasteful blending of brick, stone and glass, rises three stories above the ground. On the east side the University crest is sculpted in stone. The position seems odd at present—facing the tennis courts. However plans of the University call for the tennis courts to be replaced by an esplanade. On the south side, the main entrance opens into a two storey high lobby.

To Be Or Not To Be...

The number of students who will attend Assumption University for the coming year has been an object of conjecture throughout the summer. Enlarged facilities have made the University capable of harboring a record number of students but a combination of factors has made any accurate predictions almost impossible.

Higher educational requirements will undoubtedly take their toll of possible students. The recession, with its effect on the income of the students and their parents, will also have a bearing on the number of students. With the opening of the Institute of Technology some students who might otherwise have come to Assumption will take up industrial work.

At the time of this writing registration was still slightly behind last year but the possibility of that last minute entries made University officials optimistic of topping the 1000 mark for the first time in the school’s history.

The Ruling Body

The Student’s Administrative Council, for the 1939-1940 academic year consists of the following voting members which were elected by the student body in March of this year: Don Raper, president; Roman Schwart, Senior representative; Bill Enfil, Junior representative; Jim Hawley, Sophomore representative. Norm Rice who had been appointed 2nd vice-president of the outgoing council has not returned to Assumption and a general vote will be held in order to fill this position. Nominations may be submitted to members of the council at any time before Tuesday, September 23rd, at 5:00 p.m. Candidatures will be accepted in writing and their campaign speeches Wednesday at noon in the cafeteria and voting will take place Friday in the rotunda of Dillon Hall, between 5:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.

Frosh Hop

This is the BAD BOY BALLOT which may be cut out and filled in by any undergraduate who deems it necessary. This ballot is to be submitted to the S.A.C. for the following reasons:

(1) Untruthfulness in dress and appearance, (except on Wed).
(2) Failure to wear and keep proper shoes.
(3) Failure to appear at designated functions held in honor of the frosh.
(4) Disruptive conduct toward upperclassmen.

Greetings From The Deans

Dean Of Arts And Science

My Dear Students:

It is my pleasant duty to welcome you to the University this September. Some of you are returning after the summer vacation; others are just starting their careers at the University for the first time. It is important that all should have clearly in mind the function and purpose of a university in order that we may strive for the highest goals and achieve the benefits for which we were established.

At the meeting of the Eighth Quinquenial Congress of the Universities of the British Commonweal th held in Montreal the first week of September Dr. Nathan M. Pusey, President of Harvard University, emphasized the importance of having a right concept of what the university stands for. A university is basically a home for intellectual activity and study for the human intellect. The atmosphere and facilities should provide the environment and opportunities for intellectual growth.

This is the university’s main purpose.

This intellectual freedom means a recognition of the individual’s right to direct his intellectual and moral development. University of knowledge, and that the university should provide the atmosphere and facilities for him to do so. I am sure that Dr. Pusey does not mean that the University should pay no attention whatever to the economic and social needs of the individual. The University should not be concerned about the practical arts and sciences and the professions. The studies in the fields of business, engineering, and the liberal arts are legitimate fields of study for the human intellect. But with what he pointed out was that study should be and is, as well as those in the liberal arts, limited.

The growth of the University has not been one of material expansion only, but especially a cultural one. Every effort should be directed towards self-improvement, towards enriching their individual lives with intellectual, spiritual, and cultural experiences, towards the mastering of certain techniques and the acquiring of certain skills for improving the society in which they live.

The growth of the Assumption University over the last few years is a reflection of this desire. The academic area has not been one of mere isolation or seclusion, but especially an academic one. Every effort should be directed towards the development of certain techniques and the acquiring of certain skills for improving the society in which they live.

May God bless your work and study and reward you always.

REV. NORTHERN J. RUTH, C.S.B.,
Dean of Arts and Science.

Dear Students:

We would like to add our greeting to the many already extended to you at the beginning of another academic year. We wish you every success in your academic year in the coming term and pray that you will be successful in every way. We have tried to provide facilities and instruction in all fields of knowledge requested by the students. There are enough of them to be readily available. The academic year will reveal that not only courses in the liberal and cultural arts, but also physical sciences are available, but

During Frosh Week The Upper-Classmen dutifully take up the annual task of orienting new students to the University. Ways and means to inject the first life into the school year, by tactfully directing them "Froshly"

Kennedy's Council Plans Program

The intramural sports programme for the coming athletic year is under the direction of Mr. Kennedy, a senior commerce student from Toronto. Mr. Kennedy, who has been closely associated with the school's intramural and intercollegiate athletic programme through his position as athletic department publicity director, was elected by acclamation last year to serve as president of this year's Student's Intramural Council. This organization under the sponsorship of the athletic director is responsible for planning, organizing and conducting Assumption's intramural programmes. He will be aided in his responsibilities by the rest of the council which includes a commissioner for each intramural sport and a vice-president, secretary and minister of internal affairs.

Paul Kennedy

The council has worked hard all summer to plan and organize the programme outlined in the schedule of intramural athletics which was distributed during registration. Included in this year's intramural agenda is competition in golf, tennis, track and field, football, hockey, bowling, basketball, badminton, water polo and swimming. Clinics conducted by professional athletes are planned for golf, tennis, hockey, basketball and bowling. Facilities have been improved and new equipment purchased where necessary. The council feels that with the wholehearted support of the student body, this will be one of the best intramural years ever to go into the record books at Assumption University.

get a new flavor. Complete with chapel, library, recreation rooms and cafeterias, the new Women's Residence will be, hope, the centre for cultural and social pursuits for all women students on campus — and why not even for all Windsor? We will carry out additional college functions for women and institute new ones whenever possible.

May I take this opportunity to remind you that the Sisters of Holy Cross College and the members of the executive council of Holy Cross Undergraduate Association are ready to hold informal gatherings at any time.

With a spirit of togetherness let us maintain the aims and ideals of Assumption University.

In Memoriam
The staff of the Purple and White is grieved to announce the sudden death of Nancy Hogan, on August 30th, Nancy, who received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Assumption in 1937, had since been studying for her M.A. in sociology at the University of St. Louis.

As a member of the Student Council and president of H.N.U.A. in her senior year, she was known by Assumption students who remember her for her sincere and friendly spirit of service as well as for her active participation in many student functions.

PROVINCIAL LOANS OFFSET RECESSION

In an interview, Father Swan, Assumption's Registrar, said that $9000 had been given to students of Assumption University. This sun represents loans made to approximately twenty-five students. Many others applied. One of the basic requirements is that a student have at least a 'C' average.

A few conditions are: 1) An applicant must have been a resident of Ontario at least one year. 2) Ordinarily the maximum loan will be $500 but in some cases more. The loan will be payable starting in April of the year following graduation. The interest on the loan will be 4% per annum.

Because of the recession money is more scarce and this is a chance for financial assistance. For further information Father Swan will be only too happy to help you.

SAC FEATURES FLARE-UPS

Two flare-ups caused momentary excitement for members of the Students Administration Council which met last Tuesday for its first meeting of the new-freshman year. John Bawden was elected to head a committee which will investigate the Social Club jacket manufacturers.

The committee is charged with reporting its findings at this week's meeting. As a final point the SAC declared that the students will know what the standardized jacket will be by next week.

Purpose behind the jacket issue is to keep the university's colleges and athletics club unified. The student faculty was not in favor of splitting university funds among smaller individual colleges at this time.

Earlier in the meeting, Council agreed to pass the motion by Gary Döchert that requested SAC to sponsor this weekend dance night to clubs which it is to raise funds for the freshman student body.

Mike Roch, assistant treasurer and last year's vice-president of the SAC, is planning an action which would affect the Athletic Council which for the past few years has been holding dances after the basketball games "free of charge to all Assumption students."

Senior representative, Charlie Miller, proposed a motion that more dances be held after basketball games "free of charge to all Assumption students."

The motion was passed on this week when members of the Athletic Council committee joined the discussion.

Council's agenda called for a prayer, a news clipping about the first S.A.C. treasurer, Vin Quesnel, said that SAC would like to have exact figures regarding the number of students interested in the amount of money the S.A.C. treasury will receive from the students fund.

The treasurer said he should have the temporary budget ready for this week's meeting.
The Clubs Need You!

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the clubs. Club Week each year pays a responsibility on all students. They must join some clubs, the right clubs, and not too many clubs. Students should join some clubs because they are a vital supplement to both the curricular and extracurricular activities. Students should join the right clubs, for otherwise the purpose would be defeated. The advantages to be gained from joining the right clubs are many. You should not join too many clubs.

All Present and Accounted For

This year's frosh class really did themselves proud in the little matter of initiation. They entered into the affair with a spirit of cooperation unexcelled in the memories of most around here. In the main, they stood on their traditions, and the lowest form of humanity with very good nature and the results speak for themselves.

With this spirit of natural cooperation there was bound to come friendship and that's exactly what happened. We are confident that there were more than a few friendships developed in the week's activities around Assumption, friendships which will last much longer than our formal education.

The frosh as a group have shown that they have what it takes to maintain the Assumption tradition—friendship, cooperation, and a number of other intangibles which make it rather unique University it is. We'll look for a lot from this class.

Teamwork Saves The Week

In praising the frosh for the success of initiation week we mean not to detract from the credit due the upperclassmen. Without the cooperation of the seniors in helping to organize this, the frosh would no doubt be lost in the cafeteria. Everyone interested in helping to organize this, the third political club on campus is encouraged to attend.

The inaugural meeting of the Assumption C.C.F. Club will be held on Thursday, Oct. 9, at 3:30 p.m.

Hemmingway or Not

Have you ever dreamed of being a successful author or journalist? Many people have, but do very little to make their dreams a reality. Assumption students however who cherish such ambitions are given their dream. They are the talent in the university's literary magazine, the Kaleidoscope. This year the editor, Larry Stout, and Moderator, Homer Blaine hope to get early start in publishing the magazine and are looking for manuscripts. If you have written any poems, short stories, essays or literary criticism, or are interested in doing so, you may submit your work to Mr. Plante in the English Office.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL IN FLIGHT

With the school year open just a little over 2 weeks, the athletic department is off to a flying start. If you happened to drop into one of the recent meetings you’d see the commissioner Justin McCarthy. As a result of burning the midnight oil Justin finds he has a very successful intramural tournament on his hands. In addition, plans for tennis instruction by professionals are nearly completed.

Also, in the near future is the Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament of Oct. 8, 9 and 10th to take place in Quebec City. All interested are urged to have a look at least show in this tourney and Justin is doing a marvelous job seeing that this comes about.

In the ground department Al Greenwood and Richard Woodall handled their intramural tournament in a very able fashion. This is yet another story of local enthusiasts going into intercollegiate action. The results of the intramural tournament showed off the likes of Pat Pops, Ed Dixon, and Dean Morrison eligible for the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Also coming through the days of the 25th and Johnny Cashing who placed 3rd were uniformly ineligible.

These are but a few examples of the fine work done by the Athletic Department this year and the reporter hopes he can bring many more to your attention concerning their fine action to you.

FLASHY BACK FEATURED

Paul Bernadette, a new face on campus will be making his debut in A.U. Football today. He began his college education at U. of T., then moved to Michigan State, and is now a transfer student at Assumption. Paul was quite successful at both Universities, "quotes Dick Moriarty, and from what we hear and see he runs, passes and kicks as Jim Therpe did. Voted to the All-American team at Michigan State, we can see he should have great potentialities on Assumption’s grid-iron. His success is attributed to his girl friend in front of whom he loves to show off. Being handsome and strong it is very understandable that he captured the love of 50 co-eds. His conceit is almost nil, but he does challenge the trash in today’s game placing himself as one man team.

Thank You

On behalf of myself and the football players of Assumption, I wish to thank those who made our new equipment possible. With progressive thinking, I am sure that some day men like Paul Benedict will take us to the top of inter-collegiate football competition.

BASKETBALLERS WANTED

Tomorrow afternoon at 4:30, Hank Biasetti and Eddie Cinturato, the basketball coaches, will have their first look at the 58-59 aspirants for the Lancer and Crusader basketball teams. This meeting is designed primarily to introduce the coach to the team as well as to inform the boys of some of the requirements the coach will ask of them. At the meeting we will probably see the best of last year’s greats and many of the new hopefuls who seem to be the talk of the campus. The basketball coach is anxious to see how these are those who are coming out with little publicity but are willing to fight for a spot on the team. Every coach knows of certain weaknesses in his team and he can find a hard fighting youngster to fill these gaps if his job is much easier. So, if you had a desire to play for the team but feel that perhaps it has already been filled, the coach will ask of them at the meeting we will probably see many anxious "to see Assumption at least in Quebec City. All interested are urged to have a look at least show in this tourney and Justin is doing a marvelous job seeing that this comes about.

VOX POPULI

BY AL HOUSTON

Frosh Week has now finally drawn to a close and we find ourselves now sitting back and preparing to take an objective view as to what our Frosh Week actually was like. In order to best answer this we will admit to interviewing a few students on all levels and see what we the Students really think of our Froshmen and their week at Assumption.

We interviewed asking very specific questions in order to get a cross opinion on special and particular events.

The first such Pagoda, a senior in Arts, asked her whether or not she felt the Frosh this year were very young, generally, she replied that she thought that they were. The Frosh, she thought, were very young, and that this could again be seen at a Frosh parade. As to whether or not she thought that the Frosh were very young, she said that she felt that the Frosh had been busily occupied with their activities the week prior to Frosh parade.

Mari White added to the conversation, saying that she was proud and surprised at the percentage of Frosh who participated in the activities. She said that she was surprised to find that there were only two or three Frosh who did not participate in any of the activities. She felt that it was very important for the Frosh to participate in as many activities as possible, and that this was the reason why she and her friends had decided to participate in as many activities as possible.

During this week the Frosh participated in a variety of activities, including a parade, a dance, and a float. The parade was very successful, and the Frosh were very happy with the results. The dance was also very successful, and the Frosh were very happy with the results. The float was also very successful, and the Frosh were very happy with the results.

DODGOOD ENROLLS HERE

The news that Dick Dogood, internationall known all round good fellow, had chosen Assumption as his university, was greeted with great excitement here. Dick, who is a member of a large private firm in East Paisley, and is an unsubscribe mailing institution, has been a popular figure in the college.

Unsettled

At this writing Dick had not yet settled on a place to stay in Windsor, but he had said that he had applied for admission to "that new hotel across University Ave. from the Library.

Dick had hoped to be able to major in History but circumstances prevented him from doing this: "There were too many people in the 'History' line at registration!' He also found out that Philosophy majors have to take an extra course in the morning.

Dick's line at Home

Dick, or old finch-face as he is sometimes referred to by his friends, is a shy and quiet fellow. He tries to maintain an organizational ability and interest in student activities. He was just to note the boredom evident in the "pay as you go" line at registration.

LOST IN THE MAILS

By JIM KENNEDY

September 26, 1958

Dear Dad:

Well, Frosh week is just about over.

With the help of the upperclassmen and Frosh Hop organizers, I've just about lost the use of my right arm. But don't worry, the professors are generous, they only gave me 25 hours homework a week. Things were quite interesting during this week. A few of the other frosh are laid up but that's the way the ball bounces. Actually, the downtown Windsor business men must think that we are a bunch of barbarians. We took over the downtown area and paraded through the business men, hotels, and stores.

One night, some college men showed up at a group of our poor miserable frosh and abandoned us on Belle Isle in Detroit with only a dollar for ten of us. But we showed them. We telephoned the Detroit police department and they escorted us to the Carriage House. So left us as a whole dollar to spend at the D.H.

Last week we took part in the annual Frosh Parade and marched to the campus in anticipation of our impending doom to be carried out at Kangaroo Court. Lock for us the rain gods showed mercy on us and brought with a warm sun, which cancelled the Tribunal of Court of Justice. In a word, I'm sorry it did rain because Kangaroo Court would have been a lot of fun. The Student Council certainly planned a big hop for us, but better luck next year.

STUDENTS SAY
BON VOYAGE

One down and two to go, so the old saying goes, applies to Assumption University this week.

Two students were granted funds from SAC last week to pay the costs of transportation and living expenses when they attend conventions on both coasts of Canada.

Joe MacNarara, senior psychology student and Assumption's representative of National and Regional Canadian Federation of Catholic Students, returned Monday from a weekend convention in Halifax, N.S.

He is scheduled to report on the convention to the SAC sometime in the near future.

Norm McCallum, SAC vice-president, will travel in company with Rev. C. J. Drouillard, C.S.B., faculty delegate, to Vancouver, B.C., where they will confer with student and teachers of Canadian Universities about the progress and work of the World University Service (WUS), one of the main clubs on campus. Norm McCallum will report to the Students Administration Body on the conference when he returns.

QUEBEC GOV' UNDER FIRE

Premier Foils Student Association

Quebec's premier Maurice Duplessis is under volcano-like fire from universities in Ontario and Quebec because he refuses to grant demands which would give more financial aid to Quebec province's university students.

October 3 issue of the University of Toronto's "The Varsity" plunges into wide-open verbal battle against the leader of the mighty Union Nationale.

More than one third of "The Varsity" is devoted to slapping at the premier for his policy to the province and its universities.

"Who is the man, who, contravening the wishes of the students, refused to listen to the pleas for help of the university students? . . . Who kicked the politically-educated off his staff? . . . Who is the man, who, by his action, has silenced the opposition of every commercial newspaper but one? . . . Who, with a don't-come-back editor, is returning to university? . . . Who is the man, who tried to silence one priest who dared to speak freely to his university classes? . . . Who could think of such a man succeeding in Canada?" asks the Toronto paper.

We were all saddened recently on the occasion of the death of the Holy Father. With his passing the church and the world generally, have lost a great leader. The unusual and glowing tributes paid to his memory by the secular press, TV and radio indicate clearly that the sense of loss of people generally is keenly felt. His work for peace has given him the title "Apostle for Peace". Basically, he believed and taught that the sense of loss of people generally is genuine.

The enrollment of 27 students at Assumption may be comparatively small in size, it has a widespread influence. Within two weeks, the premier brought the attention of the world to this very small institution.

HIS HOLINESS POPE PIUS XII

We were all saddened recently on the occasion of the death of the Holy Father. With his passing the church and the world generally, have lost a great leader. The unusual and glowing tributes paid to his memory by the secular press, TV and radio indicate clearly that the sense of loss of people generally is keenly felt. His work for peace has given him the title "Apostle for Peace". Basically, he believed and taught that the sense of loss of people generally is genuine.

WOMEN AND PSYCHIAST FIRST

Assumption's cafeteria addicts have found an endorsement of their study habits in the wise or unwise words of Professor H. L. Edlin of London University's Institute of Education. When asked to give students a few words of advice from his forthcoming book, "Cut as many lectures as possible," he added that a student should cut his work more than 5 hours a day and that 10 hours of work daily be probably get a third, with 7 hours, a second but if he worked for four hours he stood a good chance of getting a first. IT'S NOT ALL GLORY

College publications have a reputation for flouting authority, usually somewhat radically. Two main manifestations of this are articles on sex and the administration, though not necessarily mentioned together or in that order.

Such open-sex publications oftentimes lead their readers to believe either that their editors are former sailors in college on the G.I. bill or are being subsidized by Playboy magazine. In Canada there are a number of papers which lead toward this type of sensationalism. They defend themselves saying that theirs is a realistic approach and it must be admitted that there is a great deal of stress placed on the magic thrusts of our college today. It is not our position to condemn or defend. We merely warn that over-emphasis is extremely distasteful.

It should be remembered that articles appearing in student publications reflect the thoughts of the students or lack thereof and should not be taken as an official pronouncement. This goes for anything for this editorial as for anything.

On the other hand student writers also have a responsibility in that their views are often taken for those of the administration. This leaves us with the fine line that divides the Printable from the Unprintable.

Four Ousted

The University of Toronto's student newspaper, "The Varsity", which is probably the best informed paper on interuniversity politics, reports on the sad results of the latest transgressions over the headline, "Publish and be Fired—Four Student Editors Out", the Varsity tells us that three Canadian university students have been fired from their posts and barred from their universities for publishing their views. This is probably the best informed paper on interuniversity politics and their views are often taken for those of the administration.

At Ottawa, Jean David and Normand Lacharite, co-editors of "La Rotonde" were fired last February following their 25th anniversary issue in which they sharply criticized what they called "the paternal" attitude of the O'Brien fathers who run the university.

At the University of Montreal it was editor Julien Aubert of the "Quartier Latin", who, while he was not formally expelled, was told that he would not be accepted by any of the university's faculties. His crime was that he had criticized the Duplessis government for not allowing the Quebec universities to accept federal grants.

The fourth gagged editor is Jean Label whose editorial policy in last year's "Profs Weekly" at Laval University was also sharply critical of the Duplessis government. He, however, still holds the reins of his paper although his grip is none too tight. While there is no official restriction on his writing, he has been warned that he must not step out of line.

Who Is To Blame

This brings us back to our fine line: were the administration over-zealous in condemning the editors? . . . were the editors stepping beyond their bounds? In two of the cases, the fact that Duplessis has a strangle-hold on Quebec's universities should be taken into account. In the Ottawa case we perhaps do not have the full story.

We neither condemn nor defend in these cases either but we do propose a few questions which come to mind:

Was the punishment in proportion to the crime?

Need university papers be influenced by outside politics?

Who is responsible if writings in student publications are taken for anything more than the private opinions of the writers?

Treasure Van In Rotunda

Yesterday, the rotunda of Dilon Hall suddenly took on the appearance of an international fair place. Don't be alarmed, Father Dow editor-in-chief of the "Treasure Van" of the World University Service, a display and sale of handicrafts from ten different countries, is making its annual visit to our campus.

Initiated in 1952 by Mrs. Ethel Macdonald, its three-fold objective is: 1) to bring the work of skilled craftsman from other nations to Canada, 2) to encourage these people to help themselves through these skills, 3) to provide money for WUS programmes and activities.

As a member of the World University Community, every student has a responsibility to other members in need.

So see the Treasure Van exhibit and sale of International handicrafts being held in the rotunda of Dilon Hall.

Pros Down On Raft

Last week, McGill University observed an annual affair—that of "Professors' Raft" as part of their Profies Week program. We thought we'd pass along the news in case somebody here at Assumption would like to take up the idea.

The point is to place four professors, one from each faculty—Commerce, Science, Engineering, and Arts, inside a raft with provisions enough for one week. The purpose is to determine which, by reason of his contribution to society in his chosen field is most worthy of surviving. The others of course, would volunteer to jump overboard. Now before some students fondly imagine four of their beloved professors floating down the Detroit River with one peanut butter sandwich between them, we hasten to add that this is all hypothetical and takes the form of an informal debate among the learned gentlemen.

At McGill the participating professors from the undergraduate faculties were Professor E. W. Kortes of Commerce, Professor D. Gibbons of Science, Professor F. B. Beigun of Arts and Professor G. W. Joly of Engineering. Each put forth some very good arguments in defence of his life.

Professor Kortes of Commerce blamed the school of commerce for getting them in the case in the first place since it had undoubtedly mismanaged the profits. He proposed bringing all the benefits of civilization to the savages of the place where the raft landed. He proposed teaching them to drink (fruit juices, tea, coffee) and the art of smoking.

Professor Gibbons of Science felt that the liberal education of Arts left falling down; everybody knows about it. He felt that he was best qualified to survey. His proposal was to teach the natives football.

Professor Joly of Engineering felt that they should have consideration for the spiritual development of the natives and suggested organizing a union for which doctors.

The engineering representative, Professor Joly, claimed he was best able to communicate his knowledge to the world. He cited the example of an engineering building falling down; everybody knows about it.

And so it went until, at length, the moderator of the panel declared that they had argued so long that "the raft had sunk under them."

Now instead of watching "Mickey Mouse Club" on television, we might satisfy our intellectual thirsts by having a similar "raft" here at Assumption. However, a word of warning—severely hypothetical.
Looking great after a big weekend of teams at Loyola University is our Tennis man, Justin McCarthy and his loyal brood. Our inseparable game to light and powerful Western defeated McGill in the finals 2 sets out of three. Competition was pretty keen. One of our team members ran into Pete Laplante, the Canadian Junior champ for the past two years. Tennis will continue during the winter with a few indoor exhibitions by local pros.

Hats off to the Athletic Department on the new football equipment. Intramural football is not without support on the campus as evidenced by the fine intraocular program now in operation and the first play by the rams. Juniors, for further proof ask Lou Pennachetti. In the intercollegiate grid the powerful Toronto twelve continue their unbeaten streak with a 21-14 win over Western. Toronto has a superior aerial attack with Pat, Ed, and Tony as their big gun. He made 12 out of 21 for 280 yards against Western, good in any league.

Homecoming for U. of T. this weekend with the playing there and Western having their own homecoming this weekend.

Dig that Army offense. The big question is whether any other University can stop it. "How does Carpenter, their big right end get his signals?" He's on social and joining in the huddles; always keeping about 20 yards 2 sets out of three scores touchdowns. Maybe he doesn't need any signals. Some guys are just naturally smart.

Murray Costello, second year Arts has signed with Windsor Bulldogs for the coming hockey season. Apparently the Intramural League is somewhat a repeat of previous year's showing where wolves faced the sheep. The Seniors piled up the remaining one. The Soph team went on to score three touchdowns. Some tackles were accounted for by Don Cole, Johnny Mather, and Tony Jasceka. Todd's two conversions brought the final score to 26-0. The frosh weren't altogether ineffective however and we left that if a few more frosh would get out for the game the frosh could find a much better team. In the game of the week, the strong, last Junior team that won the championship last year was fielded against the big hard-fighting Senior team and this game showed much more enthusiasm. Although the underdogs were again held scoreless, there were a few points that were a good break. Have they brought them home. They did a good defensive job, however, in holding the powerful Junior team to a 21-0 victory. These 21 points were spoken for by Gilbert, Lefty and Kirk with 6 points apiece and Demopny with 2 while Catcath picked up the remaining one.

In the battle for last place, which took place last Thursday, the Juniors edged out the Frosh 6-0 on a second quarter touchdown by Sandy Dettman.

A representative of the Toronto District Office will visit the Campus on November 7 to interview any student who intends to apply in the current competitions for Graduate Students. Any student wishing information, please report to Mrs. E. J. Broy, Manager, Placement Bureau, for the place of interview.

BIG TEAMS ROLL ON

This year's version of intramural football officially got under way on Tuesday, Oct. 7th with the freshmen facing the sophomore. This proved to be somewhat a repeat of previous year's showing where wolves were pitted against the sheep. The game opened with a pitch-out play that sent Dick O'Connor scooting around end for a 60 yard T.D. After the conversion by Bill Todd, it was the best the small frosh team could do to hold off their superiors. With the confidence of Goliath the strong Soph team went on to score three more touchdowns. These were accounted for by Don Cole, Johnny Mather, and Tony Jasceka. Todd's two conversions brought the final score to 26-0. The frosh weren't altogether ineffective however and we left that if a few more frosh would get out for the game the frosh could find a much better team.

The question posed to the students was, "Why do so many Males go off Campus for Dates?" The answers presented to us were:
William Roddy, 4th year Arts:
The answer rests in the lack of members of the opposite sex present around the University.
I asked that often the girls in university have a better appreciation of themselves than the boys.

Question: Do you ever go out with college girls and if you do what type of girl do you like?
Answer: Yes, I do go out with College girls and I like the girls who are interested in the same type of boy.

Louis and Paul: Fourth year Arts: College boys appear to want to marry College girls but would rather leave them alone during their coldage years.
Question: Why?
Answer: Maybe because college guys have a lot of friends to be ac-tied down before they leave,

In residence girls feel that deadlines are fatal to successful dating.

Girl’s Athletic Council has decided that the ratio would be about 50:50.

The Girls Athletic Council started in fall of 1957 under the presidency of Margaret McRae. At that time
Marilyn Russian, last year’s president, Denise Lanois, Secretary, Elisabeth Lyle, Secretary; Senior representative, Mari White; Junior rep.,
Sally Schroeder; Secretaries, re-card Mary Gras and Therese Lanois; Bowling commis-ioner; Paulina Shul and Connie Conran; Publicity, Linda At-nison.
The opening event of this year’s programme was a softball game held on Thursday evening at Sunset and Wyandotte.

The Girls, Athletic Council has declared that the dates on campus would be very, very plentiful due to the fact that there are many more guys than girls. When we arrived at the University this appeared not to be the story and here are the reasons we feel that the ratio is about 50:50.

1) Date assignments are made for a regular team which the girls do not get to appoint themselves.
2) The girls said that the dates on campus was lacking thus driving the girls to get dates.
It's Non-Alcoholic Charlie!

Drinking is an art which few have mastered. It is a curse which has fallen upon many, but a comfort to those who use and do not abuse it.

Unfortunately the abuse of alcohol is more prevalent than its proper use: a point which holds true especially at gatherings of students. Therefore, university authorities in all Canadian Universities prohibit the consumption of intoxicants at those gatherings.

Assumption University has called a halt to drinking at University-sponsored functions. The reaction thus far is favourable, no doubt owing to the maturity of the students, and their appraisal of the abuse of drinking.

There is a strong possibility that in the near future, a judicial committee, composed of students, will administer matters of Student Discipline at Assumption. The committee's main aim will be the enforcing of a code of student conduct on and off campus.

We do not feel that the drinking problem will be a major problem. However, if a few isolated cases do arise, then action will be taken.

There is a time and place for everything and drinking is no exception.

This Is Where We Stand

A university newspaper may be said to operate under the "social responsibility theory of the press." The chief purpose of such a system, as discussed by Theodore Peterson in "Four Theories of the Press", is to "inform, entertain, sell"—and to raise conflict to the plane of discussion.

With this in mind, let us examine the problem of publications at Assumption. The most recent objection is that the Purple and White does not give enough coverage to student functions.

The task of keeping the student body informed of on-campus activities has been adopted by two weekly publications—SAC Track and SICK and will soon be completed by an events calendar prepared by the SAC. It is possible to put out these mimeographed sheets with an hour's deadline if necessary.

The Purple and White requires a deadline one week ahead of the date of publication. For this reason, our last issue showed a leaning away from current campus news in favor of controvertial topics, news items from other Canadian universities and special features.

This is not meant as a criticism of the abundance of news sheets circulating, but rather as a statement of the policy we have had to adopt. Our task is to publish something that will be "news" when it reaches the reader's hands.

It's Really Great But...

The new library is really a boon to students. What with increased accommodation and facilities, including study rooms, general atmosphere et al, it is far outrunning anything ever seen around here. It's excellence is reflected in the number of students using it at all times...and they actually seem to be working.

But it could be better! Maybe we don't know when we're well off, but it occurs to us that a few innovations would make the library an even better place to coast through the year.

How about a soft drink and/or coffee machine in the base- ment to supplement the multitude of water spigots... maybe a cigarette machine?

Longer hours would help the students make better use of the much-needed reference volumes. The size of the crowds that stream from the library at nine each evening indicates that they must have been interrupted by the dimming lights. A ten o'clock closing would help them maintain the mood a bit longer and also allow night school students to use the facilities for a while.

These suggestions may not be practical at the present time but there should not be too much to hinder their adoption and we feel they certainly must be looked into.

Dogood Quiet

Our good friend Dick Dogood has been spending his time relatively quietly as a result of requests from the authorities. It seems that a few of his plans (plots?) did not work out as anticipated.

The unfortunate incident occurred when he misjudged the direction of his residence-girls campus (see last issue) with the result that several of the girls were seen swimming about the Detroit River rather late last Friday evening.

Yes Tedi Thurman, who has been romantically connected with Dick Dogood in recent stories out of East Pris.

His second run-in with trouble took place when he eluded a friendly little gathering in the sunken garden in front of the Library. Everything was going fine, unknown to the people in charge, until he tried to obtain permission to run something with a little more pep than Adam's ale through the foliage. Apparently this was not in keeping with Library policy and they were not too long in expressing this to Dick. At last report the garden party was re-scheduled to Yawkey Bush early next spring.

Those who know Dick best are confident that his current period of inactivity will be short lived and that we may expect to see some more prize efforts from this enterprising young fellow in the near future.

Football, football, football, who's got the pigskin? The sweet sound of the gridiron has filled the air and loud cheers of revenge now fill the stadium, making us forget one of the blood-curdling statements ever heard by most of us. But the unappreciated during the recent Soph vs. Seniors game, "Get your guns handy boys, I bite off every one of your + fingers. This is intra-aural and you can't see it."

Assumption has gained a reputation in Intercollegiate Basketball circles as a power to be reckoned with each year. Coach Bliss, and his assistants have seen to it that they have done a tremendous job along with the fine work of Dick Morray and the A's have cleaned up.

However a growing school such as Assumption, has yet to begin a competitive football programme in order to satisfy the varied needs of each student. One of the four directors of the Athletic Department, in his attempt to fill this gap has instructed his boys to keep a close watch in this direction. Thus the composition of the team is an unbroken and consistent unit.

Dick Morray states, "I feel that our football team is a close friend, and will eventually come to Assumption, and it is our aim to build our team around him."

The reasons for not immediately entering into Intercollegiate football are obvious. It entails vast amounts of money for one thing and with a team of only 59 for time students it would be a mammoth task. The average coach is a discriminating politician. The only solution must come from the Alumni. A mess of Alumni could help very easily get the ball rolling. Even an Intercollegiate team would be feasible in a minute. A start has been made somewhere, why not with the "A's"?

Congrats to track and field boys for bringing home a third place finish and one new record by Don Coleman. The big fella at Western, Oct. 22-bigg Dick Seeman says about Coach Bliss' practices "when. Wait till you get to business—forget about large-size Bob Thayer for his size, he's eligible, but what a physiological weapon—Say, what's going on up in the Gym every night?"

They've gone at it for the past two nights—wait 'till tomorrow night.

In this weapon, the entire body provides the target in a bout.

The saber is undoubtedly the most exciting of the three. It is a fast moving, sometimes violent, energetic contest of Errol Flynn and the Three Musketeers. Here everything from the goads onwards is the recognized target.

On a fencing team, there are three hurdles to a weapon, and with the possible second string, we would rate at least a second. This is where there is ample opportunity for everyone in the group to have a chance at making some position on the team.

Because of the initial cost involved, equipment, etc., in a competitive team can be organized. No experience is necessary. The only requirement is if you are interested, you must be in as many as possible. E. Mulawa

A few days ago team captains, referees and council members were called to the Student Assembly to plan a secret ballot as to their choices for the 1958 Intra-mural Football All-Star Team. The results of this interrogation can now be published.

The team, which consists of six members from each of the four teams, (even from each of the four teams, read as follows)

FOOTBALL

After much hustle and bustle, finally comes the muscle. The indispensable cooperation of the athletic director and the dynamic interest of the alumni of Assumption have moulded themselves into the organization of weightlifting on our campus.

Today the weightlifting room is located opposite the swimming pool, is the most fully equipped in the city. There are 1000 pounds of new and old equipment, and a large enough room to accommodate several weightlifters, with the addition of a new lighting system.

At 7:00 last night, Phil Lemay and Jim Grant were in the weight-room for the presentation. Later in the year, "Mr. Michigan" of 1958, Len Guzzo will demonstrate impressive results of the weightlifting programme.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 4:15 to 6:00 p.m., the room will be open for those interested to observe physical development.

On Friday, October the 7th, Phil Lemay will give out beginners routines for those interested.

ICE FLURRIES

Intra-mural hockey will continue to be played in the Campus Arena, face-off time being at 8:00 p.m. Many student body members interested in playing should turn out for their respective year as the season promises to be one of the finest ever recorded in the annals of Assumption hockey.

Many of the old pros have reappeared, and a number of new crop of rookies is expected to enable the undergrads to keep an eye on the top teams. Such stars as Lou Pennachetti, Steve D'Amico and Johnny Matus at the ends with Clare Barnato in the center. Babcock and Len Guzzo in the backfield. Al LeBel came out on top with 12 points apiece. For the second succeeding season in the history of the Masonic Temple, C. W. Van Logh, General Manager of the Masonic announced today a special "College Subscription" would be available for students for the 1958-59 Concert Series.

This series will afford the college students the opportunity of acquiring a distinguished season of artists of the first magnitude at the remarkably low cost of $6.60 per season ticket, which is then available through the mail or at the Masonic Temple.

Included on the Concert Series are outstanding internationally known artists as Arthur Rubinstein, Cesare Vallotti, the Boston "Pops" Orchestra, Lobo, shitz and Nemiroff, the Robert Fitz and Rogers, and the New York City Opera in "Madame Butterfly." The club has arranged that college students, though not on the Concert Series, will be the appearance of the Old Vic Company at the Masonic Temple on November 21, 22 and 23. This will be the first time that the Old Vic, which is recognized as one of the greatest Shakespearean repertory company in the world, will perform in Canada.

The plays scheduled for Detroit are "Henry V" on Friday evening, November 21 and Saturday matinee and evening, November 22 and Sunday, both at the matinee and evening performances, "Hamlet." The plays will be presented by the Old Vic Company, who will be headed by Joe Neville, Barbara Jefford and Lawrence Harvey.

This will be the first time that the Old Vic, which is recognized as one of the greatest Shakespearean repertory company in the world, will perform in Canada.

The plays scheduled for Detroit are "Henry V" on Friday evening, November 21 and Saturday matinee and evening, November 22 and Sunday, both at the matinee and evening performances, "Hamlet." The plays will be presented by the Old Vic Company, who will be headed by Joe Neville, Barbara Jefford and Lawrence Harvey.

CULTURE AT THE MASONIC

For the second succeeding season in the history of the Masonic Temple, C. W. Van Logh, General Manager of the Masonic announced today a special "College Subscription" would be available for students for the 1958-59 Concert Series.

This series will afford the college students the opportunity of acquiring a distinguished season of artists of the first magnitude at the remarkably low cost of $6.60 per season ticket, which is then available through the mail or at the Masonic Temple.

Included on the Concert Series are outstanding internationally known artists as Arthur Rubinstein, Cesare Vallotti, the Boston "Pops" Orchestra, Lobo, shitz and Nemiroff, the Robert Fitz and Rogers, and the New York City Opera in "Madame Butterfly." The club has arranged that college students, though not on the Concert Series, will be the appearance of the Old Vic Company at the Masonic Temple on November 21, 22 and 23. This will be the first time that the Old Vic, which is recognized as one of the greatest Shakespearean repertory company in the world, will perform in Canada.

1958-59 LANCERS

Vagabonds First Opponents

For the past few weeks as you stroll into the cafeteria after your 3:15 class, you have heard the sound of basketball from the gymnasium above. If your curiosity was aroused you may have inquired about the noise and you would have found out that the basketball team is in its annual conditioning period.

The team is prepared; the big night is here at last. Yes the big night is Saturday, November 22. Mark it on your calendar for it’s one night you can’t afford to miss.

The Varsity squad has shown sufficient talent and an overwhelming desire, to attend.

Interest in the new student centre. More than sufficed to cover the problem of where the teams will be located during the basketball season opens.

The competition will be fierce for miles around. The Lancers leading the list will be Larry Francoeur and last year’s Varsity members Gene Ricka, Jerry Kotwa, Fred DeFries, as well as new members George Nickson, Paul Valentine, Don McKerrow, Hank Biasatti and Eddi Chittaro.

The All-Stars boast a roster of outstanding professional players from the sports world as well as some promising AAU college basketball teams and some of the top men of the city who are very active in the school.

Leading the list will be Al Kaline from last year’s varsity. He is accompanied by Bob Hoots from Michigan State and Mike Christ McCaffery from last year’s basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7” Larry Francoeur, the captain of the basketball team in 1956, 6’7”.

It Isn't That Bad

With expansion and enrollment increasing in leaps and bounds, existing Assumption problems can become a big University. We know this because we now have a parking problem. All the big schools have them.

However, Assumption's is not as serious as at most Universities and it promises to get better rather than worse.

Although in the parking lots themselves it is all but impossible to find space, the west side of Huron Line never has more than a few cars on it. Admittedly traffic is quite heavy there and drivers might well be wary but parking is permitted and this should be taken advantage of.

With the chilly Windsor winter coming on, it becomes increasingly poor policy to park in the field. Besides damaging the athletic fields it could result in the soiling of the outside of the new gym.

As parking becomes a real monster. But help is on the way. The administration and this should be taken advantage of.

Despite this, it isn't that bad. We should be thankful it isn't worse and hope it doesn't get that way.

The Band For the Ball

Of current concern to the Student Council and many students in general is the choice of a band for the Arts Ball, the final, biggest and best dance of the year.

A distinction must be made. There are bands, there are big bands and there are name bands.

The Arts Ball is too big a thing to have just a band. "Just a band" would mean one of the local groups which play for some lesser dances.

The name band policy has been followed for the Arts Ball in the past few years and it is a very expensive proposition. The previous year Kay Eberle, playing on his name from the Glenn Miller days and demanding name band prices, showed up with a make-shift band and music that was somewhat less than the best. If a big name were hired this year it would mean economizing on some other aspect of the dance, mainly in the decorations. The SAC does not seem presently inclined to do so.

Having no big band, then, seems to be the answer to the problem this year. Funds are low elsewhere and there are a number of bands in this section of the country which provide excellent music for around $1,000.

An example of this type of band is the Bobby Christian Orchestra on which the SAC already has prospectus. It is popular in many of the larger Universities in the mid-west such as Wisconsin, Northwestern and Notre Dame.

All things considered, this seems to be the best type of band but there is one fact certain—immediate action is necessary if we are to get the band we want.

McGill Talkers Triumph

Two McGill students, Marvin Ganneroff and Bryce Weir have just returned to Montreal after a successful debating tour of the United Kingdom.

The subject of all debates was "Resolved that the Commonwealth of Europe is a thing of great promise but paucity achievement" with the Mc- Gill pair upholding the affirmative.

The two students competed against teams from St. Andrews, Sheffield, Manchester, Birmingham, Liverpool, Cardiff and Cambridge. At Cambridge they met only one team which they suffered only defeat and only by a narrow vote on a margin. The Cambridge team claimed that the McGill debaters overestimated the promise offered in the Commonwealth. They admitted that there have been many failures but at the same time pointed out that their debate had been marked by several notable achievements.

Ganneroff and Weir also reported that Canada's popularity in the United Kingdom is never better than this.

The Prime Minister's speech helped solidify their position.

As they left the airport, they replied: "After we had supported the paucity achievements of the Commonwealth, the Prime Minister's speech helped this position."

We forgot to mention that the All-Assumption boy, showed up for Varsity basketball practice last week and was a mystery to Coach Dick, who had never seen him play before, he was convinced that anyone with half an eye and two hands could drop that over-sized pea through "that net-hung hula-hoop."

Just as critics had laughed at Edison and Ford before him, on—lookers had their snickers at the expense of poor Dick. As a matter of fact if the amount of laughter is any indication of future success, he is fated to become the top b-hall player of all time.

It must be admitted that Dick did make a big impression on Coach Hank Basetti. The impression was just below Hank's left eye. It resulted when Hank bent down to pick up a ball at which Dick was aiming a hefty kick, after having missed 27 dog shots in a row.

To his credit it must be stated that he shows great perseverance and initiative. When all others had completed their ten laps around the gym while he was still on his third, he did not stop. He was on his fifth round before he started twirling backwards and collapsed on the floor. When it became evident that he did not have the necessary luck to put the ball through the hoop, he put a transparent plastic plate over each basket, to put him on an even basis with the rest of the boys. He also realized quickly that his lack of conditioning was a handicapping factor in competing with others for a spot on the squad. It is for this reason that he is currently trying to arrange an all-expenses-paid week-end vacation at the D.H. for the whole team.

The fact is that he was cut from the team within 25 minutes of join— ing did not faze Dick. He said, "It does not faze me." He also stated that, "Except for my height I could easily be the tallest man on that team, maybe even seven feet.

"You Hear It Everywhere!"
Well it has finally happened—aptly has settled on Assumption like a breath out of a charnel-house. If the crowd that showed up Friday night, November 21 (Commerces Club Dance—remember) for the Pep Rally is any indication of the support to be expected during the coming basketball season, then coach Biasetti would do well to forget about Assumption for this year.

In any case you are interested Mr. Biasetti had a few comments to make. Our ever-diligent coach poignantly emphasized the tremendous support given to the team last year, with particular stress on the last game with Western.

Here was a game that we were destined to lose, but those loyal followers who sojourned to London that weekend made themselves known in spirit and unfortunatly inspired the Lancers to one of their greatest victories. Get this, last night that Pep Rally is planned let’s see a little action out of these students who think a basketball game is something you have before a dance. A perennial problem with every basketball coach is lack of height and this year Assumption is no exception. Coach Biasetti is particularly concerned since the tallest is Larry Francour at six feet. The Crusaders have plenty to worry about, too, particularly concerned since the tallest is Larry Francour at six feet. The Lancers hope to overcome their problem with lots of hustle—Jack Hool style.

At midseason, a big 6’9”, 228 lb.Eddi’s two-year total record to 50 and Assumption badminton champs will battle for the trophy which is being defended by the Queensmen.

and totally rushing yardage (1,146 total rushing yardage) and Van Horen’s Steve Van Horen in the 1940’s. In six games Brown has piled up 35 touchdowns, gained 925 yards, been the prime mover in the Cleveland Brown’s try for their eighth division championship in nine years.

In the natural-football loop, the Crusaders squeaked through to the Superior State sectional league and their second straight title. Many of these boys played together last season and as Soph, ran away with the laurels. It was a close game, but when the ball was handed off from the centre on third down, early in the fourth quarter resulted in a touchdown. The ball bounced into the end zone where Sonny Bill made an outstanding effort to pull away.

Jerry made a meteoric rise here at Assumption the minute he donned his uniform. Time after time he has been the most valuable player in close games. Jerry was on the second Intercollegiate Tournament which they participated, bringing home a co-championship of the conference.

Dick Morinaty.

Dick, who is in his third year as an athlete here, is a graduate of Aquinas Institute, Rochester, N.Y. and Assumption’s well known athletic college. During his four years as a student at Assumption he has been a regular starter and player for the team and president of the Students’ Athletic Council in his final year. Dick’s ability is attested by the great deal of interest he shows in the game.

His excellent rebounding and break-away ability combined with a good set shot as well as a good percentage long shot. Leo will prove valuable to the Junior Varsity Crusaders last year and his high-calibre type play has earned him the captaincy by his team mates this year.

The A.K.O. team, coached by Kayn Cool Waskingrosh, will also play out a good team against the Assumption five. Leading them will be high scoring Tommy Newton and defense-wise Tom Malinoff.

Leading off for the J.V. squad will be a whole crop of rookies. Headed by big Dick Sanzen, the team will also include Joe Pietraszek and Pat Gres- son at forward with Jimmy Bruce and Pat Dunnigan taking the defence. The team keeps looking like one of the best to come to Assumption ranks in many years.

So, be there at 6:30 and witness an all-thriller J.V. game preceded by a marvellous team-player. Larry possesses an excellent one-hand push shot as well as a good coordinated drive and lay-up shot.

VOX POPULI

BY AL HOUSTON

With the Christmas season coming on and bringing with it the usual crowded schedule of parties we thought that an appropriate opinion question for this week would be: 'What do you think of the new Administration Ruling that there will be no drinking at any event given by the students, in the name of the university. Here are our findings:

Don Raper—S.A.C. President: I think that the function of the S.A.C. is to look out for the welfare of the student body and as drinking could be a problem we are hoping to prevent any trouble before it starts.

2) With regard to the on-campus function the student body reserves the right to protest the administration's ruling.

Question: Do you think that even drinking at on-campus functions should be allowed?

Answer: I think that the function of the S.A.C. is to look out for the welfare of the students and if any problem arises the administration should be the ones to be called upon.

Question: Do you think that even drinking at on-campus functions should be allowed?

Answer: No, because if individuals around here want to drink they may do so before and after the dance.

Marilynne Russell, Mary Ann Mohan, Paddy Ann Mohan: We feel that the rule was brought into effect because drinking was misused by some students. We feel that drinking should be allowed and if any person abuses the privilege then that person should be dealt with individually. However, due to the misuse in the past by students the administration was justified in doing what they did. We feel that students prove that they are mature enough to handle the situation.

Kind Lady Here

Kind Lady, the first dramatic production of the season, will open Friday, November 28, and run until Sunday, November 30.

Some of the stars will be Miss Patricia Ann Mohan and Mr. Jim Kennedy. The play will be directed by Mr. D. Kennedy. It will be the first production of the season joining the university staff.

A nominal admission fee will be charged and all are encouraged to attend.

McGill Closes

Toronto Paper

In a 16,000-word page one story on November 7 the McGill Daily reported the suspension of the University of Toronto's "Varsity" newspaper, and claimed that the "Varsity" had ceased publication as a result of a decision by University officials.

The whole thing was a hoax. It was printed in a special issue of the "Daily" which was to be distributed in Toronto before the final football game between Mc- Gill and Toronto.

Among other ridiculous statements the article stated that the "Varsity" did not have the same strong support that "La Rotonde" has in Ottawa. "La Rotonde" has had five editors fired in the past year.

The story managed to find one person who spoke in favor of "The Varsity." It was the editor-in-chief, Doug Marshall.

It is concluded by saying that the publication of the first issue, which was to be distributed in Toronto before the final football game between McGill and Toronto, was intended to be the only issue of the newspaper at the University of Toronto.

A student is quoted as saying, "It's about time we had a decent newspaper around here." The whole thing was a hoax.

SPORT SHORTS

The Blues captured the title with an impressive 50-7 win over the hapless McGill Redmen and in doing so set a precedent for their school. It was the first time since 1940 that a Varsity team has gone through a season undefeated and untied. The Blues scored 1 points during the seven game schedule with only 37 against, averaging 29 points per game. An interesting question would be whether Toronto is good enough to have the championship this year.

SHORT ONES

The Placement Bureau is seeking part-time employment for students. Suggestions: contact Tony Rio or Jack Lewis at the University of Michigan, or Ed Mulawka who should have for those 7:30 a.m. fencing practices they would make "losers" very happy. You need judo and you need you—for further demonstration in instruction see Dr. Fay (he's the fellow with the brown belt). The Blues should hire Fat Pope or myself about playing because they are totally unknown sport, but very good for non-swimmers. Paul Lemay was wanted to know who stole the papers.

The Intercollegiate football circuit ended as expected. The Blues averaged 39 points per game. An interesting question would be, "Will the Mississauga Blues win another crown?"

DUPLESSIS CONDESCENDS

Premier Maurice Duplessis has finally pleased the Quebec University students. The Quebec premier sent a letter to the university student presidents informing them he would meet with them on Dec. 2 to discuss university financial problems.

This is the first positive step made by Duplessis towards granting Quebec university students financial aid. It could also mean that Quebec universities will be allowed to accept Federal Statutory Grants.

Student leaders, however, are not viewing the premier's letter with too great an optimism.

Vandalism Rampant

The Assumption campus has been beset by a series of thefts and break-ins. The series started in September with the theft of a large sum of money from the dressing room while an intramural football game was in progress. A major loss at that time was to Terry Cameron who reportedly was missing nearly one hundred dollars.

The "crime wave" was topped off the next week by an attempted break-in at the Assumption Church Rectory, the Union, the Assumption Theatre, and the Immaculate Conception. U. of I. President Suggests Holiday Change, Free Tuition

The academic year should be changed—summer vacation being reduced to two months and a month long holiday at Christmas and Easter.

This was part of a comprehensive plan made by President Claude Bissell of the University of Toronto, his purpose being to guarantee education to all worthy Ontario students.

Students at the University of Toronto were unanimous in deciding the break-up of the vacation period would present definite financial difficulties. To this criticism Mr. Dunlop replied that if students are to be as well assisted financially as the plan would indicate the criticism is not valid.

Other proposals were:

1) free tuition for 1st class honour students in 9 Grade 13 papers plus necessary bursary aid according to need.

2) bursaries for 2nd class honour students.

This was the theme of an address delivered by Mr. Martin to the students of the University of Toronto in December 1958.

U. of I. President Suggests Holiday Change, Free Tuition

The academic year should be changed—summer vacation being reduced to two months and a month long holiday at Christmas and Easter.

This was part of a comprehensive plan made by President Claude Bissell of the University of Toronto, his purpose being to guarantee education to all worthy Ontario students.

Students at the University of Toronto were unanimous in deciding the break-up of the vacation period would present definite financial difficulties. To this criticism Mr. Dunlop replied that if students are to be as well assisted financially as the plan would indicate the criticism is not valid.

Other proposals were:

1) free tuition for 1st class honour students in 9 Grade 13 papers plus necessary bursary aid according to need.

2) bursaries for 2nd class honour students.

This was the theme of an address delivered by Mr. Martin to the students of the University of Toronto in December 1958.

The Quebec premier sent a letter to the university student presidents informing them he would meet with them on Dec. 2 to discuss university financial problems.

This is the first positive step made by Duplessis towards granting Quebec university students financial aid. It could also mean that Quebec universities will be allowed to accept Federal Statutory Grants.

Student leaders, however, are not viewing the premier's letter with too great an optimism.

Lets Get Together

The homecoming football is being kicked all over the campus. No one knows where, when or if it is going to stop. We suffer from the "too many cooks" problem but unfortunately nobody wants to stir the broth.

Homecoming is, and should be, the joint responsibility of the Student Council, the Alumni Office and the Athletic Department. The matter of who is responsible for what has become a matter of conjecture.

So far one thing is certain: Homecoming is to be observed on Saturday, January 24, on which night the Lancers will play host to McMaster University in an Intercollegiate League Basketball game. From there on in the plans for the proceedings are still in orbit.

The big problem is the one of the cost of the parade. It is currently being kicked, passed and fumbled around somewhere in the campus.

There are other problems which arise and none of them have easy solutions. One idea might be to get information from schools which have regular, large-scale homecoming demonstrations.

We feel that there definitely should be a homecoming celebration. It is a necessary, enjoyable and purposeful part of college life. There should be a parade or some other manifestation of spirit on the students' part.

There should also be ample opportunity for the fulfillment of the tradition of homecoming: a chance for the graduate to see his alma mater and old classmates.

The grad should also be given the opportunity to meet the present-day students, the recent past as it were. Last year this purpose was successfully defeated by the campus liquor laws. Lets hope a way out might be found this year.

Estimate New Spending High

Operating expenses for the current academic year ending June 30, 1959, will amount to $976,704, or an increase of $225,898 over last academic year ending June 30, 1958. Assumption students have been asked to turn in their spending estimates for the coming year, and the results are in.

The largest portion of the increase is due to the building program and the current emphasis on studentClearly the student writer and do not necessarily those of the editors. We printed this letter because it expresses the opinion of at least a few on campus.

Dogood Braves Cafeteria

In a burst of bravery that should not go unrewarded, Dick Dogood, Assumption's answer to Alfred E. Newman, decided last week to eat his lunch daily in the cafeteria below Assumption's answer to Alfred E. Newman, Dick Dogood to ask the professor of the Associated College Press. Editors believe that the views expressed by the student writer and do not necessarily those of the editors.

Having been acquitted of our first libel charge, we are back to bring a few pertinent problems and praise which warrant presentation. The first is the question of the Christmas Dance.

Father Haney in a fits of culture may have been overheard referring to our hall of fame (named after St. Denis) as a "magnus poloces trium." We agree that this gymnasia has its big brown bleachers and engaging system of steel structure but there are so many icebergs floating about to warrant an unsualized on cam-

The play was a suspense drama. It was known to be a success when the audience shouted as "villain" Kennedy made his entrance.

The only unfortunate aspect of the play was that more students did not see it to attend. Those who did were well rewarded.

The play starred Jim Kennedy and Patty Ann Mohan with supporting roles taken by Marry Rhine, Paul Burry, Sheila O'Hare, Martin Wehr, Jo Ann Ridki, Carol Fisher, Connie Mepham, Mary Ann Neville,likewise,The Drama Club's "Latte Theatre" in the hut was crowded on all three evenings with a mixture of students and outsiders.

Mr. Kelly stated that the play had been selected for three reasons. First, it is a modern play, since it requires a large cast, it gave a number of students the opportunity to act, and by playing this, Mr. Kelly was better able to discover what ability these undergraduates to sneak into the audience that day. Mr. Kelly added that he was very much let down because nothing happened. Quebec Premier Bluffs Students

On December 2nd, the student presidents of the six members of the Quebec Association of Universities met with Premier Maurice Duplessis for the long-awaited and much-publicized discussion on the educational question of the future.

The outcome of this meeting is rather vague, giving the impression that it was only a politically-sanctioning move on Duplessis' part.

In the press release handed out by the Association, students said they were not allowed to present all of the brief they had prepared, but that the Premier seemed interested in their request that bursaries be made outright grants and a system of emergency financing be set up.

When asked if he was satisfied with the results of the conference, one student president said: "The meeting was very satisfactory pertaining to the ground covered." Another added: "We'll see after the plan is in the Legislature, whether he followed any of our suggestions.

A direct result of the meeting was a division in the Quebec Association. On Wednesday, Dec. 3rd, Bishop's University students' council voted to leave the association and Sherbrooke University is expected to pull out in the near future.

The Association is holding out that this surprise action, Bishop's student council said, is the result of the belief that federal grants are within the jurisdiction of students, not us but the government in education becoming a political issue.

BOMB SCARE PROVES DUD

"Bombs are planted in all your buildings! They will go off at 12:00", said the "deep, serious man's voice", Miss Bernie Phin- stoff, operating the University switchboard last Friday at 8:10 a.m. when the call arrived, hurriedly summoned Fr. Roberts. Another call, this time to the police, brought five prowlers containing numerous constables and detectives.

Right up until the noon deadline, authorities searched campus buildings. Classes were advised by nervous professors to "look under your desks and see if there's anything there," while late-sleeping boarders found themselves woken by persistent and authoritative knocks on the door.

The call, later proven a hoax, nonetheless elicited a little excitement at the school. Classes proceeded as usual through the day, with some of the faculty that the caller apparently hoped to achieve, The identity of the caller remained unknown. "Bombs cracked", was the general opinion.

Leader Course Offered Here

In this confused world of ours, there is a crying need for leadership — a challenge that must be faced by all university students. The Christian Leadership Course proposes to meet this challenge, for it points out that if you are to be a leader and influence your fellow man, you must be able to speak convincingly and correctly. Therefore the course develops the art of public speaking in a direct but informal manner.

This year, the course will be held Sunday afternoon, beginning on Sunday, Jan. 17, 1959 at 2 p.m. and will run for ten consecutive Sundays.

Three dollars covers expenses and in addition to the course, you are given four books to add to your personal library.

Application sheets are available in the SAC office.

U. of Ottawa Situation Takes Strange Twist

The month long university of Ottawa struggle reached a new climax when Louis Cliche, FIRED EDITOR of La Rotonde, was elected NEW PRESIDENT of the students council.

The event so far has created nation wide interest — beginning with the firing of Louis Cliche, Pierre Trudel and Roy from the editorial board of La Rotonde by Rev. Leonard Duc- charmie, Dean of men. However, the student council refused to accept the editor's resignation and the firing of the student was condemned by Canadian University Press.

A request for re-installation of the editors was denied, and after a four hour session the council voted eight to five to accept the editor's re-nomination. The vote was split. This move brought about the resigna—tion of council president Prof- homme who opposed the dismissal of the three editors, and the election of Cliche followed as a result.

"I accepted the post because I believe in the principle we have been defending for the last five weeks" said Cliche.

"I do not think that the position is possible at this point." After several hours of discussion, Prof. Duc charmie announced that the council approved the resignation of the three editors and the election of Cliche followed as a result. The three editors resigned and called upon one of the fired editors, Louis Cliche to take the post.

"TOBANS FEUD OVER FIRING

As a result of "violent" personal attacks upon him, Dr. W. C. Lockhart—principal of University of Manitoba offered to resign. How- ever his resignation was rejected by the board of regents United Col—lege.

These attacks began after Dr. Lockhart dis mised Professor Crowe, because of a letter written by the professor in which his at—titude toward religion was said to be "incompatible with the tradi—tions and adjectives of United Col—lege which is supported by the United Church of Canada.

Because of this dispute between the board of rectors and Prof. Crowe, the United College of the United Church of Canada to bring about an "im—mediate and decisive" settlement.

An offer of reinstatement made to Prof. Crowe last week was with—drawn by the board of rectors who said that the case was not ready for face—to-face negotiations with Prof. Crowe, if failed.

In protest to Prof. Crowe's dis mis—sal, 14 members of the college—teaching staff resigned. All resig—nations are effective Aug. 31, 1959.

This should encourage any un—employed professors since there may be some job openings at that institution next year.
Dear Editors:

We are sending you two of our Christmas card designs which we had made as gifts for college friends. These cards were made to show our appreciation to you for your wonderful work in bringing us the Purple and White throughout the year.

We trust that you will enjoy them and that they will bring you some small measure of enjoyment as well.

Sincerely,

The Lancers pulled one out of the proverbial fire two weeks ago against Lawrence Tech and for the first time in many moons coach Biasatti is elated. For the last three plus seasons the Lancers have been in the bottom drawer of the standings, but this year they seem to have a chance to be a strong team in the Ontario Intercollegiate league. Biasatti has a very strong squad, much better than the ones the past few years. He has a few strong men that can create a lot of havoc on the floor, and a few others that can score the ball. He has a good mix of players that can contribute to the team.

The coach's enthusiasm during the game can be summed up by saying, "Jump, jump, jump."

Despite the shoddy play of the Lancers, they did manage to hold the game to a 50-53 victory over the hopeless Blue Devils.

The President of The University of Toronto has come out this past few weeks with some rather startling comments on the set-up of our Canadian Universities. We feel that it might prove worthwhile if we had the issues discussed in his statement by some of our own students.

His first point was as follows:

The holiday setup now in practice should be changed. The idea is this: There should be four months of holidays and they should be divided up as follows:

One month at Easter;
One month at Christmas;
Two months during the summer.

His second point was this:

Entrance to University should be changed.

Students with an "A" average should receive scholarships and have their way financially well paid for.

Students with a "B" average should be allowed to compete for bursaries.

All other students should receive their training at "Technical Schools."

Here are our findings:

Justin McCarthy:

In answer to this gentleman's first point I would like to say that personally I feel the five months that we now have in order to raise the necessary funds required to sustain my existence during the "schooling period".

In answer to his second point I would like to point out that the system as it presently stands is a select group of students and the end result would increase developments wherein we may now be lacking. What I mean to say is that it may put Canada back in the "Neutrallight".

The idea of eliminating the "C" students from exposure to secular development is overlooking his natural rights as a unit in the community.

Question: What do you think is the principle surrounding attendance at Universities across Canada?

Answer: The ideal position resulting from our democratic society would be that each person has the right to realize the gratification resulting from "that innate quest for self improvement."

Bob Dricksa:

I disagree with both the principles for the following reasons.

I feel that the second point of this gentleman's theory does not include the average college student and hence less students would be attending the universities. Society therefore would miss the average student has to contribute.

Jim B. (Squirt) Van Artens:

We should be forgetting that some students don't come into their own until they reach University. I would say therefore that High School marks are perhaps not a fair criterion to judge by.

Ability is what counts at University. Memory work will get you through High School.

HOMECOMING SCHEDULE SET

SAC Begins Year Slowly

Restlessness and a general lack of order pervaded council chambers during the first 1959 meeting of the Students' Administrative Council last week.

Four items on the ten-point agenda were referred for study and the other six items were barely skimmed over during the dis—ordered meeting.

During the past week SAC was able to pass a motion which granted an addition of $30 to the original budget of the United Nations Club.

The motion was presented on request from Jim Kennedy and Al Houston who said it would be needed to pay expenses for a student delegation to Montreal on Feb. 2.

During a second bell in the meeting, SAC passed a motion which will allow the Drama Club to charge a ten-cent admission fee for the Drama Club's first televised play.

During the Christmas recess, a field of dreams was presented by Assumption on the CKLW-TV stage originally by Mr. Homer Plante, it was told, last Dec. 27 and produced by the drama department under the direction of Mr. Daniel Kelly.

The production titled “The Big Match” included as the cast Mr. Plante, Jerry Olsen, Bill Roddy, Margo King and Mr. Homer Plante of the English Department.

The story concerns a man, who, losing his wife and son in the farm accident, feels that his life is dominated by his job, and that he is but a little man functioning in a “big man”. However, an act of kindness on his part is a young boy restores his faith in himself.

Another Crowley commented that the cast faced the difficulty of too few rehearsals before the television cameras, and because of this he feels that sometime the actors should have been better. However it must be remembered that this was an experiment and the first of its kind here at Assumption. We hope to be honing more of this type of production in the future.

The Saturday night radio show also produced by our English department will be held in St. Denis Hall.

No New Name!

Two issues ago we asked for help in coming up with a suitable name for the new Assumption University. Candidates must be females in their Sophomore or Junior year, excluding Lab Techs.

Girls' Dance Goes Tropical Tomorrow Night

A joy and tropical atmosphere will be permeating the walls of Cons Hall between the hours of 9 and 1 p.m. tomorrow evening. At this time, the Holy Names Undergraduate Association is presenting its annual Semi-Formal barbecue for the dancers are being performed with Dr. John Bland, director of the English Department.

The project will be held in the cafeteria beneath the gym. Anyone who wants to decorate their car, bicycle, wagon, horse or mother-in-law is welcome.

The route of the parade is as yet to be determined. It will undoubtedly remain the same.

If you want to participate in or see the parade, the best bet would be to get to the gym by five o'clock and you will be a member of the Alumni.

... lend me your lungs

Homecoming is upon us once more and unless some changes are made around here soon the alumni are in for a pretty sorry sight.

It's about the cheering.

So far this season it has really been bad. Anyone who was within three miles of the gym during the high school tournament knows that they made our puny efforts sound like a feather's flight.

It's not the cheer-leader's fault either. They do their darnedest to get the students to cheer. Generally, towards the end of the fourth quarter if the game is a tight one, the fans begin to warm up...otherwise not a peep.

The students seem to feel that theirocrat will think them an apple if they show signs of enthusiasm. Forget about the fellow next to you. If he won't cheer (and he generally will know that they made our puny efforts sound like a feather's flight) lend me your lungs.

Sincerely yours,

Pandora.

A NEW FEATURE
FOR THE LOVEORN

Dear Mabel Mills:

My boyfriend, Angus, wears a skirt. I keep pretending that it doesn't bother me but I know it does.

People stare. When we hold hands in public I feel embarrassed. Why don't you wear nylons?

Sincerely yours,

Desperate Desdemona

Dear Des:

Wear slacks!

The Province of Ontario Loans for the academic year of 1958-59 totaling $17,300 have been approved and set aside for 45 deserving students.

This is the first time these loans have been available to Ontario students.

The students benefiting from these "helping hands" are required to begin repayment one year after graduation. This period of a year enables the young man or woman to become firmly situated in his or her chosen career before repaying the loan.

Lean days are here again. Perhaps even more than usual. For fear of enduring the Christmas holidays. The University of Toronto Basketball Team spent the holidays in Florida, winning a tourney by a 58-54 victory over Sudbury. John Morris of Kennedy gained the individual scoring honors with 59 points in three games against Assumption and Forster and they were also favored to take lessons at an indoor Driving Range free of charge. All the free balls and instruction will be yours by merely contacting Richard Woodall between now and the Christmas weekend.

The Lancers are having their troubles. They lost to Detroit Tech January 6, 72-68. Stamford High School Wolves had made the final round in the semi-final round by a strong delusive effort by Jerry Kotwas. In the consolation round, a fired-up Varsities aggregation defeated Assumption's vast collection thereby enabling independent teams to compete for the championship of the Second Annual Assumption Invitational Basketball Tournament.

In the consolation round, a fired-up Varsities aggregation whipped the defending champions. The most valuable player of the tournament was John Morris of the Kennedy Clippers. Morris, a member of the Lakehead All-Star team, was top scorer with 39 points, including two 3-point shots. He also tallied 31 points in one game to lead the championship game. At the 20th. 1958. Jerry was held scoreless in the contest, which was held on Dec. 20th by 4 points. He was by no means the only star in the show though as 5 players hit a total of 45 points for the team. St. Denis Hall. This outing will prove to play Queen's once again this Saturday night in St. Denis Hall. The round was worth it to be sought out coming to see.

The trend was reversed, however, the next night in Kingston as the Lancers triumphed 62-52 to win the Queen's Golden Gaels. 73-59. In the highligts one person who were Ken Klerka, Ken Ryals and Gary Slab of Sudbury, Johnny Coghlan and Don Klerka of Varsities aggregation. The Clipper aggregation composed of Kilrea, Rysdale, Purdey and Larry Karpiuck of Halt. The tournaments All-Star team was composed of Kilrea, Ryals, Klerka, Slab and Halt. The tournament was a tremendous success as it proved by the 1,500 fans who witnessed the championship tilt.

Stanford Takes H.S. Tourney

During the Christmas holidays, while most of us were trying to relax and stay away from the campus, boys from all over Ontario were gathering in our gymnasium to play the best brand of basketball seen in St. Denis hall this year. The tourney was a closing game of 1958 from North Central Lansing. Forster and Assumption, coached by ex-Lancer Jack Hool, dominated London Central and Ravens and thus qualified for the final round in the consolation championships.

The Stanford team, however, fought back for the title, but were upset by Windsor's own Kennedy Clippers, who were victorious over Kierstra from Sudbury in the quarterfinal round by a 14 point margin. The final game was played before a capacity audience in the gymnasium. The Clipper aggregation not only won the consolation games, but also placed second to the Lakers in the semi-final round by a strong delusive effort by Jerry Kotwas. In the consolation round, a fired-up Varsities aggregation defeated Assumption's vast collection thereby enabling independent teams to compete for the championship of the Second Annual Assumption Invitational Basketball Tournament. The tournaments All-Star team was composed of Kilrea, Rysdale, Purdey and Larry Karpiuck of Halt. The tournaments All-Star team was composed of Kilrea, Rysdale, Purdey and Larry Karpiuck of Halt.

Saturday evening the Lancers play the first game of the Invitational Basketball schedule against Queen's University of Kingston. In the Intercollegiate loop there is no play-off series. The tournament was a tremendous success as it proved by the 1,500 fans who witnessed the championship tilt.

The semi-final round found Kennedy upsetting London Beck while Stanford was busy battling a strong Edinburgh team. The Clipper aggregation, The Clippers, however, fought hard for the championship but with almost a twenty point lead, the Hornets had little trouble in replacing Assumption as the king of the hardwoods.

Three Plays In Hut Tonite

The Drama Club stage in the final school term with a presentation of three one-act plays in "The Theatre Hut" tonight, and plans for an extensive schedule which will keep it busy for the remainder of the school year.

Three plays will be both acted and directed by members of the Drama Club. First curtain rises at 8:30 p.m.

Virginia Lynch directs "This Way To Heaven" whose cast includes the director, herself, Jean Hoey, Blaig McQuire and Glasses Brotchum. "The Boor", under Peter Jankow's direction, includes in its cast, Sylvia Rowe and Bill (WM) Rody. Joe McTague directs "The Bishop's Candidiote" and its actors, Joe Ferris, Ed Meloche, Sally Ferris, Evelyn Shardkey, and Larry Lesue.

Friday, members of the Drama Club will try out for roles in J. M. Synge's three-act drama, "Playboy of the Western World". Rehearsals for this play will start Monday, director Daniel Kelly said. "The Irish play will be this term's major production by the club.

Students of the drama course will direct three one-act plays after the Synge play is presented. Casts for these will be taken from the Drama Club.

The question that the editors of this column felt should perhaps be discussed is timely and perhaps not too controversial. "What did you do academically, with your Christmas Holidays?" This week we have decided to take on perhaps a little different format in that the remarks received from various students would here be presented in a summary form. Here are our findings:

The time of year perhaps didn't lend too well to steady as there were many activities happening all over the city. Friends from out of town were returning and much time was spent in visiting.

When asked as to whether the facilities of the library were used it is to be noted that many of the students didn't know that the library was open. They went on to say that the lead-up to Christmas with tests, papers to hand in and such left them tired out and much in need of the Christmas recess.

Everybody interviewed was of the opinion that the holidays were of a noticeably shorter duration this year than they had been in the past. With mid-term exams coming up, many were anxious to get back to school and get them behind.

This would not be keeping with the suggestions of the President of the University, he was proposing a month holidays at Christmas. This purpose was study but the students that we interviewed were from all academic classes and they were, without exception, in favour of the idea of complete relaxation over this period.

Most students returning to school admitted that they were physically worn out but that this was good because now they would be able to settle down to the next 4 mentally strenuous months. We are of the same opinion.

Financially most students have returned to school in fairly good shape. Many were able to work and put away a little towards the next few months.

Many of our out-of-town students returned to the city here for the New Year. This was explained in many different ways. Some were of the opinion that they had made last contact with the social circles in their home town and being invited to parties in the Windsor area felt they would better enjoy themselves here. Others were of the opinion that around home there was far too much activity and that the only way they could get any work done at all was to return to Windsor and the regular routines of study. This was most common among the upper-classmen.

“MAC” GAME TO CAP BIG DAY

Game Not Big But Interesting

While the Lancers should not be too hard pressed to take their homecoming tilt against the McMaster Marauders, the game should never-the-less be an interesting one. The Lancers will be given a chance to prove that their phenomenal 1958-59 season was not just a fluke.

Homecoming Queen Voting Tomorrow

At a closed meeting of student council and faculty members last Friday, six finalists for homecoming queen were chosen from among the many nominations submitted. Marks, appearance, personality and school spirit were all considered in making the choices. Pictures of the candidates appear elsewhere on this page.

City Series On Again

Tom Dettman

Tonight, Thursday, January 22nd. Assumption "Lancers" will play host to the Embassy Hotel for a change. This will be the first game of the "City Series," an institution which in former days was the high point of basketball in the Windsor area. It will consist of two games to be played in St. Denis Hotel tonight and Tuesday, February 2nd and one on Sunday, January 20th at Herman Cj. Two consecutive wins for either team will eliminate the game of February 6th.

From this series the Embassies team will travel to the Eastern Canada Senior Championship Play-downs. This series, in days gone by, often produced teams which became Canadian champions. This should be an excellent game and possibly a chance to see the Canadian champs in action. So we hope to see everyone there.

On behalf of the people of Windsor it is indeed a pleasure to extend a warm welcome to Assumption graduates on the occasion of this Homecoming Celebration.

The City of Windsor is acutely aware of the important place that the New Assumption University and affiliated colleges occupy in this community and we are proud that we can now refer to Windsor as a University City. Your devotion to your former school and the teachers who guided you along the paths of learning indicate that you appreciate the sacrifices they made to help you achieve your goals in the world of business and industry. And this homecoming will be for you a wonderful opportunity to meet and visit with friends of pleasant memories.

May you all enjoy your visit to Assumption and to Windsor and we trust you will plan many more homecomings because there will be an ever expanding Assumption to see in the years ahead.

Mr. America!

Here Today

Luke Adams, now, "Mr. Michigan," will be here at five o'clock this afternoon in the weight room to demonstrate his wonderful physical achievements, of a 30" chest, 190" waist, and eighteen and a half inch arms. The girls are also invited says Luke has entered many contests in the past and has placed either first or second.

In his first contest, he placed second in the Mr. Great Lakes competition. He won the Mr. Detroit title in 1956 and 1957. In 1958 he won the Mr. Michigan title. He now stands a good chance of winning the Mr. America title for which he is to compete this Sunday as is evident in seeing him.

As an inspiration to the Adonis of Assumption, "Rocky" (his nickname), will exhibit weight lifting at its best. It will be a rare and interesting sight to see.

Dr. George Duwalo

Students and faculty members this week mourned the loss of Dr. George Duwalo, assistant professor in the Physics department, who was killed in a traffic accident on Lambeth last Thursday night.

Dr. Duwalo, who was 31 years old and a bachelor, had been a member of the university staff for two years. He and his parents were admitted to Canada from the Ukraine in 1949. He immediately enrolled at the University of Toronto where he received his B.A. in 1953, his M.A. in 1955, and his Ph.D. in 1957.

Dr. Duwalo, who was highly recommended by the University of Toronto when he came to Assumption, had since acquired the respect and admiration of both students and faculty members. He was described as a "brilliant" man, "diaminizing as a theoretical physicist, and a good teacher."

The fraternities at the University of Toronto have hit the limelight because of activities above and beyond the call of duty.

For breaking into Whitney Hall—a women's residence of University College—a member of Zeta Psi fraternity and a graduate student of business administration, Angus MacDonald was suspended from the university during the academic year 1956-57.

Five members of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity were fined $50 and barred from any organizations during the year 1956-57 for stealing a Christmas tree on Dec. 17, erected by the Engineering Society.

The incident has put into effect the Caput—the supramolecular disciplinary body of U. of T. and they have announced their intention of probing further into the relationships existing between fraternities and the university.

There have been previous complaints of fraternity behavior and according to the Varsity—the University of Toronto student publication, their refusal to co-operate with the university is "incorrigably sympathetic with their continued existence."

A special committee at the U.N. in New York will advise on procedural and organizational questions. This will be headed by the president of the General Assembly in New York. To add further realism to the proceedings a system of simultaneous translations (French and English) will be provided.

S.A.C. DROPS FOUR CLUBS

In the presence of the Right Honorable John G. Diefenbaker and the Hon. Lester B. Pearson, patron and president respectively, of the University Model United Nations, students from some sixty universities will express the views of various member nations of the United Nations. Montreal will be the centre of the action on February 4-7.

The students will discuss three current problems: (1) Berlin; (2) The Near East; (3) The Free Far East. The specific resolutions call for:

(a) the invalidation of the Potsdam Agreement of 1945 and the immediate evacuation of Berlin by all military troops.

(b) the United Nations establishing a supreme tribunal in the Near East to peacefully settle all disputes between Israel and the Arab States, and to establish, under the protection of the United Nations, all foreign military bases in Asia.

(c) the immediate elimination of all foreign military bases in Asia.

All of the participating universities, Assumption probably has the smallest enrolment. It was therefore with pardonable pride that Wind-sorites last year gretted the efforts of the assumption delegation which on that occasion represented the University of Windsor, a club which was chosen as the group best expressing the aims and objects of its adopted mother nation.

This year Assumption has adopted democracy and will be surrounded by Victor Power, a junior from Timmins, Larry Strout, a junior from Hamilton and Robert McMahon, a senior from Windsor. At the same time the four-day discussion which this year will include the United Nations' Clubs of the Canadian Asiatic institutions. Moscow University, the University of the Near East; the University of the Far East; the University of Indonesia; the University of the United States, the University of India, the University of Chile, California, Stanford (also United States), West Point (Italy) and the Royal Military College (Canada). The University of the United States, the University of India, the University of Chile, California, Stanford (also United States), West Point (Italy) and the Royal Military College (Canada).

In addition to the University of Windsor, the University of the United States, the University of India, the University of Chile, California, Stanford (also United States), West Point (Italy) and the Royal Military College (Canada), the University of the United States, the University of India, the University of Chile, California, Stanford (also United States), West Point (Italy) and the Royal Military College (Canada) will also be present. The one week's grace will give the two clubs time to appeal to S.A.C. before they are stamped out as official student organizations.

The amendment was carried in a four-against-two vote.

S.A.C. elections are just around the corner and will conform to the following schedule in order to prevent the recurrence of "academic suicide." Elections are early and campaigns days shortened thus giving the new council ample time to arrange audiences and formulate policies for better student government.

Who can hold office?

Two More On The Line

The action came after a fiery discussion led by Norm McCallum, vice-president of SAC and chairman of the Club Associates Committee.

Backed by three other council members, vice-president McCallum proposed that the disbandment of all six clubs by the council be made immediate.

The motion was passed by split vote.

In amendment to his first proposal, the vice-president asked that the Biology Club and the Engineers Society he granted a one week extension before final decision on their disbandment is settled.

The one week's grace will give the two clubs time to appeal to SAC for leniency.

The amendment was carried in a four-against-two vote.

"These clubs have not been turning out for the Club Associate meetings and have not seen a student council representative about their respective clubs," vice-president McCallum said.

"Because of their interest, activity, and proper handling of their clubs before Christmas, the Biology Club and the Engineers Society were given one week in which to apply to SAC and plead their case," he said.

All clubs are obliged by Article X (5a) of the Constitution of the Students' Administrative Council to send a representative of their executive to all Club Associate meetings.

The constitution reads: "... Should this club fail to do so at two consecutive meetings, the club's privilege will be revoked immediately on majority vote of the S.A.C."

As soon as the discussion, most of the clubs have raised far more than two consecutive meetings.

"I have personally chasisted after these clubs to get them out. They have been warned more than twice about the consequences of not following the S.A.C. constitution," said the vice-president. "I feel it is time that the S.A.C. take positive action."

Assumption's Nightingales

At a time when certain clubs are being dissolved by the SAC, the Assumption Nurses' Club has succeeded in stirring up, if only for one day in a Canadian University.

A lot of time and effort went into this C.D. exhibition which programme, which, we are told, is the first of its kind to be put on at just about anyone who had anything to do with it, it turned out to be a real success.

And the students will accept it. Yes, pity! When the money could be spent in more constructive, practical way. A way which might stimulate student scholarship or creative work.

Of course, it is a university a place for such egg-head ideas? Hardly, when we see our alleged students, sitting in their Civilian Defense uniforms, around a dance floor, bouncing hypnotized to the cacophony of a few dime-store harmoniums, spurred by teeth grinding, and the paper ribbons with their gawky twirlers, ordered by the point of obedience. And the Student Council, our noble conscience, to order them, carrying the banners, leading the parade.

What the Hell?

DICK GOES TO GAME

DICK Dogood, who specializes in going to basketball games, made a last right and vice versa, broke down and went to a basketball game last weekend. After three middle name was Metras.

He was there for the time of the Crusader's J.V. game and joined the screaming throng at this time consisted of 2 coaches, 2 managers, 20 players, 2 referees, 2 ticket-takers, 4 fellows trying to play a half-court game, 3 dogs, 17 nurses and? guys whose watches were 3 hours fast.

He watched this game for five minutes and came upon him and he took steps to alleviate the condition. The Crusaders were struggling to defend a point lead against the Lancers as they took were pointed westward from the campus towards a place very well known for student ritual.

That's How It Goes

Homecoming has come and gone.

In spite of Saturday's weather, a large crowd of students as well as alumni turned up for the "tea dance" and various other programs slated for the afternoon. This "tea dance", common to many other college campuses made its debut at Assumption. We hope that the success enjoyed will encourage its repetition in the future.

The follow-up was an impromptu parade, featuring a live band, which gained momentum and proceeded to the C.P.R. station. The McMaster team was then escorted downtown in a place very well known for student ritual.

But the best was yet to come, and the Lancers are going to have a fight for the University. As he pushed open the door a driving rain hit him in the face. Undaunted he fought his way on.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editors:

We are shocked and disgusted at the Student Administrative Council's decision to publish the story of a University student's death in the campus newspaper for the purpose of comment. We are writing in an attempt to express our concern about this and to request that the matter be brought to the attention of the appropriate authorities.

After reading the story, we felt compelled to write and express our concern and disappointment. The decision to publish such a story is a serious breach of privacy and a violation of the student's rights. It is our belief that such actions are not in the best interests of the student body and the University as a whole.

We believe that the University should have a policy in place that governs the publication of stories related to student deaths or other sensitive issues. This policy should include provisions for appropriate notification and consultation with affected parties before any such stories are published.

We urge the University to take immediate action to address this issue and to ensure that such incidents are handled in a manner that respects the privacy and rights of all involved.

A.U. To Get Researchers

Nine research scientists and four graduate students will be brought to Assumption University campus in the future, whose work will extend to such fields as treatment of cancer, processing foods and killing bacteria, and possibly airborne radar systems.

Dr. G. R. Wallace, now arrived on campus to develop the Electrical Engineering department, plans this project to continue his research in high energy electron accelerators. This is a new type of research currently being conducted in Canada and industrial research application, and this pure research will extend to the fields mentioned above.

The budget for the research at London University last year was $50,000 and is likely to be increased. Grants are expected to cover these costs and to bring several tons of equipment from England to the campus.

A.U. AIRS DRAMA EVERY SATURDAY

On Saturday, January 31st, over C.K.L.W., Assumption's Campus Forum will present "Rip Van Winkle," the play dramatized by Washington Irving. The original story was written in 1818 and was later adapted by Irving who is considered to be "the first American writer with a European reputation."

February 7th, a dramatized version of a story by James Thurber will be broadcast. So, on Saturday evenings at 8:05 remember to turn the dial to 800 for more entertaining by fellow Assumptioners.

The Drama Club's current activity is the production of "Thyther of the Western World." It is to be presented on the evenings of the 5, 6, 7 and 8th of March.

TOP TEAMS TO TUSCLE IN LONDON

Lancers Face Big Ones

"Eat 'em raw" and "Stinch's Yours!" will be the blood-curdling cries echoing through Western's Thames Hall come to-morrow night. Leading these threats of annihilation will be the hotly-contested Mustangs, followed by the Lancers, fans of which have made the 120 miles to the game. This will be THE game. To beat Western in London will be Assumption's greatest task this year. This is the largest of all four games on the road to the Intercollage crown lost last year to Toronto.

Then, the following Saturday, on to the defending champs themselves in Toronto. On Feb. 6th and 7th we will play Mc-Master and U. of T., respectively.

As we all know, to win all three coming games would be as close to a guarantee to the honors as we can come. But to lose two would mean a tie at the best. So, this is the crucial week where the Lancers will prove themselves or go broke. Will they pass the test or not? Coach Halka, Blaisdell feels hopeful they will and I'm sure all you Lancer fans know how they will. We've got a good team this year with the guidance of Gene Rizak and Leo Innocence and the ability of Nickson and Francoeur and we're not going to be swamped under the weight of those powers.

Neither Johnny Metras nor Joe John MacAsuis are willing to let this come about. "Toronto's a big team led by power players such as Hogdens, Lawson and Bobkin and we're going to have to work harder than we did at St. Laurent, Potter and Lipke. And the Maple Leafs of Wisconsin are a tough thing—Intercollegiate laurels.

So let's all get behind the Lancers in London and help them with all our vocal support.

CRUSADERS LOOK LIKE CHAMPS

The Intercollage Junior Varsity Basketball team this season is backed with talent at every position. Boasting a 2-1 win, loss record we have only lost to Assumption from the hands of the University of Detroit Jesuits. Here's the good possibility that this crew will again win the Intercollage championship this year.

Jim Bruce, captain, plays a guard position. Jim is an outstanding defensive player and is the key to the "Blues" scoring. Forward Jerry Kotwas, who scored 22 points, makes his move toward the McMaster University basketball basket during Saturday night's Intercollage Basketball League game at St. Denis Hall.

Hockey Finals Today

To polish off another fine season of Hockey here at Assumption the first game of a two game total point series will take place this afternoon at 3:00. In this match of speed and skill we will be pitted against the Sophomores, the Sophs, to attain this position, beat out the Juniors last year by a 2-1 margin. This Junior team will be led by the Frosh 10-0 on the same day.

Intercollegiate Badminton Team

On Friday and Saturday, Jan. 30th and Feb 1st the Assumption Badminton team will travel to Queen's University in Kingston for the Senior Intercollage Badminton Playdowns. Representing Assumption this year will be Joe Pintur, Bob Meck, Al Massey, and Art Delorenzi. Gene Rizak, another member of the team which was chosen from the ranks of the intramural tournament will be unable to play because of his basketball commitments.

This will be the first year Assumption will represent at these competitions and all are anxious to see them make a good showing so let's all get behind them and wish them luck.

FRATERNITIES

Vox Populus:
The question that was placed before the students this week was as follows:

What do you think of Fraternities? Should they be started here at Assumption University?

Here are some answers we received.

Leon Levine: Post Graduate

I feel that the time is right to introduce Fraternities here at Assumption. I feel that it is an integral part of college life and is growing in popularity. I believe that it is a good idea to have Fraternities here. I think that it would bring back much of the camaraderie that we had in high school.

Jim Kennedy: Senior Arts

I am not a big fan of Fraternities. I feel that they are a distraction from the main focus of college, which is academics. I think that the time is not right to introduce Fraternities here at Assumption.

Peggy Owens: Senior Arts

I feel that Fraternities are a luxury. We already have a lot of activities on campus, and I don't think that we need another one.

Paul Kennedy: Fourth Year Commerce

The only reason that we would have Fraternities here at Assumption is if we wanted to divide up into small factions of our students. I don't think that Fraternities should be introduced here at Assumption.

Norm McCallum: Senior Arts

I feel that Fraternities are a cheap way to live (in dollars and cents). I feel that they will only serve to divide up the student body as one compact group is split into exclusive divisions.

THE RAPER REPORT

I chose the Bell mainly because I wanted to join a company that was sure to grow. But what I found most in the Bell's plan was the opportunity to gain my own base of experience — and the way this plan is now being followed! "The Trek by Mail" has been proven in which the students will enlist the aid of Victoria — the capital. This "Great Trek" has been proven in the past two years. The students will get the campers built and the second to get needed buildings in 1957.

STUDENTS FIGHT FEE INCREASE

Trouble is brewing at the University of British Columbia. Students have proposed a fee increase of $100.00 per year for arts and $246.00 per year for engineering.

The students are protesting that this increase will cause many with fewer financial means to drop out. I think that the time is right to question this increase.

This possible fee increase will be a "last resort" if the budget estimate submitted by the university administration is not met.

In order to bring this situation to the attention of the legislature, a letter writing campaign by the students, their parents and friends to members of the provincial legislature was initiated by the President of the Alma Mater Society, Chuck Connaughton.

If this venture is not successful, the suggestion of a selected student delegation to present their case to the legislature will be followed through, and if this move should fail a campaign nicknamed "The Trek by Mail" has been proposed in which the students will enlist the aid of Victoria — the capital. This "Great Trek" has been proven in the past two years. The students will get the campers built and the second to get needed buildings in 1957.

C.D. DISPLAY DRAWS CROWD

The Civil Defence programme staged by the Nurses' Club in St. Denis Hall on Tuesday, January 20, was well attended, with an estimated 300 students and faculty having viewed the display and films. Because of all the time, labour and equipment involved in setting up this project, it was left open Wednesday between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., for those who were not able to see it on Tuesday, and a good number came, including two groups of students from Hotel Dieu.

This is the first time a project of this type and size has been staged at Assumption, the first time in Windsor, and we believe, the first time in a Canadian University.

The Nurses' Club wishes to thank Mr. Bird and the Civil Defence, the C. H. Smith Company, Mr. Ken Wiley of Wiley's pharmaceutical, Fr. Roberts, Dick Merriott and the Athletic Council, and all members of the faculty and staff student who contributed to make this programme a success.

TO EXPAND

The Modern Languages Department of Assumption University will benefit from a $5,000 grant to the University by the Atkinson Charitable Foundation. The grant will enable the Modern Languages Department to begin the first step of a five year $37,000 program to re-equip and develop its language laboratory. New tape recorders and other equipment will permit the six languages to be taught in the laboratory at the same time.

At present, French, Spanish, German, and Russian are being taught. It is planned to add Italian in 1959 and Chinese in 1960 or 1961. Consideration is being given to the suggestion that Russian be made a requisite in science courses. The Very Rev. E. C. LeBel, C.S.B., Vice-Chancellor and president commented that the grant is a "worthwhile gift for a worthwhile project." Application has also been made to the Canada Council for assistance in this $37,000 program.

QUEBEC HIKES U. GRANTS

According to an announcement by Quebec premier Maurice Duplessis on Jan. 14, grants for three Quebec universities, University of Sherbrooke, University of Montreal and Bishop's University will be increased by $500,000, whereas McGill and University of Toronto will remain at the present $100,000 level.

The proposed increases are due to the new building programs.

P.C.'s Convene In Ottawa

The annual retreat for faculty students will be held in Assumption Church, on Thursday and Friday, February 12th and 13th. The retreat master is to be Father A. Malone, professor of psychology at St. John Fisher College, Rochester, N.Y.

All Catholic students are required to make the retreat which begins at 10:30 Thursday morning and closes Friday at 5 o'clock. Anyone who is unable to be present for part or all of the conferences must obtain permission from the university chaplain, Father Burns.

Those making the retreat must report on both mornings at the designated time and place (see bulletin boards for particulars). Students arriving after the roll must report to the Registrar's office.

ANGLICANS HOLD FIRST RETREAT

This year for the first time the Anglicans at Assumption will hold their own pre-Lenten retreat. The first retreat for faculty students will take place on the same dates as the Catholic retreat, February 12th and 13th, and will be held at St. John's Anglican Church, 3385 Sandwich St. W.

This retreat will be conducted by the Rev. Angus F. Fairweather, M.A., D.D., Ph.D., Professor of Theology at Trinity College, University of Toronto. He is one of Canada's most distinguished youth scholars, and was honored this past summer by being made a fellow on paper on Medieval Philosophy at the Louvain in Belgium. Rev. R. STINKY'S BACK

S.A.C. President Don Raper (right) is shown here with "Stinky," the skunk which is awarded to the loser of each Assumption-Western basketball game. Don was obliged to accept it following our loss to Western in London a week or two ago. The Lancers are due to exchange it for the Intercollegiate Championship on February 28.

THE RAPER REPORT

I have recently returned from a Conference of the National Federation of Canadian University Students, held at Carleton University, in Ottawa, Canada. The conference was held jointly by MacKenzie and the great U.S. President, John F. Kennedy, who is a frequent visitor to Assumption University Senate, as was displayed by our own students.

Contrary to unfounded opinion, NFCUS is by no means a haus organ or the mouthpiece of a few key university students. At present (an unimportant point for Assumption). Letters To The Editor

Dear Disturbed:

You object to the SAC's decision to spend $1,000 on decorations for the Arts Ball. Would you not have decorations at all or are you prepared to present concrete plans for decorating the hall, with a list of all the required materials and incidental expenses, all accurately estimated? If you can show me plans for improving the quality of your proposed decorations, I guarantee to see that your plans are accepted within one week or receive from the Council a quicky, because we are ready to start work even if you do not.

I might suggest respectfully that you do.

So the SAC is a group gathering in "personal depth" and displaying "signal marks of social decadence" of our "utter insolvency" in this "year of nothing done," you, interested student that you are, might try harder to find out what is done for you by the SAC? How much work have you attended this school year to enable you to qualify as such an accuser? If you are ashamed to answer that question in this next issue of the "Purple and White" and at least answer me privately.

Don't tell me, as the Bell do you feel you are to call your class mates "alcoholics" as your "cups of rototy". Indeed, Mr. Disturbed, if your paragraph of utter self leads me to the conclusion that you are not by some chance "Mentally". Vincent E. Quenon

Dear Editors:

When you call the students' money and the Purple and White's space printing such an action as "Interruption," we wonder if you are not completely out of line for the Arts Ball.

In little-talk-lots type actually that disturbed IS quite! He or she is very probably the pseudo from "the table". No wonder he or she is disturbed, without any prospects of a date for the year, and would not to wind just wear something conventional, for example a blue dress, if at all, while they might just be lucky enough to get one. And then they wouldn't mind the money well spent on decorations for the biggest dance of the year. Completely Unperturbed

Dear Editors:

With not a few sophisticated under this fall, the "intelligence" and the "liternars" of our campus are unparalleled, the birth of the Sick. There are still many students and professors on campus who don't seem to find that, somewhat, sometimes vulgar and Babelish little door, the door of the Professors and the room expected of a university public.

Nonetheless, it strikes me as a bit odd that the "bad boy of campus publications" had to point to print a good feature in every issue along with its news and copy—more than one can say for its more elegant big brother, the Purple and White. Whether it's Cuban or West or, Never-Never-Land, the flavor of the Sick's features is far superior to anything yet in the Sick. If you cannot show me plans

HOCKEY ALL-STARS NAMED

SPORTS SHORTS

By A.L. DEY

A report came out of Parliament Hill back in January, hinting at the possible consideration of sports in Canada. The Honourable O. W. Weichel, Progressive Conservative M.P., suggested the establishment of a government ministry of sports and athletic development, which would be headed by Canadians in amateur sports. Mr. Weichel said government assistance was needed for the physical and athletic development of young Canadians. Canada has not yet done its fair share in encouraging national sports competition warranted by its potential, Mr. Weichel said. I wonder how many people of the city of Belleville read Mr. Weichel's remarks. At the time this report came out of Ottawa the citizens of that industrious community were in the midst of trying to scrape together $50,000 to send the Belleville Holy Angels to Europe to compete in the World Hockey Championships. By sheer dint of effort the people banded together and somehow collected the necessary funds. No doubt they breathed a big sigh of relief when the team finally sailed. How collected the necessary funds? ... (Continued from Page 1)

LANCERS DOWND

With this weekend's wins over U of T and McMaster, the Lancers now hold a 9-4 record with only 1 home game remaining in the intercollegiate cage loop. Their only loss to date was suffered at the hands of U.W.O.'s Mustangs in London. This contest was dropped 66-55 in a game in which Kwiatkos came out on top with 15 points while Gene Rizak was held to 12.

On the following night the team returned to Windsor to take on the Tillsonburg Livies. This contest again proved to be too much for the tried team and they were dropped by a 27-59 count. High scorers here were Reynolds with 14 and Kwiatkos with 12.

The next night in Hamilton the Lancers helped themselves to a 62-53 serving after coming back from a threatening first half which saw them in front by only 1 point at the half-time hooter. 1 field goal and 2 foul shots which Rizak picked up and the 15 points for Kwiatkos accounted for the major portion of the scoring.

LANCE SUPPORTER TO PLAY CHAMPS NEXT THURSDAY

Completing another fine season of hockey at A.U.W. this year, the league's All-Star team has been picked. It is a power-jacked team consisting of three Seniors and three Sophs. Topping the list is L. Sandrin in goal, L. Pennachetti and J. Danesi at Guards while A. Greenwood, B. Christie and R. Rinaldi fill in at the forward slots.

On the honourable mention list we have Ewaschuk, J. Dietle, J. LeMay, M. Caruso, D. Harris, M. M. Cand, F. Marcotte, R. Gerrard. The team was void of Juniors as it is to play them in their only function as All-Stars. In regular league play the top scorers of the league were Dempsey with 11, Caron 10, Hurler and Rinaldi tied at 9 and Roche with 6.

The final statistics of the league showed the Juniors and Sophs tied for top spot at 4 wins, 1 loss and 1 tie. Each of these teams scored a 3-9 victory over the other to induct a less.

The championship game the Juniors beat the Sophs by 6-3 and 17-1 margins to capture the crown. It was a fine season in all respects and many stars arose, but one, Lucio Sandrin, was chosen as the M.V.P. by a board of judges as a climax.

C.C. Award To Authoress

Barbara Ward, an "almost unyieldingly talented" author was presented with the 1959 Christian Culture Award Medal on Saturday, January the thirty-first. Rev. Stanley J. Murphy, CSB, said that this remarkable artist was "an outstanding lay-exponent of Christian ideals.

Among the other nineteen recipients of the annual award are such famous people as Sigrid Undset, Jacques Maritain, Ivan Mestrovic and Paul Martin. Miss Ward is the author of Faith and Freedom, The West at Bay, and The Very Tap-root of Democratic Society. She is the wife of Sir Robert Jackson, a Treasury Official on loan as Commissioner for Development to Ghana. She resides now in Australia and lectures infrequently at leading universities.

ARTS BALL VOTE RESULTS

Almost 400 Assumption students went to the polls on Monday in our first plebiscite vote in ten years. They were asked a number of questions concerning the Arts Ball and the results are:

Students favored having the dance off-campus by 178-135 margins; they favored a big-name band over the "Sword of the Spirit" regulars by 289-95; formal dress was voted optional 280-71; corsages were voted down 172-115.

Of those voting over 10% offered their support of the classes so far, the spokesman said that while the vote will not definitely govern their policy it will play an important part in any decisions that will be made.

Canterburians Back

Two representatives of Assumption Canterbury returned to Windsor last Sunday after spending the weekend in Ottawa at the National Conference of Cantaburies.

Miss Keitha Wylie and Miss Linda Atkinson represented the campus Cantaburies at the conference which hosted by Carleton University. A report of activities at the meetings will be given to the S.A.C. at its next meeting.

STUDENTS QUIT OVER PROF FIRING

Because of the recent trouble at United College (the firing and later retention of some staff members), nine students transferred to the University of Manitoba, saying they felt that United College was destroyed as a liberal arts institution.

According to a spokesman for the group, they will not revoke their decision unless the policy of the administration changes and as they see it, this policy seems to be the same since the administration that fired Professor Crowe is still managing the affairs of United College.

Originally a group of 35 planned to leave but backed out due to personal decisions. The spokesman said his group felt no bitterness towards and were not disappointed in the 21 who changed their minds and that they "did not fail to meet their responsibilities".

They're coming...
